University Mission

Wayne State University is a national research university with an urban teaching and service mission. It is a constitutionally autonomous public university within Michigan's system of public colleges and universities.

As a national research university, Wayne State is committed to high standards in research and scholarship. In the arts, it fosters creativity and strives for excellence in performance and exhibition. Its first priority is to develop new knowledge and encourage its application. Because it is a national research university, Wayne State develops and maintains strong graduate and professional programs in many fields. To maintain its standards, Wayne State seeks to strengthen those programs that have achieved national recognition while, at the same time, fostering those programs which show promise for the future. Wayne State strives to maintain its performance ranking as measured by its funded research, the quality of its graduate programs as evaluated by national studies of graduate education, and the effectiveness of all academic programs as assessed by external evaluation.

As an urban teaching university, and because its graduates typically remain to live and work in the area throughout their lives, Wayne State seeks especially to serve residents of the greater Detroit metropolitan area, although it enrolls students from across the state and nation as well as foreign lands. It makes available high quality educational programs in more than six hundred fields of study or concentration leading to more than three hundred different degrees at the bachelor's, master's and doctoral levels. As a nationally ranked university, Wayne State holds high expectations for the educational achievements of its students and consequently maintains selective admissions standards; but as an urban university it recognizes an obligation to develop special avenues that encourage access for promising students from disadvantaged educational backgrounds. The University aspires to implement its curricula in ways that serve the needs of a nontraditional student population that is racially and ethnically diverse, commuting, working, and raising families. Its student body is composed of students of traditional college age together with many older students, and includes many who are from the first generation in their family or neighborhood to attend a university. In its teaching, the University strives to be sensitive to the special experiences, conditions, and opportunities presented by this diversity in its student body. To meet its obligations to its nontraditional students, the University attempts to schedule classes throughout the metropolitan area and during the evening as well as during the day.

Wayne State University recognizes its obligation to serve. Like other major universities, it strives to serve the disciplines and professions represented among its academic programs as well as public and private sector organizations and associations at local, state, and national levels. As an urban university, it makes a special commitment to the Detroit metropolitan area in three ways: first, it uses its metropolitan locale as a setting for basic and applied research and fosters the development of new knowledge of urban physical and social environments; second, it employs its locale as a teaching laboratory and incorporates metropolitan area materials into its curriculum; and third, it brings knowledge to bear to assist and strengthen the metropolitan area. In particular, Wayne State University contributes to the economic revitalization of southeastern Michigan through research programs that develop new technology and teaching programs that educate the citizens who will live and work in the region in the coming years.

Wayne State University respects and protects the personal and academic freedom of its students, faculty and academic staff. The programs and activities of the University are open to all qualified persons without regard to race, religion, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, age, national or ethnic origin, political belief, or physical handicap, except as may be required by law. The University seeks to demonstrate, through all its programs and activities, its appreciation of human diversity and to maintain an atmosphere of tolerance and mutual respect that will nourish human liberty and democratic citizenship.

A relatively youthful state university — part of Michigan's state supported system of higher education only since 1956 — Wayne State University has developed rapidly as a national research university with urban teaching and service missions. Nevertheless, it recognizes that much must be achieved before the goals it holds for itself are fully attained. It is pursuing those goals with pride in its progress and confidence in its future.

History of the University

Wayne State has more than 204,119 living alumni. More than 165,789 of them live in the state and more than 137,210 live in the Detroit area. Over thirty percent of all degree holding adults in the metropolitan area are Wayne State University alumni.

The early history of the University is an account of originally unrelated colleges and schools which were united in 1933 into a single institution, Wayne University, under the control of the Detroit Board of Education. In 1956, this institution became Wayne State University by formal action of the Governor and Legislature of Michigan. The following specific events are among the most significant in the University's first century of development.

1868 — The Detroit Medical College, forerunner of the School of Medicine, was established.

1881 — The Detroit Normal Training School, forerunner of the College of Education, was established.

1917 — The Detroit Junior College, offering a two-year program in general education, was established in 'Old Main' and later developed into the College of Liberal Arts.

1923 — The Detroit Normal Training School became a four-year degree-granting institution under the name of the Detroit Teachers College. The first degrees were granted in 1924. The Detroit Junior College became the College of the City of Detroit with four-year degree programs. The first degrees were conferred in 1925.

1924 — The College of Pharmacy was organized.

1930 — The first regular graduate courses were offered in Liberal Arts and Education. The first Master's degrees were conferred in 1932.

1933 — The College of Engineering and the Graduate School were established.

1933 — The Colleges of Liberal Arts, Education, Engineering, Medicine and Pharmacy and the Graduate School were united by action of the Detroit Board of Education into a university organization, temporarily called the Colleges of the City of Detroit.

1934 — The name Wayne University was adopted, taken from Wayne County and, ultimately, from General Anthony Wayne.

1935 — The School of Public Affairs and Social Work was organized. In 1950 it became the present School of Social Work.

1937 — The Law School, established in 1927 as Detroit City Law School, came into the University.

1945 — The first doctoral programs were authorized in the fields of Chemistry, Physiological Chemistry and Education.

1945 — The College of Nursing, which began as a program in the College of the City of Detroit, became a separate college.

1946 — The School of Business Administration, originating in the College of Liberal Arts, became the tenth academic unit in the University.

1956 — Wayne University became Wayne State University by Act 183 of Michigan Public Acts of 1956.

1959 — Monteith College was established.

1959 — Wayne State University became a constitutionally established University by popularly adopted amendment to the Michigan Constitution.

1964 — The Division of Urban Extension was established.

1973 — The College of Lifelong Learning was established as successor to the Division of Urban Extension.

1974 — The Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences was formed from merger of the College of Pharmacy and the Division of Allied Health Professions, School of Medicine.

1985 — The School of Fine and Performing Arts and the College of Urban, Labor and Metropolitan Affairs were established.

1989 — The name of the School of Fine and Performing Arts was changed to the College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts.

1993 — The College of Science was established.

2002 — The College of Lifelong Learning was discontinued and its programs transferred to other units.

2004 — The College of Liberal Arts and the College of Science were merged into the College of Liberal Arts and Science.

Location

Over 100 buildings provide housing for the service, instructional and research needs of the University and its students and staff. Most academic and service units of the University are located on the main campus in the heart of Detroit, largely bounded by York Street on the north, Woodward Avenue on the East, Forest Avenue on the south and Trumbull Avenue on the west. The major classroom, laboratory, library and other academic buildings are located east of the Lodge Expressway while the athletic and recreational facilities are mostly on the west side of the Expressway. (For maps, see page 572.)

The School of Medicine and its affiliated teaching hospitals and clinics are located a short distance south and east of the main campus in the Detroit Medical Center. The Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences is also located on the medical campus. Certain smaller instructional and service units are located in other parts of the metropolitan area.

Organization

The general governance of Wayne State University is constitutionally vested in the Board of Governors, consisting of eight popularly elected members and the President of the University, who is named by the elected members. The President is the chief executive officer of the University and is charged by the Board of Governors with responsibility for its administration.

For educational and administrative purposes, the University is organized into major academic units— schools, colleges, divisions, centers and institutes. The following schools, colleges and divisions offer degree programs in their respective areas and together constitute the heart of the University. Effective with the Fall 2004 academic year the Colleges of Science and Liberal Arts will be merged into one unit: the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

School of Business Administration

College of Education

College of Engineering

College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts

Graduate School

Law School

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

School of Medicine
 College of Nursing
 Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences
 School of Social Work
 College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs

The Dean of the college or school is its chief executive officer. More than half the colleges and schools are organized into departments or divisions, each administered by a chairperson (or head). Academic standards, curricular development, course revision and similar academic matters are the primary responsibility of the faculty and dean of the college or school, although these matters are subject to review and approval by the Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and by the President and, whenever they involve major educational policy decisions, by the Academic Senate.

The Graduate School is the central unit for the supervision and encouragement of graduate work in the University and has basic responsibility for the improvement and review of existing programs and the approval of new graduate programs. Except for applicants and candidates for the Doctor of Philosophy degree, the detailed supervision of graduate students' work is conducted by the college and school and, where appropriate, by the departments.

All degrees are granted by the University through the colleges and schools, except that the Dean of the Graduate School, with the approval of the Graduate Council, recommends candidates for the Doctor of Philosophy degree, selected master's degrees and interdisciplinary graduate certificate programs.

Centers and institutes are established by the Board of Governors on recommendation of the President for the purpose of conducting college- or University-wide interdisciplinary teaching, research and service activities. The principal centers and institutes are:

Extension Services and Non-Credit Courses

The Division of Metropolitan Programs and Summer Sessions provides extension services for the off-campus credit programs of the colleges and schools, as well as University-wide Spring/Summer sessions. Since the University does not have a separate evening program, the colleges, schools and instructional divisions have comprehensive responsibility for degrees and degree programs whenever they are offered.

Non-credit courses, seminars and programs are offered primarily through the Division of Metropolitan Programs and Summer Sessions, the McGregor Memorial Conference Center, and the various schools, colleges, centers and institutes.

Accreditation

Wayne State University as a whole is accredited as a doctoral degree-granting institution by the regional accrediting agency, The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, The Higher Learning Commission, 30 N. This policy also forbids retaliation and/or any form of harassment against an individual as a result of filing a complaint of discrimination.

Wayne State University complies with the Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Executive Order 11246 as Amended, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, and Michigan Public Act 453. Inquiries regarding equal opportunity and affirmative action policies or complaints may be made to the Director of the Office of Equal Opportunity, 3008 Faculty/Administration Building, Wayne State University, Detroit Michigan 48202; telephone (313) 577-2280.

Non-Discrimination for the Handicapped

In accordance with federal requirements of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, there shall be no discrimination on the basis of handicap in Wayne State University's programs, operations and activities, in the hiring, terms and conditions or privileges of employment or any matter directly or indirectly related to such employment, or in the admission, education and treatment of students. (See page 55 for description of services available to disabled students.)

Drug and Alcohol Free Workplace

Wayne State University is committed to providing a drug free environment for its faculty, staff, and students. The Board of Governors has made this commitment a formal policy of the University. All faculty, staff and students must abide by the terms of the Board policy as a condition of employment or enrollment at the University. The unlawful possession, use, distribution, sale or manufacture of drugs or alcohol is prohibited on University premises, at University activities, and at University work sites.

Pursuant to that policy, the unlawful possession, use, distribution, dispensation, sale or manufacture of any illicit drugs, and the unlawful possession, use or distribution of alcohol on University property, or at any University work site, or as part of any University activity, is prohibited.

Any employee or student employee who is convicted of a criminal drug offense occurring at the workplace is subject to appropriate employee discipline in accordance with established University policies and collective bargaining agreements, and may be required to participate satisfactorily in a drug abuse or rehabilitation program as a condition of further employment or enrollment.

Any student or employee who, while on University premises or at any University activity, engages in the unlawful possession, sale, manufacture, distribution, or use of drugs or alcohol shall be subject to appropriate sanctions, in accordance with established University policies and collective bargaining agreements, and in conformity with local, state and federal law, up to and including expulsion or termination. A student or employee who is found to have violated this policy may be required to participate in a drug or alcohol treatment program as a condition of further employment or enrollment.

The University encourages employees who may have a problem with the use of illicit drugs or with the abuse of alcohol to seek professional advice and treatment. Individuals who seek assistance with such problems may obtain additional information on a confidential basis by telephoning the Substance Abuse Hotline, at 313-577-1010. Access to this hotline is absolutely anonymous. The Substance Abuse Hotline provides information to the caller by means of recorded messages and no record is kept of the caller. Students may also seek referral assistance by contacting University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS), at 313-577-3398.

Policy on Sexual Harassment

It is the policy of Wayne State University that no member of the University community may sexually harass another. Any employee or student will be subject to disciplinary action for violation of this policy.

The law of the State of Michigan prohibits discrimination in employment and in education and provides that discrimination because of sex includes sexual harassment, which means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct or communication of a sexual nature when:

(a) Submission to such conduct or communication is made a term or condition either explicitly or implicitly to obtain employment, public accommodations or public services, education, or housing.

(b) Submission to or rejection of such conduct or communication by an individual is used as a factor in decisions affecting such individual's employment, public accommodations or public services, education, or housing.

(c) Such conduct or communication has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual's employment, public accommodations or public services, educational, or housing environment. (MCLA 37.2103 (h))

In the area of speech, what the law and this policy prohibit is speech as action: that is, sexual communication which is either directly coercive as demanding favors, or indirectly coercive, as rising to that level of offensiveness which interferes substantially with the victim's education or employment. The determination of what level of offensiveness is actually coercive, and therefore unlawful and prohibited by this policy, will in some cases be difficult. A significant element in the determination is provided by the fact that an unequal power relationship underlies sexual harassment. The more unequal the relationship, the more the risk is of substantial interference with the victim's education or employment.

In the area of physical contact, physical contact which is unwelcome is so gravely offensive that it always has the effect of substantially interfering with the victim's employment or educational environment. Employees and students should not take for granted that they are welcome to touch other employees or students, since if their contact is in fact unwelcome, they will be in violation of the law and of this policy. (WSUCA 2.28.06.010-2.28.06.080)

Policy on Workplace Violence

Wayne State University is committed to providing a work and educational environment that is free from threats, assaults, or acts of violence. Threats of violence or of physical harm, and any form of physical or sexual assault or threats of physical assault are prohibited. This includes conduct that harasses, disrupts, or interferes with another person's work performance or creates an intimidating or hostile work or educational environment.

It is a violation of the University's policy to bring certain items on campus, including all types of firearms, explosives, switchblade knives and any knife with a blade longer than three inches, and objects carried for the purpose of injuring or intimidating. Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action under existing policies.

University personnel are expected to notify appropriate management personnel of any violent or threatening behavior, when that behavior is work-related or carried out on University property. Any individual who has obtained a personal protection order that identifies the workplace as a protected area should notify Public Safety.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Mission Statement

The Graduate School provides leadership in advancing graduate education at Wayne State University. It assures the quality and integrity of graduate programs and monitors the academic requirements for the Ph.D. degree, specific master's degrees, and graduate certificates. The Graduate School administers and regulates funds that support graduate studies. It also disseminates information related to graduate programs and policies. Overall, the Graduate School serves the needs and promotes the interests of graduate students and graduate faculty. As a graduate school in a Carnegie I research university, it is committed to the highest standards of academic performance and ethical behavior.

History and Procedures

Wayne State University's graduate and professional programs were established early in the history of the University. These programs were unified within the newly-created Graduate School in 1933. Since that time, the Graduate School has grown steadily both in terms of quality and size and now ranks as one of the largest graduate schools in the nation. The University's Carnegie I research status is reflective of a deep commitment to excellence in graduate education, relevance in academic curriculum, and leadership in research and scholarship.

The Graduate School is the central unit for the supervision and encouragement of graduate work in the University and has basic responsibility for the improvement and review of existing programs. The Graduate School monitors every significant stage in the doctoral student's career and ensures that all University-wide requirements have been fulfilled. Ph.D. Plans of Work must be approved and Graduate Examiners appointed by the Graduate School. A Ph.D. applicant cannot advance to Ph.D. candidacy without the Graduate School's approval. After the dissertation defense, the Graduate School conducts a final audit of the student's record to certify him or her for graduation.

For additional information, see the separate sections on Graduate School Admission, Graduate School Services for Students, Graduate Council, Graduate Faculty, and Financial Aid. See also the Graduate School's Web page: <http://www.gradschool.wayne.edu/>

Graduate Council

The Graduate Council, the policy formulating body for the Graduate School, is composed of two members elected from the regular graduate faculty of each of the various schools and colleges of the University, two graduate student members, the Dean of the Graduate School, and three members of the graduate faculty appointed by the Dean of the Graduate School. The Council meets monthly during the academic year, and all meetings are open to the University community.

In 1968, the Board of Governors established the Graduate Council and granted it the 'authority and responsibility for the development of basic policies for the graduate education system and for the encouragement, improvement and evaluation of graduate programs throughout the University.' In addition to reviewing new and existing graduate programs, the Council sets admission standards for graduate programs, makes recommendations for graduate faculty appointments, establishes criteria and evaluates applications for the Graduate-Professional Scholarship and the Thomas C. Rumble University Fellowship programs, and awards all Ph.D. degrees, select master's degrees, and interdisciplinary graduate certificates.

Graduate Faculty

The Graduate Faculty consists of faculty members who are eminently qualified by virtue of preparation and competence to teach and direct research at the graduate level. Appointment to the Graduate Faculty does not modify a faculty member's responsibility to or affiliation with his or her department, division, college, or other instructional or administrative unit. The Dean of the Graduate School, on behalf of the Graduate Council, may appoint members of the W.S.U. faculty to the Graduate Faculty, upon recommendation of their departments or divisions and with the approval of their deans.

Appointments to the Graduate Faculty are for a period of five years. Upon completion of the term, a qualified candidate may be recommended for reappointment to the Graduate Faculty by the department chairperson and the college dean.

1. An admissions moratorium is in effect for this program.

GRADUATE SCHOOL ADMISSION

Regular Admission

To be considered for graduate admission, an applicant must hold or be completing an earned baccalaureate degree or its equivalent from a college or university of recognized standing and have adequate preparation with discernible ability to pursue graduate studies in the major field elected. These criteria are subject to standards set by the individual colleges and schools, which reserve the right to revise or amend their entrance requirements beyond the minimal requirements of the University.

A completed Application for Graduate Admission form, the graduate application fee and an official transcript from each college or university attended are required before any student can be considered for admission to graduate study. A transcript is considered official only if it is sent directly from the institution where the work was completed and bears an official seal. The applicant is also responsible for arranging to take any examinations that may be specified by the Office of Graduate Admissions, the college or school, or the individual department.

Several academic areas of the University require an additional departmental application. Students are advised to contact the department to which they are applying and request full particulars on admission procedures.

In most departments (see departmental sections for variants), a regular admission may be authorized for the master's degree applicant upon the department's recommendation, if the applicant's grade point average is 2.6 ('C'=2) or above for the upper division (approximately the last 60 semester credits) of his/her undergraduate course work and if he/she holds a degree from a regionally accredited institution.

All baccalaureate graduates of unaccredited institutions must present a 3.00 ('B') or better upper-division grade point average to be considered for graduate admission. Course work completed after the baccalaureate which is presented as the qualifying basis for graduate admission cannot be applied toward a graduate degree at Wayne State University.

Doctoral applicants must present higher entrance qualifications than those required of master's degree applicants. A doctoral applicant is required to have an undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 ('B'=3) or above for the upper division of the undergraduate course work and must have completed an undergraduate major or have done substantial specialized work in his/her proposed doctoral major field. Certain departments require the completion of a master's degree with superior scholarship before considering acceptance of a student as a doctoral applicant. Applicants with less than a 3.0 grade point average in undergraduate course work may be eligible for admission to doctoral studies if they have subsequently achieved a grade point average of 3.0 or better in substantial graduate course work in the proposed doctoral field.

The individual colleges reserve the right to refuse a non-resident admission if such admission prevents registration of a qualified Michigan resident. This ruling may not be invoked to secure admission to a Michigan resident if his/her grade point average entitles him/her to qualified status only.

Qualified Admission

In most departments, qualified admission to a master's or certificate program may be authorized if an applicant's grade point average is between 2.25 and 2.6 or if his/her degree is from a non-accredited institution, provided the major department and the Graduate Officer of the appropriate school or college have reviewed the applicant's academic experience, extra-scholastic qualifications and reasons for pursuing graduate study and have recommended, in writing, his/her admission to the Graduate School.

Upon recommendation of the department and the Graduate Officer of the appropriate college or school, qualified status may be granted to an applicant whose grade point average is below 2.25, if, since the time his/her baccalaureate degree was conferred, he/she has shown substantial evidence of academic or extra-scholastic qualifications of such merit as to warrant special consideration.

Applications from students who have completed substantial course work at, and/or graduated from, institutions which were not accredited by one of the six regional U. S. accrediting institutions (MSA/CHE, NEASC, NCA, NASC, SACS, or WASC-Sr.) at the time studies were undertaken, will have special review. If requested, the applicant will be required to furnish documentation of the nature and level of the credit obtained, the bases on which the credit was awarded, institutional operating practices, library holdings, physical facilities, faculty qualifications, and any other matters that may be relevant to a determination of credit. The director of admissions is authorized to deny admission to any applicant whose previous education does not conform to Graduate School standards. The Office of Graduate Admissions may also make recommendations concerning the appropriateness for transfer of previously completed graduate work.

All graduate admission procedures and regulations are subject to revision by the University Graduate Council at any time.

Application Dates

The Office of Graduate Admissions will make every effort to process applications in time for the semester of the student's choice. However, only complete applications received by the last recommended dates shown below are ensured a decision before the semester starts. Unless an application and all supporting materials are received by the date indicated, there may not be adequate time for the desired program to review the application and make the admission decision.

Fall Term — Classes begin Early September: apply by June 1

Winter Term — Classes begin Early January: apply by October 1

Spring Term — Classes begin Early May: apply by February 1

For international students, the application form and all transcripts and documents must be on file in the Office of Graduate Admissions Office at least four months before the start of the term in which the applicant plans to begin graduate studies.

Several colleges and departments have earlier deadlines. Doctoral programs also have earlier application deadlines. Students should consult the school/college and department sections of this bulletin, the program's website, or the Office of Graduate Admissions for complete information.

Graduate Non-Degree Admission

An applicant who wishes to take graduate courses but does not wish to be in a degree program may request admission on a non-degree basis. The eligible applicant will be admitted to a particular college but not to an individual major program. In most instances, a non-degree student may, with the department's approval, register for any courses for which he/she has the necessary preparation.

The applicant for a non-degree graduate classification is cautioned that only one semester of full-time graduate study, or part-time registrations not to exceed nine credits, is normally permitted in this classification. Beyond these limits, registration as a non-degree student requires the approval of the Graduate Officer of the student's college. Not more than nine credits, subject to the approval of the Graduate Officer, may be applied at a later date toward the resident and credit requirements for either the master's or Ph.D. degree. For the Ed.D. degree, credit earned beyond the nine credit limitation will be reviewed by the appropriate Division and the Education Graduate Officer for possible application toward the degree.

If the student decides to seek admission to a graduate degree program, he/she should apply to the appropriate College Graduate Office for a Change of Status before completing nine credits. There is no assurance that credits earned while holding a non-degree classification will be acceptable in a degree program, or that prerequisites may not have to be specified if the student later becomes a degree applicant.

Depending on previous degrees, applicants may request admission to one of the following Graduate Non-Degree classifications:

1. PRE-MASTER'S: A student with an acceptable grade point average and an earned bachelor's degree from an accredited institution may apply for this rank.

2. POST MASTER'S: Students holding Wayne State master's degrees should apply for a Change of Status in the Graduate Office of the college they wish to enter. Those with master's degrees from other institutions must submit an Application for Graduate Admission and transcripts.

3. POST-DOCTORAL: This rank is reserved for persons holding earned doctoral degrees.

Graduate Guest Admission: Graduate students from other accredited colleges and universities may be admitted to elect a limited number of credits at Wayne State University. Interested students may obtain a Graduate Guest Application from the Office of Graduate Admissions; this must be signed by their home institution before it can be accepted for consideration. A guest admission is valid for only one semester and must be renewed with each subsequent registration. A maximum of twelve semester credits may be earned as a Graduate Guest Student. Admission as a Graduate Guest student does not constitute permission to register as a degree applicant.

Senior Rule Admission: In their last undergraduate semester, Wayne State students with a 3.0 (or above) upper division grade point average have the option of taking a limited number of graduate credits. Graduate credit is awarded only for those courses taken in excess of baccalaureate degree requirements. Undergraduate and graduate courses combined may not exceed sixteen credits for the final semester of baccalaureate degree work. A Senior Rule student must register for at least one credit which is required for the undergraduate degree in order to be eligible for this status. Students who have completed all required registrations for the baccalaureate may not obtain Senior Rule status. Completion of the Application for Graduate Admission form is required, and students are advised to consult their advisers and the Office of Graduate Admissions. Application deadlines for Senior Rule admission are the same as for regular graduate admission. Students who qualify and are recommended by the department or college will be admitted for one semester. Graduate admission will be regularized upon evidence that the student has completed all requirements for the bachelor's degree; it is the student's responsibility to provide this transcript.

As a courtesy, the University permits a student to pay undergraduate fees for the graduate courses elected in a Senior Rule status. It is recommended that students elect only courses numbered 5000-6999 in their Senior Rule semester.

Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences: Undergraduate pharmacy students may register for one of their last two semesters of their fifth year under Senior Rule status.

College of Nursing: Applicants must submit a graduate College of Nursing Application to the College's Office of Student Services, 225 Cohn, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan 48202.

PERMIT TO REGISTER: Admission may be granted on a one-term-only basis to applicants with incomplete applications for graduate admission, upon presentation of evidence of an earned baccalaureate degree with an acceptable grade point average. Registration beyond the initial semester requires the submission of a regular graduate admission application, the processing fee, and official transcripts. Admission as a graduate Permit-to-Register student does not obligate Wayne State University to accept the applicant in the future for a graduate degree, nor is there any assurance that credit earned in this status will be accepted toward a graduate degree.

This option is not available in all University schools and colleges. Applicants are encouraged to discuss admission options with the staff of the Office of Graduate Admissions.

Michigan Intercollegiate Graduate Studies (MIGS) Program

The Michigan Intercollegiate Graduate Studies (MIGS) Program enables graduate students of Michigan public institutions to take advantage of educational opportunities at other Michigan public institutions offering graduate degrees. Any graduate student in good standing in a master's, specialist, or doctoral program at a member institution is eligible to participate with approval of the appropriate academic unit. Students on a MIGS enrollment pay tuition and other fees at the host institution. All credits earned under a MIGS enrollment are accepted by a student's home institution as if offered by that institution. This type of enrollment is limited to one term for master's or specialist degree students, or two terms for doctoral degree students. Students interested in this program should contact the Office of Graduate Admissions for further information.

Wayne State University — University of Windsor Exchange Agreement

Wayne State University and the University of Windsor have entered into an exchange agreement whereby students from each institution may enroll in selected courses at the other institution. Courses available are limited to those not offered at the student's home institution. Limitations also apply to the number of courses and credits a student may take under this agreement. Wayne State University and the University of Windsor students who wish to participate in the program must be in good standing at their home institution and must have prior approval of the appropriate academic unit that the course(s) will be accepted as part of the student's course of study. Students who participate in the Wayne State University/University of Windsor program pay tuition and fees at the home institution and receive credit for the course(s) only at the home institution. Students should consult the Director of International Programs, Office of the Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs, for further information.

Post-Bachelor Admission

The Post-Bachelor status is granted to college/university graduates who wish to take Wayne State University courses through the 6000 level for undergraduate credit only. The status serves two groups of students:

(a) Those who wish to pursue vocational or avocational interests without intending to use Wayne State University credit to earn another degree at Wayne State University;

(b) Those who seek admission to the Graduate School but need to raise their undergraduate grade point average and/or fulfill specific undergraduate course requirements for Graduate School consideration.

The following special rules apply to Post-Bachelor Admission:

(a) Under no circumstances will credit earned in this status apply toward a graduate degree program.

(b) The applicant must present evidence of a degree earned from an accredited institution (official transcript or diploma).

(c) Post-Bachelor status students are not eligible for financial aid from Wayne State University, except if a student is taking prerequisite course work for a graduate program; in the latter case, he/she is eligible for a Stafford Loan for one twelve-month period for a maximum amount not to exceed the equivalent tuition for a first-year undergraduate student.

(d) Applications for Post-Bachelor status from students new to Wayne State University should be made to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, Welcome Center, 42 W. Warren, Wayne State University.

(e) An applicant who earned an undergraduate degree from Wayne State University, or who was previously admitted and registered in a Wayne State graduate program, should contact the Records Office to be re-admitted to the University as a Post-Bachelor student. Post-Bachelor applicants in the Colleges of Education and Nursing must obtain authorization directly from the College.

International Students

For complete information, see 'International Students and Scholars,' page 57.

Students from other countries must contact the Office of Graduate Admissions or their prospective department for appropriate application materials and deadline dates.

To be considered for graduate admission, applicants must have completed an appropriate university-level program comparable in subject matter and credits to a program for which a bachelor's degree is awarded at Wayne State University.

The fact that a degree in another country may have a similar name to a degree offered in the United States does not mean the two degrees require similar lengths and content of study or that they should be accepted as equivalents. All graduate applicants must (1) present an excellent scholastic record; (2) have sufficient financial resources for minimum tuition, supplies and living expenses; and (3) have a sufficient proficiency in English (see the section on Graduate Admission English Proficiency Requirement).

FINANCIAL AID: University sponsored financial assistance for international students is severely limited and unconfirmed awards should not be included in financial projections.

English Proficiency Requirement

Graduate applicants who graduated from colleges/universities in other countries must demonstrate proficiency in English. To fulfill this requirement an applicant must satisfy one of the following criteria:

- 1) Complete baccalaureate degree requirements at an accredited U.S. institution or in a country where English is the native language.
- 2) Present an acceptable score on the Michigan English Language Assessment Battery (MELAB).
- 3) Present an acceptable score on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or equivalent test such as the IELTS.

Some units may elect to grant qualified graduate admission to academically-talented International Students whose TOEFL scores fall slightly below the University minimum score. Interested students should contact the chairperson or director of their prospective program, to determine whether the program offers such qualified admission. For further information on the English Proficiency policy, please consult the Office of Graduate Admissions.

Faculty Admission

Tenured Wayne State University faculty members holding the rank of Assistant Professor or above may be admitted to Wayne State graduate degree programs outside the faculty member's school/college, under certain specified conditions. Untenured tenure-track faculty are not eligible to pursue a graduate or professional degree at Wayne State while in University employment. Faculty who are not tenured and not on the tenure track may enroll in degree programs outside their own unit with the approval of the dean of their college. For further information, contact the Dean of the Graduate School.

Special Status

Visiting Doctoral Guest: The Graduate School may issue a Visiting Doctoral Guest certificate to persons with an earned doctorate who come to Wayne State for scholarly study under the sponsorship of a department. Such Guests may obtain University library privileges and attend classes upon invitation of the department. No official record of attendance is kept on such Guests. For further information, contact the Graduate School.

Visiting Scholar: The Graduate School may issue a Visiting Scholar certificate to persons who have an advanced degree, such as an M.D., or are earning a doctoral degree, and who have come to Wayne State for scholarly study under the sponsorship of a department. Scholars may obtain University library privileges and attend classes upon invitation of the department. No official record of attendance is kept on such Scholars. For further information, contact the Graduate School.

The fee is automatically assessed; a fee card is not required. The fee may be cancelled when a course is officially dropped within the fee cancellation period. Course material fees are also cancelled in accordance with the Tuition Cancellation schedule as they appear on the Term Calendar. For additional information, contact the Department offering the course. Courses listed as having special fees require payment of the fee in addition to the tuition.

First Professional/Medicine Program Student Support Fee: Students in the First Professional Medicine Program pay a student support fee of $350.00 per year (four year program). Transcript Fee: A fee of $20.00 is assessed for each emergency transcript. An emergency transcript is one which is sent out within 24 hours of the date requested. Students may request non-emergency transcripts free of charge, for up to ten copies per year. A fee of $5.00 per transcript is charged for copies in excess of ten.

Locker Fees: Students registering for certain activity courses in physical education who wish to use locker facilities are charged a fee.

Bowling Fee: Students electing a course in bowling must pay a bowling lane rental fee at the first meeting of class. The fee is non-refundable.

See the Schedule of Classes Website at: <http://www.classschedule.wayne.edu/> for tuition and fee deadline dates applicable to a particular term.

Registration is not permitted beyond the prescribed registration date unless extenuating circumstances beyond the control of the student warrant an exception to University Policy as determined by the University Registrar. In such cases, full tuition, Registration Fee and Late Registration Fee must be paid in advance of registration.

Short Term Courses: Payment of the full tuition and the non-refundable Registration Fee is required on the date of registration or no later than the first class meeting date. Late Payment Fees are assessed to any student who has not paid his/her tuition and fee assessment by the due date.

Sponsored Tuition Programs: If an employer participates in direct tuition billing as part of an employee benefits program, the student should contact the Student Accounts Receivable Office for information: 313-577-6837.

Special Adjustments: The Registrar is authorized to make adjustments in the application of the policies stated in this section when unusual circumstances warrant. Examples of circumstances, which may warrant special consideration, are serious illness or death of the student or of someone closely related, or mis-advisement by a University representative. Students (or an authorized representative in the case of death or serious illness) must submit their applications and supporting documentation to Registration and Scheduling.

Holds on Records: Initial eligibility to register for classes each semester is based on a student's admission status with the University. All students must be authorized by the University in order to enroll in classes. 'Holds' may be placed on student records, and registration denied to a student, for academic reasons (e.g., probation or dismissal), a disciplinary problem, money owed to the University, failure to return library books and/or other supplies and equipment, and/or non-compliance with program, departmental, school/college, or University regulations.

A 'Hold' will be placed on the records of any student who has past indebtedness to the University. While the hold is in effect, registration for a subsequent term will not be permitted, transcripts of academic work taken at the University will not be furnished, nor will a diploma be issued. Student grades may be recorded but are not considered as being earned nor is a degree earned until the student has satisfied all unpaid tuition as well as money borrowed from student loan programs.

