 RETURNING WARRIORS

 ADULT LEARNERS

 WARRIOR WAY BACK

Cozy up to Mid-terms!

It's hard to believe we're already halfway through the semester! You've taken on the challenge of juggling school, work, families, and more, and I want to commend you for that commitment. Keep up that momentum for the second half of the semester.

If the first half of fall 2020 wasn't all you had hoped it would be, fear not! We have a lot of resources to get things back on track. It all starts with setting aside enough time for mid-term exams and projects, and planning ahead for final exams and projects. If your life is as hectic as mine, November and December tend to get even crazier, so I suggest that you account for that when balancing your schedule in these next few weeks.

As always, please reach out to your advisor with concerns!

Student Spotlight

Lakeshia King
Public Relations

"I had many motivators in getting my degree completed but one that played on repeat for me was the never-ending trend of injustice that plagues our nation. I'd like to be on the right side of justice and right a few of these wrongs."

Resource of the Month

Wayne State (Virtual) Libraries

If you didn't make it to our last Tuesday Talk on how to access the WSU Libraries virtually -- you missed out! The libraries are so much more than physical books. The best part is that Wayne State has a great team of librarians who can help you with research literally 24/7 -- virtually. Don't overlook the excellent resources you're already paying for! Check out the recording of the live session at www.wayne.edu/warriorwayback.
