 RETURNING WARRIORS

 ADULT LEARNERS

 WARRIOR WAY BACK

Welcome to a New Semester!

At a time when not many things feel safe, it's safe to say that this semester is unlike any other! These changes in online learning, while invigorating, can also amplify how much has changed since the last time you were in college. Rest assured that you are not alone in any trepidation you may be feeling, as well as your excitement! We are here to help and guide you in so many ways, and also to share in your inevitable successes.

I implore you to take some time to review the resources and people highlighted this month, as well as to review the video archive of our recent adult learner events at wayne.edu/warriorwayback. As always, please reach out to your advisors the moment you have a question or concern. We're all in this together, so let's lend a helping and compassionate hand to each other on this journey.

Student Spotlight

Versailles Maxey
Media Arts and Studies

"Future aspirations after graduation include the following fall to pursue a master's degree in the college of Education. I would like to work in one of the college campuses doing motivational speaking, designing, and counseling to help students who've had traumatic injuries have a smoother transition into adulthood and the college life. While maintaining the right crowd, GPA, as well as adequate balance to start a new leaf for that person's needs."

Resource of the Month

If you have not already had a moment to check it out, now is the ideal time to complete the FREE, self-paced Canvas course, The Effective Online Learner. The course is designed by the Academic Success Center to offer you a variety of remote learning tips and resources organized into topic-based modules for your convenience. That means you can jump right to that section on Working From Home: How to Stay Focused!