Tuition Cancellation

Tuition, not including the non-refundable Registration Fee, may be canceled in accordance with the following schedule when students officially withdraw from classes by the Web, by submitting a properly completed Register/Drop/Add form, or by sending a certified letter to Registration and Scheduling, in the Office of the Registrar. A certified letter of withdrawal sent through the U.S. Postal Service shall be considered effective by the U. S. Postal Service postal cancellation date, provided the date is legible. If the postal cancellation is dated Saturday or Sunday, it will be accepted as of the preceding Friday. The Registration Fee will be canceled when students officially withdraw from all classes during the early priority registration period, as defined in each term's Schedule of Classes.

The tuition cancellation schedule shown below applies to courses that start in accordance with the Official University Academic Calendar. The tuition cancellation schedule for courses with specially approved starting dates is dependent upon the starting date of the course. Questions about the tuition cancellation schedule should be referred to the University Registrar.

Classes meeting fewer than four weeks: Students who officially withdraw from scheduled classes before the first day of classes are entitled to a 100% tuition cancellation and 0% thereafter.

Classes meeting four to eight weeks: Students who officially withdraw from scheduled classes before the second week of classes are entitled to a 100% tuition cancellation and 0% thereafter.

Classes meeting nine to fifteen weeks: Students who officially withdraw from scheduled classes before the third week of classes are entitled to a 100% tuition cancellation and 0% thereafter. (Refer to the University Schedule of Classes for the appropriate term, for specific dates.)

Classes meeting sixteen to twenty-seven weeks: Students who officially withdraw from scheduled classes before the fourth week of classes are entitled to a 100% tuition cancellation and 0% thereafter.

Classes meeting twenty-eight or more weeks: Students who officially withdraw from scheduled classes before the seventh week of classes are entitled to a 100% tuition cancellation and 0% thereafter.

Residency

The following regulations and review procedures are established by Wayne State University for University tuition and fee purposes. The University recognizes that a variety of definitions exist for the term 'resident' and applicants are encouraged to give careful attention to these regulations which define residency for University purposes.

— Regulations

1. No student is eligible for residence classification unless (s)he or, if (s)he is a minor, the person from whom (s)he derives residence (pursuant to paragraph six below), meets the qualifications prescribed herein for residence and has lived in this state continuously for at least six months immediately prior to the first day of classes of the term for which resident classification is being sought, save for temporary absences as defined in paragraph two below.

2. For the purposes of these regulations, the terms 'residence' and 'domicile' are synonymous. In general, domicile is the place where a person actually resides with the intention of making it the person's true, fixed, permanent home and principal establishment and to which, whenever (s)he is temporarily absent, (s)he has the intention of returning. Full-time attendance at school outside Michigan and initial enlistment in a military service are examples of temporary absences. Other absences for more than six months will be presumed to be non-temporary. The fact of physical presence at the dwelling-place and the intention to make it a home must concur and the intention must be to make a home in fact in a certain place, and not an intention to acquire a domicile in order to obtain the benefit of the legal consequences of having a domicile there. A person may have but one domicile at a time, and a domicile, once established, continues until it is superseded by a new domicile.

3. Normally, the sojourn in this state of a student from another state for the primary purpose of attending school is not residence and it is presumed that a non-resident at the time of his or her enrollment continues in that classification throughout his or her presence as a student, except where it can be established that his or her previous domicile has been abandoned and a new one established. If a student enrolls in undergraduate school for more than eight credits, or in graduate school for more than six credits, or in Law School for more than ten credits in any one full length term, within six months after arrival in Michigan, it is normally presumed that the student's sojourn is for the purpose of attending school and not to establish domicile.

4. The following facts, although not conclusive, have probative value in support of a claim for residence classification: acceptance of an offer of permanent employment in this state; former residence in the state and the maintenance of significant connections therein while absent; economic or social compulsion causing a person to abandon a former residence and acquire residence in the state with attendance at the University only an incident to such residence.

5. The following facts, standing alone, are not accepted as sufficient evidence of domicile: employment by the University as a fellow, scholar, assistant, or in any position normally filled by students; a statement of intention to acquire a domicile in this state; voting or registration for voting; the lease of living quarters; payment of local and state taxes; automobile registration; driver's license; or continued presence in Michigan during vacation periods.

6. For purposes of these regulations, the age of majority is 18 years. A minor does not have the capacity to establish his or her own domicile. Normally, the domicile of a minor follows:

(a) That of the parents or surviving parent;

(b) That of the parent to whom custody of the minor has been awarded by a divorce or other judicial decree; or

(c) That of the parent with whom the minor in fact makes his or her home, if there has been a separation without a judicial award of custody; or

(d) That of an adoptive parent, where there has been a legal adoption, even though the natural parents or parent may be living; or

(e) That of a 'natural' guardian, such as grandparent with whom the minor in fact makes his or her home, where the minor has permanently left his or her parental home and reasonable expectation of substantial financial support from the parents has been dissolved.

(f) If a Michigan resident parent or guardian of a minor moves his or her residence to another state, the minor shall remain eligible for resident tuition status as long as (s)he continues to attend school regularly in this state.

7. Where a general guardian has been appointed by the state of the ward's domicile, at the time of appointment the ward's domicile presumption remains in that state. The appointment by a Michigan court of a resident guardian of a minor not domiciled in this state at the time of appointment has no effect upon the domicile of the ward.

8. A minor who has permanently left his or her parental home, and who has no reasonable expectation of substantial financial support from his or her parents or legal guardian, etc., may qualify for residency status as if (s)he were of majority age.

9. An alien student may apply for resident status under one or more of the following regulations in the same manner as a citizen, if he/she is in the United States for other than a temporary purpose. In order to demonstrate that he/she is here for other than a temporary purpose, the alien student must be either a permanent resident alien with an I-151 or I-551 Alien Receipt Card or an applicant for adjustment to permanent resident alien status whose application has been approved by the Immigration and Naturalization Service; OR an alien with a G-4 visa; OR an alien with an I-94 Arrival-Departure Record Card, endorsed either 'refugee' or 'applicant for adjustment'; OR an alien with documentation from the Immigration and Naturalization Service that he/she has been granted asylum in the United States; OR an alien with other documentation from the Immigration and Naturalization Service that reflects status equivalent to one of the above denominated categories.

— Review Procedures

1. Initial Classification and Appeal

(a) Registering under proper residence and advising the Office of Admissions of changes in circumstances which might affect residence classification is the responsibility of the student. Questions concerning a student's residency should be raised initially with the Office of Admissions.

(b) A student may challenge the initial classification by filing an Application for Residence Classification with the Registration and Scheduling Office, where such forms are available. Except for delays caused by University personnel, Applications for Residence Classification must be filed within the term for which resident classification is claimed.

(c) A student may appeal from the administrative classification by filing a written notice of appeal with the Registrar's Office within sixty calendar days after the student is notified of the administrative classification. The notice of appeal shall include reasons for the appeal, the period for which resident status is claimed, and a complete statement of the facts on which the appeal is based, together with supporting affidavits or other documentary evidence. Failure to file notice within sixty calendar days shall constitute a waiver of the right to appeal from the administrative classification.

(d) The Office of the General Counsel shall review the appeal and render a decision. A student may appeal an adverse decision by filing a written notice of appeal with the Office of the General Counsel within fifteen calendar days from the date of the decision. Failure to file a written notice of appeal with the Office of the General Counsel shall constitute a waiver of the right to appeal to the President or his designee. While the student has the right to consult the University Ombudsperson at any time, the student may particularly want to utilize the Ombudsperson's services at this point in the review procedure.

(e) After a student appeal, the President or his designee shall review the student's appeal on the record and render a final decision.

(f) If an erroneous classification has occurred, a refund for the appropriate period and amount will be made.

2. Reclassification and Appeal

(a) A student, having been initially classified as a non-resident and having decided that (s)he has since become a resident may initiate action in the same manner as for challenging an initial classification pursuant to 1(b) above.

(b) If the petitioner is dissatisfied with the finding of the Registrar's Office, (s)he may appeal to the Office of the General Counsel in the same manner as prescribed for appeals from administrative classification as in 1(c) above.

3. Erroneous Classification

If any student having been classified as a resident student shall be determined to have been erroneously so classified, (s)he shall be reclassified as a non-resident student, and if the cause of his or her incorrect classification shall be found to be due to any material concealment of facts or false statement made by him or her at or before the time of his or her original classification, (s)he shall be required to pay all tuition fees which would have been charged except for such erroneous classification and shall be subject also to appropriate discipline in accordance with University policies. If it is determined that there is no such concealment of facts by the student, fees shall be adjusted only for current and future terms.

4. Classification Date: These procedures became effective November 9, 1979.

STUDENT RECORDS and REGISTRATION

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

5057 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Michigan 48202
313-577-3550, Fax: 313-577-3769

Web: <http://sdcl.wayne.edu/registrar/registrarhome>

The Office of the Registrar supports the instructional mission of the University by providing academic services, data and information, and technical services to the campus community.

The Office consists of three major units: Registration and Scheduling, Student Records, and Student Systems Technical Support. Registration and Scheduling prepares the Schedules of Classes and Final Examinations, makes room assignments for classes and special events, processes registrations, drops and adds, assesses tuition and fees, determines residency, and reviews all appeals for exceptions to University enrollment policies. Student Records maintains academic and personal student data, grades, transcripts, graduation applications, diplomas, and certifies academic athletic eligibility. The University uses the services of the National Student Loan Clearinghouse to certify enrollment and degrees. Student Systems Technical Support provides the hardware, software, Web and network services needed to support these academic services. The unit also develops systems and procedures for business processes, produces official enrollment data, and responds to the student-related information needs of the University community.

Registration and Scheduling

Registration is the process of officially enrolling in classes for a particular term. The Schedule of Classes, published by the Office of the Registrar in advance of each term, lists the days, times and locations for registration and explains registration procedures. Students should review the information in the Schedule of Classes, on the web at <http://www.classschedule.wayne.edu/> prior to registering.

A student may not attend any class for which he/she is not officially registered.

POST-BACHELOR STATUS: Students wishing graduate credit are cautioned NOT to register 'post-bachelor.' This status allows students holding a bachelor's degree from accredited institutions to elect only courses open to undergraduate students (numbered below 7000), which may be used to fulfill prerequisite requirements for graduate admission. Credit for courses elected as a post-bachelor student does not count toward a graduate degree.

Registering for Classes on the Web

Complete instructions for registration appear in the Schedule of Classes, on the Web at <http://www.classschedule.wayne.edu/>. Additional information and assistance is available from Registration and Scheduling: 313-577-3541.

1. To register on the Web, a student needs to know his/her WSU AccessID and password. For information and help with the AccessID and password, call the Computing and Information Technology Help Desk at 313-577-4778, or e-mail: helpdesk@wayne.edu. Information is also available on the Web at: <http://support.wayne.edu>
2. Registration may be completed on any computer with access to the World Wide Web.
3. The Web address to register is: <http://pipeline.wayne.edu/>. Student should enter their WSU AccessID and password, and hit 'enter.' Then, successively click on: School Services > Administrative Services > Student Services & Financial Aid > Registration; and follow the prompts.

Complete instructions for registering appear in the Schedule of Classes and on the website at: <http://www.classschedule.wayne.edu>. It is highly recommended that students print a copy of their student schedule from WSU Pipeline prior to the beginning of the term, because this is the only way to obtain a printed version. Additional information and assistance is available by calling Registration and Scheduling, 313-577-3541.

Drop/Add — Adjusting Your Schedule

Registered students may drop and/or add classes during the prescribed registration dates as indicated in the Schedule of Classes for the applicable semester. Note the following requirements:

1. The regulations pertaining to dropping and adding courses are stated as they pertain to regular courses fifteen weeks or more in duration. These regulations are applied proportionately to courses that are offered for less than fifteen weeks.
2. Students who do not officially drop their courses within the first two weeks of classes are financially obligated to pay for the courses even if they have not attended any class sessions.
3. Students may drop (not add) courses after the deadline by phone or Web, by sending a letter to Registration and Scheduling in the Office of the Registrar or a fax request to 313-993-7758. The effective date of such drops, for tuition cancellation and grading purposes, is determined by the U. S. Postal Service postal cancellation date or fax date stamp.
4. Students who officially drop courses before the conclusion of the first two weeks of classes (for the Fall and Winter terms) are entitled to 100% tuition cancellation, and the courses do not appear on the students' academic records.
5. Students who officially drop fifteen-week courses after the second week of classes (for the Fall and Winter terms) are not entitled to any tuition cancellation; however, courses dropped prior to the conclusion of the fourth week of classes do not appear on students' academic records. After the fourth week of classes, courses dropped are included on students' academic records with a mark of 'W,' Withdrawal.
6. Students are not permitted to add courses after the second week of the term.
7. Students are required to have instructors' signatures for drops processed after the fourth week of the term.
8. Students are not permitted to drop courses after the final examination period begins.

College of Engineering: Students are not permitted to drop courses after the fifth week of classes without written approval of their adviser. Some departments have more stringent restrictions on dropping of courses.

WSU Pipeline — University Web Access

Web: <http://pipeline.wayne.edu>

WSU Pipeline is a secure gateway to Wayne State University information and electronic services and tools on the World Wide Web. Wayne State students, faculty, and staff can visit this one-stop location to use helpful self-services and online tools to meet their day-to-day needs, find WSU information that may be relevant to them, and work with communication tools for connecting or interacting with people on or off campus.

The Wayne State community also has many communication and collaboration tools available through WSU Pipeline, such as e-mail (using Wayne State's WebMail System), calendars and to-do lists, and a groups application. These tools can enhance the way communities are formed and interact here on campus.

Accessing WSU Pipeline: All that is needed to access WSU Pipeline (<http://pipeline.wayne.edu>) (or Campus Pipeline as it also is called), is a current Web browser on any computer connected to the Internet and a WSU AccessID (e.g., xy6789) and password. As soon as a student submits an admissions application or an employee is hired, an AccessID is automatically created. Instructions on how to look up an AccessID and activate it are on the Web (<http://computing.wayne.edu/AccessID>). For help with WSU AccessIDs, visit the Web (<http://computing.wayne.edu/AccessID>) or contact the Computing & Information Technology Help Desk at 313-577-4778 or helpdesk@wayne.edu.

USING WSU PIPELINE: The information that a WSU student or employee sees in WSU Pipeline, and the services and tools they can access and use through WSU Pipeline, are based on their particular role (or roles) at the University. For instance:

(1) Faculty and students can use numerous course tools in WSU Pipeline and in the Blackboard Learning System, which also is accessible through Pipeline. These tools include the availability of a Blackboard Website and calendar for every course, easy access to WSU e-mail, and secure chat and threaded discussions for communicating and interacting with each other.

(2) Students have self-service access through Pipeline to build a course schedule and register. They also can check holds, final grades, financial aid status, and tuition balances, and even make secure payments using a credit card. Students will only see announcements and information in WSU Pipeline that are of interest to students.

(3) Faculty can access administrative e-Services through Pipeline to print class lists and to submit both Early Assessment and final grades. A variety of electronic tools also are available to help faculty and instructors accomplish both academic and administrative tasks more efficiently and effectively.

(4) All WSU employees may view pay information, benefits and deductions, vacation and sick-leave banks, employment and tax records, and the like. In addition, employees may view announcements and information restricted only to Wayne State employees.

UNIVERSITY GRADING SYSTEM

Students obtain their course grades on-line by using their WSU-issued AccessIDs. The AccessIDs provide secure access to each student's academic and personal student data. Final grades are recorded under the following system.

Graduate Grades

The graduate grading system is intended to reflect higher standards of critical and creative scholarship than those applied at the undergraduate level. To receive a graduate grade in courses open to both undergraduate and graduate students, the graduate student is expected to do work of superior quality and is required to do any additional work specified by the instructor. Graduate students are required to earn a 'B' (3.0) average to satisfy degree requirements.

Grades of 'B-minus' and below are unsatisfactory for graduate level work and constitute valid cause for dropping a student from a graduate program. To be awarded a graduate degree, a student must have achieved at least a 'B' (3.0) grade point average. A limited number of grades of 'B-minus,' 'C-plus,' or 'C', though unsatisfactory, may be applied toward a graduate degree provided they are offset by a sufficient number of higher grades to maintain a grade point average of 3.0. Specific limitations on the number of grades below 'B' which may count toward a graduate degree and limitations on grades below 'B' in specific courses may be established by individual departments and programs. Students should consult with their departments and advisers regarding these specific limitations. All graduate teaching assistants and graduate research assistants must maintain a minimum g.p.a. of 3.0 in order to continue their assistantship appointments. Every effort is made to assist students whose work suffers as a result of conditions beyond their control, or interruption of study for military service.

Law School and School of Medicine: This grading system does not apply to Law School students or students in the four-year M.D. program of the School of Medicine. Students enrolled in those programs should see the appropriate sections of this Bulletin and should consult with appropriate Program Directors for more information.

Final grades for graduate courses are recorded under the following system.

A Excellent: 4.0 grade points per credit hour

A-minus: 3.67 grade points per credit hour

B-plus: 3.33 grade points per credit hour

B Good: 3.0 grade points per credit hour

B-minus: 2.67 grade points per credit hour

C-plus: 2.33 grade points per credit hour

C Below Graduate Standards: 2.0 grade points per credit hour

F Failure: 0 grade points per credit hour

M Marginal Pass in designated courses such as field work, practicums and internships (NOT considered in calculation of grade point average).

S and U Satisfactory and Unsatisfactory performance in non-degree courses and in certain designated courses such as field work, practicums and internships. The grade of 'S' is given for all dissertation credits upon final acceptance of the dissertation in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Ph.D. and Ed.D. degrees. 'S' and 'U' grades are not considered in the calculation of the grade point average.

Graduate Marks

The mark of 'I'—Incomplete, is given to a student who has not completed all the course work as planned for the course and when there is, in the judgment of the instructor, a reasonable probability that the student can complete the course successfully without attending regular class sessions. The responsibility for completing all course work rests entirely with the student. A final grade is recorded when the student completes the appropriate course work as arranged with the instructor or, in the absence of the instructor, the department chairperson. (The mark of 'I' shall not be changed to a grade of 'F' unless, after receiving the 'I,' the student's subsequent work is of such quality that the overall average for the course is below passing.)

The course work must be completed by the student within one calendar year. In the event of extenuating circumstances, the instructor may agree to extend the completion period allowed for incomplete courses beyond one year.

The mark of 'I' is inappropriate if, in the instructor's judgment, it will be necessary for the student regularly to attend subsequent sessions of the class. If regular attendance is necessary to complete coursework, the student must register for the class for the semester in which attendance is planned. The mark of 'X' (insufficient work submitted for grade purposes) should be awarded in these instances. The student will be assessed tuition and applicable fees for the second registration.

The mark of 'W'—Official Withdrawal, is given when the student drops the course in accordance with University policy. See 'Drop/Add,' page 23.

The Mark of 'X'— No grade awarded, is a non-punitive mark used when there has been insufficient work submitted and there is no basis on which to assign a grade.

The mark of 'Y'— Deferred, is given when the student is up-to-date in the work of a course planned to continue beyond the semester (i.e., essay, thesis, dissertation and certain courses taken in sequence).

The mark of 'Z'— Auditor, is given when the student has formally registered for the course for audit. The student's Academic Dean or his/her designee must provide written audit authorization to the student at the time of registration.

Change of Grade and Mark

Once recorded in the Office of the Registrar, grades/marks will be changed only if an official Change of Grade form, properly completed and signed by the instructor, is submitted to the school or college Grades Coordinator, and is received by Student Records within three semesters (one calendar year) after the end of the term for which the relevant course was originally graded/marked.

Credits

A credit (credit hour) is defined as one class hour per week or its approved equivalent requiring a minimum of two hours of preparation per week carried through a semester. A credit in other modes of instruction should be made as consistent as possible with the above definition.

Laboratory: A three-hour laboratory period is normally regarded as the equivalent of one class hour.

Grade Point Average

The grade point average (g.p.a.) is the numerical index of the student's scholastic average. Points are assigned to each letter grade (see University Grading System, above) for each hour of credit. To compute your grade point average, multiply the grade points assigned to each course grade by the number of credit hours for each course; add the results and divide by the total number of credit hours.

For example, a grade of 'A' in a class carrying 3 credits would be assigned 12 grade points (3 x 4), and a grade of 'C' in a class carrying 4 credits would be assigned 8 grade points (4 x 2). In this example, the grade point average is: 20 (total grade points) divided by 7 (total credits attempted) = 2.85 g.p.a.

Credit for special examinations, transfer credit, and courses in which a mark of 'I' 'W' or 'X' or a grade of 'S,' 'U,' 'M,' 'P,' or 'N' has been earned are excluded from grade point average computation.

See page 26 (Retaking Courses) for the policy on grade points for retaken courses at the graduate level.

Law School: This grade point system does not apply to Law School students.

Transcript Request Policy

Official transcripts bear the seal of the University and the signature of the Registrar. They are sent directly to the receiving party. Official transcripts are normally provided without charge. If more than ten transcripts are required per year, a $5.00 fee for each copy beyond ten is charged. Emergency transcripts, those required within twenty-four hours, are provided for a fee of $20.00 per request.

An official transcript may be requested in person, by mail, or electronically from a student's WSU-issued AccessID only. The University will not honor telephone requests for transcripts. Requests by mail should be addressed to: Student Records, Attn: Transcripts, 5057 Woodward, Wayne State University, Detroit MI 48202. To ensure prompt attention, the student should include his/her name (including name while in attendance, if different), student identification number, social security number, date of birth, last term of attendance, his/her authorizing signature, and the name and address to which the transcript is to be sent.

Transcripts are not issued to anyone outside the University without the written permission of the student. Requests for official transcripts will not be honored if the student or former student has an outstanding financial obligation to the University.

Students may obtain personal copies of their transcripts on-line by using their secure WSU AccessIDs. For academic data not available on-line students can obtain personal copies by directing a signed request to the Student Records Office.

Responsible Attendance and Performance

Students must show diligence and are normally expected to complete the courses they elect. Irresponsible attendance is wasteful of both student and University resources. Those students who consistently receive excessive marks of 'I' (incomplete) and 'W' (Withdrawal) may be refused the privilege of further registration by the dean or the dean's designee of their school or college.

Release of Student Records and Student Directory Information

The University recognizes admission and academic records of students as being privileged and has a policy designed to ensure that this information is not improperly divulged without the consent of the student. The University is subject to the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act and has promulgated regulations pursuant thereto. Copies of the regulations and a list of student records maintained by the University are available for inspection in the Office of the Registrar. The University reserves the right to provide anonymous academic information to other schools and colleges when it is to be used for curriculum evaluation purposes.

Directory Information: Effective Winter Term 2000, Wayne State University policy permits the release of certain Student Directory information. The specific items are: name, address, telephone number, age (or date of birth), major, level, degrees received, previous institutions attended, honors, awards, e-mail addresses, participation in sports or student activities, and height and weight for members of athletic teams. Unless a student informs the Office of the Registrar that he or she does not want this information released, it will be available to third parties on request. In addition, the student's name, WSU e-mail address, college/school, and major will be visible in the University's Electronic Directory on the Internet. Students who do not want this information released must formally request that the University not release it, by completing the Release of Directory Information form available in the Schedule of Classes, from the Office of the Registrar, and on the Registrar's Office Website: <http://sdcl.wayne.edu/registrar/registrarhome/>

WSU OneCard

The WSU OneCard is a photo identification card that also implements student use of many campus facilities. It serves as a library card, parking card, door access card, and debit card. The debit card feature of OneCard provides a cashless environment for cardholders throughout the campus. When the card is activated and money deposited on it by the cardholder, the OneCard allows access to parking facilities and may also be used for purchases on campus including photocopies, printing, food at the Student Center and other food venues, vending machine items, Barnes & Noble bookstore items, testing services, and Fitness Center usage.

Students may obtain the OneCard from Room 50 Student Center (lower level), 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 8:30 a.m., Friday; telephone 313-577-2273.

Funds may be added to the OneCard via the Internet (<http://www.busop.wayne.edu/OneCard.htm>) with a credit card or at one of the Cash System Value Terminals located in the following University buildings: Adamany Undergraduate Library, Purdy/Kresge Library, Law Library, Science and Engineering Library, Shiffman Medical Library, State Hall, Old Main, Student Center, Scott Hall, Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Matthaehi Physical Education Center, Parking Structures 1, 2, 5, and 6, University Tower Apartments, and Oakland Center.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Continuance in graduate status is contingent upon the student keeping informed of all rules, regulations and requirements and complying with all official procedures of the Graduate School, the individual college or school and department. The student is responsible for fulfilling all course and degree requirements in proper sequence with satisfactory scholarship. In case of doubt regarding any matter affecting his/her standing as a graduate student, the student should consult with his/her adviser. The primary responsibility of keeping informed of policy and procedures rests with the student. Regulations contained herein should not be construed as exhaustive.

Normal Program Load

A full-time graduate student is one who is enrolled for eight or more credits during a semester. The definition of normal course load will vary depending upon the requirements of each program.

Auditing Courses

To audit a course, a student must indicate that he/she wishes to audit the course rather than receive academic credit, at the time of registration. Registration to audit a course is subject to the following regulations:

1. Students must pay the tuition assessment for the course, which is the same as if it were taken for academic credit;
2. A student is not permitted to take quizzes and examinations in audited courses;
3. A student may not normally change from audit status after registering for the course. In some cases, exceptions may be permitted during the term with the written recommendation of the instructor and the written approval of the Dean of the college/school in which the student is enrolled. The instructor's recommendation and Dean's approval must be included with the student's Drop/Add Form indicating the desired change.

The Graduate School does not encourage students to audit graduate-level courses.

Undergraduates Registering for Graduate Courses

Highly qualified undergraduate students may, under special circumstances, take a 7000-level course for undergraduate credit only. A written petition initiated by the student's adviser must be approved by the graduate office of the school or college, by the professor teaching the course, and by the Dean of the Graduate School. (See also: 'Under the Senior Rule,' below.)

Dual Enrollment

Graduates registering for Undergraduate Courses: Graduate students may take undergraduate courses to be recorded on an undergraduate transcript. This is often done to satisfy prerequisites not completed at the undergraduate level. Fees are assessed at the graduate level for all courses.

Under the Senior Rule: An undergraduate student in his/her senior year who has a 3.0 or higher upper division g.p.a., and who desires to earn a limited number of graduate credits, may receive in his/her final semester a temporary Senior Rule admission for one semester only to a graduate program. Students who desire this status must file an Application for Graduate Admission and be admitted. A completed Senior Rule/Dual Enrollment Form, distinguishing the courses for graduate and undergraduate credit, must be submitted to Student Records within the first two weeks of classes. For further information,

Dual Enrollment with the University of Michigan: A student enrolled at either Wayne State University or the University of Michigan may elect a course or courses in the other institution if the course fits his/her program but is not available in his/her home institution. The student must have written approval of the department chairperson in his/her major area at the home college and the approval of his/her Dean. The election must also be approved by the department which offers the course. Students desiring to participate in Wayne State University - University of Michigan dual registration should obtain the necessary forms from the Office of the Registrar and pay the appropriate tuition at their home institution.

Retaking Courses

Graduate Students: A graduate department or equivalent academic administrative unit may, if it wishes, allow a student to petition to retake a graduate course in which a grade of 'B-minus' or lower is received. No more than two courses may be retaken during the student's study at Wayne State and this number may be further limited by individual departments. Permission to retake a course must be obtained from the Graduate Officer (for Master's students) or the Departmental Graduate Committee (for Ph.D. students) as well as the Dean of the Graduate School (for both Master's and Ph.D. students) before registration for the course takes place. The original grade for the course will remain on the student's transcript, but only the grade received in retaking of the course will be used in computation of the student's grade point average for the degree program. Students will not receive University financial aid for courses that are retaken.

School of Business Administration: No course in which a student has received a passing grade or mark may be retaken without the prior written approval of the Director of Student Services of the School of Business Administration.

College of Engineering: No course may be retaken without the prior written approval of the respective department's Graduate Program Chairperson and the Associate Dean of Engineering for Graduate Studies. Students may not retake any course in which a grade of 'A' or 'B' was received.

Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences—Faculty of Health Sciences: No course may be retaken without the consent of the adviser(s) delegated for each professional curriculum.

Credit by Examination

A student wishing to obtain credit toward an advanced degree for knowledge essential to his/her program of study, acquired by means precluding formal transfer to Wayne State University, may petition for an advanced credit examination in a course or courses covering the relevant area of study. The petition requesting such advanced credit shall state the basis for the request in terms of the student's competence at the graduate level in the particular academic area. The established examination fee must be paid before the examination is taken. All grades will be recorded on the student's transcript. Such grades will not be used in computing the grade point average. The fulfillment of any requirement through credit by examination does not relieve the student of the residence requirement for degree.

Graduate Courses

Graduate work is classified either as course work, in which students meet as an assembled group, or as research. Generally, courses numbered 5000 and above are considered graduate level; in some departments, certain 5000- and 6000-level courses are not permitted for graduate credit and are so designated. Courses numbered 7000 and above are open only to graduate students.

Directed Study: Independent study may be authorized provided the area of interest is an integral part of the student's graduate program and is not covered by courses scheduled while completing one's course requirements. Before a Ph.D. student may register in directed study, he/she must complete the Ph.D. directed study petition form, Doctor of Philosophy Petition and Authorization for Directed Study, and obtain the written permission of his/her department's graduate committee chairperson. The petition must contain information about the nature, scope, and significance of the course, and indicate the major requirements the student must fulfill. Master's students must provide the same information and obtain the written permission of their college/school Graduate Officer.

Business Administration: All courses numbered 6000-6099 and 7000 or higher are open only to students formally admitted to a Wayne State graduate program, or to qualified guest students. Enrollment in these courses must be approved by a graduate adviser or be consistent with a student's Plan of Work. Students in an undergraduate, post-bachelor, or non-matriculated status are not eligible.

Law School: In addition to the above approvals, graduate students must obtain the written permission of the Law School Dean to elect Law School courses or directed studies.

Graduate Credits

Major credits: credits earned in the student's major field are designated as major credits. The dissertation, thesis, or essay must be in the major field.

Minor credits: credits earned in departments other than the major are classified as minor or cognate credits. Election of minor credit is encouraged to enable the student to broaden his/her program. In doctoral programs, minor courses should be related to the major and six or more graduate credits approved by the unit graduate committee chairperson will constitute a minor.

Transfer of Credits — Graduate

In work toward the master's degree, credit beyond the twenty-four credits which must be earned in residence may be transferred from accredited graduate schools, provided such credit is 'B' or better and certified as graduate-level credit on an official transcript. Departments and schools/colleges may further restrict the number of credits that may be transferred. A student wishing to transfer graduate credit toward the Ph.D. degree must file a petition with the Graduate School, approved by his/her adviser and departmental graduate committee chairperson, requesting such transfer. The petition must be supported by an official transcript showing a minimum grade of 'B' for the courses to be transferred; 'B-minus' credit is not acceptable for transfer. Transfer credits must be appropriate to the student's degree program. Doctoral dissertation credits will not be transferred. Courses accepted for transfer credit from outside or within Wayne State University cannot have provided credit toward a prior degree except when the master's or another pre-doctoral certificate or degree is applied to the doctoral degree. Admission to Wayne State University based upon a previously earned master's degree does not guarantee that those credits are applicable to a graduate degree at Wayne State University.

Extension Credits earned at other than Michigan institutions cannot be applied toward a graduate degree nor an education specialist certificate.

School of Business Administration: A maximum of six semester credits (two courses) may be transferred from other graduate institutions.

Maximum Credit Load

A student with a strong academic record who is devoting full-time to graduate study may register for a maximum of sixteen credits per semester. Graduate Assistants are required to register for six to twelve credits each semester. The University considers a program of eight graduate credits per semester to be full-time study.

Short-Term and Travel-Study Courses

Short-Term, Workshop-Institute-Conference, and Travel-Study courses offered for graduate credit must be proposed, approved and authorized well in advance via the appropriate form (obtainable from the Graduate School). After an initial authorization, courses to be repeated with no substantial change may be petitioned and approved by memorandum on the basis of the original on file.

Short-Term Courses are those created or adapted to meet for a time period of less than one-half an academic semester— i.e., less than 7-1/2 weeks. Such courses offered for graduate credit will provide for at least fifteen contact hours and the requisite proportion of outside preparation for each hour of credit. It is assumed that short-term courses will not differ from regular fifteen-week courses in terms of objectives, content, contact hours, or academic expectations, unless such a difference is reflected by a proportioning of graduate credits.

Workshop-Institute-Conference Courses (WIC) are those specially formulated experiences which, because of their usually 'applied' nature, lend themselves to an exceptionally brief but intensive time span. They differ from short-term courses in their concentration, usually spanning from a single day to two or three weekends. Offered for graduate credit, these courses provide for a minimum of twenty-five contact hours and an appropriate proportion of additional work for each hour of credit. Since these experiences vary greatly in their purposes and the degree of participation expected of the student, they are offered for credit only infrequently and enroll only those students for whose academic programs they would be directly relevant. Graduate grading will be on an 'S' and 'U' basis only.

