Dressed for success

This fall, Wayne State launched the Warrior Wardrobe, a new initiative that provides gently used clothing to students free of charge at two locations on campus. The Career Cube, found in the Career Services Office, offers business attire and the Casual Closet, in the Welcome Center, offers casual wear.

“The Warrior Wardrobe is another way for our campus community to come together in support of our students and to help our students feel at home here,” said Dawn Medley, associate vice president for enrollment management.

The Warrior Wardrobe is operated by student volunteers and stocked by donations. A drop box is located on the first floor of the Welcome Center.

For more information, or to inquire about what items are acceptable for donation, contact Sarah Weinstein at 313-577-4957 or sarah.weinstein@wayne.edu.

Apply for Wayne Med-Direct

Wayne State University is proud to offer Wayne Med-Direct, which includes four years of paid undergraduate tuition, four years of on-campus room and board, and four years of medical school tuition — with guaranteed admission to the Wayne State University School of Medicine upon successful completion of an undergraduate degree the MCAT.

The only program of its kind in Michigan, Wayne Med-Direct is designed to prepare students for a career in medicine, focused on reducing urban health disparities, alongside a diverse community of scholars led by some of the country’s most esteemed professors and researchers, gaining hands-on experience in clinics and labs along the way.

To be eligible for Wayne Med-Direct consideration, incoming freshmen must have a minimum 3.5 GPA and 1310 SAT or 28 ACT score. Candidates must also be U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Preference will be given to applicants from socioeconomically disadvantaged backgrounds who are interested in studying health disparities.

Applications will be accepted until Dec. 1. To learn more, visit go.wayne.edu/wayne-med-direct, email the program coordinator at med-direct@wayne.edu or call 313-577-2200.

Make the education connection

Wayne State University’s College of Education offers undergraduate programs in the areas of applied behavioral analysis (BCaBA), community health, exercise and sport science, learning design and technology, sport management, and teacher certification. We invite your students to come visit us on campus to learn more about these options.

Can’t make it to campus? We’ll come to you! Representatives from the College of Education are available to come to your school to give presentations covering our undergraduate programs, and speak at career day events or other academic programs that your high school or college is sponsoring. To request a College of Education Experience on WSU’s campus or your own, please visit coe.wayne.edu/experience. Summer opportunities are also available for students interested in teaching careers through our Next Gen Teachers Summer Program.

For more information on College of Education undergraduate programs or the Next Gen Teachers Summer Program, please contact Undergraduate Recruitment Coordinator Jeff Lisiecki at gc2394@wayne.edu or 313-577-1601.

DTE grant funds summer enrichment

The DTE Energy Foundation has awarded a $100,000 grant to the Wayne State University Center for Latino/a and Latin American Studies to support its Summer Enrichment Program (SEP).

Designed to improve retention and graduation rates, SEP is an intensive, eight-week college-readiness program that helps incoming first-generation and underrepresented college students acquire the key “hard” and “soft” skills needed to smoothly transition to rigorous university-level coursework.

On campus: Manifest Your Destiny

Wayne State was proud to host actor and author Hill Harper and a dozen local high school students participating in Harper’s Manifest Your Destiny Foundation (MYD) this summer for a weeklong “Summer Empowerment Academy.”

Activities for the week included a tour of campus and the surrounding community, meetings with university faculty and staff, and discussions with peer mentors from Wayne State’s Warrior Vision and Impact program about the high schoolers’ college plans and career ambitions.

This marked the second year of Wayne State’s partnership with MYD.