Travel-Study Courses are those created or adapted to take special advantage of the opportunity to relate a particular course of study to the cultures, mores, or institutions studied. Such courses may involve either domestic or foreign travel. All are offered through the Division of Metropolitan Programs and Summer Sessions. Graduate credit for travel-study courses will be graded on an 'S' and 'U' basis only.

CREDIT RESTRICTIONS: Graduate students may not register for any course or combination of courses in these categories that permit the accumulation of graduate credits at a rate greater than one credit hour per week. Registrations that exceed this rate will be canceled in advance if discovered and, in no case will the excess credit be counted toward the requirements for a Wayne State graduate degree.

Obligations to the Instructional Process

Since education is a cooperative effort between teacher and student, both parties must fulfill obligations if the integrity and efficacy of the instructional process are to be preserved.

Responsibilities of Faculty Members

1. To contribute to and remain abreast of the latest developments in their fields;
2. To continually pursue teaching excellence;
3. To treat all students with respect and fairness without regard to ancestry, race, religion, political belief, country of origin, sex, sexual preference, age, marital status, or handicap;
4. To encourage differing viewpoints and demonstrate integrity in evaluating their merit;
5. To attend regularly and punctually, adhere to the scheduled class and final examination times, and arrange for notification of absence and coverage of classes;
6. To establish and maintain appropriate office hours;
7. To present, early in the semester, the following course information:

- (a) course objectives and general outline;
  - (b) classroom procedures to be followed, expectations concerning class attendance, and proposed dates of major evaluations (including examinations, papers, and other projects);
  - (c) grading policy;
  - (d) where appropriate, a schedule of class-related activities, including class meetings and laboratory sessions;
  - (e) lists of texts and/or other materials needed for the course;
  - (f) late enrollment, withdrawal, and other special policies.
8. To provide and adhere, within reasonable limits, to the written syllabus of the course;
  9. To know course matter thoroughly and prepare and present the material conscientiously;
  10. To be informed of University services and recommend their use to students when advisable;
  11. To follow these policies concerning written work and grades:
    - (a) grade and return written work promptly;
    - (b) submit final grades by the scheduled time;
    - (c) retain written materials not returned within the semester (e.g., final examinations, major term papers) for one academic semester in accordance with unit policy and allow students to examine such materials;
  12. To implement unit procedures for student evaluation of faculty teaching, with attention to preserving student anonymity;
  13. To behave appropriately in dealing with students so as to maintain a scholarly atmosphere.

Responsibilities of Students

1. To inform themselves of and to fulfill all requirements of the University and those of the college and department from which they expect to receive their degree;
2. To fulfill conscientiously all assignments and requirements of their courses;
3. To attend classes regularly and punctually;
4. To maintain a scholarly, courteous demeanor in class;
5. To uphold academic honesty in all activities;
6. To notify the instructor as early as possible if prevented from keeping an appointment or carrying out an assignment;
7. To discuss with the instructor any class-related problem and follow established procedures in the resolution of these problems;
8. To adhere to the instructor's and general University policies on attendance, withdrawal, or other special procedures.

It is expected that faculty and students will fulfill their obligations to the instructional process. If, however, a complaint does arise, the parties should meet in an effort to resolve the matter. When such a discussion fails to resolve the problem or is inappropriate given the circumstances, the head of the academic unit should be contacted. If this contact fails to satisfy the complaint, the college's published procedures should be followed. Although the University Ombudsperson is not a direct part of the appeal process, students and faculty may consult the Ombudsperson at any point during such proceedings.

Classroom Attendance Policy

Whenever attendance forms a basis for a portion or all of a course grade, students must be provided with explicit written information concerning that fact during the first week of classes. Such information shall be specific with regard to the penalty incurred for each absence and the means, if any, to compensate for the absence. It should be recognized that there may be certain situations where the student may not be permitted to make up the absence(s). This policy shall be applicable to all courses within the University, regardless of setting.

Deception, Fraud and Misuse of Documents

Intentionally furnishing false information to the University is explicitly prohibited, as is forgery, alteration, unauthorized possession, or misuse of University documents, records and identification cards. The University reserves the right to rescind degrees if the award of the degree was based in whole or in part on deception, fraud, other unacceptable academic conduct, or misuse of University documents.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

Upon the recommendation of the Student-Faculty Council, the University (Faculty) Council, the President-Deans Conference and the President, the Board of Governors, in January, 1967, approved a comprehensive statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities for the University. In addition, the Board of Governors adopted a Student Due Process Policy. This latter document provides uniform procedures for all schools and colleges. Copies of these documents are available to students and faculty in the offices of the deans of each college and the Office of the Vice President for Student Development and Campus Life.

Law School: The faculty of the Law School has approved a set of academic regulations, copies of which are available to all students enrolled in the Law School.

Student Due Process

A high standard of student conduct plays a major role in creating an environment of excellence, and the Student Due Process Policy is used to maintain these high standards. The policy (1) establishes the expectations that students are accountable for their behavior; (2) describes acceptable student conduct, both academic and non-academic; (3) describes disciplinary policies and procedures; (4) specifies the rights of the student and other parties; (5) specifies prohibited conduct and sanctions to be imposed if such conduct occurs. Examples of prohibited conduct subject to the Student Due Process Policy include, but are not limited to, academic dishonesty, knowingly furnishing false information to the University, disorderly behavior, theft, damage of property, illegal drugs, weapons on campus, false report of emergency, unauthorized entry, violation of criminal law, etc.

The University Judicial Officer, housed in the Office of the Dean of Students, monitors the student disciplinary process and is responsible for coordinating matters involving student discipline; describing the disciplinary procedures; and informing students and other parties of their rights.

Copies of the Student Due Process Policy are available from the Dean of Students Office, 351 Student Center, or at <http://www.doso.wayne.edu>.

College/School Grade Appeal Procedures

Each college and school has established grade appeal procedures. The appeal procedures are available from the Office of the College or School Dean. In most instances, grade appeals must be filed within thirty days of the time the student has or should have received his/her final grade.

Academic Appeals Procedure

In matters where a College's final decision is based upon the evaluation of a student's academic performance, and when review procedures available to him/her within the College have been exhausted, the student may request the Provost to review that decision on the record. A written Request for a Provost Review must be made by the student himself/herself, with a copy to the Dean of the College, post-marked within thirty calendar days of the postmark of the College's final decision, which is to be sent to the address provided by the student in the College's review procedures. The Provost's review of the College's decision will proceed as soon as practicable after notification by the student of his/her wish to seek review.

The student may also file with the Provost a Request for a Postponement of the effect of the College's final decision. Such a Request must be postmarked within seven calendar days of the postmark of the College's final decision, and a copy must be sent to the Dean of the College. Upon receiving a Request for Postponement, the Provost will immediately contact the Dean. Unless the College demonstrates clearly and convincingly that the injury to the College or to third persons that would result from such a postponement would outweigh the injury to the student from denying the postponement, the effect of the decision rendered by the College must be postponed until the date that the Provost issues a decision regarding the underlying Request for Provost Review. The Provost will inform the student and the Dean of her/his decision regarding the Request for Postponement within three school days after receiving the request.

Exceptions to this procedure may be granted by the Provost upon a showing of good and sufficient cause.

Academic Scholarship

A graduate degree is evidence of scholarly attainment; of ability to achieve academic excellence; of critical and creative ability with capacity to apply and to interpret what has been learned through research, the essay, the thesis, or the dissertation and the several examinations; of ethics in use of the work of others and in interpersonal relationships. See Graduate Grades, page 24.

Student Ethics

1. The submission of fraudulent academic records for graduate admission or transfer of credit by a student shall be cause for the student's dismissal from the Graduate School.
2. Academic work submitted by a graduate student for graduate credit is assumed to be of his/her own creation, and, if found not to be, will constitute cause for the student's dismissal from the School.

Academic Nepotism

Faculty members are not to place themselves, or allow themselves to be placed, in a situation amounting to 'academic nepotism,' i.e., teaching or otherwise directing the credit study or research of a student who is also a close relative. Concomitantly, students are not to take courses from close relatives or engage in research for academic credit under the direction of close relatives. All such credit will be disallowed.

Michigan's Freedom of Information Act

The Freedom of Information Act (PA 242) provides that a member of the public, in accordance with certain guidelines, has a right to inspect and receive copies of public records maintained by the University. A public record is broadly defined and includes written documents, pictures, recordings, punch cards, magnetic cards, etc., which are maintained by the University in the course of official responsibilities. However, certain records are exempt from disclosure.

The Media Relations Office, 3222 Faculty/Administration Building, is designated as the office responsible for accepting requests for public records, and the Director of that office is the University officer in charge of providing this service. Under the statute, a fee can be charged for records released and is based on the cost of labor involved in the search, examination and duplication of records, as well as the mailing costs.

DEGREE and CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

MASTER'S DEGREE

The minimum Graduate School requirement for the master's degree is thirty credits, at least twenty-four of which must be taken at the University. In those master's degree programs where the college, school or department requires more than the Graduate School minimum, their requirements take precedence. The Graduate School recognizes three general master's degree plans, though not all plans are offered in each department (for exact information, see listings under individual departments in the appropriate sections of this bulletin):

PLAN A requires a total of thirty credits, including a total of eight credits for a thesis.

PLAN B requires a total of thirty credits, including a minimum of two credits for an essay.

PLAN C requires a total of thirty credits. The essay or thesis is not required.

Candidacy

Admission as an applicant does not assure acceptance as a candidate for a degree. Candidacy is a necessary but not sufficient requirement for graduation.

Generally, students enrolled in master's degree programs are expected to file a Plan of Work by the time eight to twelve graduate credits have been earned. The applicant shall be advanced to the rank of 'Candidate' upon approval of the Plan of Work by the College Graduate Office. In most colleges candidacy must be authorized by the time twelve graduate credits have been earned or subsequent registration will be denied. In preparing the Plan, the student and adviser should evaluate with care the personal and professional objectives of the student as well as all degree and departmental requirements.

Essays

Under Plan B, students are required to complete an essay prior to the granting of a master's degree. The essay must show evidence of scholarly study and writing and be related to the student's major. Students should consult their departments regarding any additional requirements for essays, as well as for correct essay manuscript style.

Theses

Under Plan A, departments require the completion of a thesis prior to the granting of a master's degree. The thesis may be of a research, expository or critical nature and should be selected and planned with care. It must be an original work, in or related to the student's major field of specialization. Work submitted for credit in other courses cannot be used in fulfilling thesis requirements. Neither the results of the research nor the publication of findings may be restricted by any non-University agency. The results of the research may be published prior to submission and acceptance of the thesis, with the approval of the thesis adviser.

The presentation of a thesis generally brings to a close the pursuit of the master's degree. In essence such manuscripts represent a tangible summation of the many hours spent in study and research to acquire a higher education. For this reason such scholarly documents must evidence only the highest standards of research and writing. They must show consistency in punctuation, style and format. For format requirements and format templates, see the Graduate School website: <http://www.gradschool.wayne.edu/>

Advisers have primary responsibility for approval of the thesis. Such approval includes all academic and professional evaluations and judgments as to originality, adequacy, accuracy, significance, methodology, justification or conclusions and correctness of style. Approval shall not be recorded until the work and manuscripts are fully verified and accepted.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

Programs leading to a graduate certificate are available through several University units and are open to students who meet the general graduate admission requirements of the University; individual programs may have additional admissions requirements. The specific number of credits required for completion varies by program, though a graduate certificate program must consist of at least twelve graduate credits. Certificates may be free-standing or may be earned concurrently with a graduate degree. A certificate program must be completed within three years, a minimum grade point average of 3.0 in certificate courses must be maintained, and only nine semester credits of certificate course work may be applied toward a graduate degree.

Students should consult the specific certificate program description in this Bulletin to determine admission requirements, credits required for completion, and the degree(s) required for receipt of the certificate.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY DEGREE

Requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy emphasize an overall understanding of and high competence in a field of knowledge, familiarity with cognate disciplines, facility in the use of research techniques, and responsibility for the advancement of knowledge. The meeting of the requirements for the doctorate is tested primarily by examinations and the presentation of the dissertation rather than by a summation of courses, grades and credits.

Admission

A student may be admitted to the status of Ph.D. applicant if he/she meets all Graduate School requirements for admission, presents a grade point average of 3.0 ('B'=3) for the upper division of the undergraduate course work and is accepted for study toward the degree by his or her school or college and major department. Additional requirements (e.g., letters of recommendation, undergraduate research experience, personal interview, specific coursework, service learning) are specified by departments and programs. Students presenting less than a 3.0 undergraduate grade point average are required to complete a master's degree program, or its equivalent, prior to consideration for admission to a Ph.D. program.

Initial Advising

An adviser is assigned to the student at the beginning of his/her program and represents the Department in helping plan the student's program. The adviser provides academic guidance, approves required documents and monitors student progress. The initial adviser serves until the time the student identifies a dissertation director, who then assumes advising responsibilities.

Graduate Faculty and Ph.D. Student Responsibilities

Course work and research leading to the doctoral degree is a matter of shared responsibilities between faculty members and Ph.D. students. The Graduate Council has established the following reciprocal obligations:

Ph.D. program faculty are responsible for:

- 1) Admitting qualified students whose research interests can be accommodated within those of the program.
- 2) Ensuring that students receive competent and sustained advising from their entry into the program until degree requirements are completed or the student is separated from the program.
- 3) Monitoring and evaluating student progress toward the degree and for communicating the results of the evaluation to the student on an annual basis.
- 4) Assisting students in locating potential dissertation directors.
- 5) Offering guidance and instruction in those research areas in which they have expertise. To this end individual faculty members are responsible for deciding whether or not to serve as a dissertation director for any given student. This responsibility rests solely with the faculty, who are expected to make decisions based on reasonable academic criteria.

Ph.D. program students are responsible for:

- 1) Identifying research areas in which the Ph.D. program can provide guidance. The selection of a research area outside these areas may cause difficulty in achieving the degree.
- 2) Maintaining good standing throughout the doctoral program and making normal progress toward the degree.
- 3) Requesting that an individual member of the faculty serve as the dissertation director, working with the dissertation director toward timely completion of degree requirements, and complying with the dissertation director's instructions.

Ph.D. Procedural Calendar

The stages of the Ph.D. degree are outlined below. The section following describes these stages in detail. Necessary forms and additional instructions and requirements may be found on the Graduate School website: <http://www.gradschool.wayne.edu>

- 1. Plan of Work: Initiated by student and completed with his/her adviser to plan the sequence of study. An approved Plan is a requirement for Ph.D. Candidacy.
- 2. Ph.D. Coursework: Ninety graduate credits beyond the baccalaureate degree are required. Completion of about 50 credits of coursework is a requirement for Ph.D. Candidacy.
- 3. Annual Review: The student's department prepares a review of the student's progress at the end of each academic year.
- 4. Qualifying Examination: The qualifying examination contains a written portion and may include an oral component. Successful completion of the qualifying examination is a requirement for Ph.D. Candidacy.
- 5. Dissertation Advisory Committee: The naming of a dissertation advisory committee is a requirement for Ph.D. Candidacy.
- 6. Candidacy: Ph.D. Candidacy begins the dissertation preparation phase of the degree.
- 7. Dissertation Registration: Four consecutive academic-year semesters of registration as a degree candidate are required during the preparation of the dissertation.
- 8. Oral Examination: An oral examination is required of all Ph.D. students. It may be addressed as part of the qualifying examination, a prospectus meeting, a lecture or seminar, or another format approved by the student's department.
- 9. Dissertation Prospectus: After attaining Candidacy, the student prepares a description of the proposed research and dissertation for approval.
- 10. Dissertation Preparation: The dissertation presents the original scholarship or research completed by the student.

11. Dissertation Public Lecture-Presentation Defense: The student presents and defends the dissertation in a public lecture.

12. Submission of approved dissertation: The student may submit the approved dissertation in hard copy, on disk or CD or electronically and must complete the paperwork required at this final stage.

Plan of Work

This planning document, which is developed by the student and the adviser, should include both course and non-course objectives. An interim Plan of Work, to be retained in the department, should be developed by the end of the student's first year and updated annually. The final Plan of Work requires the signatures of both the adviser and the departmental Graduate Director prior to submission to the Graduate School for approval. The final Plan of Work may be filed with the Graduate School at any time; however, it must be submitted before forty credits have been completed and before the qualifying examination is scheduled.

Ph.D. Coursework

To ensure adequate preparation, the Graduate Council has adopted minimum coursework requirements for the University's highest degree. Many programs will exceed these minima.

A minimum of 90 graduate credits beyond the baccalaureate degree is required for completion of the Ph.D. program. A Ph.D. program will consist of:

- (1) at least twelve credits of coursework in the major (not including directed study or research credit);
- (2) at least one minor composed of six or more credits elected outside the major department;
- (3) sufficient additional coursework to total 60 credits (major and minor coursework, pre-dissertation research and directed study); and
- (4) thirty credits earned in four consecutive Candidate Status semesters after candidacy has been approved.

The Ph.D. program should provide for effective concentration in a major field with supporting courses in related fields. The decision concerning whether the student's Plan of Work will include one minor or two is made by the department.

The total Ph.D. program must include thirty credits, excluding Candidate Status semesters, in courses open only to graduate students (i.e., 7000 level or above).

DIRECTED STUDY: Registration in directed study must have advance approval of the student's adviser and advance authorization of the student's department. A Graduate School Petition and Authorization for Directed Study must be signed by the student's adviser, instructor, and the Graduate Committee Chairperson of the department before registration. The Directed Study Petition must contain all relevant details, including an explicit course outline, a rationale for the course, and information about the major academic requirements the student must successfully fulfill.

Annual Reviews

All Ph.D. students are required to receive an annual review of the student's progress toward completion of degree requirements. The student's progress in course work, scholarship, teaching, and all other academic or professional areas defined by the department will be summarized and communicated to the student in writing. The annual review must be signed by the student, adviser, and departmental Graduate Director. The annual review is filed in the student's department.

Qualifying Examination

The Qualifying Examination covers the student's primary areas of study and research, as well as such related matters as the qualifying examining committee may prescribe. The Qualifying Exam must contain a written component; an oral component (described later) is optional.

The Qualifying Examining Committee must consist minimally of three major departmental members with approved graduate faculty status. An external member may be added at the discretion of the department. In this latter instance, the department is encouraged to select a person from the student's minor/cognate area. The membership of this committee may not normally be changed until the Qualifying Examination(s) (written or written and oral, as required) have been passed.

If the written component of the Qualifying Examination is not completed successfully at the first administration, the examination may be repeated only once. A second examination may not be held until at least one semester has elapsed, but must be held within one calendar year following the first examination. The same examining committee must preside over both examinations. The second written examination will be considered final.

If an oral examination is required as part of the Qualifying Examination, it must be conducted by the examining committee within sixty days after the written portion of the exam is passed. The student's examining committee will select one of its members to serve as the Graduate Examiner. The results of the oral qualifying examination are to be communicated to the Graduate School via the Report on Doctor of Philosophy Oral Examination form.

If the Graduate Examiner certifies that the applicant has not passed all parts of the oral examination, the committee must make specific recommendations as to admitting the applicant to a second examination and specify any additional work that should be completed prior to such an examination. A second examination may not be held until at least one semester has elapsed, but must be held within one calendar year following the first examination. The same examining committee must preside over both examinations. The second oral examination will be considered final.

Dissertation Advisory Committee

The dissertation advisory committee shall consist minimally of four members. If there are co-chairs, the committee shall consist of five members. At least two committee members shall be from the student's home department/program, and at least two shall hold Regular Graduate Faculty appointments. The committee chair shall hold a Regular Graduate Faculty appointment in the home unit, and if there are co-chairs, at least the one from the home unit shall hold a Regular Graduate Faculty appointment. The committee shall have at least one external member who broadens the dissertation committee beyond the home program to represent a different perspective by virtue of his/her field, location or knowledge application; who does not hold any salaried or contractual appointment, tenure line or retreat rights in the home program; and, who is familiar with the standards for doctoral research. The expertise of the extra-departmental member must be appropriate to the student's dissertation work. The dissertation director and advisory committee should be identified as early as possible, and by the time course work is completed at the latest. The dissertation advisory committee membership must be submitted to the Graduate School as a condition for attaining candidacy. The committee membership may be changed up to the time the dissertation prospectus is submitted. After Graduate School approval of the dissertation prospectus, any changes in committee membership will require written justification.

Candidacy

A Ph.D. applicant will be advanced to the rank of Ph.D. Candidate by the Graduate School upon the recommendation of the department and completion of the following requirements: 1) Approval of the Plan of Work by the Graduate School; 2) completion of didactic course work, or approximately fifty credits, as required by the Plan of Work; 3) satisfactory completion of the Qualifying Examination(s); 4) identification of the membership of the student's dissertation advisory committee. (The Advisory Committee membership may be changed prior to submission of an approved prospectus to the Graduate School.) The department shall submit the Recommendation for Doctor of Philosophy Candidacy Status form to the Graduate School to recommend advancing the student to degree Candidacy.

Dissertation Registration

The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires that students register during the preparation of the dissertation for Candidate Status: Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV (9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. Registration for these four Candidate Status courses equates to 30 credits. If a student has registered for all four Candidate Status courses but has not completed the dissertation requirements, the student may register in Candidate Maintenance status (9995) until the requirements are completed, the time limit for the degree is reached, or the students withdraws from the program. Registration in Candidate Maintenance Status is required in all semesters in which the student uses University resources, including the semester in which the student defends the dissertation. The Candidate Maintenance fee is equivalent to the Registration Fee plus the Omnibus Fee for one graduate credit and confers full-time registration status.

Dissertation Prospectus and Approval

Prior to initiating doctoral research, the Ph.D. Candidate must prepare a prospectus of the proposed dissertation research. In some departments, oral presentation of the prospectus constitutes the required Oral Examination. The student must submit the Doctoral Dissertation: Prospectus and Record of Approval form with the prospectus. The prospectus and form must be approved by the dissertation advisory committee and the departmental Graduate Director, before being forwarded to the Graduate School for approval.

Oral Examination

Successful completion of an Oral Examination is a requirement for the Ph.D. degree. The Oral Examination may be administered as part of the Qualifying Examination (see previous discussion of Qualifying Examination) or as part of the prospectus meeting, a lecture or in some other departmentally-approved format in which the student presents information orally and answers questions posed by the student's committee. The committee for the Oral Examination must be composed of three members of the student's department; a fourth member, outside the department, is optional. The members of the Oral Examination committee may also serve as the student's dissertation advisory committee, but this is not required. All members must have graduate faculty status. If the Oral Examination is part of the prospectus meeting, the results of the Exam are to be reported to the Graduate School via the Doctoral Dissertation: Prospectus and Record of Approval form. The results of the Oral Examination administered in all other contexts should be reported to the Graduate School via the Report on Doctor of Philosophy Oral Examination form.

Dissertation Preparation

The dissertation should be selected and planned with care; it may be of a research, expository or critical nature. It must be an original work, in or related to the student's major field of specialization. Work submitted for credit in other courses cannot be used in fulfilling dissertation requirements. Neither the results of the research nor the publication of findings may be restricted by any non-University agency. The results of the research may be published prior to submission and acceptance of the dissertation, with the approval of the dissertation adviser.

Members of a doctoral dissertation advisory committee must read, approve and sign the dissertation. Such approval includes all academic and professional evaluations and judgments as to originality, adequacy, accuracy, significance, methodology, justification or conclusions and correctness of style. Approval shall not be recorded until the work and manuscripts are fully verified and accepted.

Format: Candidates preparing manuscripts are instructed to follow closely the Graduate School regulations governing the format of the dissertation. Format requirements and format templates are available on the Graduate School website. Before proceeding to the Defense stage, the student must submit the dissertation to the Graduate School for a format check. The dissertation may be submitted electronically or as hard copy. The dissertation format and appearance must be acceptable to the Graduate School before the Dissertation Public Lecture Presentation-Defense shall be authorized. The Graduate School Ph.D. Office staff is available to assist advisers and students who have format questions or problems.

Inclusion of Publications in the Dissertation: In such instances where doctoral students have published work in discipline-appropriate refereed journals, and when the doctoral committee approves, these published materials may be incorporated into the dissertation. For papers so included, the student must be the principal author and/or have made the major contribution to the published work. In cases of co-authored material, the text of the dissertation must make clear (e.g., in the summary and conclusion) to the reader the original contribution of the author. If published materials are included, references to them in the other dissertation sections may not need to be as detailed as is required in dissertations which do not incorporate published materials.

When a co-author is someone other than the candidate and the adviser, it is recommended that permission to include the publication in the dissertation be secured from the other author(s). Students are advised that incorporation of materials published elsewhere requires permission of the copyright holder.

Students must format a published article to conform to the body of the dissertation. As well, all remaining sections of the dissertation (e.g., abstract, introduction, conclusions) must conform to Graduate School format requirements.

Dissertation Public Lecture Presentation-Defense

Two weeks before the planned Defense, each dissertation advisory committee member must have certified in writing, via the Dissertation Public Lecture Presentation-Defense Final Report form, that the dissertation has been read and approved for the Defense. The Defense cannot be held without such certification.

Graduate Examiner: The Graduate Examiner is the presiding officer at the Defense and is responsible for its conduct. Representing the Graduate Council and the Graduate School, the Graduate Examiner serves as an advocate for the student. The role of the Graduate Examiner may be assumed by the dissertation adviser or an external member of the committee. Alternatively, the student (or any committee member) may request that the Graduate School appoint a Graduate Examiner from outside the committee.

The Doctoral Dissertation Public Lecture Presentation-Defense has three phases, as follows:

The Public Lecture Presentation-Defense: In the public lecture or presentation, the candidate is expected to share the results of his or her dissertation research with the audience and the dissertation committee. This lecture or presentation may vary in length depending on the circumstances and discipline. At the end of this public lecture or presentation, members of the audience, as well as the dissertation committee members, are encouraged to direct questions pertaining to the presentation or research to the candidate. The Graduate Examiner moderates the questioning.

The Dissertation Committee's Meeting with the Candidate: At the conclusion of the public presentation and defense, the dissertation committee members will meet privately with the candidate to pose further questions about the candidate's research or to address issues related to the dissertation manuscript. The Graduate Examiner presides at this meeting.

Evaluation of the Candidate's Performance: Upon the completion of the public presentation and defense and the private meeting, the dissertation committee members, in the absence of the candidate and the audience, discuss the candidate's performance and decide whether or not he/she has passed the defense. The Graduate Examiner chairs the discussion and communicates the result to the candidate, and subsequently, to the Graduate School via the Dissertation Public Lecture Presentation-Defense Final Report form.

Submission of Approved Dissertation

The submission of the approved dissertation generally brings to a close the pursuit of the doctoral degree. In essence such manuscripts represent a tangible summation of the many hours spent in study and research to acquire a higher education. For this reason such scholarly documents must evidence only the highest standards of research and writing. They must show consistency in punctuation, style and format. It is official policy that acceptance of a dissertation, as well as certification of a candidate for a degree, shall not be granted unless a manuscript is technically correct in format and in a form suitable in all respects for publication.

Within two weeks after the Defense, the corrected dissertation must be submitted. Manuscripts may be submitted electronically to <http://dissertations.umi.com/wayne> or in hard copy, CD or diskette format (in Adobe PDF read-only format) to the Ph.D. Office of the Graduate School. The signature page must also be submitted to the Graduate School.

Dissertation Publication Plan: To insure publication, doctoral candidates are assessed a fee and the University arranges to have the dissertation published. Filing a Doctoral Dissertation Publishing Agreement form is required.

Dissertation Copyrighting Charge: Copyright service, provided by Proquest, is available upon request. The student shall pay the amount necessary to cover the cost of copyrighting.

Students wishing to obtain bound dissertation copies for personal use must select a bindery and pay the binding charges for these.

Information regarding completion of additional forms is available from the Graduate School office and website. The Ph.D. degree will be certified only upon receipt of the approved dissertation and the reconciliation of the student's Plan of Work and transcripts.

Graduation

Each candidate for a degree or certificate must file a Graduate Application for Degree not later than the first day of classes for the semester in which he/she expects to complete the requirements for the degree. Consult the academic calendar on page 4 of this bulletin. If an application for a degree was filed for a previous term in which the student did not graduate, an amended application is necessary.

Commencement

Information concerning commencement announcements, caps and gowns, invitations, tickets, time and place, assembling and other relevant items will be mailed to the graduates by the Commencement Office prior to the event. Candidates for advanced degrees are requested and expected to attend the commencement at which the University confers upon them the honor of the degree earned.

Program Exceptions

A student who wishes to request an exception to any of the Ph.D. program minimum requirements should file a written, detailed petition with his/her adviser. If the adviser approves the petition, he/she will forward it, along with his/her recommendation, to the Chairperson of the Departmental Graduate Committee. If approved by the department, the petition will be forwarded to the Graduate School. All exceptions must ultimately be approved by the Graduate School. Appeals of decisions follow the same process; appeals of Graduate School decisions may be presented to the Provost.

Time Limitations

Students have a seven-year time limit to complete all requirements for the Ph.D. degree. The seven-year period begins with the end of the semester during which the student was admitted to doctoral study and was completing work toward meeting the requirements for the degree. In order to request a time extension, a student may petition his/her adviser. If the adviser supports the request, it is forwarded to the chairperson of the departmental Graduate Committee, and if approved, it is reviewed by the Graduate School. The petition must include information concerning the student's currency in his or her field, a timeline for completing the program, and a description of the student's progress toward completion. The student's annual reviews must also be submitted. If students do not complete the program within ten years of their applicant date with approved time extensions, the qualifying examination(s) must be repeated. Students who have been granted time extensions must complete all program requirements within fifteen years of the applicant date.

In the program leading to the doctor's degree, up to forty-eight quarter or thirty-two semester credits of 'B' or better graduate credit earned prior to the student's admission as a doctoral applicant may be applied toward the degree without regard to lapse of time. Credit earned beyond thirty-two credits may not be over ten years old at the time of admission. Credit earned after acceptance as a Ph.D. applicant may not be over seven years old at the time the degree is conferred, except when, on the recommendation of the adviser, up to ten credits previously earned at Wayne State University may be specified for revalidation by examination. In the event that any courses have been previously revalidated in connection with the earning of the master's degree, these shall be counted as a part of the total ten. Time extensions beyond these limitations are authorized only for conditions which are clearly beyond the student's control.

Ph.D. Foreign Language Requirement

The Ph.D. Foreign Language Requirement is a matter of departmental option. Students are advised to contact the department in which they intend to major in order to determine the nature of the Ph.D. foreign language requirement, if any, for that discipline.

Doctoral students should bear in mind that most departments reserve the right to require foreign language proficiency for any Ph.D. student pursuing research which would benefit from the use of foreign language materials, even though other students in the same Ph.D. program are not required to establish foreign language competence.

Residence

The Ph.D. requirement of one year of residence is met by completion of at least six graduate credits in course work, exclusive of dissertation, in each of two successive semesters. The spring/summer semester may be excluded from the definition of successive semesters. Additional residence requirements may be imposed by the Ph.D.-granting departments. The student should contact the major department to determine what residence requirements must be satisfied.

In the experimental sciences for which it can be demonstrated that a student's research must be completed on campus, the residence requirement for the Ph.D. degree may be met by the dissertation director's written certification that the student has been in full-time residence for at least two successive semesters and one summer session. In this latter case, a count of course credits is not required for the fulfillment of the residence requirement, but specific dates of residence must be furnished.

In addition, the Ph.D. residence requirements stipulate that the student must elect at least thirty credits in graduate work exclusive of dissertation direction at the University.

(June through August, appointments and walk-in services end at 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.)

Appointments with a financial aid officer may be scheduled by accessing the web site at <http://www.financialaid.wayne.edu> and logging onto 'Live Support' during regular business hours. Appointments can also be scheduled at the Financial Aid Counter in the Welcome Center lobby.

Definition and Purpose of Financial Aid: Financial aid is assistance to help students pay their educational expenses. Financial aid may supplement a student's contribution toward his/her educational costs. Some aid is need-based; some aid is non-need-based and awards are given in recognition of special skills, talents, or academic ability.

Financial Aid Facts for Graduate Students webpage is found at: http://www.financialaid.wayne.edu/facts\_grad.html

Types of Financial Aid

Financial aid at Wayne State University is awarded in the form of a 'package,' or combination of aid, and generally consists of four types: grants, scholarships, loans and employment. The amount of financial aid a student may receive can not exceed his/her demonstrated financial need, based on the information provided on his/her application.

Grants: Gift assistance that requires no repayment and is awarded on the basis of financial need.

Scholarships: Gift assistance that requires no repayment and is awarded on the basis of academic achievement or other special ability. Financial need may also be a factor in some awards.

Loans and Entrance Loan Counseling: Money that must be repaid at a future date, usually following graduation or when a student ceases to be enrolled on at least a half time basis. First-time borrowers under the Federal Perkins Loan Program or Federal Stafford Loan Program are required to participate in entrance loan counseling. The purpose of this counseling is to advise students of their rights and responsibilities as borrowers. Federal regulations prohibit Wayne State Financial Aid from paying students' loan proceeds prior to their participation in the Entrance Loan Counseling. Links to Entrance Loan Counseling sites are available in the 'Loans' section of the Wayne State Financial Aid website at <http://www.financialaid.wayne.edu/>

Work-Study: An employment program of on/off-campus jobs. The hourly wage is at least the federal minimum hourly rate. A work-study award offer is not an employment guarantee. Students interested in work-study should carefully read the Student Guide to On-Campus Employment, which explains the hiring process and the terms and conditions of employment. The guide is available from University Placement Services, which is located in Room 1001 of the Faculty/Administration Building, and online at <http://www.stuaffrs.wayne.edu/StudentEmploymentGuide.ms.pdf/>

Financial Aid Application Procedures

Financial aid eligibility requirements, award amounts, and conditions for yearly award continuation vary, so students should apply for financial aid each academic year.

Wayne State Students interested in applying for financial aid should complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), available as FAFSA on-line at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>. Students with questions about the FAFSA may contact the U.S. Department of Education at (800) 433-3243, or Wayne State Financial Aid at (313) 577-3378 during regular business hours. Students who wish to have a copy of their FAFSA from another institution sent to Wayne State University can telephone the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 1-800-4-FED-AID (1-800-433-3243) and request the addition of the WSU federal code to their FAFSA. The WSU federal code is 002329.

To electronically sign the FAFSA on the Web, students need a federal personal identification number (PIN), which is issued by the U.S. Department of Education. Students may request a PIN on-line at <http://www.pin.ed.gov>.

Application Deadlines

Fall/Winter Application Priority Date: The application priority date for financial aid consideration at Wayne State is March 1 for fall and winter semesters. It is unlikely that gift aid and work-study will be available for students who submit their FAFSAs after the application priority date.

Spring/Summer Application Priority Date: Students interested in applying for spring/summer semester financial aid will be required to submit a supplemental application for the Federal Direct Loan or Federal Stafford Loan in addition to submitting their FAFSA. The supplemental application is available in January at the Wayne State Financial Aid office and website, <http://www.financialaid.wayne.edu>. The application priority date is March 30.

Financial Need: Student Aid Report (SAR)

SAR data is used by Wayne State Financial Aid to determine the type(s) and amount(s), if any, of financial aid to be awarded to a student. That is, the SAR data is used to determine a student's financial need.

The SAR identifies a student's Expected Family Contribution (EFC). Wayne State Financial Aid determines a student's financial need by subtracting the EFC amount from the average cost of attendance (COA) for whatever program the student is enrolled in at Wayne State University. COA minus EFC equals financial need.

The SAR also states whether or not an application has been selected for a process called verification (see below), or if additional information is needed from the student.

Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

FAFSA on the Web: Students receive a Student Aid Report (SAR) Information Acknowledgment in the mail about two weeks after submitting a FAFSA on-line. A link to on-line personal SAR information is also e-mailed within five days to any students who provide a valid e-mail address.

Paper FAFSA: Students who submit a paper FAFSA receive a paper SAR via mail within approximately 14 to 21 business days.

For questions or status inquiry regarding FAFSA, students can contact the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 1-800-4 FED AID (1-800-433-3243).

Verification: The process by which the University confirms the data on an individual student's FAFSA is called verification. Students may be asked to provide additional information to Wayne State Financial Aid by completing a verification worksheet to confirm the validity and accuracy of the selected student's FAFSA data. Wayne State Financial Aid will also request a copy of the selected student's federal tax return (and spouse's federal tax return, if student is married). Once verification is complete, Wayne State Financial Aid sends any data corrections to the Federal processing agency. The agency then sends a corrected SAR out to the student and Wayne State Financial Aid.

Enrollment Eligibility Requirements for Aid

Students must enroll at least half time in order to receive financial aid. To receive consideration for the maximum award amounts under financial aid programs, a student must enroll full-time in a program that leads to a degree or certificate. At the graduate level, enrollment for eight or more credits is full-time; enrollment for four to seven credits is half time. In the spring/summer semester, enrollment for two credits is full-time and one credit is half time.

Eligible Program Exceptions

A student must be enrolled in an eligible program (one that leads to a degree or certificate) to receive consideration for financial aid funds. There are two exceptions to the eligible program requirement: (1) enrollment in prerequisite course work to gain admission to an eligible program, and (2) enrollment in the teacher certification program. Descriptions of the exceptions are available from Wayne State Financial Aid office and website, <http://www.financialaid.wayne.edu>.

Programs Ineligible for Financial Aid

Students who meet any of the following admission criteria are not eligible for financial aid.

- a) Admission to the University is granted with status as a 'Guest Student,' 'Permit to Register,' 'Pre-Master's' or 'Post-Master's.'
- b) Admission to a program that does not lead to a degree or certificate and for which neither of the eligible program exceptions stated above applies.
- c) Admission to the University in the English Language Institute, Post-Bachelor's Rank 06, or Post-Master's Rank G2.

Financial Aid Payments

Financial aid is paid in two disbursements if the award is for the academic year. Half of the award is paid in the fall semester and half is paid in the winter semester. One-semester loans also have two disbursements. Half of the loan is paid at the beginning of the semester, and half is paid in the middle of the semester.

Refund Policies

The University has a refund policy, which is stated in the Schedule of Classes. Federal regulations require all post-secondary institutions to have a fair and equitable refund policy for recipients of Federal (Title IV) financial aid. The Refund Policy for Title IV Financial Aid Recipients states the conditions under which Federal aid must be returned to the originating programs when a student completely withdraws (officially or unofficially) from the University before completing more than 60 percent of the enrollment period. If Federal aid must be returned to the originating program, the student is responsible for paying the tuition account balance, if any. The policy is available from Wayne State Financial Aid.

Withdrawal from Classes: Students are strongly encouraged to discuss with a financial aid administrator the effect that withdrawing from all classes will have on their financial aid. Upon withdrawing from all classes, students who are financial aid recipients must notify Wayne State Financial Aid of enrollment status changes immediately.

Admission Requirements

Most credit courses offered through Metropolitan Programs and Summer Sessions are open to all students who are qualified by virtue of meeting the prerequisites for individual courses or, in cases where there are no prerequisites, on the basis of their own assessment of their aptitudes. Those individuals who have been formally admitted to Wayne State University for a degree or certificate program, or post-baccalaureate study, and who are in good academic standing, will have course credits and grades earned through extension recorded on their transcripts in the same manner as credits earned on campus. Guest students should consult with their home institution when formulating their registration plans and submit an application for guest admission.

Persons who wish to enroll in courses offered through this division and who have NOT been formally admitted to the University are registered as non-matriculated students in the College of Liberal Arts. Students are advised to consult the non-matriculant adviser as well as the specific degree program requirements, and are urged to process formal application and admission documents as soon as possible. Upon admission to a Wayne State school or college, credits earned in non-matriculant status may be applied toward degrees subject to the approval of the admitting school or college.

Addiction Research Institute

2761 E. Jefferson; 313-577-1388; Fax: 313-577-6685

Director: Charles Schuster, Ph.D.

Web: <http://www.med.wayne.edu/ari.html>

Located in the School of Medicine, the Addiction Research Institute (ARI) was founded in 1985 as the University's academic center for the interdisciplinary study of addictive disorders. The ARI mission focuses on basic and applied research, professional training and innovative service that promises to further our understanding and reduce the consequences of alcohol and other drug abuse. A diverse staff of biomedical and social scientists collaborates on a wide range of prevention-related activities. Past research has included investigations of: alcohol availability, consumption and damage; subjective, social, and physical availability of alcoholic beverages; efficacy of school- and community-based prevention programs; interpersonal violence, rape, and substance abuse; substance abuse knowledge and attitudes among college and medical students; effectiveness of clinical training in substance abuse; efficacy of treatment for chemical dependence; and substance abuse among the mentally ill. ARI staff contribute their time and effort in leadership capacities to local, state, and national professional organizations that further research and dissemination of knowledge about substance abuse and its consequences.

ARI training activities encompass all aspects of the field, from diagnosis and management to prevention and policy issues. Audiences for these activities have ranged from community leaders to clinical faculty. Institute faculty offer: (a) mini-courses through Metropolitan Programs and Summer Sessions; (b) lectures and courses for advanced undergraduate and graduate students; (c) lectures, seminars, externship training and extracurricular learning experiences for medical students; (d) continuing education programs for health professionals; and (e) faculty training in the area of substance abuse.

The Institute coordinates a multi/interdisciplinary graduate certificate program in alcohol and drug abuse studies (CADAS), and has been engaged in a number of innovative service activities since its inception. These have included: consultation on substance abuse prevention program design; prevention program evaluation; health promotion training in Native American communities; design and management of a community-based prevention program for Detroit: Project EPIC; needs assessment and strategic planning for substance abuse prevention in the City of Detroit; development of a national medical student network on drug prevention; design and implementation of a clinical assessment instrument for chemically-dependent women; establishment of a substance abuse information center for metropolitan Detroit; and consultation and training for addiction counselors.

Center for Arts and Public Policy

192 Manoogian Hall; 313-577-9257; Fax: 313-577-6300
Co-Directors: David Magidson, Ph.D., Bernard Brock, Ph.D.
Web: <http://www.capp-wsu.org>

Established in 1994, the Center for Arts and Public Policy's (CAPP) is the identification, discussion, research, and dissemination of information on issues related to public policy, in both the public and private sectors, affecting the arts, as well as the study of the effects of art on policy.

The Center for Arts and Public Policy was conceived as a non-partisan Center, designed to conduct research, to aid in investigating arts issues, study the effects of policies, and consult on strengthening arts and cultural organizations. CAPP is a partner with the Michigan Council of Arts and Cultural Associations (MCACA). The Center also provides economic impact studies, focus groups, strategic planning, audience analysis, creative consulting, intercultural analysis, project assessment evaluation, conference planning, political campaign design, and new produce and service design.

The Center currently produces two publication types: Impact! newsletters and reports. Impact! newsletters feature timely, topical articles relevant to all artistic and cultural organizations in Michigan and the United States. They are published quarterly and are available free of charge. Reports are longer examinations of specific topics ranging from the arts and culture industry to the economic impact of non-profit arts and culture organizations in Michigan, and are also available at no cost. The complete catalog of CAPP publications includes: 50 Great Arts Ideas (2003), The Rebirth of Arts and Culture (2003), Assessing Arts and Culture: 2002 MCACA Grant Assessment Program (2003), Assessing Arts and Culture: 2001 MCACA Grant Assessment Program (2002), The Michigan Arts and Culture Industry: A Demographic and Economic Profile (2001), Training Arts and Culture Leaders for the 21st Century (2001), The Nature and Scope of the For-Profit Arts and Culture Industry in Michigan (1998), Mapping Arts and Cultural Funding in Michigan (1997), Arts & Culture and the Quality of Life in Michigan, Parts I & II (1996-1997), and The Economic Impact of Non-Profit Organizations Associated with MCACA (1995).

Although CAPP does not presently provide courses or grant degrees, graduate students from the College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts are utilized as research assistants and given practical, hands-on experience in research, consulting, and administration of arts and public policy organizations.

Center for Automotive Research

2121 Engineering Building; 313-577-3887; 313-577-3843
Fax: 313-577-8789

Director: Naeim Henein, Ph.D.

Web: <http://www.eng.wayne.edu/coe/main.cfm?location=751>

The Center for Automotive Research was established in 1980 to advance, promote and support research in areas of interest to the automotive industry. Faculty and graduate students from the Departments of Mechanical, Chemical, and Electrical and Computer Engineering participate in the research programs conducted at the Center.

Current research areas include the auto-ignition and combustion of petroleum and alternate fuels in spark-ignition and compression-ignition engines, instantaneous engine friction and its components, wear in engine parts, emissions formation and electronic controls, engine dynamics and diagnostics, and engine startability and emissions under low ambient temperatures.

The research in the Center combines theoretical and experimental investigations. Theoretical research deals with fundamental processes of thermodynamics, heat transfer, mass transfer, and combustion kinetics, applied to combustion engines. Experimental work is conducted in six dynamometer test cells and a cold room for low ambient temperature research. The facilities include optically accessible engines, a rapid compression machine, octane and cetane fueling engines, single and multi-cylinder research engines, a gas chromatograph, FTIR spectrometer, mass spectrometer, a fast response flame ionization detector, a fast NO detector, high speed imaging and photographic systems, and high speed data acquisition systems. The laser and associate diagnostic systems include pulsed-dye laser, copper vapor laser, two argon-ion CW lasers for LDA and PDPA, double-pulsed ruby laser, PDPA system and a laser Doppler anemometry system.

Bioengineering Center

818 W. Hancock; 313-577-0252; Fax: 313-577-8333

Director: King H. Yang, Ph.D.

Web: <http://ttb.eng.wayne.edu>

The Bioengineering Center is an interdisciplinary research unit that coordinates and supports joint research activities between the College of Engineering and the School of Medicine. Although the Center is administered by the College of Engineering, the research faculty is drawn from such diverse departments as Anatomy, Physiology, Orthopedics, Neurological Surgery, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical and Computer Engineering, Chemical Engineering, and Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. The research activities are located on campus as well as in various hospitals and clinics of the Detroit metropolitan area.

Current research projects include a continuing program on trauma biomechanics, the study of human response and tolerance to injury resulting from high speed vehicular accidents. This area of research has recently been expanded to include an investigation of the effects of non-lethal munitions. The Center is equipped with a vast array of impact facilities, including three accelerator mechanisms used for simulating car and aircraft crashes, a linear impactor, and a high-rate Instron system. Up to sixty channels of data can be acquired simultaneously for digitization and processing. The Center is also engaged in a study of low back pain, which is a common affliction among workers in industrialized countries. A full neurophysiology laboratory is available for the characterization of neural impulses and the histological evaluation of tissues associated with pain stimuli. Recently, research has been initiated into the characterization of biological materials using traditional and ultrasonic techniques. This includes the assessment of orthopedic soft tissues, bone, brain, and individual axons. Other areas of research include human motion biomechanics and orthopedic biomechanics.

The research program in the Bioengineering Center has been strengthened through the creation of a broader Graduate Program in Biomedical Engineering. This program, offering both M.S. and Ph.D. degrees, involves fifteen faculty members drawn from seven departments within both the College of Engineering and the School of Medicine. The areas of concentration have been expanded beyond the traditional transportation-related trauma to include age-related injury, engineering neurophysiology and biomaterials, including tissue engineering. Students who wish to major in biomedical engineering should apply for admission to the Graduate Program in Biomedical Engineering, housed in the College of Engineering. In addition, a number of traditional engineering departments allow their students to concentrate in biomedical engineering; consult the program descriptions in the College of Engineering section of this bulletin.

Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute

The Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute includes the programs of the former Michigan Cancer Foundation, the Meyer L. Prentiss Comprehensive Cancer Center of Metropolitan Detroit, and the cancer programs of the Detroit Medical Center and Wayne State University. Investigators in the Karmanos Cancer Institute constitute the faculty in the Wayne State University School of Medicine's graduate program in cancer biology (see page 318). Students are trained in basic investigation at the molecular, cellular, and tissue and population levels. The focus of this experience can be varied to suit individual student needs. It leads to the Doctor of Philosophy degree; a joint Ph.D.-M.D. program is also available.

The Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute operates one of the premier, nationally-recognized cancer research, treatment, education, and outreach centers in the United States. ## Morris Hood Jr. Comprehensive Diabetes Center

4201 St. Antoine, UHC-4H; 313-745-4008; Fax: 313-993-0903

Director: Paulos Berhanu, Ph.D.

The Hood Diabetes Center was established in 1998 in order to improve the lives of people with diabetes in Michigan through innovative outreach programs, excellence in clinical care, and high-quality basic and translational research. The Center is highly interdisciplinary and conducts extensive basic science and translational diabetes research activities in and among eleven basic science and clinical departments. Center functions include two outreach programs for the prevention of diabetes and its complications: one targets minority populations in metropolitan Detroit with type 2 diabetes, the other is a statewide program for children and adults with type 1 diabetes. These programs are integrated with adult and pediatric diabetes clinics at the Detroit Medical Center and the Children's Hospital of Michigan. The Center attracts graduate students and postdoctoral fellows from around the world, to participate in diabetes research at the genetic, molecular, cellular, and tissue levels. Research areas include: insulin signaling, glucose metabolism, insulin resistance, C-peptide biology, obesity, diabetic neuropathy, encephalopathy and retinopathy.

Institute of Environmental Health Sciences

2727 Second Avenue, Room 4000; 313-577-0100;

Fax: 313-577-0082

Director: Raymond F. Novak, Ph.D.

Web: <http://www.iehs.wayne.edu/>

The Institute of Environmental Health Sciences was chartered by the Wayne State University Board of Governors in 1988 to support the University's mission through excellence in research, teaching and service in the area of toxicology. The Institute is interdisciplinary in nature, involving faculty in the School of Medicine, the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, and the College of Science. Technological advances of the past several decades have significantly improved our standard of living and quality of life. Technological advancements, however, often produce new or unsuspected health hazards. Headquartered at the Institute is the federally funded and designated EHS Center in Molecular and Cellular Toxicology with Human Applications. The Institute is also supported by the University's Research Excellence Fund and by grants from federal agencies; its primary objective is to address the short- and long-term effects of toxic agents on human and animal life.

Institute faculty have active research programs in biochemical/molecular toxicology, respiratory toxicology, metals and solvent toxicology, immunotoxicology, transgenic animal gene knockout models, and chemical carcinogenesis, with emphasis on relevance and applications to human populations. The Institute emphasizes research using contemporary approaches in molecular biology, cell biology, and immunology to address critical and fundamental issues on the effects of chemicals and environmental agents on human health and disease. Research conducted in the Institute contributes to the development of new technologies and procedures, risk assessment, and risk management and serves as a base for new entrepreneurial activities involving intellectual property which have resulted in the award of patents.

Institute faculty are directly involved in an interdisciplinary graduate program in molecular and cellular toxicology (see below). This program is designed to provide education and experience in the application of molecular and cellular techniques to basic problems in toxicology. Institute faculty also participate in graduate teaching and training in several other graduate programs, including cancer biology, pharmacology, hematology/oncology, and pharmaceutical sciences.

— Graduate Program in Molecular and Cellular Toxicology

Office: Institute of Environmental Health Sciences,
2727 Second Ave., Room 4000

Program Director: Raymond F. Novak, Ph.D.

The following programs are offered through the Graduate School, with the cooperation of the Institute of Environmental Health Sciences and the participating departments indicated below: Master of Science (Interdisciplinary) in Molecular and Cellular Toxicology; Doctor of Philosophy (Interdisciplinary) in Molecular and Cellular Toxicology.

The objective of this interdisciplinary program is to provide students with a comprehensive education in theoretical principles and experimental research in molecular and cellular toxicology, resulting in the award of a doctoral degree. Graduates will have gained a broad understanding of fundamental principles underlying modern molecular and cellular biology as applied to toxicology, and an in-depth knowledge in the use of these approaches within an area of specialization in toxicology. Training in the modern research techniques used in molecular and cellular biology is accomplished and will result in an understanding of the mechanisms of action of chemicals in cells and tissues. Graduate research opportunities emphasize the molecular and cellular mechanisms of chemical-induced cell injury, including cell growth and differentiation, gene expression, signal transduction, carcinogenesis, and immunomodulation in animal and human cells. Techniques and approaches include cell culture, hybridization analysis (Northern, Southern blots), PCR, cloning, sequencing, transfection, transgenic gene knockout animals, gel-shift assay, primer extension, and manipulation of signal-transduction pathways.

The doctoral program, which is designed to be completed in four to five years, is administered by the Institute of Environmental Health Sciences and includes participating faculty from the School of Medicine, the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, and the Biological Sciences and Chemistry Departments of the College of Science. Requirements include required and elective courses, laboratory rotations, journal club, and seminars, as well as written and oral qualifying examinations, a dissertation describing the results of original research, and an oral defense of the dissertation. In the first year, students take courses and obtain research experience through rotations in the laboratories of two or more faculty members of their choice. After selecting a thesis adviser (by the beginning of the second year), students continue course work and perform preliminary research toward the degree. Qualifying examinations necessary for admission to Ph.D. candidacy are administered in the spring term of the second year; following admission to candidacy, students engage in research-intensive activities.

— Master of Science

The interdisciplinary master's degree program is not recommended for students new to the program, except under unusual circumstances; it is suggested as an option for students who do not complete the requirements for the Ph.D. degree. Students are recommended for the master's program by the thesis adviser or by the Graduate Program Director. Acceptance in the master's program must be approved by the Graduate Committee.

Director: Jorge China, Ph.D.

E-mail: aa1941@wayne.edu

Web: <http://www.culma.wayne.edu/cbs/>

The Center for Chicano-Boricua Studies (CBS) is a multi-service unit engaged in teaching, research, and service.

The Center plays an important role in the urban mission of Wayne State University. The Center's own mission has four components:

The Center recruits Latino students into the University through a two-year program designed to facilitate the transition between high school and college and to increase retention. It also provides support services for Latino students outside the two-year program.

It promotes research on a) issues relevant to the Latino community, especially in the urban and workplace environment; and b) Latin American history and current issues.

It creates and fosters the interaction and exchange of personnel and resources between the University and the Latino community; and it serves as a source of expertise on Latino issues to the larger metropolitan community.

As an advocate for the awareness and advancement of Latino issues within the University, the Center contributes to the University's continuing efforts to create a richer multicultural campus environment.

Scholarships: The Center awards $100,000 to $150,000 annually in scholarships to Latino students at Wayne State University. The two main scholarships are the Latino en Marcha scholarship and the Myron P. Leven scholarship.

Skillman Center for Children

Director: Kristine Miranne, Ph.D.

E-mail: skillmancenter.culma@wayne.edu

Web: <http://www.skillmancenter.culma.wayne.edu/>

The Skillman Center for Children (SCC) in the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs, created by a 1991 Skillman Foundation Endowment of $2.5 million, supports the work of existing agencies, citizen/parent groups, organizations, and governmental units concerned with issues facing urban children and their families. The Center was chartered in May 1994.

The Center's ultimate goal is to be the national center of excellence for information on policies and practices addressing the multiplicity of concerns involving urban children and their families, and to use that information to facilitate the modification and strengthening of existing expertise and services provided by the policymaker and service delivery community. The Center serves as a central resource for information about best or promising practices and model service delivery policies, practices and programs for urban children, youth and their families. It targets a wide audience, including policy makers and administrators, service providers, faith-based organizations, individuals, corporations, foundations, and the general public, as well as students, faculty and researchers of the University.

The Center has identified three areas on which it focuses and organizes its work: 1) violence against, by, and between children and youth; 2) welfare reform/poverty; and 3) education. The Center works closely with other departments and units on campus that are focusing on issues of children's mental health, brain development, infant mental health, early childhood education, parenting, education system reform, child welfare staff training, children's health promotion, and medical services access and treatment.

Developmental Disabilities Institute

Leonard Simon Building, 4809 Woodward Avenue, Suite 268;
Director: Barbara LeRoy, Ph.D.
E-mail: B_Le_Roy@wayne.edu
Web: <http://www.wayne.edu/ddi/>

The Developmental Disabilities Institute is one of a national network of over sixty University Affiliated Programs, nationally and in U.S. territories. The Institute's mission is to contribute to the development of inclusive communities, which enhance the quality of life of people with disabilities and their families through a culturally-sensitive state-wide program of interdisciplinary education, community support and services, and research and dissemination of information. Staff and faculty engage in technical assistance, training, and research programs throughout Michigan via collaborative efforts with schools, community agencies, community colleges, and other Universities. Over 10,000 individuals with disabilities benefit from these activities annually. The Institute offers a wide range of opportunities for students and faculty to engage in state-of-the-art community-based research, education, and technical assistance.

Students from a wide range of disciplines are provided opportunities for interdisciplinary leadership education and participation in research, training, and technical assistance projects. Students may earn credits for designation as Trainees of the University Affiliated Program. These activities allow students to develop leadership skills and to gain skills in working with an interdisciplinary team. Interdisciplinary Education Programs of the Institute are developed as cooperative efforts between the Institute and academic units throughout Wayne State University and in collaboration with other universities in Michigan. The Graduate Certificate Program offers leadership education opportunities related to community integration and support of persons with disabilities. A number of other programs have been developed with academic programs throughout the University.

The institute develops activities and projects based on needs of persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live and work. The Community Advisory Council, composed of representatives of twenty-five key statewide organizations, meets quarterly to provide information and assistance to Institute staff and faculty in establishing priorities and evaluating activities.

— Graduate Certificate in Developmental Disabilities

The Graduate Certificate Program in Developmental Disabilities is an interdisciplinary curriculum aimed at preparing individuals to assume leadership positions as service providers, policy makers, administrators, or educators, who are committed to the full community inclusion of people with disabilities. The program is a collaborative effort of the Developmental Disabilities Institute and the following academic units: the Department of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology and the Department of Psychology, College of Science; the College of Nursing; the Department of Occupational Therapy, Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences; the vocational rehabilitation counseling program in the Theoretical and Behavioral Foundations division, and the special education program in the Teacher Education division, College of Education; and the School of Social Work.

Admission: Applicants must meet the admission standards of the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Eligibility for this program is limited to persons holding a master's degree from an accredited educational institution or those actively pursuing a graduate degree at Wayne State University. Application forms may be obtained from the Institute.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS: The Certificate Program consists of a minimum of fifteen graduate credits. Nine credits are earned through completion of three required courses; three additional credits are earned through completion of a supervised field experience in an Institute-approved interdisciplinary setting, and participation in an associated seminar; and the final three credits are earned through completion of one elective course. If a student is concurrently enrolled in a graduate degree program at the University, no more than nine credits from the Program may be applied toward that degree. Students in the Certificate Program must maintain a grade point average of at least 3.0.

Institute of Gerontology

226 Knapp Building, 87 East Ferry; 313-577-2297;
Fax: 313-875-0127

Director: Peter A. Lichtenberg, Ph.D., A.B.P.P.
Web: <http://www.iog.wayne.edu>

The Institute of Gerontology was created in 1965 by the Wayne State University Board of Governors in response to a mandate of the State of Michigan. Its mission is to discover and disseminate research findings that will 1) increase knowledge about aging and related processes; 2) improve the practice of gerontology and geriatrics; and 3) influence the development and implementation of public policy. We are a multidisciplinary team of faculty who facilitate interdisciplinary collaboration and participate in the culturally diverse urban environment. We emphasize the social and behavioral aspects of aging and health.

The Institute faculty conduct behavioral and applied social gerontology research on individual and population aging among diverse social groups in varying social settings. The Institute promotes collaboration among University faculty at Wayne State and across the country to stimulate research and education on gerontological issues.

The Institute seeks to contribute to an enhanced quality of life for older people, especially those in the Detroit area and in Michigan. It focuses specific attention on understanding and representing urban minority populations in a culturally-sensitive and theoretically relevant manner. A limited number of graduate research assistantships are available each year.

— Graduate Certificate in Gerontology

The Graduate Certificate in Gerontology program is a multidisciplinary program administered through the Institute and the Graduate School. The program is designed to integrate gerontology into the student's primary discipline by providing a substantive foundation in gerontological course work. The certificate may be earned concurrently with a graduate degree, or may be earned independently by students who have completed an advanced degree. Three joint programs also assist students in earning the certificate concurrently with degrees in the following majors: Master of Public Health (see page 329), Master of Science in Occupational Therapy (see page 404), or Master of Interdisciplinary Studies (see page 494).

Admission: Applicants must meet the admission standards for Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Eligibility for the Graduate Certificate is limited to those holding an advanced degree from an accredited educational institution or those actively pursuing a graduate degree at Wayne State University. There is a three-year time limit in which to meet certificate program requirements. Application to the Program must also be made directly to the Institute.

To apply for admission to the program, or to obtain additional information, call or write: Dr. Jennifer Mendez, Director of Education, Institute of Gerontology, Wayne State University, 87 E. Ferry, Detroit, MI 48202; (313) 577-2297; or e-mail at: jmendez@wayne.edu

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS: Gerontology education is defined as the study of the processes of aging, including the biological, behavioral, social, and public policy aspects of later life. The Graduate Certificate Program requires completion of twelve credits in academic course work. When students earn the certificate concurrently with a degree, nine of the twelve credits may be used to meet both degree and certificate requirements. Each student develops a Plan of Work in consultation with the program director. Course work requirements include successful completion of one approved course from each of the categories designated below. Each year, numerous graduate gerontology courses are available in various academic areas, including sociology, psychology, social work, nursing, political science, biology, occupational therapy, speech, and community medicine. (Other courses that satisfy program requirements may also be offered on an occasional basis.) Students in the Certificate Program must maintain a grade point average of at least 3.0.

The Center for Health Care Effectiveness Research (CHER), approved by the Board of Governors in June 1997, is a joint initiative of Wayne State University School of Medicine and the Detroit Medical Center (DMC). The mission of the Center is to conduct health care effectiveness research and to facilitate new methods for learning that will enable health care providers to address changing demands on the health care delivery system.

The Center provides leadership and consultation for the implementation of new health care delivery strategies and for the assessment and improvement of existing delivery methods. This process is described in terms of 'health care effectiveness studies,' but includes a broad spectrum of issues related to a changing delivery system including effectiveness studies, outcomes analysis, clinical process improvement, and technology assessment. Center faculty and staff also act as a central resource to School of Medicine clinical investigators by providing expert advice on study design, statistical analysis, and data management. Resources available include expertise in biostatistics, epidemiology, data management and health information. The Center also works toward the development and assessment of information systems that facilitate new models of education and dissemination of information critical to the practice of medicine in health care systems.

To achieve its mission, the Center seeks to identify and link unique expertise of Wayne State faculty to address complex health system problems. Collaborative relationships with other departments, schools, and colleges at Wayne State University provide access to a broad range of expert knowledge in the areas of epidemiology, biostatistics, informatics, economics, psychometrics, policy analysis, anthropology and management science, as well as collaboration with a full spectrum of clinical disciplines.

The Humanities Center was established by the University Board of Governors in 1993. Its purpose is to promote and fund faculty and graduate student scholarship and creativity in the humanities and arts. The Center particularly encourages interdisciplinary research by bringing humanists in different disciplines together and by encouraging interdisciplinary research projects. The Center's definition of the core humanities disciplines is that of the National Endowment for the Humanities, namely: comparative religion, ethics, philosophy, archaeology, classical and modern languages, linguistics, jurisprudence, history, literature, history and criticism of the arts, and those social sciences which employ historical and philosophical approaches such as cultural anthropology, international relations, political science, or sociology. Interdisciplinary projects involving two or more of these disciplines are encouraged.

The Center is administered by a Director and reports to the Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Center's administrative structure includes an Advisory Board comprising faculty and doctoral students nominated by deans and department chairpersons; and a Steering Committee comprising distinguished community members and University faculty who are nominated by the Advisory Board. The Advisory Board annually identifies a theme that is pertinent to humanistic and artistic disciplines and invites research and artistic proposals addressing that theme from faculty.

The University Board of Governors chartered the Institute for Information Technology and Culture (IITC) in March 2001 to address the opportunities and challenges posed to our culture and to our social well-being by information technology. The Institute, directed by a steering committee with faculty from anthropology, medicine, and engineering, brings together an interdisciplinary group of scholars and researchers to draw on the world-class expertise of Wayne State University in studies of culture and technology. By combining empirical research, theory building, and problem solving through real-world engagements, this collaboration provides a model for addressing the challenges of technology and achieving a unified vision of the integration of knowledge.

The Institute's mission is to foster a collaborative effort for improving the effectiveness of institutions, the quality of life at home, at work and in the classroom, and the insights of public and private leaders, through a critical understanding of the interplay of technology and culture. For this, the Institute synthesizes expertise in the social sciences, engineering, natural sciences, and medicine. Members of the Institute confront technological problems and opportunities with a concern for the effectiveness of institutions and quality of life. A critical understanding of how these problems and opportunities are understood today will contribute to the construction of the technological society of tomorrow.

The goals of the Institute are to further research, education and service in the following ways:

- Implementation of a core-coordinated program of substantive interdisciplinary research on information technology that can contribute to theory-building across several disciplines and enhance funding opportunities for such research;
- Use of research for development of valued products, metrics, instruments, tools and processes to improve both research itself and also the ability of organizations to implement and manage information technology to achieve key outcomes in the areas of productivity and quality, including quality of life;
- Enhancement of the University's capacity to serve as a vital knowledge resource to the campus and urban communities by strengthening the Institute's research and educational capabilities in the area of information technology integration; and
- Diversification of the base of external support for research at Wayne State University.

Ligon Research Center of Vision

Kresge Eye Institute, 4717 St. Antoine; 313-577-0455/9136
Fax: 313-577-5482
Director: Gary Abrams, M.D.
Web: <http://www.med.wayne.edu/kresgeeye/online/main.html>

The Ligon Research Center of Vision was chartered in 1999. The Center was created as a result of a gift from philanthropist Robert Ligon, with a mission to focus on the restoration of vision to the blind through the creation of artificial vision. The Center conducts interdisciplinary research on the neurobiology, biotechnology and physiology of prosthetic vision in the blind. The current emphasis is in the development of design, testing, and insertion of a retinal implant. The retinal implant will produce visual impulses to be transmitted to existing retinal elements in patients blinded by photoreceptor degenerative diseases.

The Center is also working on a program to design, test, and implant a cortical implant. The cortical implant, presumably implanted in the visual cortex, will stimulate the visual cortex to create a visual image. The cortical implant will have broad applicability in blinding conditions such as glaucoma, diabetic retinopathy, and trauma in which the retina and/or optic nerve are damaged to the extent that a retinal implant would not be helpful.

The Smart Sensors and Integrated Devices Laboratory facilitates the nanotechnology to design implants with microscopic features. The Kresge Eye Institute faculty play an active role in the prosthesis design and its ultimate insertion within a patient through surgical implantation. Future work will include tissue engineering which will combine nano-fabrication with the cultured cells, designed to act as micro-machines in stimulating the retina and visual cortex.

Institute for Manufacturing Research

281 Physics Research Building; 313-577-2970; Fax: 313-577-7743
Director: Lawrence Favro, Ph.D.
Web: <http://www.imr.wayne.edu/>

Since its inception in 1986, the Institute for Manufacturing Research (IMR) has been a very active addition to the University. The Institute has proven to be an excellent venue for dozens of university students from many different disciplines to work with one another and with local industry on new and exciting research projects. Guided by a steering committee, which includes members from industry, the IMR is following its mission 'to enhance and extend the University's existing technological strength in areas of manufacturing research which have demonstrated beneficial potential for the state's economy.' IMR's staff of full-time and adjunct faculty members conduct basic and applied research and are developing many commercially significant products and processes. IMR's success has a strong foundation in its interdisciplinary as well as its industrial interactions. In this environment, engineers, chemists, and physicists work closely together, sharing their expertise and insights. The give-and-take atmosphere helps the scientists to learn from and build upon one another's research. Likewise, IMR researchers have found a great source of inspiration and assistance in the scientists and representatives of local industry. By combining industry's knowledge about the future needs and desires of society, the University's considerable technical resources, and the pooled expertise of researchers from a variety of disciplines, the Institute has become a dynamic research wing of Wayne State University.

The Institute is involved in dozens of projects in several main areas, including:

- Thermal wave imaging/sonic IR imaging, used in the non-destructive evaluation of civilian and military aircraft, as well as in the automotive and electric power industries. Pioneered at Wayne State, the patented research has been extensively licensed and has led to the formation of a local company;
- Cold-cathode emitters (discovered and patented at Wayne State);
- Durability of electronic components, yielding important contributions to the semiconducting manufacturing industry;
- Wide-band gap semiconductors, used for microelectronics and photonic sensors and devices;
- Laser imaging, for directly observing the processes occurring inside the cylinder of an automotive engine;
- Polymer materials and materials processing, for automotive applications;
- Metal forming research, to develop light-weight, high-strength materials.

One of IMR's most exciting research areas is called CAMPCAR, or the Center for Automotive Materials Processing Control and Reliability. It provides cross-disciplinary research and university-industry collaboration opportunities for Wayne State faculty, post-doctoral fellows and graduate students. CAMPCAR also has helped to establish state-of-the-art automotive analysis facilities where theory becomes practice. Partners in the Center include the Institute for Manufacturing Research, the College of Science, and the College of Engineering, along with the automotive industry's research and development community.

Merrill-Palmer Institute

71 East Ferry Ave.; 313-872-1790; Fax: 313-577-0947
Director: Geraldine Brookins, Ph.D.
Web: <http://mpi.wayne.edu/>

The Merrill-Palmer Institute is an interdisciplinary research institute focusing on urban children and families. It has a long and distinguished history as a research and educational institution, serving as a pioneer in the field of child development and early education. Since it became a part of Wayne State University in 1982, the Institute has encouraged collaborations among faculty from many University departments.

The Institute emphasizes mental health of children, education, child-care, and parenting, as well as public policy related to these issues. It has a preschool designed specifically for the study of early childhood development, with observation and testing rooms available to faculty and students. More than three dozen Wayne State faculty are affilated with the Institute, which carries on a variety of activities to foster research, including grant writing assistance, help with research facilities, small conferences, workshops, and mentoring for junior faculty. Ongoing research includes a variety of topics, such as study of child abuse prevention, mental health of preschool caregivers, adjustment of children whose parents have chronic health problems, cardiovascular risk and disruptive behavior problems, and early language and cognitive development of children.

The service programs of the Institute are an outgrowth of its research mission. They include training of mental health workers who serve very young children in the care of public and non-profit agencies, a field-based teacher development program for preschool teachers, consultation to education and child care organizations, workshops for teachers, parents, and the public, and the annual Metropolitan Detroit Teen Conference.

This historical collection of child development resources, including the Groves Collection on Family Life, is a national resource funded by a grant from the Kresge Foundation. The library is housed in the Walter P. Reuther Library of Labor and Urban Affairs. Its collection is available to scholars in the area of child and family studies.

Director: Frederic S. Pearson, Ph.D.
Web: <http://www.pcs.wayne.edu/>

The Center for Peace and Conflict Studies was established in 1965, and provides programs devoted to the resolution of conflict in all contexts, from the local community to the international system. Under the faculty director and an interdisciplinary executive committee, research projects are developed that contribute to the exploration of the social and political problems of our time. Conferences and speaker series are organized and occasional papers issued. The Center serves as the base for an undergraduate co-major and minor in peace and conflict studies, and participates in the interdisciplinary Master of Arts in Dispute Resolution program in conjunction with the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs. The Center director also co-directs the Program in Mediating Theory and Democratic Systems, sponsored by the Hewlett Foundation, one of eighteen national centers investigating theories and approaches to ethnic, racial, gender, or religious dispute settlement. The Center networks nationally and internationally via the Internet and World Wide Web.

Detroit Council for World Affairs: The Council is the community arm of the Center for Peace and Conflict Studies and presents activities for a broad audience on crucial world issues and domestic and international conflict. The Council serves as a link between the University and the community in the greater Detroit metropolitan area. Members of the public may join the Council to participate in Center and Council activities.

— Graduate Certificate in Scientific Computing

Scientific computing refers to the knowledge and techniques required to perform computer modeling and simulation; it also addresses the application of computers to solving problems in science, engineering, and medicine. In addition to a particular scientific, engineering, or medical application, it includes topics from mathematics including mathematical modeling and numerical methods, as well as topics from computer science including programming, data structures, networking, and scientific visualization. The Scientific Computing Program encourages interdisciplinary collaboration and interaction and recognizes that widely different applications share similar underlying mathematical and computational bases, where the same algorithms, methodologies, and advances in the field apply to many important applications. The Scientific Computing Program seeks to nourish fruitful interactions between computer scientists, applied mathematicians and computational scientists working at the forefront of their fields. Participating faculty is drawn from the College of Science, College of Engineering, College of Liberal Arts, and the School of Medicine.

The Graduate Certificate in Scientific Computing Program is an interdisciplinary program administered through the Graduate School. It is designed to give students a deep and focused grounding in the techniques and tools that are necessary knowledge for all computational scientists and to integrate this understanding with the student's primary subject area. The certificate may be earned concurrently with a graduate degree or may be earned independently by students who already hold a B.S. or B.A. from an accredited institution.

Admission is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (for requirements, see page 17). Students must possess a B.A. or B.S. or equivalent degree from an accredited institution and must have a minimum g.p.a. of 2.60. Licensing/Certification Reimbursement: All students collecting under Active Duty GI Bill are eligible for reimbursement for any licensing test fees. Contact the OMVA or visit <http://www.gibill.va.gov> for further information.

Tutorial Assistance is also available as part of all benefit packages. Eligible recipients may receive $100.00 per month up to 12 months to help defray tutoring costs. Contact the OMVA for further details. No charge to benefit entitlement is incurred for the first six months received of Tutorial Assistance.

Active Duty Tuition Waiver: A Waiver of Non-Resident Portion of (assessed) Tuition is available to military service personnel on active duty in Michigan and their spouses and dependent children. Eligible students must complete the student information and section II of Request for Waiver of Non-Resident Portion of Tuition form along with substantiating documentation of Active Duty status to the Registration and Scheduling Office, 5057 Woodward Ave., Room 5101, each term. The completed waiver must be submitted before the end of the first week of classes.

VA Work-study Program: The VA work-study allowance is available to all students eligible for VA Educational Benefits. - Outreach services under VA supervision;
- Work at VA medical facilities or National Cemetery System offices
- Work with the Veterans counselor at any of the MESC offices
- Work in the Education or Transition offices at local base

However, if your branch provides Tuition Assistance and/or Tuition Reimbursement the OMVA will provide assistance as necessary with regard to grade and tuition certifications to you unit.

Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC): Although there is no ROTC program on WSU campus interested personnel can be attached to UM or EMU's ROTC units. Member would remain a student of Wayne State University while attending Air or Army ROTC classes at the second institution. Contact the OMVA for reference to the ROTC offices or reach them directly at Army EMU ROTC (734) 487-1020 or Air Force UM ROTC at (734) 764-2403.

Recalled To Active Duty (Reservists / National Guard): Students serving in the Selected Reserves or National Guard who are called up to Active Duty during a semester may request full reimbursement of tuition and fees. e-mail: studyabroad@wayne.edu

This is the official University office for study abroad programs. These programs are offered in collaboration with academic departments, faculty, and U.S. and foreign institutions, in order to combine academic study with a cross-cultural learning experience in a foreign environment. The Office offers a full range of support services to students on such issues as program selection, academic planning, registration, credit, financial aid, and cultural adjustment. In addition, program materials have been designed specifically to assist students in preparing for their study abroad experience. Books, brochures, catalogs on academic and travel/study programs in foreign countries are available at the Study Abroad Resource Center, including information on Wayne State's fifteen foreign-study programs and other programs sponsored by American and foreign institutions.

A variety of program options have been developed to address the diverse needs of students. Programs vary in length, level, academic focus, teaching format, language requirements, cost, and degree of independence demanded of the participant. Course credit is available on approval for many foreign study programs; credit approval should be obtained before entering a foreign study program.

Japan Center for Michigan Universities: The Japan Center for Michigan Universities (JCMU) is a consortium consisting of the fifteen State-supported Michigan public universities, the Michigan Japan Foundation, and Shiga Prefecture. JCMU offers semester- and year-long study opportunities in Hikone, Japan.

The Center's academic program is designed for students interested in acquiring knowledge about Japanese language and culture, including those not majoring in Japanese studies. It provides semi-intensive Japanese language courses and several core courses on Japanese culture to Michigan and other American university students. Academic credit may be granted by a student's home institution upon successful completion of JCMU courses; independent study is also available. The program also features home-stays in a Japanese community, field trips, and participation in cultural events.

FULBRIGHT GRANTS and other grants for graduate study abroad: The U.S. Fulbright Student program is designed to give recent B.S and B.A. graduates, master's and doctoral candidates, and young professionals and artists opportunities for personal growth and international experience. Each year the Fulbright Program allows Americans to study or conduct research in over 100 nations. Application deadline depends on the specific program but generally it must be submitted to the campus Fulbright adviser by September of the year prior to the foreign study experience. For more information and application forms, contact Study Abroad and Global Programs, 1600 David Adamany Undergraduate Library; 313-577-3207. The Fulbright Program website is: <http://www.iie.org/fulbright/us/>

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS and SCHOLARS

Office of International Students and Scholars (OISS)

416 Welcome Center; 313-577-3422; Fax: 313-577-2962

Web: <http://www.oiss.wayne.edu>

The University is home to approximately 4,000 international students and visiting scholars from nearly 100 countries. The OISS was established to aid these individuals in their educational and scholarly pursuits at Wayne State. It provides quality service in facilitating linkages to the campus and community, offering cross-cultural educational programs and activities, and assisting in matters related to immigration regulation compliance.

The Office's mission is to support and enhance the educational, cultural, and social experiences of international students and scholars at Wayne State University. It serves as a primary link to the University, the community, the federal government, and public and private agencies and organizations. In addition, it provides international and cross-cultural educational programs to the University and its community.

OISS staff advises students and scholars on immigration regulations and issues of cross-cultural adjustment; provides educational, cultural and social programs and activities, including a comprehensive orientation program and written material designed to help them achieve their educational and personal goals; assists University departments in the hiring of foreign national employees by processing necessary immigration petitions with the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), Department of Labor (DOL), and United Department of State (DOS); consults and interacts with University units, governmental organizations and other agencies; serves as a focal point for campus and community services; provides cross-cultural workshops and training seminars; and works with campus and academic support units to help define and achieve institutional goals related to international education and exchange.

New International Students and Scholars receive the OISS welcome booklet with their visa document (Form I-20 or DS 2019). The booklet provides information on a wide variety of important topics to these individuals before they leave their home country. Among the subjects covered are housing, health insurance, expenses, immigration status, local climate, and air transportation. New students and scholars from abroad must report to the OISS soon after their arrival and participate in a comprehensive orientation program. This program is designed to meet immediate needs in terms of housing information and University registration procedures; introduce them to U.S. culture and the University's educational system; and provide information on banking, health insurance, safety, and immigration regulations. In addition, a number of social and recreational programs and activities are planned to assist students and scholars in making a smooth transition to their new environment.

Non-Immigrant Students: Before registering for classes, all non-immigrant international students must report to the OISS to complete check-in procedures and have immigration documents reviewed, purchase mandatory health insurance, and obtain an orientation schedule. Transferring F-1 students from other U.S. institutions must have their previous school release their Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) record to Wayne State University and must complete transfer procedures as provided in the federal regulations within fifteen days of the first day of class. F-1 students must notify the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) through the OISS of any change in name, address, program (including changes in level and field of study), and full-time enrollment. OISS must provide this information to ICE through the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS). J-1 exchange visitors, including students, may not make a change in level, field, or category without the advance approval of the Department of State, and may be precluded from change of visa status until a two-year home country residency requirement is met.

Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) regulations require that F-1 and J-1 students maintain a full course of study and make normal progress toward program completion at the institution they have been authorized to attend. Graduate students (including those in pre-master's status) must successfully complete at least eight credits each semester (excluding Spring/Summer or an approved annual vacation). See an OISS adviser for details on complying with this and other ICE requirements.

Commuting Canadian students enrolled less than full time must obtain an I-20 from OISS each semester they are enrolled and should consult with an adviser to determine the impact of this status on future immigration benefits including the availability of practical training.

Professors and Research Scholars: The University provides foreign professors and research scholars with opportunity to engage in research, teaching, consulting, and lecturing with colleagues at Wayne State; to participate actively in cross-cultural activities; and to share their experience and increase knowledge about the United States, Wayne State University, and the metropolitan Detroit community. OISS provides centralized support services necessary to enable and assure the employability of such non-U.S. citizens within government regulations. Offers of employment to foreign nationals must be authorized by the OISS, and only this Office may sign immigration forms and petitions related to employment on behalf of the University. All foreign national employees must complete USC IS Form I-9, 'Employment Eligibility Verification' and present evidence of their identity and employment eligibility at the OISS before commencing employment at Wayne State University.

Health Insurance: International students and J-1 exchange visitors and their dependents holding J-2 status are required to comply with the health insurance requirements of the University. Commuting Canadian students may waive the health insurance requirement by providing proof of OHIP coverage prior to each semester of enrollment. Insurance which meets these requirements may be purchased through the OISS. The mandatory international insurance program is designed to provide international students, exchange visitors, and their eligible dependents with continuous insurance protection and access to quality affordable health care services. The University is mandated by federal law to terminate from its program all exchange visitors and their dependents who do not meet minimum insurance requirements. Forms to purchase this insurance are available by contacting the OISS Health Insurance Advocate: 313-577-0724

For U.S. Citizen and Permanent Resident students and their dependents, the Student Injury and Sickness Insurance Plan is a voluntary insurance program available for purchase. For more information, including purchasing the Domestic Health Insurance plan, students may go to <http://www.collegiaterisk.com> or contact Collegiate Risk Management at 1-800-922-3420 or the Health Insurance Advocate in OISS at 313-577-0724.

Cross-Cultural Activities: The OISS provides cross-cultural activities in order to provide the broadest exposure to American society, culture, and institutions. Activities include: field trips, holiday programs, International Week, and a free international coffee hour held in the seventh floor of the Student Center Building every Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., which provides opportunity for dialogue with and among international students and scholars, American students, and community sponsors.

ADDITIONAL UNIVERSITY SERVICES

Computing & Information Technology Division (C&IT)

5925 Woodward Avenue; 313-577-4778
Web: <http://computing.wayne.edu>

Computing & Information Technology (C&IT) strives to enhance Wayne State University's teaching, learning, and research activities. The Division aligns its activities and services closely with the University's strategic directions to ensure that Wayne State is successful in a highly competitive and technology-intensive university world. C&IT also seeks to deliver its core services efficiently and to anticipate and respond to the changing needs of the University community in using technology creatively and effectively, and most importantly to make it easy for everyone to do business with Wayne State.

Computer Access: C&IT works with and supports the University Libraries and all the schools and colleges in providing computer labs for student use. In fact, funds from the technology portion of Wayne State's Omnibus Fee (which is administered by the Office of the Associate Vice President for C&IT) is used to enhance information technology resources and services for students, including the purchase or upgrade of computers and software in libraries, academic departments, and extension centers. C&IT maintains a list of computer availability for students (<http://computing.wayne.edu/labs>).

WSU AccessIDs: Every WSU student and employee receives a unique AccessID and password as their personal key to comprehensive online services and resources at Wayne State -- as soon as they submit an admissions application or are hired. Some of the services students can access with their WSU (e.g., xy6789) are: free dial-in Internet access from home, free e-mail and directory services, discount software purchases, free software downloads, and secure Web access -- through WSU Pipeline -- to self-services specifically for students (such as financial aid, registration, online tuition payments, and final grades), and to online courses or course materials on the Web.

For information about how to look up an AccessID and the initial password needed to activate it, visit the Web (<http://computing.wayne.edu/AccessID>). To activate a WSU AccessID, log in to WSU Pipeline (<http://pipeline.wayne.edu>) and follow the prompts. For personal assistance or to reset a password, call the C&IT Help Desk: 313-577-4778.

Access to the Internet: WSU students can access the Internet and the University's network on campus or at home, in the following ways:

— using a computer in any WSU library, at the Oakland and Wayne County Centers, or in a computer lab located in many academic departments on campus (see 'Computer Access,' above);

— using a home computer, and a WSU AccessID (see 'WSU AccessIDs' above) to dial a WAYNECONNECT network access number in southeast Michigan or Windsor, Ontario (for free use by WSU students, faculty, and staff exclusively). Outside the WAYNECONNECT service area, MichNet dial-in lines are available for shared use with other Merit Network members. Information about WAYNECONNECT and MichNet Internet access is on the Web (<http://computing.wayne.edu/wayneconnect>)

— using a home computer with cable modem/broadband service, DSL service, or a commercial Internet Service Provider, such as AOL, if more extensive Internet access or additional services are needed (such as multiple e-mail addresses or Website options).

Information on alter-native ways of accessing the Internet is on the Web (<http://computing.wayne.edu/isp>).

For help or information about these Internet access services, visit the Web (<http://computing.wayne.edu/internetaccess>) or contact the C&IT Help Desk: 313-577-4778 or: helpdesk@wayne.edu.

WSU E-mail and Communication Tools: Free electronic mail and other communication and collaboration tools (such as online calendars, secure chat, threaded discussions, and more) are available to all Wayne State students and employees using their WSU AccessID (see above). Now that Wayne State is communicating more and more by means of the University's AccessID E-mail System, it is essential that everyone at Wayne State activate their WSU AccessID E-mail account and use it, or forward their WSU E-mail to a regularly used e-mail address. Assistance with using WSU AccessID E-mail is available on the Web at <http://computing.wayne.edu/email> and from the C&IT Help Desk: 313-577-4778 and: helpdesk@wayne.edu.

WSU E-Directory: Every student, faculty, and staff person at Wayne State has a listing in the University's Electronic Directory on the Web. This helps people find WSU e-mail addresses and other contact information. To look someone up in WSU's E-Directory, visit WSU's Website (<http://wayne.edu>) and click WSU Directories.

WSU Pipeline: WSU Pipeline is a secure gateway to Wayne State University information and electronic services and tools on the Internet. WSU students, faculty, and staff can go to a one-stop location to use time-saving self-services and helpful course tools to meet their day-to-day needs, find University-related information that may be relevant to them, and work with communication and collaboration tools for connecting or interacting with people on and off campus (see 'WSU E-mail' above). All that is needed to access WSU Pipeline (<http://pipeline.wayne.edu>) is a current Web browser on any computer connected to the Internet and a WSU AccessID (e.g., xy6789) and password. (Also see 'WSU AccessIDs' above.)

Student Self-Services and Online courses on the Web: Wayne State students can access, at their convenience, a secure Web environment to use many timesaving self-services, take courses online, view course materials on the Web, and communicate electronically with each other and their instructors. After accessing WSU Pipeline (<http://pipeline.wayne.edu>), a student can build a course schedule, register for classes (many of which are offered entirely online), pay tuition, check financial aid status, look up final grades, obtain unofficial transcripts, and more. A growing number of WSU courses have a Web component that students can easily access through Pipeline or the Blackboard Learning System. From anywhere on the Internet, students can view course content and calendars, take part in secure chat and threaded discussions with classmates, exchange e-mail messages, and, in more and more cases, hand in assignments and even take exams online. For assistance accessing or using WSU Pipeline or Blackboard, contact the C&IT Help Desk: 313-577-4778 and: helpdesk@wayne.edu.

Education Technology Services: Graduate teaching assistants and faculty have many tools for making courses or course materials available on the Web, giving exams and posting grades online, and improving the overall quality of education and learning at Wayne State. The major tool for online development and management of courses here is the Blackboard Learning System, which Wayne State faculty adopted in 1999. Blackboard makes it easy to put course information and materials on the Web with virtually no technical expertise required. In addition to Blackboard training and technical resources available from WSU's Office for Teaching and Learning, C&IT Education Technology Services (ETS) develops additional support materials on the use of Blackboard. ETS also has a staff of video and multimedia professionals who can produce high-quality video, audio, and animation products to enhance instruction both online and in the classroom. For more information about these ETS services, call 313-577-4203. For help accessing or using Blackboard, contact the C&IT Help Desk: 313-577-4778 and: helpdesk@wayne.edu.

Grid and High-Performance Computing: C&IT, in partnership with a number of Wayne State schools and colleges, maintains a campus-wide Grid and High-Performance Computing Facility for faculty, graduate students, post-doctoral students, and academic staff who have computationally intensive research needs. As of Winter Term 2004, the heart of the facility consists of several Linux clusters, an IBM RS/6000 SP supercomputer, Sun Microsystems machines, and a Silicon Graphics Altix 3000. All these systems are connected to WSU's fiber backbone network and use the Globus Toolkit to form a campus-wide Grid. With a connection to Abilene, the nation's research network for the Internet2 project, WSU's backbone network fully supports the expansion of University research and collaboration with academic institutions around the country and abroad, and with national laboratories and supercomputing centers. C&IT provides accounts on the campus-wide Grid for faculty, researchers and graduate students who require specialized applications for statistical processing, parallel and distributed computing, and computer programming. Contact the C&IT Help Desk (see below) about obtaining access to WSU's high-performance computers or the Grid; also see 'Research Consulting Services,' below, and the Grid Computing Website (<http://www.grid.wayne.edu>).

Research Consulting Services: C&IT provides free research consulting services in association with a small, fully equipped computer lab for WSU graduate students. These research services are comprehensive -- from one-on-one consulting to group seminars or tutorials on request -- on the use of computer technology at any phase of the research process (design, implementation, statistical analysis, or final presentation). Located in 244 Purdy Library (northwest corner of the second floor; telephone: 313-577-5804), C&IT Research Consulting provides: networked Macintosh and Windows computers and laser printing; statistical, qualitative analysis, geographic information system (GIS), spreadsheet, database, word processing, presentation, graphics, and desktop publishing software that is fully supported by C&IT Research Consulting staff; user manuals for available software; and a collection of research-oriented textbooks. Additional equipment includes a color scanner, a CD burner, and both CD-ROM and videodisc technology.

HELP DESK — for computers and networks:

The Computing & Information Technology (C&IT) Help Desk provides personal assistance to help Wayne State University students, faculty, and staff:

DEAN: Harvey Kahalas

Foreword

The School of Business Administration is a professional school concerned with the theory and practice of business administration. The primary objectives of the School are to provide relevant education of high quality for business administration students, to develop new knowledge through research and to encourage application of its findings. To this end, in addition to their instructional services, the faculty has been a continuing source of notable scholarly publications and it is a special strength of the School that it brings a fine research faculty to teach undergraduate as well as graduate courses.

This School has a tradition of instructional programs exemplifying high standards for both faculty and students as is acknowledged by the accreditation of the AACSB International — The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business — for both the baccalaureate and master's degree programs. The School provides relevant, comprehensive business education through programs that serve recent high school graduates as well as more mature student populations. The student body is racially and ethnically diverse, commuting, and often working and raising families. To meet the needs of these students, the School schedules classes throughout the metropolitan area, during both day and evening hours.

The School of Business Administration also recognizes its obligation to community service. As part of an urban university, the School makes a special commitment to foster basic and applied research that will benefit business enterprises. Equally important is the dedication to excellence in the instructional programs that create and support the business leadership that is critical to the continuing revitalization of southeastern Michigan.

Accreditation

THE GRADUATE MANAGEMENT ADMISSION TEST (GMAT)

The Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) must be taken prior to admission to graduate study. The GMAT includes verbal, quantitative and analytical writing sections administered by a computer. Study guides for the GMAT are available at most university and commercial bookstores.

The GMAT is offered on a continuous basis by appointment at computer-based testing centers throughout North America and at selected international sites. Candidates can schedule a testing appointment by calling 1-800-GMAT-NOW. A list of test centers is provided in the GMAT Bulletin and on GMAT's web site, <http://www.gmat.org>.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Candidates for the Master of Business Administration degree must complete thirty-six credits in final-program course work with a grade point average of not less than 3.0.

Degrees are granted upon the recommendation of the faculty of the School of Business Administration. All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Business Administration governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections beginning on pages 26 and 70, respectively.

Joint J.D./M.B.A. Program

The Joint J.D./M.B.A. Program leads to the receipt of both the Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree from the Law School (see 210) and the Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) degree. Applicants to this program must apply to both the Law School and the School of Business Administration. Students must take the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) as part of the M.B.A. application process. Admission to the Joint J.D./M.B.A. Program requires separate approval by both the Law School and the School of Business Administration.

The first year of study is spent in the Law School; after completion of the first year, students may elect one course per semester, up to a total of four graduate courses in the Business School, credit for which is applicable toward the J.D. degree. Students are eligible to apply a maximum of two law school courses (six credits) as M.B.A. elective credit, provided the following conditions are met:

- 1) The law school courses to be transferred must be taken at the Wayne State University Law School, as part of the J.D. program;
- 2) A grade of 'B' (3.0) or higher must have been awarded for the courses; Passed/Not Passed credit is not acceptable;
- 3) The courses must be relevant to the student's Plan of Work as approved by the Graduate Committee;
- 4) The course may not be more than five years old at the time of graduation;
- 5) The student must petition for transfer credit by letter to the Graduate Committee;

LEX 7831 -- Trademarks and Unfair Competition: Cr. 3

Course Distribution Requirements

The master's degree program provides a common body of knowledge in business administration as well as opportunities for advanced specialization in particular areas. The program beyond the common body of knowledge is broad in nature and is directed at general competence for overall management. There are three phases of course work required: foundation, core, and elective. Depending on the student's background, no foundation course work or as many as five foundation courses may be required. All students must complete six core and six elective courses.

— Foundation Requirements

Of the following foundation courses, those at the 6000 level are open only to students who have been formally admitted to a graduate program at Wayne State University — undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, and non-matriculated students are not eligible. (Analogous courses offered at the undergraduate level may be taken to satisfy Foundation Requirements prior to graduate admission. However, once a student has been formally admitted to the M.B.A. program, NO graduate credit shall be allowed for subsequent registrations in undergraduate courses analogous to the Graduate Foundation Requirements without approval of the Graduate Committee or its designee. Information regarding such courses is available in the Office of Student Services, 200 Prentis Building.) All foundation requirements must be completed before a student begins core and elective courses.

B A 6000 -- Financial Reporting and Analysis: Cr. 2-4
B A 6010 -- Markets and Marketing: Cr. 2-4
B A 6020 -- Management Principles and Org. Processes: Cr. 2-4

In addition to these courses, one college-level mathematics course and one course in business information systems are required.

While all of the above foundation courses are required, students who have had equivalent course work in their undergraduate programs may be granted waivers of certain foundation courses at the time of their admission to the graduate program. In general, a baccalaureate degree in Business Administration from a regionally accredited institution fulfills most or all foundation requirements. However, each applicant's background will be individually examined by the Graduate Committee or its designee to determine if any foundation course work is needed. (The Graduate Committee is chaired by the Dean or his/her designee.) If courses proposed to satisfy the foundation requirements of the M.B.A. program are over six years old, the Graduate Committee may require the applicant to demonstrate proficiency in the subject matter either by interview with a faculty member, by taking an equivalent course, or by taking an equivalent course by examination.

A cumulative grade point average of 3.00 ('B') is required for foundation requirements. No individual grade below 2.0 ('C') is acceptable.

— Core Requirements

The following six core courses are required of all students:

B A 7000 -- Managerial Accounting: Cr. 3
B A 7020 -- Corporate Financial Management: Cr. 3

B A 7050 -- Marketing Strategy: Cr. 3
B A 7070 -- Social Perspectives on the Business Enterprise: Cr. 3
B A 7080 -- Strategic Management: Cr. 3

B A 7080, Strategic Management, is to be taken in the final twelve credits of the graduate program and only after the completion of the other five core courses. For those students with an undergraduate major in accounting, finance, management or marketing, a more advanced course in a subject area must replace the pertinent core course noted above. Students may petition the Graduate Committee or its designee to make a course substitution appropriate to their professional objectives. This substitute core course cannot satisfy the elective requirements.

— Elective Requirements

The purpose of the elective requirement is to provide depth in a specialization that will contribute to the student's attainment of his or her professional objectives.

Students must take elective courses at the 7000 level or higher. Electives may not exceed eighteen credits in any one subject, including any related core courses.

The written approval of the Dean or his/her designee is required to take any course outside the School of Business Administration. Only students holding a bachelor's degree in business administration are eligible to take elective courses outside the School of Business Administration.

University policies on transfer of credits from other institutions will apply.

Course Distribution Requirements

ACC 7998, Seminar in Tax and Accounting Policy, is the capstone course for all M.S. in Accounting degree candidates; it must be elected as part of the final nine credits in the student's program. ACC 7998 provides the opportunity to combine concepts developed by students in their professional and educational experience with economic, social, industrial, administrative, and legislative policy considerations.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN TAXATION

Admission

Admission to any graduate program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants to the M.S.T. program must comply with the following:

Admission to the Master of Science in Taxation program is limited to holders of baccalaureate degrees from regionally accredited institutions who demonstrate high promise of success. Several measures of probable success that may be included in the evaluation of an applicant include but are not limited to:

1. Performance on the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT); see above, under 'Master of Business Administration.'
2. Undergraduate grade point averages and the trend of grades earned during undergraduate education.
3. Licensure and certifications, such as bar admission and certification as a Certified Public Accountant.
4. Other relevant factors such as employment and leadership experience.

The M.S. in Taxation Committee is authorized to review the credentials of each applicant. This Committee is composed of the Chairperson of the Department of Accounting, the Director of the M.S. in Taxation Program, one other member of the graduate faculty of the University, and two representatives of the professional community; it is chaired by the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs. Final approval of the applicant's admission to graduate study in taxation is authorized by the Dean of the School of Business Administration or the Dean's designee, upon recommendation of the M.S. in Taxation Committee. Appeals of an admission denial must be made in writing to the Director of the M.S. in Taxation Program, School of Business Administration. A copy of the Guidelines for formal appeals is available in the School's Office of Student Services.

Before an applicant can be considered for admission, the following material must be timely submitted:

1. a completed W.S.U. Application for Graduate Admission;
2. an official transcript from each college or university previously attended by the applicant;
3. an official notification of the applicant's score on the GMAT and, if required, the TOEFL. (For information regarding the GMAT, see above, under 'Master of Business Administration.')
4. a photocopy of each professional license or certification held by the applicant;
5. the application fee.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The M.S. in Taxation degree program requires the completion of thirty credits in final-program course work with a grade point average of not less than 3.0. Degrees are granted upon recommendation of the faculty of the School of Business Administration. Consideration is given to both scholastic achievement and the extent to which the candidate has met the standards and requirements of the School. All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Business Administration governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections beginning on pages 26 and 70, respectively. University policies on transfer of credits from other institutions will apply.

Course Distribution Requirements

The M.S. in Taxation program consists of five categories of courses, as follows:

Foundation Courses are background courses which are required but do not generate credit toward the M.S.T. degree. Applicants who have already earned a degree in business administration or accounting will usually be able to waive most, if not all, of the foundation courses.

Core Courses are five courses providing in-depth coverage of the body of knowledge associated with studies in taxation and tax policy.

Cognate/Concentration Courses are two additional required courses. The choice of these two courses depends on the area of concentration selected by the student.

Electives: M.S. in Taxation students will generally complete six or seven elective credits (two or three courses).

Capstone Course: When nearing the conclusion of the M.S. in Taxation program, the degree candidate will take ACC 7998, Seminar in Tax and Accounting Policy.

— Foundation Requirements

The M.S. in Taxation is an advanced degree. Before progressing to the core courses of the program, the student should possess a solid foundation in accounting and economics, as follows:

B A 6000 -- Financial Reporting and Analysis: Cr. 3
ACC 7100 -- Financial Accounting for Managers: Cr. 3
ACC 7120 -- Tax Problems in Business Affairs: Cr. 3

However, if the applicant's business administration or accounting degree is from a college or university located outside of the United States, some or all of the foundation requirements may not be able to be waived as U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (US GAAP) and/or U.S. tax principles and rules may not have been studied.

The graduate level foundation courses listed above are open only to students who have been formally admitted to a graduate program at Wayne State University. Analogous courses offered at the undergraduate level may be taken to satisfy foundation requirements prior to graduate admission. However, once a student has been formally admitted to the M.S. in Taxation program, NO graduate credit will be allowed for subsequent registration in undergraduate courses.

A cumulative grade point average of 3.0 ('B') is required in foundation requirements courses. No individual grade below 'C' (2.0) is acceptable. All foundation requirements must be completed before a student begins Cognate/Concentration courses or Elective courses. Students may begin taking Core courses during the last semester in which they elect Foundation Requirements, subject to the prerequisite and corequisite requirements of the Core courses.

— Core Requirements

The following five Core courses are required of all students, and all are prerequisites or corequisites to students' work in elective courses:

Core Requirements

ACC 7300 -- Tax and Accounting Research: Cr. 3
ACC 7310 -- Tax Comm., Procedure and Professional Ethics: Cr. 3
ACC 7320 -- Advanced Tax Problems: Cr. 3
ACC 7330 -- Taxation of Corporations and Shareholders: Cr. 3
ACC 7340 -- Taxation of Partnerships and Limited Liability Co.: Cr. 3

For students who have completed undergraduate, graduate and law courses equivalent to Core courses, within the preceding three years with a grade point average of 3.0 or above, one or more advanced courses in taxation may be substituted for Core courses, at the discretion of the M.S.T. Committee.

— Cognate/Concentration Requirements

Regular Program and Special Program: Once a student completes the Foundation Requirements and begins the Core Requirements, he/she must select either the regular M.S.T. program (with a concentration in accounting and taxation), or a special M.S.T. (which includes approved Cognate courses in economics or political science). The special program option must be selected before completion of twelve credits in course work at the 7000 level or above.

Concentration in Accounting and Taxation: Most students will find that the regular M.S.T. program, with a concentration in accounting and taxation, to be the most responsive to their professional needs. Unless a special program involving a cognate area of study is selected by the student before completion of twelve credits in course work at the 7000 level or above, the student will be expected to follow the regular program. Students in the regular program select at least two of the following five concentration courses:

ACC 7410 -- Tax Accounting Periods and Methods: Cr. 3

ACC 7420 -- Taxation by State and Local Jurisdictions: Cr. 3

ACC 7440 -- Estate and Gift Taxation: Cr. 3

Cognate Area of Study: Some students, such as those with a strong background in the social sciences, may earn an M.S. in Taxation in a cognate area other than accounting. In such cases at least two but no more than four courses may be taken outside of the accounting, taxation, and law disciplines. The following courses are required for students who wish to earn the M.S. in Taxation in the Public Administration cognate area.

Cognate in Public Administration

P S 7300 -- Public Administration & Its Environment: Cr. 3

P S 7330 -- Public Budgeting and Finance: Cr. 3

— Elective Requirements

At least two electives are required of all M.S. in Taxation students. A student who has completed the foundation requirements and at least two core courses may begin to take elective courses. Advanced graduate courses in taxation offered by the Accounting Department, such as the five accounting and taxation Concentration courses listed above, may be elected without approval of the student's adviser. Electives outside of the field of taxation, as offered by the Accounting Department, require approval of the adviser; electives from outside the School of Business Administration must also be approved by the school or college offering the courses.

A student may elect Law School courses with the approval of his/her adviser and the Director of Graduate Studies of the Law School. Students should be aware that registration for Law School courses takes place earlier than that for the School of Business Administration and the rest of the University, and that the Law School calendar and the regular University calendar also differ. Students should consult the Law School regarding courses, schedules, and calendar.

— Capstone Requirement

ACC 7998, Seminar in Tax and Accounting Policy, is the capstone course for all M.S. in Taxation degree candidates; it must be elected as part of the final nine credits in the student's program, and only after completion of at least four Core courses. ACC 7998 provides the opportunity to combine concepts developed by students in their professional and educational experience with economic, social, industrial, administrative, and legislative policy considerations.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Graduate students are advised that, in addition to the policies, procedures, and rules specified by the School of Business Administration, other regulations and requirements of Wayne State University's Graduate School may apply. See pages 23-29 of this bulletin.

Academic Standing

Students who have been admitted to the Graduate Program on a 'qualified' or conditional basis are expected to remove that status by the completion of the first twelve credits in course work with a minimum 3.0 grade point average. Failure to do so will result in dismissal from the program.

Students admitted to regular status or those who have attained regular status following a 'qualified' admission, will be given an academic warning at any time their graduate grade point average falls below 3.0. After an academic warning, students will be permitted nine credits to restore their cumulative grade point average to a 3.0 level. Failure to do so within this credit hour limit will result in dismissal from the program. The second (or subsequent) time(s) a student is placed on probation, he or she is subject to immediate dismissal from the School of Business Administration.

Admission to Class

Students who are late registrants or who wish to file a Change of Elections will not be added to any class that meets once a week after the second class meeting. For classes meeting twice a week, no student will be added after the third class meeting. Students may not attend a class for which they are not officially registered, and will not be added retroactively.

Advisers

Credit will be disallowed for concentration courses taken below the 7000 level or courses taken outside of the School of Business Administration without prior written approval of the Graduate Officer.

Advisers may not modify core course requirements without approval of the Graduate Officer.

The Graduate Officer retains final authority for the approval of all concentration courses.

For advising, students should contact the Office of Student Services at 313-577-4510.

Application for Degree

Prior to the semester in which a student intends to graduate, a degree application must be filed with the University Records Office, 5057 Woodward. Applications are available from the University Records Office; or from the School's Office of Student Services, 200 Prentiss or on the University website.

Attendance Policy

Regular attendance is a necessary condition for success in university study. Course content includes classroom lecture and discussion, certain aspects of which may not be covered in examinations, quizzes, term papers, or homework assignments. Each Instructor will announce his or her attendance standards at the beginning of the term.

All candidates for degrees are expected to be present at commencement.

Conduct

Each student is subject to the Student Due Process statute governing student activities and student behavior. Furthermore, it is the responsibility of each student to adhere to the principles of academic integrity. Academic integrity includes the requirement that a student is honest with him/herself, fellow students, instructors, and the University in matters concerning his or her educational endeavors. For example, a student should not falsely claim the work of another as one's own, or misrepresent him/herself so that the measures of one's academic performance do not reflect his/her own work or personal knowledge. Assignments submitted for any class are expected to be original, not resubmissions of work submitted in a previous or concurrent class.

If there are reasonable grounds to believe that a student has disregarded the regulations or student responsibilities, he or she may be disciplined. Such discipline may include suspension or dismissal, but no dismissal will be directed without reasonable opportunity for an appropriate hearing, as provided in the Student Due Process statute.

Course Level Requirement

M.B.A., M.S.A. and M.S.T. students are required to take all core and concentration/elective course work in classes reserved exclusively for graduate students. At Wayne State University, these classes are numbered at the 7000 level or above. A graduate student must obtain the specific written approval of the Graduate Officer prior to registering for a course that is not reserved exclusively for graduate students. Credit will not be applicable to the degree if approval has not been obtained.

Course Sequencing

The M.B.A., M.S.A. and M.S.T. curricula have been designed to provide logical sequencing of subject matter. This means that students must observe all course prerequisites and limitations, and must complete all required foundation courses prior to beginning any core or concentration/elective courses.

The Strategic Analysis course (B A 7080) is an integrative capstone course that may only be taken in the last twelve credits, and only after completion of the other five core courses in the M.B.A. curriculum.

Similarly, the Seminar in Tax and Accounting Policy (ACC 7998) must be elected as part of the final nine credits in the M.S.A. and M.S.T. student's program.

Students who do not adhere to these regulations will be administratively withdrawn from the out-of-sequence course(s) and may not be allowed to register for further course work.

Exception: A student taking his/her last foundation course(s) may simultaneously enroll for one or more core courses, if the relevant foundation course or courses for the core course(s) has been satisfactorily completed.

Course Repetition Policy

M.B.A., M.S.A. and M.S.T. students may not routinely repeat courses taken as part of their degree program requirements. While the repetition of certain required courses may be necessary if failing or unsatisfactory grades are earned, this should not be done without first consulting the Office of Student Services (313-577-4510).

Upon petition by the student, the Graduate Committee may authorize the repetition of two graduate courses during a student's M.B.A., M.S.A. or M.S.T. program, whereby the grade earned in the initial course attempt is deleted from the grade point total and grade point average calculations.

Directed Study

A directed study (offered for one to three credits) involves advanced readings and research or a tutorial under the supervision of a faculty member. A cumulative grade point average of 3.0 is required to be eligible for consideration for directed-study work. Students must file an approved proposal form with the required signatures prior to registration. No more than three credits of directed study in any one department are permitted in any semester.

Enrollment Eligibility

Graduate-level courses offered by the School of Business Administration are open only to students who have been formally admitted to a Wayne State University graduate program or admitted as a graduate guest student. Students having undergraduate, post-bachelor, or any non-matriculated status are not eligible to take graduate courses. Graduate business courses include all courses numbered 6000-6100 and 7000 and above. All elections must be taken in accordance with an approved Plan of Work.

Grade Appeal Procedure

Students disputing a final grade should first contact the instructor of the course informally. Should the dispute remain unresolved, the student may initiate a formal appeal. A copy of the School of Business Administration's grade appeal procedure is available in the Office of Student Services, 200 Prentis Building.

Non-grade-related grievances should be brought directly to the appropriate departmental chairperson or to the Office of Student Services. Additionally, the University Ombudsperson (see page 53) is available to all students for assistance in the resolution of University-related problems.

'Incomplete' Marks

The mark of 'I' which is not converted to a letter grade within one year from the time it was received will be changed to a withdrawal ('W'), unless prior to the end of that year the student requests and the instructor agrees to certify in writing to the University Records Office that additional time is needed to remove the Incomplete.

Maximum Credit Load

A student employed full-time will normally not register for more than six to nine graduate credits. Graduate assistants are required to register for at least eight credits each semester.

Passed-Not Passed Registration

Graduate students may not take graduate program requirements on a passed-not passed basis.

Plan of Work

All course work must be in accordance with an approved Plan of Work on file in the Office of Student Services, 200 Prentis Building. No credit will be granted for graduate courses in business administration taken at Wayne State University prior to admission to the graduate program in the School of Business Administration. Only the Graduate Committee is authorized to approve changes affecting a student's foundation requirements or core courses.

Retention of Records by the Instructor

Term papers and examinations shall either be returned to the student or retained by the instructor for a period of ninety days. Thereafter, they may be destroyed. Instructors shall retain grade books for at least five years following the end of a term and instructors who leave the institution shall give grade books for courses conducted during the past five years to their department chairperson. Five years after the end of a course, grade books may be returned to the instructor who has left the institution, or the grade books may be destroyed by the department.

Time Limitation for Program Completion

Students have a six-year time limit to complete all 7000-level requirements. The six-year period begins at the start of the semester during which the student takes his/her first 7000-level course work. Students who expect to exceed the time limitation must file a written request for an extension with the Assistant Dean for Student Services. The School reserves the right of revalidation of credits which are over-age. In revalidation cases, the Graduate Committee will set a terminal date for completion of all degree requirements, including such additional requirements as may be prescribed to revalidate the over-age credits.

Transfer of Core and Concentration/Elective Courses

Graduate transfer credit for core and concentration/elective courses from either a Wayne State University graduate program or a graduate program at another institution is not routinely granted. Students with a non-business undergraduate degree may only petition to transfer credit from an AACSB accredited M.B.A. program. A petition for transfer credit must be initiated by the student in the form of a letter to the Graduate Committee, prior to the completion of the first twelve credits in graduate course work. To be eligible for consideration for transfer of credit, the following conditions must be satisfied:

1. The course must have been taken at an AACSB accredited college or university;
2. The course must have been taken in a class reserved exclusively for graduate students;
3. A letter grade of 'B' (3.0) or higher must have been awarded; passed-not passed credit is not acceptable. A letter grade of 'B-minus' or less is not acceptable.
4. The course must be relevant to the student's Plan of Work as approved by the Graduate Committee.
5. The course may not be more than six years old at the time of graduation.
6. The course cannot have provided credit toward a prior degree.

A maximum of six semester credits (normally two courses) may be considered for transfer credit. In addition to evidence regarding the above six conditions, the student must submit additional supporting materials concerning any proposed transfer course. Course syllabi, examinations, class notes, texts, and the like constitute such materials.

Waiver of Course Prerequisites

Requests for waiver of course prerequisites are not routinely granted. Waiver requests must be made in writing to the Graduate Committee and must include full documentation of the case. No waiver will be granted if the supporting documentation consists solely of professional experience proposed in lieu of course work.

Waiver of Foundation Courses

Students are allowed to waive foundation course requirements based on equivalent course work taken at a regionally-accredited college or university. A grade of 'C' (2.0 g.p.a.) or above must have been earned in this course work. Normally these waivers are granted after review of the student's transcript(s). Students who believe additional waivers are warranted must submit evidence of course equivalency, including course syllabi, class notes, and textbooks. Waivers will not be granted on the basis of professional experience.

Withdrawals from Class

Students should consult the instructor as to his/her policy on withdrawal from class, as well as the General Information section of this bulletin, page 23, for the University policy on withdrawal. Withdrawal and tuition refund policies are also included in the University Schedule of Classes, published in advance of each semester.

Students receiving a full-time award receive tuition coverage up to twelve graduate credits per term and are required to enroll in a minimum of eight graduate credits per term. Students receiving a part-time scholarship receive up to six graduate credits per term.

Membership is by invitation only.

College of Education

DEAN: Paula C. Wood

Foreword

The College of Education at Wayne State University is located in, and serves the needs of, one of the nation's largest metropolitan areas. Thus, the College reflects the dynamic character of urban life, and, in its concern with urban problems, places great faith in education as the means by which human circumstances can be improved. To this end, the College prepares professional educators who have the commitment and competence to help young people achieve dignity, preserve individuality, develop democratic values, and find self-fulfillment.

As society has been altered by such factors as the development of knowledge, technological advances and population growth, the purposes and processes of education have changed. New technologies of instruction are evolving rapidly and offer the educator many opportunities for developing a high level of competence. Problems generated in our urban society are complex, and those related to education are no exception. Yet, the opportunities for curriculum innovation, experimentation and leadership have never been greater.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

For complete information regarding graduate academic rules and regulations of the University, students should consult the General Information section of this bulletin, beginning on page 5. The following additions and amendments pertain to the College of Education.

Master of Arts Degrees

The Master of Arts degrees offered by the College of Education are administered by the Division of Kinesiology, Health, and Sport Studies, and by the Division of Theoretical and Behavioral Foundations. The generic degree requirements and specific requirements associated with individual majors and areas of concentration are described in the divisional sections; see pages 90-127.

Master of Arts in Teaching

The Master of Arts in Teaching degree is administered by the Division of Teacher Education. Both generic degree requirements and specific requirements associated with individual majors and areas of concentration are described in that section; see pages 102-113.

Master of Education

The Master of Education degree is offered in various curricular areas administered by each of the College's academic divisions: Administrative and Organizational Studies; Kinesiology, Health, and Sport Studies; Teacher Education; and Theoretical and Behavioral Foundations. Specific requirements associated with individual majors and areas of concentration are presented in the Divisional sections (see pages 90-127); generic degree requirements applicable to all Divisions are as follows:

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants must satisfy the following criteria:

In general, eligibility for a state provisional teaching certificate is essential for admission. Additional prerequisites include a satisfactory background in the area of specialization and the completion of general undergraduate academic requirements appropriate to the degree for which admission is sought. A personal interview in the chosen major may be required.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The minimum requirement for a Master of Education degree is thirty credits, at least twenty-four of which must be taken at the University. Many programs in the College of Education require more than the minimum, in which case those requirements take precedence. The Master of Education is offered under the following options:

Plan A: A minimum of twenty-two credits in course work, plus eight credits for the terminal seminar and thesis.

Plan B: A minimum of twenty-seven credits in course work, plus three credits for the terminal seminar and essay.

Plan C: A minimum of twenty-seven credits in course work, plus three credits for the terminal seminar and project.

The course work for the Master of Education degree is divided into three areas: major requirements, general professional requirements (core courses), and electives.

Major Requirements consist of a minimum of eight credits in the specialization selected by the student in addition to the terminal seminar and thesis, essay, or project. Specific course requirements for the various majors are presented in the Divisional sections, pages 90-127.

General Professional Requirements consist of credits selected from educational foundation courses. The student must complete one two-credit course from each of three areas chosen from those listed below. Courses within a student's major area cannot be used to satisfy this requirement.

Educational Administration: EDA 7600

Educational Psychology: EDP 5450, or 5480, or 7350 (may select one only)

Educational Sociology: EDS 7630

Evaluation and Research: EER 7610

Counseling: CED 6700

History and Philosophy of Education: EHP 7600

Special Education: SED 7050

Electives are those courses recommended outside the major and general professional sequences. A minimum of six credits is recommended in this area. The purpose of elective courses is to provide breadth to the student's program.

See the individual programs in the following Divisional sections of this bulletin for specific courses required by certain program areas in the major, the general professional sequence, or the elective sections of Plans of Work.

Plan of Work: After consultation with the adviser, the master's applicant prepares a Plan of Work for the program, setting forth the courses that will satisfy the requirements for the degree.

Candidacy: This status is established upon completion by the master's applicant of nine credits toward degree requirements, and after filing an approved Plan of Work with the College Graduate Office, 489 Education Building. The Plan of Work MUST be filed prior to or during the term in which the applicant completes twelve graduate credits toward the degree. Failure to file a Plan of Work will preclude further registration for courses.

Time Limitations: Requirements for the Master of Education must be completed within six years after completion of the first course to be applied toward the degree.

Post-Bachelor's Teaching Certificate

This program provides a means of obtaining teacher certification for those who do not choose to pursue the master's degree in education or the Master of Arts in Teaching. The program incorporates classroom theory with practice, requires a minimum of four semesters to complete and is available at both the elementary and secondary levels. Courses are offered during the day. Admission requires a baccalaureate degree with an appropriate teaching major and minor earned at a regionally accredited institution. Undergraduate course work should reflect a minimal 2.5 g.p.a. and the student must successfully complete the State Basic Skills Test. For a complete statement of curriculum requirements, see page 106.

Education Specialist Certificate

The Education Specialist Certificate program is a thirty credit minimum curriculum beyond the master's degree. It is a self-contained concentration, separate from other existing programs, with a distinct form of recognition at its completion. This is a planned program, not merely recognition for thirty credits of graduate study accrued beyond the master's degree.

The Education Specialist Certificate is offered in various curricular areas administered by the following academic divisions: Administrative and Organizational Studies, Teacher Education, and Theoretical and Behavioral Foundations. Specific requirements associated with individual majors and areas of concentration are presented in the Divisional sections (see pages 90-127); generic certificate requirements applicable to all Divisions are cited below:

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Minimum entrance requirements established by the College of Education are:

A. A master's degree from an accredited institution.

B. Applicants must present a grade point average of 2.6 or above for upper division undergraduate work. Applicants with an undergraduate grade point average below 2.6 must have a grade point average of 3.4 or above on their master's degree work.

C. Fulfillment of the special requirements of the area of concentration in which the student wishes to work.

D. All major areas with the exception of instructional technology and counseling require a minimum of three years of teaching experience or equivalent.

Students who have not been previously admitted to the Graduate School file the Application for Graduate Admission with the University Admissions Office, Welcome Center.

Students who hold master's degrees from Wayne State University file applications in 489 Education Building. An application fee is not required from these students.

Forms and directions regarding fulfillment of the other College and/or departmental requirements will be forwarded to the student on receipt of the application and transcript by the Education Graduate Office. When these requirements have been satisfied, the applicant will be invited to meet with a committee from his/her chosen area of concentration. Following the interview, the student will be notified of the admission decision by the Education Graduate Office.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

The Education Specialist Certificate program requires a minimum of thirty credits beyond the master's degree. The purpose of the Certificate program is to strengthen the liberal education of teachers and administrators and to contribute to more effective productivity of professional workers in the field of education. The specific content of each major is dependent upon the individual student's needs and interests.

Plans of Work are adapted to the professional needs of students and each one is developed by the individual student with the help of his/her adviser. A Plan of Work must be approved by the adviser and filed with the Education Graduate Office, 489 Education Building, before six credits have been completed following acceptance into the program. Failure to file a Plan of Work at the appropriate time will preclude further registration for courses.

Research studies, projects, or field studies may be accepted in partial fulfillment of requirements for the Certificate. Such projects will be in the nature of culminating experiences and arranged with the individual student's adviser.

Time Limitations: Requirements for the Education Specialist Certificate must be completed within six years after admission to the program. Credit earned beyond the master's degree which is over six years old at the time of admission may not be applied toward meeting requirements of the certificate. Credit earned after acceptance as a certificate applicant may not be over six years old at the time the certificate is granted.

Transfer Credits: A maximum of ten semester credits of graduate post-master's degree work earned at another accredited university, or at Wayne State University prior to admission to the Education Specialist program, may be applied to the certificate provided the courses are approved by the adviser as appropriate to the program plan.

A maximum of six semester credits of graduate post-master's degree work earned at another accredited university after admission to the Education Specialist program may be transferred and applied to the program provided no prior transfer credit from another university has been included in the program.

DOCTORAL DEGREES

The doctoral programs of the College of Education at Wayne State are designed to afford opportunity for advanced study and research to persons who have demonstrated: (1) superior scholarship; (2) leadership in education; (3) promise in the field of research; and (4) potential for professional leadership.

Advanced graduate degrees are conferred not merely upon the completion of a prescribed number of courses, nor necessarily after a given period of residence; but, rather, in recognition of outstanding ability and high attainment in course work, examinations, research, scholarly writing, and personal fitness for education as a profession.

The Ed.D. degree is typically more applied; the Ph.D. degree more research-oriented. Ed.D. study includes development of specialized practitioner skills; application of other educational foundations and techniques to a field; or applied research which primarily addresses localized practitioner problems. Ph.D. study includes theoretical foundations in the field; application of foundational or related disciplines; or research directed toward theory-building.

Doctoral degree programs are administered by the following academic divisions of the College: Administrative and Organizational Studies, Teacher Education, and Theoretical and Behavioral Foundations. Specific requirements associated with individual majors and areas of concentration can be found in the Divisional sections of this Bulletin (see pages 74-112); generic degree requirements applicable to all Divisions are stated below.

Admission

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants to doctoral programs in the College of Education are expected to meet the following minimal criteria:

1. Undergraduate grade point average of 3.0. Applicants with grade point averages of less than 3.0 for the baccalaureate degree must present a grade point average of 3.5 or above in their master's degree work before being considered for acceptance as doctoral applicants.
2. A master's degree from an accredited graduate school.
3. Some fields of concentration require a minimum of three years teaching experience or equivalent.
4. Successful completion of a written examination evaluated on writing ability and when deemed appropriate by the program area, knowledge of the field.
5. Recommendation for admission from an interview committee.

Application: Students who have not been formally admitted to the Graduate School file initial applications (in duplicate), with the $50.00 non-refundable application fee and two sets of transcripts, with: Academic Services, Room 489, College of Education, Wayne State University, Detroit MI 48202. Students who hold master's degrees from Wayne State University file doctoral applications in 489 Education Building. An application fee is not required from these students.

Official transcripts of all college-level work, undergraduate and graduate, are to be mailed to the appropriate University office by the institution where the work was completed. Forms and directions detailing prescribed college admission requirements including required College and Departmental writing tests, and personal interview information, will be forwarded by the Academic Services Office, 489 Education Building, upon or after receipt and review of doctoral applications. When all transcripts, test results, recommendations and other credentials, including the autobiographical statement, have been received and prerequisites satisfied, the applicant will be invited to meet with a committee from his/her chosen area of concentration. Following the interview, the student will be notified of the admission decision by the graduate officer.

Doctor of Education Requirements

Credit Requirements: The minimum credit requirement for the Ed.D. degree is 100 credits in graduate work beyond the baccalaureate degree. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic requirements of the College and the Graduate School; see the sections beginning on pages 26 and 85, respectively.

Residence: At least one full year of course work, i.e., thirty credits of course work beyond the master's degree, must be taken in residence at Wayne State University. This may include work in research techniques, unless taken by examination, but does not include dissertation research credit.

The Ed.D. program requires the completion of six graduate credits in regular course work in each of two successive semesters after admission as an Ed.D. applicant. The residence requirement must be completed following admission to the Ed.D. program.

All degree requirements must be completed within seven years from the time of admission as a doctoral applicant.

Doctoral Seminars: Students must elect two doctoral seminars from the following foundation areas: educational administration, educational psychology, educational sociology, history and philosophy of education, and curriculum and instruction. These seminars are open only to doctoral students.

Research Methods: A minimum of eleven credits is required in course work aimed at developing competence in statistics and research methodologies. At least six credits of the minimum requirement will consist of a comprehensive course in evaluation and statistics and an advanced course in research methodology and experimental designs. The other five credits will include research electives appropriate to the needs of the student, department research seminars, internships in research, or any combination thereof.

Concentrations: A minimum of thirty credits is required in the student's area of concentration. The courses constituting the major will be specified by the department in which the student selects the concentration. Course work in the field of concentration is not restricted to courses offered by the College of Education.

Cognates: A cognate in professional education or in a single field consisting of a minimum of twelve credits, is required. Courses included in the cognate will be selected by the student and adviser in conjunction with the cognate field committee member.

Dissertations: The doctoral student is required to submit a dissertation on a topic satisfactory to the doctoral committee. Twenty credits are required in dissertation research (ED 9989).

Electives may be chosen from the foundations of education, non-dissertation research techniques, or any course work the applicant and adviser consider appropriate to the student's individual program.

A Plan of Work must be filed and approved by the adviser and graduate officer during the semester in which the student is completing eighteen credits of work under advisement. Failure to file a Plan of Work will preclude further registration.

Final written and oral examinations in the major field of concentration and the cognate in professional education or a subject field will be required. The exact time of these examinations will be determined by the adviser and the student but should not be delayed beyond the semester in which all course work is completed. When performance on a final examination is unsatisfactory, the student may request a re-examination which must be taken within one year of the date of the first examination. The second examination shall be considered final.

A final oral examination on the dissertation is conducted by the student's doctoral committee under the auspices of the Education Graduate Office.

Selection of Adviser and Advisory Committee: For the first semester of enrollment, the student may be advised by the Graduate Officer. All admitted students must have an adviser assigned at the time of admission.

The adviser acts as the chairperson of the student's doctoral committee, which will consist of a minimum of three members; specifically, the adviser, one member representing the area of the cognate, and one member representing the field(s) outside of the major area division or the College of Education. The committee must be fully constituted not later than the time the student begins active work on dissertation research or project, or is ready to take the final qualifying examination, whichever comes first. The main function of the doctoral committee is to advise the student in research activities and to administer all final examinations. A moderator will be selected for final oral defense of the dissertation. The moderator must be outside of the division of the student's major area.

Doctor of Philosophy Requirements

The Doctor of Philosophy embraces the same fields of concentration as the Doctor of Education, except that the Ph.D. degree is not available in the areas of Reading, Language and Literature; and Curriculum and Instruction: Bilingual-Bicultural Education.

Thirty credits in dissertation research are required in the Ph.D. program. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. The remaining credits will be assigned to research or course work in accordance with the needs of the students and the requirements in the field of concentration. At least one cognate is required. Fifteen credits in research are required beyond the minimum Ph.D. program requirements.

A Plan of Work, qualifying examinations, and a Final Public Lecture-Presentation are required. Satisfactory completion of the full-time residency requirement must be certified by the adviser and the College graduate officer. Ph.D. applicants should consult the procedures of the Graduate School beginning on page 17 for additional information. Also, please consult the College of Education Doctoral Policies and Procedures bulletin, available in Room 489, Education Building, for further specific Ph.D. requirements.

Normal Program Load

A full-time graduate student load is eight credits per semester and is limited without exception to a sixteen credit maximum by the Graduate School. If a significant portion of a student's time is spent in outside work, corresponding adjustments must be made in the college schedule. A graduate student working full-time who desires to carry more than eight credits must secure permission from the Assistant Dean for Academic Services, who serves as Graduate Officer.

Attendance

Regularity in attendance and performance is necessary for success in college work. Although there are no officially excused absences as defined by College policy, the conscientious student is expected to explain absences to the instructor. Such absences may be due to illness; to participation in inter-college activities, certified by the sponsoring faculty member; or other similar types of absence for which the student can present to the instructor evidence that he/she was engaged in authorized University activities. Each instructor, at the beginning of the course, will announce his/her attendance requirements.

Probation and Withdrawal

If, at any time, a graduate student's scholastic grade point average falls below 3.0, the student is automatically placed on probation. A student on probation must secure the approval of the Assistant Dean for Academic Services before registering for subsequent work in the College. The College reserves the right to ask a student to withdraw at any time from specific courses or from the College entirely, if progress does not warrant continuance.

Readmission

Graduate students who are returning to work on graduate programs following an interruption in residence of three years or more should report to the Central Records Office, 5057 Woodward, Room 5101, in order to reactivate their status before attempting to register.

Graduate students who have received a master's degree from Wayne State University and have not registered since the degree was conferred, and who desire to pursue further non-degree graduate work in the College of Education, must complete, in person, a post-master's readmission form available in Central Records Office, 5057 Woodward, Room 5101.

Revalidation of Credit —Master's Degree

Upon recommendation of the adviser and approval of the graduate officer, a master's degree student may revalidate over-age credits which are between six and ten years old, and that represent courses completed at Wayne State University with grades of 'B' or better. Students are not permitted to revalidate credits earned at other institutions. The adviser and student must set a terminal date for completion of all degree requirements, including such additional requirements as may be indicated by the graduate officer to revalidate over-age credits.

Graduation

Applications for graduate degrees and the Education Specialist Certificate must be made not later than the first day of classes for the semester in which degree or certificate requirements are to be completed. Graduation deadline dates for the semester in which candidates are completing degree or education specialist certificate requirements are issued on receipt of the application by the Graduate Education Office.

Information concerning commencement announcements, caps and gowns, invitations, tickets, time and place, and other relevant items will be mailed to graduates prior to the event. Candidates for doctoral degrees are requested and expected to attend the commencement at which the University confers upon them the degree earned.

Purposes

The Academic Services Division is responsible for admitting undergraduate and graduate students to programs of the College of Education. The Division is also responsible for maintaining student files, and processing and certifying graduation. In addition, the Division provides a placement service for graduates seeking employment in the field of education.

The Division provides information and advice concerning programs, admission procedures, administrative and teaching certificates, and general University policy.

Other services provided include preparation of the Schedule of Classes, and evaluation of transcripts. The unit also maintains curriculum guides and community college equivalency tables, approves official Plans of Work, and monitors the College probation system.

Off-Campus Centers

The College offers graduate course work in off-campus centers throughout the Detroit metropolitan area. Courses given at these centers provide residence credit and are comparable to the offerings on the main campus.

Alumni Association

The College of Education Alumni Association (formerly Detroit Teachers College Alumni Association) was organized in 1893 in connection with the Detroit Normal Training School. In the years since its origin, its membership has continually increased.

The aims of the Association, as set forth in its constitution, are (a) to foster a spirit of loyalty to the College, (b) to raise the standards of the teaching profession, (c) to assist professionally and financially those who need help, (d) to keep alive the spirit of real fellowship, and (e) to encourage worthwhile contacts between the student body and the Alumni Association. In addition to being supportive of the University and meeting the needs of the membership through appropriate programs, the Association, in recent years, has addressed itself to ways in which it can be of service to the broader community, recognizing that only through this commitment can it be a viable force in an urban university setting.

The Alumni Association has been generous in its gifts to the College. A gift provided complete furnishings for two rooms in the College of Education building—the Alumni Conference Room and the Faculty Lounge. The Alumni Association provides scholarships for deserving students, sponsors the Golden/Silver Anniversary Tea in honor of twenty-five and fifty year graduates of the College, joins with the faculty and administration of the College in annual Alumni awards, honors both alumni and faculty with awards and recognition, and supports the work of the Dean in carrying forward many activities of mutual interest and concern.

In becoming active members of the Association, the graduates of the College have ample opportunity to uphold and develop the best movements and ideals set forth by educational leaders and to lead in professional friendliness among all teachers.

MASTER OF EDUCATION with a major in Health Education

MASTER OF EDUCATION with a major in Kinesiology, with concentrations in exercise and sport science, physical education pedagogy, and wellness

MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING with a major in Kinesiology, with a concentration in physical education

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Sports Administration, with concentrations in interscholastic athletic administration, intercollegiate athletic administration, professional sports administration, and commercial sports administration

Health and kinesiology, as integral parts of a general education, focus attention upon the vital needs of the human being to acquire attitudes, knowledge and skills necessary for regular participation in healthful living and physical and leisure-time activities. Accordingly, this division provides courses of instruction both to promote physical well being through athletic and exercise programs, and to prepare teachers and practitioners to promote such health in others.

The Division of Kinesiology, Health, and Sport Studies (KHS) provides courses of instruction in health education, kinesiology and sports administration for the general student body; a program in driver education is also offered. In addition, it provides professional curricula at the undergraduate and graduate levels for those students seeking careers in these areas. Courses in these areas may be used to meet degree and curricular requirements of the various schools and colleges of the University.

Advisers: Each student admitted to the College at the graduate level and seeking a degree is assigned to a faculty member who acts as the adviser. The adviser guides the student in the selection of courses and counsels the student in solving academic problems.

Assistantships, Scholarships / Financial Aid

A number of assistantships are available in the area of kinesiology. Application should be made to the Office of the Assistant Dean, 261 Matthaehi Building. Scholarships, loans, work-study, and other types of financial aid are available through Wayne State University; contact the University Office of Financial Aid; 313-577-3378.

Admission

Current and prospective students should always check the KHS web page, <http://www.kinesiology.wayne.edu/>, for the most current information regarding admission and degree requirements.

Admission to graduate programs in the Division of Kinesiology, Health, and Sport Studies is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants to any program in the Division must meet the following criteria, as applicable:

1. Applicants must submit scores from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). The composite GRE score is only one of a number of factors (also including grade point average, professional experience, and performance in previous graduate course work) that are evaluated in the admissions process.

2. Regular Admission: Applicants must have an undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 or above, and an undergraduate degree directly relating to the field of specialization being applied for, or an undergraduate degree accompanied by extensive educational background in a closely-related field.

3. Regular Admission, Provisional: Applicants whose undergraduate grade point average is between 2.6 and 3.0, and who otherwise meet the criteria for regular admission, will be admitted on this basis but will be required to successfully complete additional course work and/or other requirements as stipulated by the Division Graduate Officer.

4. Qualified Admission: Applicants whose undergraduate grade point average is between 2.25 and 2.6, and who otherwise meet the criteria for regular admission, will be admitted on this basis but will be required to successfully complete additional course work and/or other requirements as stipulated by the Division Graduate Officer.

5. Non-Degree Admission (Pre- or Post-Master's): Applicants must have an undergraduate grade point average of 2.25 or above, and an undergraduate degree in any field. Non-degree applicants must include a personal statement with their initial graduate application, specifying their intent to apply to a Kinesiology, Health, and Sport Studies degree program prior to the earning of nine credit hours. Only one semester of full-time graduate study, part-time registrations not to exceed nine credits, are normally permitted in this classification. Based on the approval of the College of Education Graduate Officer, no more than nine credits taken in graduate non-degree admission status may later be applied to graduate degree program requirements. (See 'Graduate Non-Degree Admission,' page 17.)

6. Post-Bachelor Admission: Applicants must have an undergraduate grade point average of 2.25 or above, and an undergraduate degree in any field. Post-Bachelor status allows students to elect courses through the 6000 level, for undergraduate credit only. (See 'Post-Bachelor Admission,' page 18.)

7. Special Admission (Non-Degree or Post-Bachelor): Upon recommendation of an adviser and the Division Graduate Officer, an applicant whose undergraduate grade point average is below 2.25 may be admitted on Non-Degree or Post-Bachelor status (see items 4 and 5, above), if the applicant demonstrates substantial evidence of meritorious academic achievement subsequent to the conferral of his/her undergraduate degree.

Senior Rule Admission: In their last undergraduate semester, Wayne State students with a 3.0 (or above) upper division grade point average have the option of taking a limited number of graduate credits. Graduate credit is awarded only for those courses taken in excess of baccalaureate degree requirements. Undergraduate and graduate courses combined may not exceed sixteen credits for the final semester of baccalaureate degree work. A Senior Rule student must register for at least one credit which is required for the undergraduate degree in order to be eligible for this status. Students who have completed all required registrations for the baccalaureate may not obtain Senior Rule status. Completion of the Application for Graduate Admission form is required, and students are advised to consult their advisers and the Office of University Admissions. Application deadlines for Senior Rule admission are the same as for regular graduate admission. Students who qualify and are recommended by the department or college will be admitted for one semester. Graduate admission will be regularized upon evidence that the student has completed all requirements for the bachelor's degree; it is the student's responsibility to provide this transcript.

As a courtesy, the University permits a student to pay undergraduate fees for the graduate courses elected in a Senior Rule status. It is recommended that students elect only courses numbered 5000-6999 in their Senior Rule semester.

CERTIFICATE IN INFANT MENTAL HEALTH

The Merrill-Palmer Institute (see page 47) offers an interdisciplinary graduate certificate in infant mental health. The certificate may be obtained concurrently with a graduate degree in one of the following areas: education, nursing, psychology, or social work; or it may be obtained independently by students already having a master's or doctoral degree in one of these areas. See page 47 for details on admission to this program.

MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING

The Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.) degree is designed for students who have completed a bachelor's degree in a non-education program with appropriate teaching majors and minors, and who desire both a master's degree and Michigan Provisional Teaching Certification at either the elementary or secondary level. Teaching certification can be earned prior to completion of the master's degree requirements. Each of the M.A.T. programs consists of graduate level courses (several involving work with children in a school setting) and a student teaching experience for a minimum of one University semester.

Information regarding teaching certificate requirements can be found on page 105 of this bulletin.

Admission to the Master of Arts in Teaching is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Students without appropriate teaching majors and minors and other general education requirements will be required to complete the necessary course work as post-degree students before entering the M.A.T. program.

Applicants to M.A.T. programs must be admissible to the Graduate School and the College of Education Division of Teacher Education. In order to be eligible for admission, all M.A.T. applicants must pass the State Basic Skills Test and must present verification of participation in group work with children.

Persons interested in the elementary or secondary education M.A.T. should consult with an admissions counselor, Room 469 or 489 Education Building, about acceptable teaching majors and minors before filing an application.

General M.A.T. Degree Requirements

Credit requirements for the various M.A.T. programs range from a minimum of forty to a maximum of fifty-two credits, depending on the applicant's background in his/her teaching field at the undergraduate level and specialized requirements. This degree is offered under the following options:

Plan B: Forty to fifty-two credits including a three-credit essay.

Plan C: Forty to fifty-two credits including a three-credit project.

All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College of Education and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 85, respectively. Requirements for the Master of Arts in Teaching degree must be completed within six years after completion of the first course to be applied to the degree.

Course work for the degree must be distributed among four areas: the major, the general professional sequence (core courses), elective courses, and a professional field experience.

General Professional Requirements: All M.A.T. students are required to complete the following general professional sequence:

A specific methods course is required for each of the above-mentioned fields and must be selected in consultation with an adviser.

Among the general professional core courses (see page 86) for secondary education, EDP 5480 should be substituted for EDP 6210.

The student teaching assignment (TED 5780) for this program requires a full-time assignment to a public school for a minimum of one public school semester.

Applicants should consult with the appropriate adviser prior to filing an admissions application in order to determine the appropriateness of various major and minor areas of study to the student's interest.

K-12 Education Concentration

SPECIAL EDUCATION: in addition to the Elementary Education requirements stated above, students seeking elementary certification with a special education major must complete a special education program. Additional courses in special education (29-35 credits) are selected in consultation with an adviser.

TEACHING CERTIFICATES

Present-day education is characterized by specialization at the secondary and elementary levels, related to both subject-matter fields and the age of school children. The Michigan Certification Code provides for specialization in either the elementary, middle, or secondary school areas by authorizing state certification for teaching on those levels. Thus, a person who has kindergarten through grade eight endorsement is not legally qualified to teach in the secondary schools above grade eight, and a person with grades seven through twelve endorsement is not legally qualified to teach below grade seven. An exception is made in certain fields such as art, physical education, dance and music education, where the holder of a provisional certificate is qualified to teach his/her major subject in all grades, and, if indicated by his/her certificate, other subjects in other grades.

The certification code recognizes subject-matter specialization by requiring that the candidate for a teacher's certificate present concentrations of credits called majors and minors. The secondary school teacher must have a major and minor teaching field, and the elementary school teacher must have either a major and a minor or three minor teaching fields. All majors and minors must be in subject-matter fields appropriate to teaching at the level for which certification is to be recommended. Individuals must pass state examinations in their major and minor fields before they begin student teaching.

Certification Requirements

Michigan State Teacher's Certificates are granted by the Michigan State Board of Education upon the recommendation of the College of Education. Initial certificates are provisional for a six-year period and may become a five year professional certificate after three years of successful teaching experience and the completion of additional college course work. Both the teaching experience and the additional credits must be completed after the issue date of the provisional certificate. Five year professional certificates must be renewed every five years by successful completion of six semester credits or eighteen continuing education units. Certificates will indicate in what grades and subjects the holder is eligible to teach. In certain specified nonacademic fields, however, the holder of a provisional certificate is eligible to teach his/her major subject in all grades from the kindergarten through the twelfth. The qualifications which the College requires for recommendation for the certificate are summarized below.

State Basic Skills Test: All students seeking admission to a M.A.T. or post-bachelor teacher certification program are required to pass the State Basic Skills Test prior to admission to the College of Education.

Provisional Certificates

Teaching certificates as listed below are granted upon the completion of the professional education sequence of the M.A.T. program.

Elementary Provisional Certificate—for Kindergarten through Grade Five, and Grades Six through Eight in subjects corresponding to majors and minors

Secondary Provisional Certificate—for Grades Seven through Twelve

1. The candidate must have graduated with a bachelor's degree from an approved or accredited institution.
2. The academic background must include one major (this may be a group major) and one minor (or three minors, for elementary candidates). A single subject major is defined as a minimum of thirty credits and a group major as a minimum of thirty-six credits. A single subject minor is a minimum of twenty credits, and a group minor is a minimum of twenty-four credits. Majors and minors must correspond to disciplines listed on the State of Michigan Approved List of Majors and Minors.
3. Completion of the professional education sequence is required.
4. NOTE: Teaching candidates who are certified after July 1, 2004 are now required by the Michigan State Department of Education to obtain First Aid and CPR Certification before they can teach in the State of Michigan.

Certificate Endorsement

Holders of one level of certificate who wish to add another level (i.e., elementary to secondary or vice versa) must consult a counselor in the Division of Academic Services, 469 or 489 Education Building.

Five-Year Professional Certificate

This certification is available to holders of provisional certificates who have taught successfully for three years after the issue date of their provisional certificate and have completed eighteen credits in a planned course of study after the issue date of their provisional certificate or have a master's degree. The following requirements apply to specific teaching classifications as indicated:

Teachers of K-12 subjects: art, dance, music, and kinesiology, may present experience at any grade level from kindergarten through grade 12. (In cases where the experience requirement has not been met, it is possible to secure a three-year renewal of a provisional certificate if the holder has completed ten credits of college work since the date of issue.)

Vocational Education: Five year professional certification with vocational endorsement requires a planned program. Students should consult the appropriate area adviser regarding certification for an approved program leading to a five year professional certification with a vocational education endorsement.

Elementary Education: All candidates for an elementary five year professional certificate must have completed in their undergraduate or post-graduate preparation six credits in reading instruction, three of which must be reading in the content areas. Consult a counselor in Room 469 or 489, Education Building, for requirements.

Secondary Education: All candidates for a secondary five year professional certificate must have completed in their undergraduate or post-graduate preparation a three-credit course in reading in the content areas.

Bilingual/Bicultural Endorsement

The Bilingual Endorsement certifies a teacher who is qualified to teach classes of bilingual children. Students qualifying for an initial provisional certificate complete a twenty-four credit minor for the endorsement. Students holding existing certificates may add a bilingual endorsement by completing an eighteen credit planned program. Information and referral to the appropriate adviser for this endorsement may be obtained in Room 213 Education Building.

English as a Second Language Endorsement

The English as a Second Language (ESL) Endorsement certifies a teacher who is qualified to teach learners with limited English proficiency. Students holding existing certificates may add an ESL endorsement by completing an eighteen-credit planned program. Information and referral to the appropriate adviser may be obtained in Room 489, Education Building

Early Childhood Endorsement

The Early Childhood Endorsement is designed to ensure that teachers working with children from birth to the age of eight years and their families have had suitable preparation in the area. Teachers holding an elementary certificate must pass the State examination in early childhood education before receiving this endorsement. The endorsement program consists of twenty credits beyond requirements for the Provisional Certificate and experience in teaching two of the following three age levels: 1) infant - toddlers, 2) preschool, 3) kindergarten - third grade. The courses may be part of a master's, educational specialist, or doctor of education program. Interested students should consult an early childhood adviser.

K-12 Reading Endorsement

The K-12 Reading Specialist Endorsement is designed to prepare teachers to provide specialized instruction in reading within classrooms or in special programs at all grade levels in elementary, middle, and secondary schools and to supervise school or district level reading programs. Teachers holding an elementary or secondary certificate must complete a twenty-four credit program and then pass the State examination in reading in order to receive this endorsement. The courses may be part of a master's, educational specialist, or doctor of education program. Interested students should consult a reading program adviser.

Middle Level Endorsement

The Middle Level Endorsement is a twenty-credit planned program which adds an area of expertise for teachers who already hold a Michigan elementary or secondary teaching certificate. The endorsement extends Michigan teacher subject area certification to include grades five through nine. Information on this endorsement and referral to an adviser may be obtained in Room 469 Education Building.

Student Teaching

Application: Each student must make application for student teaching in person during the appropriate application period. The date a completed application form is submitted to the Student Teaching Office will determine the semester during which student teaching will take place. Student teaching application periods are as follows:

Fall semester: the preceding October and November

Winter semester: the preceding April and May

Procedures for Student Teaching Application:

1. Confer with adviser to determine eligibility for student teaching.
2. Complete application forms provided by the Student Teaching Office, 223 Education Building, during application period.

Prerequisites for Student Teaching Placement:

1. Full admission to the College of Education must be accomplished before application for student teaching can be accepted.

6. Passing scores on state examinations in basic skills and in the major and minor teaching areas.

Post-Bachelor's Teaching Certificate

This program is designed to offer teacher certification to holders of baccalaureate degrees with suitable teaching majors and minors, who do not choose to pursue the master's degree. The program incorporates classroom theory with practice, takes a minimum of four semesters to complete and is available at both the elementary and secondary levels.

Admission to this program requires an undergraduate g.p.a. of 2.5, successful completion of the State Basic Skills Test, and a bachelor's degree with an appropriate teaching major and minor earned at a regionally accredited institution.

Elementary Education: Admission to the elementary education curriculum is predicated upon review of the applicant's transcript to ensure that course requirements in world geography, United States history, world history, American government, biology, physical science and mathematics have been satisfied. Depending upon this review, some additional course work may be required before beginning the professional sequence outlined below.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS: The elementary education certificate requires completion of forty-nine credits and the secondary education certificate requires completion of forty credits as specified in the following programs. These are professional education courses and are applicable to the certificate ONLY when taken after formal admission to the College of Education.

The grouping of courses cited below may (or may not) reflect individual semesters' work depending on the student's full- or part-time status. Field courses are taught in the public schools where student teaching assignments are made.

MASTER OF EDUCATION (Majors)

Generic admission and degree requirements for the Master of Education degrees offered by this department are presented on page 85. The following sections, under major degree headings, enumerate the specific amendments/variations to generic requirements, as well as program options.

— Art Education

The Master of Education degree with a major in Art Education assists graduates in becoming more effective art teachers and leaders in the field of art education. Emphasis is placed on each student designing a curriculum of graduate studies to fit his or her professional needs.

Admission Requirements: see page 85. For admission to the program the applicant must have: a baccalaureate degree from a college or university of recognized standing; a major in art; a teaching certificate; and adequate preparation and ability to pursue graduate study. Entering students should make an appointment with an Art Education graduate adviser for assistance: Room 163, Art Building.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: see page 85. This program requires thirty credits in course work: eight credits in art education research (TED 7000, ED 7999, and AED 7400); six credits in professional education courses; and sixteen credits in electives. Eighteen of the thirty credits required must be in the art education major. The intent is that the thirty credits will comprise a unified, meaningful curriculum extending each student's ability as an artist, a scholar, and a teacher.

—Art Therapy Concentration

Art therapy is a specialization available in the Master of Education in Art Education degree program. In addition to the admission requirements stated above, students must submit letters of recommendation, an autobiographical statement, and a slide portfolio. A personal interview is also required. (A teaching certificate is NOT required for this program.)

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: see page 85. This program is offered as a master's Plan B or Plan C, as defined on page 85. A minimum of forty-one credits is required for this concentration: twenty-four credits in art education and art therapy; six credits in the general professional sequence; and five research credits. The remaining six credits are approved electives in an area of art therapy specialization. A related essay or project of substantial quality concludes the program. Interested candidates should contact the Art Education office for additional information: Room 163, Community Arts Building; telephone:313-577-0490.

— Bilingual/Bicultural Education

The bilingual-bicultural master's degree program was developed to enhance the basic skills of bilingual teachers and prepare them for roles as school district bilingual supervisors, district administrators, and resource Room teachers. The program is based on the development of specific competencies in the following areas.

1. Curriculum and Instruction —which involves teaching strategies and methodologies relevant to the teaching of content curriculum areas in a bilingual education setting, as well as the role of culture in the cognitive development of children;
2. Assessment —which includes skills in identifying linguistic and cultural biases in existing assessment instruments and test item construction;
3. School-Community Relations —which includes the identification of those elements in the community which will function in concert with the school to promote learning in children; and
4. Professional Socialization — which establishes those skills necessary to develop leadership in bilingual education.

English as a Second/Foreign Language: Students in the Bilingual/Bicultural Education program may also choose to become either teachers of English as a second language (ESL) or teachers of English as a foreign language (EFL). Persons who wish to devote themselves to ESL/EFL teaching come from a variety of backgrounds. Thus, a number of curricula have been devised to complete the degree, accommodating those who are certified teachers in need of an ESL endorsement, and those who wish only ESL/EFL training.

Requirements for this concentration are similar to the generic Bilingual/Bicultural Education major (see above), except that Plan A is not offered.

Admission Requirements: see page 85. Students entering this program must be proficient in both English and the cognate language of their individual program.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: see page 85. The Master of Education in this area is offered under Plans B or C, as defined on page 85. A minimum of thirty-three credits is required including TED 7000 and ED 7999. All other course requirements are selected in consultation with an adviser and are based on the specific background and needs of the student.

— Career and Technical Education

This program is designed for students with a secondary teaching certificate in a career and technical education specialty; it provides for the 'planned program' element which is one of the requirements for the five-year professional certification. Another element of the concentration enables the graduate to meet career and technical education endorsement requirements. Upon completing the Master of Education and the required three years of appropriate teaching experience, the graduate will receive a M.Ed. degree and will be eligible for both the five-year provisional secondary certification, and full career and technical education endorsement.

Admission Requirements: see page 85.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: see page 85. The program consists of a minimum of thirty credits. Required courses include: CTE 6010, 6999, 7820, 8998; TED 7000; EER 7610; and ED 7999; additional courses are selected in consultation with an adviser. Deficiencies in relevant work experience must be completed in addition to the required thirty credits.

Advising: Information regarding career and technical education programs may be obtained from the Teacher Education area on the second floor of the College of Education Building.

— Elementary Education

This program is designed for teachers who wish to strengthen their present competencies and acquire new ideas and skills in curriculum and instruction in current elementary school programs. The majority of students in this program are seeking Michigan Five-Year Professional Certificates; many are earning specialized endorsements. The program also allows teachers certified in other areas to earn elementary endorsements.

A large number of courses are available to develop a professional specialization in elementary curriculum and instruction. Students may elect to have a general specialization allowing them to choose from many subject areas or to emphasize the areas of children's literature, early childhood education, reading and language arts, mathematics, science, or social studies.

Admission Requirements: see page 85.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: see page 85. The Master of Education in this area is offered under Plan A, B, or C, as defined on page 85.

— English Education (Secondary)

This program is designed to increase the skills and knowledge of teachers already holding certificates. Additionally, some students find this program useful as a preparation for positions as department heads or resource personnel.

Admission Requirements: see page 85. Admission to this program requires a teaching certificate and at least twenty-one credits in English.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: see page 85. The Master of Education is offered in this area under Plans A, B, or C, as defined on page 85. This program requires a minimum of thirty credits distributed as follows: seventeen credits in major course work including the final essay or project; six credits in general professional courses selected from such fields as educational psychology, educational philosophy, educational sociology, educational evaluation and research, and guidance and counseling; and six to nine credits in cognate courses selected to enrich the teaching major or minor. Additionally, students with less than a cumulative total of thirty credits in English (including the twenty-one credits required for admission) must make up the deficit within the cognate area.

English as a Second/Foreign Language: Students in the English Education program may also choose to become either teachers of English as a second language (ESL) or teachers of English as a foreign language (EFL). Persons who wish to devote themselves to ESL/EFL teaching come from a variety of backgrounds. Thus, a number of curricula have been devised to complete the degree, accommodating those who are certified teachers in need of an ESL endorsement, and those who wish only ESL/EFL training.

Requirements for this concentration are similar to the generic English Education major (see above), except that Plan A is not offered.

— Foreign Language Education

The goal of this program is to enhance the skills of the foreign language teacher through advanced linguistic training, advanced training in language teaching methodology, additional training in collecting cultural data for the cognate language, and additional study in the cognate language. Attention is also given to the uses of technology as an aid to language teaching.

English as a Second/Foreign Language: Students in the Foreign Language Education program may also choose to become either teachers of English as a second language (ESL) or teachers of English as a foreign language (EFL). Persons who wish to devote themselves to ESL/EFL teaching come from a variety of backgrounds. Thus, a number of curricula have been devised to complete the degree, accommodating those who are certified teachers in need of an ESL endorsement, and those who wish only ESL/EFL training.

Requirements for this concentration are similar to the generic Foreign Language Education major (see above), except that Plan A is not offered.

Admission Requirements: see page 85.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: see page 85. This degree is offered under Plans B or C (as defined on page 85), and requires a minimum of thirty credits.

This program is designed for secondary school mathematics teachers who wish to enhance their knowledge and skills for teaching mathematics. Applicants must have at least an undergraduate minor in mathematics appropriate for secondary school teaching. Students entering with a minor in mathematics must complete sufficient additional mathematics courses to obtain a major during the course of the program and also include at least six additional credits in mathematics. Applicants with secondary certificates also complete the following required courses: TED 7000 and ED 7999; twelve to fifteen credits in the major field, selected in consultation with an adviser; six credits in general professional courses (see page 86); and six to nine credits in mathematics or related courses.

— Early Childhood Education

This program enables students to qualify for a teaching endorsement in early childhood (ZA) education while pursuing the degree. The program is designed for persons interested in working with young children and their families. The focus of the curriculum is on the growth and development of the young child including the influence of family and society dynamics. Students also study the education of the young child including the theories, development, and evaluation of learning and teaching in early childhood education settings; as well as assessment and teaching strategies, materials and equipment for physical, social, language/communication, emotional, and intellectual development. Support systems for children and their families are investigated and experiences in a preprimary and primary grade setting are required. Students without student teaching or on-the-job teaching at the preschool level are assigned to the Wayne State University Early Childhood Center for a field placement as part of the program.

Admission Requirements: see page 85.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: see page 85. This degree is offered under Plans A, B, or C (as defined on page 85), and requires a minimum of thirty credits. This might include elementary and secondary teachers and those who work in college developmental, family literacy, adult basic education, GED, high school equivalency, or workplace literacy programs. This program involves a curriculum that qualifies certified teachers for the K-12 reading specialist endorsement in reading by the State of Michigan. Graduates of this program are primarily prepared for the roles of classroom teacher of reading and reading specialist.

Admission Requirements: see page 85.

A forum is provided wherein teachers interact with each other in order to clarify and strengthen the bonds between theory and practice. The program emphasizes the implications of research for science curriculum design and classroom teaching. It includes among its goals an understanding of various teaching strategies and materials that promote inquiry, the impact of science and technology on people and their institutions, and the acquisition of insights into recent advances in science and technology. Students may be admitted to this program if they have had twelve credits in science and if they have accumulated twenty-four credits by the time they graduate.

Graduates acquire a strong theoretical/subject matter foundation which is applied to the secondary school setting. Students will gain an understanding of the issues of social studies education, the nature of objectives, learning activities, curricular organization, and educational evaluation at the secondary level. Analytical skills will be developed through evaluation of the content and structure of social studies texts, materials, and resources.

COUNSELING PROGRAMS

The counselor education unit offers graduate counseling programs for those professionals committed to being effective counselors in elementary and secondary schools, colleges, universities, and private and public agencies. The unit offers degree programs appropriate for counseling work in K-12 school settings, community agencies, substance abuse treatment centers, sports and exercise facilities, corporate structures, medical and forensic institutions, nursing homes, rehabilitation agencies/centers and independent practices

All applicants will be evaluated with respect to their potential for being effective counseling professionals. Admission decisions are based on a review of the application and a personal interview with the appropriate admission committee. Acceptance is dependent upon the applicant's professional potential, academic and professional background, and professional career goals.

The counselor education unit offers Master of Arts and Master of Education degree programs with a major in Counseling and specializations in agency, art therapy, school (K-12), sports and exercise, and substance abuse counseling. A Rehabilitation Counseling and Community Inclusion major in the Master of Arts includes training in disability management, disability leadership, career, development job placement, supported employment, adjustment counseling and vocational evaluation.

The specialization courses focus on specific application of knowledge and skills acquired in the core curriculum as they relate to the respective discipline. They are reinforced in the student's practicum and internship clinical experiences and in the student's terminal masters seminar or project. Elective courses further expand students' knowledge and skills relative to their specialized program. Selection of appropriate electives is accomplished in consultation with an adviser.

The Education Specialist Certificate program is intended for guidance professionals who want to improve their competence in counseling. Since this is a professional certificate program, persons considering applying should confirm that they have the prerequisite education and experience prior to making formal application. This certificate is not an entry level program, but builds on master's level preparation in counseling.

The Doctor of Philosophy is generally required for those intending to teach, conduct research, or provide counseling services in universities and colleges. In addition, those desiring counseling positions in governmental or community agencies, and the like, may require advanced training in counseling theory and practice, consultation, scholarly research, and supervision of counselors.

The Doctor of Education program consists of advanced courses designed for those persons who wish to become directors of guidance or pupil personnel programs and coordinators or consultants in guidance and counseling programs in K-12 and intermediate school districts. The Ed.D. provides opportunities to improve skills and competencies as school counselors in counseling, program development, career development, consultation research, and supervision of counselors.

Time Limitation: Requirements for the Master of Arts or Master of Education degree must be completed within six years after completion of the first course applicable toward the degree. All degree requirements for the doctoral program must be completed within seven years from the time of official admission.

Writing Style: The counselor education unit has adopted the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association as the style guide for preparation of all papers submitted in fulfillment of program requirements.

Class and Internship Scheduling: All counseling program courses are offered only in the evening hours (4:00 p.m. to 10:15 p.m.), permitting working students the opportunity to pursue their educational endeavors. Additionally, the counseling program will arrange with community settings (i.e., agencies, schools, institutions) whereby working students may complete the clinical portions of their programs as well as fulfill employment obligations elsewhere.

Licensure: Individuals in the counseling profession who practice in Michigan must seek professional licensure. Satisfactory completion of degree requirements in the counselor education master's and doctoral programs allows the student to apply for the Limited Licensed Professional Counselor (LLPC) credential in the State of Michigan. The Educational Specialist Certificate program does not meet Michigan eligibility requirements for the professional counselor licensure. Information on licensure may be obtained from the Michigan Department of Commerce, Board of Counseling, P.O. Box 30018, Lansing, Michigan 48909; telephone: 517-335-0918.

Effective with the passing of PA 288 (July 10, 2000) an amendment in Act 451 of the Public Acts of 1976 (the Revised School Code), individuals who complete the school counseling specialization (with or without a teaching certificate) may be employed as school counselors and recommended for the new School Counselor License (SCL). All applicants for the School Counselor License (SCL) must have received a passing score on the State of Michigan, Department of Education's Michigan Test for Teacher Certification (MTTC) Guidance Counselor Examination.

Counseling Accreditation: The Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), a specialized accrediting body recognized by the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation (COPA), has conferred accreditation to the following programs in the counselor education program: M.A. and M.Ed. with various specializations and the Ed.D. and Ph.D. programs in counselor education and supervision. In addition, the Rehabilitation and Community Inclusion major is accredited by the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE).

Master of Arts and Master of Education Programs with a Major in Counseling

Admission to the specialization in Art Therapy also requires submission of a portfolio of original art work, to be evaluated by art therapy faculty, that demonstrates competence with art materials

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The various specializations in counseling require a set of core courses and individual requirements depending on the goals of the student. All specializations require a foundation program of 52 credits under Plans A or C. Additional credits may be required for students completing more than one specialization area. Outlines of recommended minimum programs in the specialization area may be secured from the unit secretary. Cognate course work within and /or outside the College of Education supportive of a major in Counselor Education is required of all candidates.

Education Specialist Certificate with a Major in Counseling

In addition to either a grade point average of 3.5 or above in the master's degree, or a grade point average of 3.35 or above in a master's degree and a grade point average of 3.75 in the Counseling Educational Specialist Certificate program, admission criteria include consideration of academic aptitude for doctoral work, previous professional experience, demonstrated counseling skills, knowledge of counseling concepts, and potential for professional leadership.

A department written examination is required. Doctoral program applicants are also required to take the Graduate Record Examination and have the results forwarded to the program area. In addition, a demonstration of counseling skills is required using the Counseling and Testing Center. A single 45-minute session is audio- and/or video-taped and reviewed by the advanced admission committee.

Applicants must make up any deficits or remedial work as listed on their approved application for admission form before beginning advanced doctoral course work. Specifically, those persons who have master's degrees from closely-related fields (psychology, social work, nursing) must complete all academic and clinical prerequisites required before beginning advanced doctoral course work.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The doctoral program is individually developed with a major adviser. Within the guidelines of the Graduate School and the college, students build a specialized curriculum. All students complete:

1. Two doctoral seminars from foundation areas
2. a concentration in counselor education
3. at least two doctoral level supervised internships
4. course work aimed at developing competence in statistics and research methodologies
5. Course work selected by the student, major adviser and cognate adviser which supports an additional area of professional expertise.
6. electives chosen from the major field or the cognate area

Additional requirements for the doctoral degrees are explained in greater detail in program materials available from the program area.

EVALUATION and RESEARCH PROGRAMS

Evaluation and Research offers concentrated programs for building careers and leadership positions in educational evaluation and statistics; computer applications; and research methodology.

Students who have already successfully achieved backgrounds, training, and experience in substantive disciplines of education and in non-education fields and who are interested in becoming more proficient in scientific inquiry, research strategies, evaluation and appraisal of studies, models and designs, and multivariate analysis, especially in conjunction with computer facilities, are afforded such opportunities in these programs. For optimum effective preparation, internships in research will be arranged upon request. The staff is available to students and faculty for consultation in research design and multivariate analysis.

Cooperative educational programs leading to training skills in Educational Evaluation and Research in Medical Education are also available. This specialized training is available in cooperation with selected faculty from the School of Medicine. Persons from the health sciences seeking educational research skills and persons from education backgrounds seeking health science education skills are brought together for their mutual growth

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY PROGRAMS

The master's degree programs in educational psychology are primarily concerned with the preparation of individuals working in educational settings such as schools, behavioral/mental health care settings, business and other fields, who wish to develop skills and knowledge in the educational application of psychology.

The Master of Arts program provides two areas of specialization: a two-year program in school and community psychology, and a two-to-three-year program in marriage and family psychology. Satisfactory completion of the school and community psychology program allows the student to be certified as a school psychologist by the State of Michigan. It also allows the student to apply for a Limited License as a Psychologist (L.L.P.) in the State of Michigan. Satisfactory completion of the marriage and family psychology program also allows the student to qualify for the Limited License as a Psychologist in the State of Michigan and State and, with additional coursework, State certification as a marriage and family counselor.

Both of these programs serve as a base for further study at the Ph.D. level, which can lead to licensure by the State of Michigan as a Licensed Psychologist after completion of the Ph.D. program.

The program in school and community psychology is designed to develop the competencies necessary for approval as either a school or community psychologist at the master's or doctoral level. Students applying at the doctoral level must file program area applications concurrently for both programs.

The prospective student should recognize that the educational psychology program involves, in addition to course requirements, clinical experience in school and agency settings dealing primarily with children. Retention in the program and recommendation for approval depend upon demonstrated clinical skill as well as on the student's academic achievement. The staff will try to arrange for a one-year psychological internship in either a school system or a community mental health facility.

In addition to completing all procedures for admission to the Graduate School, each applicant must complete a form obtained from the Division, complete a testing program, and be interviewed by an admissions committee.

Foreword

Graduate education is important to the engineer interested in keeping pace with rapid growth in science and technology and in preparing for changes in job responsibilities. In the midst of greater Detroit's large community of professional engineers, Wayne State University's College of Engineering has an important mission to provide opportunities for study in contemporary areas and the latest developments in technology.

The College of Engineering is a leading research institution in Michigan and the nation. This is reflected in its instructional programs, which are supported both by its own research and by that of other institutions, and in the suitability of its industrial/educational environment for advanced study. Engineering graduate students are drawn both from the upper ranks of graduating seniors in various disciplines and from established engineers interested in pursuing advanced degrees. Criteria for admission are restrictive, and a high standard of performance is expected of successful candidates. In short, the challenges are great, but the potential rewards are equally promising.

Graduate Degree Programs

The College of Engineering offers the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in biomedical, chemical, civil, computer, electrical, industrial, mechanical, and materials science and engineering. In addition, a Master of Science may be earned in electronics and computer control systems, engineering management, engineering technology, hazardous waste management, and manufacturing engineering. These programs are described generally below and specifically in the subsequent, departmental sections.

The College provides support for the various instructional and research laboratories in the construction, modification, repair, calibration and installation of experimental equipment. In addition, the College offers sophisticated assistance in the design of electronic and instrumentation equipment and devices. Qualified students use these facilities under the supervision of trained professionals.

Excellent research programs are available in this college; graduate students can write a thesis or dissertation based on their participation in these programs to fulfill part of their degree requirements.

Many graduate students pursue their studies in the College while working full- or part-time in local industry, where they have available to them unique facilities not found within the University. Students in such situations are encouraged to pursue their graduate research at their places of employment, under the joint supervision of the faculty adviser and a company representative. Such research may be applicable as credit earned for directed study courses, master's theses, or doctoral dissertations. However, after completion of a Bachelor of Science degree and one or more years of on-the-job experience, additional training at the graduate level is often desirable, without participation in a research program, and the College provides an optional master's degree program without a thesis research requirement.

Graduate Certificate Programs: The Department of Chemical Engineering and Materials Science offers graduate certificate programs. For information and requirements, see page 140.

Research Centers, Programs, and Laboratories

Opportunities exist at both the graduate and advanced undergraduate levels for students to participate in the programs of the research centers.

BIOENGINEERING CENTER

The Bioengineering Center is an interdisciplinary group engaged in biomedical research, utilizing the principles of mechanical, chemical, electrical, and computer engineering. Faculty from the College of Engineering collaborate with colleagues from the Wayne State Medical School in joint efforts to solve both basic and clinical problems. The principal area of research in the Center is automotive safety, but many other lines of investigation are also pursued. Major areas of research include trauma biomechanics, mechanical basis for low back pain, human locomotion studies, and orthopedic biomechanics. Other activities include the development of advanced anthropometric test dummies and impact studies using horizontal accelerator test sleds.

CENTER FOR AUTOMOTIVE RESEARCH

The Center for Automotive Research coordinates a variety of programs in different automotive areas, such as combustion engines, dynamics, acoustics, vibrations, and electronic controls. The engine research deals with the basic processes of thermodynamics, heat transfer, mass transfer and chemical kinetics which affect the performance, fuel economy, startability and emissions of different types of engines. A fully-instrumented cold room is used for some of these studies. Research is also conducted on diesel engine combustion and alternate fuels. The research consists of extensive theoretical analysis, supported by experimental investigations. The Center combines expertise from the Departments of Mechanical, Chemical, and Electrical and Computer Engineering.

College Facilities

College of Engineering facilities include four separate buildings with over 250,000 square feet of classroom, office and laboratory space. Among these facilities are multimedia classrooms, a comprehensive computer center, electronics and machine shops, dedicated teaching laboratories, and sophisticated research laboratories. The four multimedia classrooms support innovative course delivery techniques, including interactive distance learning with classrooms at a variety of sites within WSU, at other colleges and universities, and at industrial locations. The computer facilities include dedicated computer graphics, design, and personal computing hardware and software.

Stimulating productive research and teaching methods are the goals of the Engineering Computer Center. These goals are met by providing and supporting the latest technologies in computer hardware, software, and networking. All curricula are designed to take advantage of these advancements and students feel the impact of these tools in their coursework. The latest in simulation, analysis, and design software are provided for students to use and master.

The College of Engineering occupies a three-story office building directly attached to a laboratory wing. This has created a stimulating and productive research and teaching facility for the College. Besides general undergraduate laboratories, the College also possesses numerous laboratories associated with departmental engineering specializations, such as biomedical engineering, biochemical engineering, chemical measurements, chemical processing, hydraulics, kinetics and catalysis, polymer science, materials characterization and materials processing, fatigue and fracture research, electron microscopy, optical metallography, roadway and building materials, soil mechanics, sanitary engineering, structural modeling, supercritical transport, communications, computers, networks, opto-electronics, semiconductor fabrication (including a class-1000 clean room), electronics packaging, computer vision, automotive research, human factors, computer-aided manufacturing, robotics, machine tools, internal combustion, and stress analysis. These laboratories are used for instructional and research purposes.

The Division of Engineering Technology is housed in a separate building of approximately 24,000 square feet, located at 4855 Fourth Street. This recently remodeled facility houses labs and classrooms, including its own teaching machine shop.

Research Facilities

The College oversees a wide range of undergraduate, graduate, and faculty research laboratories and excellent support facilities, housed in its four-building complex. The Bioengineering Center operates in close collaboration with Wayne's Medical School, employing unique equipment, in particular its own massive horizontal accelerator, to conduct impact studies emphasizing biomechanics. The College's new Manufacturing Engineering Building (MEB) is home to the Department of Industrial and Manufacturing Engineering. The most striking feature of MEB is its multi-story High Bay Lab, Wayne's largest research space, capable of accommodating full-scale production machinery. The MEB includes eighteen other labs currently in use by faculty from several departments. The main Engineering Building, one of the largest structures on campus, houses specialized labs of many types. The Center for Automotive Research conducts interdisciplinary investigations of diesel and gasoline engines in a series of specialized test cells, including the engineering cold room — a fully-instrumented lab capable of reaching a temperature of minus-40 C. The College's anechoic chamber is a walk-in scale facility dedicated to advanced research on vibrations and noise, particularly in automobiles. Other labs house research on diesel and gasoline combustion, structures and earthquake systems (utilizing the two-story structures lab, capable of testing multi-ton building components), soil mechanics, pollution and remediation models, polymers and composite materials, environmental kinetics, electron microscopy, catalysis, surface science, biomedical sciences, high-performance computing, neural networks, communication and information systems, materials/fluids/metallurgy testing, solid-state electronics, robotics and computer-aided manufacturing, microprocessors, optical computing, and molecular beams and laser light scattering. Of particular note is the College's Smart Sensors Integrated Microsystems (SSIM) Laboratory, along with a Class 10 clean room, built with a $7.0 million equipment grant from Delphi Automotive and a $3.0 million investment by Wayne State University for infrastructure development. This investment provides the College of Engineering with one of the nation's leading microsystem research laboratories. The College's research equipment is maintained, modified, and, in many cases, constructed by its in-house electronics shop and machine shop.

Accreditation

All of the undergraduate curricula of the Division of Engineering leading to a Bachelor of Science degree are accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission (EAC) of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET). Electrical/Electronic Engineering Technology and Mechanical Engineering Technology programs are accredited by the Technology Accreditation Commission of ABET. Curriculum accreditation is based upon careful periodic appraisal of the faculty, educational program, and facilities of the College. This approval provides assurance of an up-to-date, high quality education pertinent to the engineering profession. Such accreditation is recognized by other universities, prospective employers, and state professional licensing agencies.

Scholarships, Assistantships and Fellowships

A variety of financial resources are available to support full-time study, including graduate research and teaching assistantships and various fellowships. For general sources of graduate financial aid, see the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34. Requests for such support should be included with the Graduate School application.

Charles DeVlieg Foundation Award: Through annual support from the DeVlieg Foundation, graduate scholarship funds are available to supplement other sources of student support in situations where students have extraordinary financial requirements. Amounts range from $2000 to $4500 per year, and awards are made based on academic merit and financial need. Contact the Associate Dean for Student Affairs for more information and applications.

Frederick G. Weed Graduate Scholarship in Chemical Engineering: This award is made to a full-time graduate student selected by the Department Chairperson, based on scholastic achievement, leadership qualities, and financial need. Contact the chairperson of Chemical Engineering and Materials Science for additional information.

Scholarship

A graduate degree is evidence of scholarly achievement, academic excellence, critical and creative abilities, the capacity to apply and interpret what has been learned, and proper use of the work of others. Continuance in graduate status is contingent on satisfactory scholarship with grades of 'B' or better. Every effort is made to assist the student whose work suffers as a result of conditions beyond his/her control.

Graduate students are required to earn a g.p.a. of 3.0 ('B' average) or better in all graduate-level subjects taken at W.S.U. in order to satisfy degree requirements. Students whose cumulative g.p.a. falls below 3.0 are placed on probation, and the performance of these students is closely monitored by the departmental graduate committee. Students who fail to remediate this probationary status within eight credits after being placed on probation are subject to termination from the graduate program.

Any grade lower than 'B-minus' in a core course MUST be repeated. (The Industrial and Manufacturing Engineering Department requires students to repeat core courses in which they have received a grade of 'B-minus' or lower. The Biomedical Engineering Department will not count any course with a grade lower than a 'B-minus' towards degree requirements.) No more than two courses may be repeated in a graduate program (the Electrical and Computer Engineering and the Mechanical Engineering Departments permit the repetition of only one course), and a student must have the appropriate approvals BEFORE the repeat registration takes place. 'F' grades earned while in the College of Engineering may be the basis for termination. Consult each department for additional requirements.

All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see section beginning on page 26. University rules require an overall g.p.a. of 3.0 or higher for graduation, in all graduate work completed at Wayne State.

Withdrawal from Courses

General rules governing withdrawal from courses may be found on page 23. Special note should be taken of the fact that the College of Engineering policy on withdrawal from a course or courses is not to grant permission to withdraw after Friday of the fifth week of classes, nor add a course after the fourth week. Exceptions must have the approval of the instructor, followed by the approval of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Plan of Work

Students who have been admitted into a graduate program in the College of Engineering are required to meet with their graduate program adviser before registering for their first term, and then to enroll in those courses mutually decided upon. During the first semester of their graduate program, in consultation with their graduate adviser, all graduate students must develop a Plan of Work that determines their anticipated schedule for each term.

Students who fail to meet with their graduate adviser before registration or who do not have an approved Plan of Work may be administratively withdrawn from their classes if, in the opinion of the graduate program adviser, they are not taking classes appropriate to their program.

If a student has been admitted to one graduate program and decides not to pursue that program, the student MUST obtain admission to another graduate program, or he/she must withdraw from the University. To obtain admission into another program, the student must meet all the admission requirements for that program and must provide the required admission documents. Approval of the transfer of program by the original admitting program is required. International students on a student visa must also amend their I-20 at the University Office of International Students and Scholars to reflect the change in program.

Directed Study

Independent study may be authorized provided the area of interest is an integral part of the student's graduate program and is not covered by courses scheduled in completion of course requirements. Students who elect a directed study are required to submit a Directed Study Authorization Form, which includes a description of the proposed directed study, with the necessary signatures, prior to registration.

MASTER OF SCIENCE PROGRAMS

The Master of Science is offered in biomedical, chemical, civil, computer, electrical, electronics and computer control systems, engineering management, engineering technology, hazardous waste management, industrial, manufacturing, and mechanical engineering, and materials science and engineering, and (as an interdisciplinary curriculum) electronics and computer control systems.

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants to the engineering master's degree programs must also satisfy the following criteria.

In addition to the minimum requirement for admission of an overall grade point average of 2.8 from an institution accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET), a minimum grade point average of 2.8 in all junior and senior year (upper division) courses is required. Applicants from abroad will be judged on the basis of their record and on the reputation of the school from which they graduated. Individual departments and interdisciplinary programs may require a higher minimum upper division or cumulative g.p.a. Regular admission may also be granted to applicants with undergraduate degrees from regionally (non-ABET) accredited institutions in engineering, physics, chemistry, mathematics and computer science who meet the equivalent of the above minimum standards. Additional course work will generally be required of such applicants.

Degree Requirements

The minimum requirement for the master's degree is thirty-two credits under the following degree plans approved by the College:

— Major Credits

Credits earned in the student's major field are designated as major credits. Of the minimum of thirty-two credits required for the master's degree, at least one-half of the course work, exclusive of thesis credit, must be in the major field. At least six credits in the major must be in 7000- or 8000-level courses.

— Thesis Degree Plan

Students who elect the thesis degree plan (Plan A) are required to file a Thesis Outline Approval Form for approval by the adviser and the Engineering Graduate Officer before writing the thesis. Information about the thesis style, format and number of copies required can be found in the Graduate School section of this bulletin, page 29. Final recommendation of approval for the thesis requires an oral defense of the thesis material in the presence of a departmental faculty committee of at least three persons, including the adviser and one faculty member from outside the department.

1. Completion of Certificate Program in Hazardous Waste Control is mandatory before admission to the hazardous waste management M.S. program.

Transfer Credits

Every Wayne State student pursuing the M.S. degree must complete at least twenty-four credits in residence. As a privilege, a student may file a Petition for Transfer of Graduate Credit, provided that the credits were earned in residence at another accredited graduate school, are certified as graduate credit with grades of 'B' or better on an official transcript, and are certified by the adviser to be acceptable in the student's degree program. Courses transferred may NOT have been used as applicable credit toward any other degree. In order to transfer grades from another institution, that institution has to be listed on the student's W.S.U. Admissions Application, or specifically mentioned in correspondence to the College prior to matriculation. Special documentation is necessary to transfer credits earned outside North America. A student whose Petition to transfer credits is denied may still receive credit by examination (see page 26).

All transcripts supporting the transfer of credits must be for credits earned prior to the student's first semester at W.S.U. While enrolled in a degree program in the College of Engineering, graduate-level courses taken at another institution may not be applicable to the College of Engineering degree without approval prior to registration for any such courses. A Transfer of Credit request should not be submitted before the completion of eight credits in residence at Wayne State. All credits transferred must conform to the six-year time limitation for completion of requirements (see page 33).

Since twenty-four credits of any M. S. program must be earned at W.S.U., the number of transfer credits from a related, uncompleted graduate program at another institution are limited to eight credits for a thirty-two credit M.S. program and twelve credits for a thirty-six credit M.S. program.

Cross-Registration Opportunities

Students are encouraged to consider incorporating into their course of study up to two courses elected in any of three exchange arrangements: the Michigan Intercollegiate Graduate Studies Program (MIGS) (see page 18), the Wayne State — University of Windsor Exchange (see page 18), and Dual Enrollment at the University of Michigan (see page 26). The latter enrollment may be utilized at both the Ann Arbor and Dearborn campuses. Consult the graduate adviser and the Dean's Office for information and application forms applicable to these programs.

Master of Science in Electronics and Computer Control Systems

The Electronics and Computer Control Systems (ECCS) Master of Science degree is an interdisciplinary program which draws on the course offerings of the Departments of Electrical and Computer Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Computer Science. This program was established in 1983, in collaboration with the Ford Motor Company, to meet the needs of students interested in a course of study focusing on hardware, interface, microprogramming, and software needs for digital microprocessor and dynamic sensor signal-based control of analog and electromechanical systems. This program is available on-site to Ford Motor Company employees at the Danou Technical Center in Allen Park, Michigan. Non-Ford affiliated students may apply for admission to this program through the normal application process and take appropriate courses on campus.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Ford Motor Company employees should submit admission credentials through the Ford Motor Company University Programs Office, at the Fairlane

Training and Development Center; telephone: 313-323-1182. Applicants should have a Bachelor of Science degree in an engineering discipline; those with certain prerequisite deficiencies will be required to take supplemental background course work.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This program is offered under the following options:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits including an eight-credit thesis.

Plan B: Thirty-two credits including a four-credit project.

All options require a three-course interdisciplinary core consisting of CSC 6110 or ECE 6600, M E 6550, and ECE 5620. The additional twenty credits are elective chosen by the student through an approved Plan of Work. These courses must include at least two 7000-level (advanced graduate) courses. Knowledge of a high level programming language and computer architecture is required, for which the student may have to take CSC 5050 as part of their elective credit. It is recommended that at least one elective be chosen from each participating department (ME, ECE, and CSC).

Doctor of Philosophy

The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) degree is offered by the College of Engineering in the major areas of: biomedical engineering, chemical engineering, civil engineering, computer engineering, electrical engineering, industrial engineering, materials science and engineering, and mechanical engineering.

Admission to the doctoral programs of the College is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. For admission into a Ph.D. engineering program, the student's overall grade point average must be 3.2 or better, with a 3.5 in the last two years as an undergraduate student if being admitted directly from a bachelor's program. Students who do not satisfy these minimum standards will not be considered for admission to the program until they have completed a master's degree and have earned a grade point average in courses taken for graduate credit that is not less than 3.5. Individual departments may have higher admission requirements.

Generally, students applying for admission to the Ph.D. program should have first achieved an M.S. degree. Students completing their M.S. degree programs who wish to enter the Ph.D. program must have a minimum grade point average of 3.5 at the graduate level.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: A minimum of ninety credits beyond the bachelor's degree is required for the Ph.D. program, including thirty credits for the dissertation. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. For specific course requirements, students should consult the departmental sections of this bulletin, which follow.

There are no general foreign language requirements for the Ph.D. degree. Specific requirements can be made by the Ph.D. advisory committee and are designed to suit individual Ph.D. applicants.

If the student fails to meet the Ph.D. requirements, he/she may transfer appropriate credits toward the Master of Science degree program in the discipline in which credits were accrued.

Specific details pertaining to Ph.D. course work and other requirements are given in the Handbook for Doctoral Students and Advisers. This document, available from the Graduate School, should be carefully reviewed by all doctoral students.

Master of Science in Biomedical Engineering

Program specialization at the master's degree level may be undertaken in five areas, including transportation-related trauma, age-related injuries and rehabilitation engineering, smart sensors and engineering neurophysiology, biomedical imaging, and tissue engineering and biomaterials. These specializations are available to both part-time and full-time students, in either research or non-research degree programs

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants must have a baccalaureate degree or its equivalent, earned at an accredited college or university, as well as the preliminary preparation and ability to pursue graduate study in this discipline. Students who have a baccalaureate degree or an advanced degree in a non-engineering discipline (e.g., life science) will be considered for admission to the program on a case-by-case basis. Regular admission may be authorized if the applicant's undergraduate grade point average is 3.0 or above. All applicants are expected to submit a one-page statement of purpose along with their application, describing their interest in biomedical engineering. It is recommended that applicants also submit Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores; these scores are required for students applying for financial support.

An Application for Admission, with application fee and official transcripts from each college attended, is required before any student may register for graduate study. The applicant must take any entrance examinations specified by the Office of Admissions, the College, or the Program.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS; This Master of Science degree in Biomedical Engineering is offered under the following options:

Plan A: A minimum of thirty-two credits in course work including an eight credit thesis.

Plan C: A minimum of thirty-two credits in course work.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: For either plan, students must complete the following Core Requirements: BME 5010; BME 5020; BME 5030; and BME 8070.

Additional courses will be chosen from the curriculum outlined for each specialization. A list of curricula can be found in the Handbook for Graduate Students in Biomedical Engineering, available from the Biomedical Engineering Office. Students must take a minimum of two 7000-level courses if they are enrolled in Plan A, and a minimum of three 7000-level courses if they are enrolled in Plan C. Directed study and directed research courses (BME 7990 and BME 7996) cannot be counted toward the satisfaction of the 7000-level course requirement. Students enrolled in the master's degree program are required to file a Plan of Work with the Graduate Officer of the program by the time eight graduate credits have been earned. Following this, the applicant will petition his/her adviser to advance his/her rank to 'candidate.' Candidate status must be authorized by the time twelve graduate credits have been earned, or else subsequent registration will be denied. All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College of Engineering governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 133, respectively.

All students should refer to the Handbook for Graduate Students in Biomedical Engineering for current departmental policies and requirements.

Students with an undergraduate grade point average of 3.5 or above may apply for direct admission to the Ph.D. program; students with less than a 3.5 undergraduate g.p.a. must complete a master's degree program in biomedical engineering prior to consideration for admission to the Ph.D. program. All applicants are expected to submit a one-page statement of purpose, describing their interest in biomedical engineering.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Completion of a minimum of ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree are required for the Ph.D. program. These credits are distributed as follows:

1. Core Courses (twenty to twenty-one credits): BME 5010; BME 5020; BME 5030; BME 7010; BME 8070; BME 8080; BIO 5040 or C M 6010.

2. Dissertation (thirty credits).

3. General Courses (minimum of forty credits): Students must complete a minimum of forty credits in graduate coursework, in addition to the core courses and including the satisfaction of the minor in life sciences. The life sciences minor may be satisfied by the completion of eight credits of course work in graduate-level life science beyond the core curriculum. The student is required to seek approval of his/her selection of courses from a graduate adviser. At least twenty credits in general courses must be chosen from those offered by the Biomedical Engineering Program. Directed Study courses may be included.

An approved Plan of Work should be filed with the Office for Graduate Studies before the student has earned forty-eight credits beyond the baccalaureate degree. The student must have filed the Plan of Work before being recommended for candidacy status. (Consult page 30 of this Bulletin for Graduate School regulations governing doctoral study.)

Examinations: All Ph.D. students must pass the examinations outlined below. After successful completion of the written qualifying examination, a student may be admitted to the status of doctoral candidate.

1. Written Qualifying Examination: Students are encouraged to take the written qualifying examination after completing sixteen credits in new course work toward the Ph.D. All Ph.D. students are required to pass the written qualifying examination before completion of thirty-two credits in new course work. Each student has two chances to pass the examination; if the exam is not passed by the second attempt, the student will be dismissed from the program (the option of obtaining a terminal master's degree will apply). The examination is offered once a year, in May.

2. Proposal Defense (Oral Qualifying Examination): This examination shall be a presentation of the student's proposal for dissertation research, and will be administered by the student's Doctoral Dissertation Committee.

Dissertation requirements are satisfied by the successful completion of thirty credits of dissertation research. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. All Ph.D. students must pass the written qualifying examination and apply for doctoral candidacy before election of dissertation credits. All Ph.D. students must register for dissertation credits or doctoral candidacy maintenance status (9995) for any semester in which they utilize campus facilities or consult with faculty, even though they may not be enrolled in a formal lecture course. The dissertation defense will be publicized by public notice to the academic community; at this session the candidate presents his/her doctoral research for final approval by the Doctoral Dissertation Committee.

Chemical Engineering

The field of the chemical engineer embraces those industries in which matter is treated to effect a change of state, energy content, or composition; and in these industries the chemical engineer may be concerned with either the processes or the process equipment used for them. More specifically, the chemical engineer may enter the fields of fuels and petroleum processing; heavy, fine and pharmaceutical chemicals; textiles and fibers; food processing and products; natural and synthetic rubbers and plastics; explosives; pulp and paper; cements and building materials; surface coatings; disposal of chemical plant wastes; atomic energy processes; environmental control and medical systems; and the general fields of biotechnology.

Areas of specialized research and support for graduate students include thermodynamics and transport properties of polymer solutions and melts, processing, rheology and separations of polymers, heterogeneous catalysis, surface science of catalytic and polymeric materials, laser-based imaging of chemical species and reactions, environmental transport and management of hazardous waste, process design and synthesis based on waste minimalization, biocatalysis in multiphase systems, bioremediation for waste treatment, tissue engineering, and pharmacokinetics.

Materials Science and Engineering

Materials problems constitute an important area of research and development in the complex technology of our industrial society. The use of advanced materials, such as thermoplastic and thermoset polymers, intermetallic alloys, reinforced plastic or metal composites, ceramics and electronic materials, in the manufacturing of durable goods and devices has presented challenges to the profession of materials science and engineering. Materials engineers must understand the behavior of advanced materials, their chemical, mechanical, optical, thermal, and electrical properties, and the atomic or molecular structure that determines these properties. They can then apply their knowledge to the synthesis and processing of materials into useful products by controlling and improving their properties.

Areas of specialized research and support for graduate students include processing and rheology of polymers, thermodynamics and transport properties of polymer solutions and melts, computer simulation of polymeric and microporous materials, deformation and fracture of materials at elevated temperatures, effects of processing on mechanical properties of intermetallic alloys, influences of microstructure on fatigue, fracture toughness, stress cracking and corrosion in metals, nondestructive mechanical testing of composites, surface science of catalytic and polymeric materials, laser-based imaging of chemical species and reactions, electronic materials and sensors for automotive applications.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Civil Engineering

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Civil Engineering

The urban crisis in America has brought into sharp focus the profession of civil engineering and the responsibilities of its practitioners. The civil engineer is a leader in such diverse areas of concern as the design of structural systems; water resources planning; the treatment and ultimate disposal of noxious solid and liquid wastes; design of building systems which will provide adequate housing for urban dwellers, commerce and industry; the development of adequate transportation systems; construction methods and management; and the implementation and management of public works infrastructure projects designed to improve the urban environment. Obviously, the responsibilities of the civil engineer directly involve the health, safety and welfare of the public.

The Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering offers graduate degree programs in which students may specialize in the following areas: structures, geotechnical engineering, environmental engineering, transportation, and construction management.

Master of Science in Civil Engineering

The civil engineering graduate program at Wayne State University has traditionally attracted students employed by local industries and government. This program is designed to accommodate the needs of both full-time on-campus students and part-time students concurrently employed by local industry or government. To this end, a majority of graduate classes are held in the evening. Alternatively, full-time students have the opportunity to participate in research and experimental work with the faculty, while pursuing their graduate courses.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Additionally, all applicants must satisfy the following:

1. The student must have an undergraduate engineering degree from an institution accredited by the Accrediting Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET) or from a comparable foreign institution. In the event that the degree is in some field other than civil engineering, the student may be required to complete a set of prerequisite undergraduate courses before graduate degree credit may be accrued

2. The student must have an overall grade point average (g.p.a.) of 3.0 for regular admission. Qualified or probationary admission may be granted to students with a lower g.p.a. Conditions of such admissions are specifically mandated and applicants should contact the Department for details.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science is offered by this department under the following options:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits including an eight credit thesis.

Plan C: Thirty-two credits of course work.

For either plan, credits must be distributed as follows: at least twenty credits must be taken in the major (C E courses). There must be two courses numbered 7000-8999, and a cluster of courses which will constitute a core, to be selected from one of the following areas: Environmental Engineering, Geotechnical Engineering, Structures, Transportation, Construction Management.

For specific departmental requirements, students should consult the current issue of the Civil and Environmental Engineering Graduate Student Handbook.

Students must maintain a grade of 'B' or better in all core courses. The credit distribution requirements do not include thesis credit for Plan A candidates.

Within the first eight to twelve credits in graduate work, the student should file an adviser-approved Plan of Work. All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College of Engineering governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 133, respectively.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Civil Engineering

The Department offers doctoral programs in all the major areas listed as core specializations under the Master of Science degree (see above).

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. For admission to the Ph.D. program, the student's overall grade point average must be 3.2 or better, and 3.4 in the last two years as an undergraduate student. Students who do not satisfy these minimum standards will not be considered for admission to the program until they have completed an M.S. degree and have earned a grade point average in courses taken for graduate credit which is not less than 3.5.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for the doctoral degree must complete ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate, including thirty credits of dissertation direction, and sixty credits of course work and directed study. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. All doctoral students are required to submit a Plan of Work indicating their course work (with major/minor designation), and developed in consultation with an adviser. Additionally, students should consult page 30 for Graduate School regulations governing doctoral study.

GRADUATE COURSES (C E)

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Computer Engineering

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Electrical Engineering

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Computer Engineering

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Electrical Engineering

In the field of electrical and computer engineering, basic physical and mathematical principles are utilized to develop new devices, technologies, and techniques of constantly broadening application. Examples are the development, stemming from advances in solid-state and integrated circuit technology, of smaller, less expensive and more powerful large computers, parallel processing systems, mini-computers, microprocessors, and other data processors, and their utilization in a growing range of system applications; the growing use of data communication and sophisticated communication networks; the discovery of lasers and the development of fiber optic and integrated optical devices for various applications ranging from optical data processing to communication; development of sophisticated control techniques, remote sensors and transducers for advanced automation and electric systems; the application of electronics to health care and diagnostics (such as noninvasive measurements and ultrasound imaging); and energy conversion devices such as solar cells.

Part-time study in courses offered in the evening allows professionals working in local industry to pursue graduate degrees concurrently with their employment.

Master of Science Degrees in Computer Engineering and Electrical Engineering

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17; or the Website: <http://www.ece.eng.wayne.edu>

All applicants whose B.S. degree is not from an ABET-accredited college or university are required to submit additional pertinent information, including results of the general test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), publications, and/or inventions.

Students from a wide variety of undergraduate programs not specifically related to this discipline may be admitted into the master's program after completing a sequence of undergraduate courses designed to prepare them for the graduate curriculum.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: In the areas of electrical engineering and computer engineering the Master of Science degree is offered by this department under the following options:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits including an eight credit thesis.

Plan C: Thirty-two credits of course work.

For either plan, students must complete one of the following sets of core requirements related to a specialization:

Master of Science in Computer Engineering: General, Computer Architecture and Digital Design, Parallel and Distributed Systems, Machine Intelligence and Applications.

Master of Science in Electrical Engineering: Biomedical Systems, Communications and Circuits, Control Systems, Solid State Devices, Power Systems, Optical Engineering.

For detailed requirements in the various core areas, students should consult with their department advisers.

Doctor of Philosophy Degrees with Majors in Computer Engineering and Electrical Engineering

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants must have an overall grade point average of 3.6 in a Master of Science degree program. It is possible for outstanding students to enter the Ph.D program with only a Bachelor of Science degree.

All applicants whose B.S. degree is not from an ABET-accredited college or university are required to submit additional pertinent information, including results of the general test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), publications, and/or inventions.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for the doctoral degree must complete ninety credits beyond the bachelor's degree, including thirty credits of dissertation direction. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. A minimum of thirty credits must be earned in courses numbered 7000 and above. Credits accrued in a Master of Science degree program may be applied as part of the doctoral requirements. A written Ph.D preliminary examination should be taken within the first two semesters of residency as a Ph.D. applicant. A written and oral Ph.D. qualifying examination to attain doctoral candidacy is given after completion of most of the course work at a time recommended by the candidate's adviser. No more than ten credits of ECE 9999 may be elected before doctoral candidacy is attained. (All graduate students are required to register for dissertation credits for any semester in which they utilize campus facilities or are under faculty supervision.) Students should consult page 30 for Graduate School regulations governing doctoral study.

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Industrial Engineering

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Manufacturing Engineering

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Engineering Management

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Industrial Engineering

The industrial engineer is a broadly-trained integration engineer, concerned with enabling complex systems to function effectively. Managing the inventory of a production facility, for example, involves issues of production and stocking policy, manufacturing equipment, human resources, customer demand, and supplier relationships. The industrial engineer must understand the interaction of the components of a system, and coordinate the flow of materials and information to effectively manage the operation. The industrial engineer plays an important role in defining information needs and developing strategies for decision making based on incomplete knowledge. However, the skills of the industrial engineer have much greater application than to traditional production environments. In a growing service sector of the economy including health care delivery, public safety, air transportation, and banking, for example, issues of resource management, scheduling, quality of service, and systems design are important.

Traditionally, the manufacturing engineer was responsible for developing the process capability to realize the output of design engineering. Today, however, the boundary between design and manufacturing engineering is becoming blurred. Both groups work together in teams to assure the soundness of design and producibility of product. The manufacturing engineer must have an understanding of the design process, but the special expertise which is brought by the manufacturing engineer is the knowledge and understanding of the production process. Today's production is computer-based and provides flexibility through numerical control. The manufacturing engineer is responsible for designing and implementing the cells and production lines which become the basic units of manufacture. Increasingly, such production units are becoming parts of an integrated factory system, and are not simply islands of automation. The manufacturing engineer must understand the multi-layered control architecture of the integrated factory, and the computer-based technologies which enable it.

Engineering management has grown in importance as today's engineer must possess the necessary tools for effective technical management. Inherent in successful leadership is an understanding of the business functions of an organization, tools used in the decision-making process, and skills for efficient project management, among others. An effective engineering manager will utilize industrial engineering skills to develop strategies that improve the product development process, manage quality and productivity, and advance techniques in world-class manufacturing. More often, a business overview is critical to developing and improving these processes.

The Department maintains laboratories in systems simulation, computer-aided manufacturing, smart engineering systems, ergonomics, and concurrent engineering design.

Our master's degree programs offer the flexibility of full or part-time study. Most of the courses in the master's degree programs are offered in the evening, allowing students to continue full-time employment in local industries. Some program classes are offered at off-campus sites.

All incoming M.S. students must demonstrate competency in undergraduate probability and statistics, through successful completion of BE 3220, or by passing a department offered placement exam. If the student fails to show competency, he or she may be required to complete a pre-requisite course in probability and statistics.

Master of Science in Industrial Engineering

The master of science degree program in industrial engineering is built on core courses designed to provide breadth of experience in systems modeling, analysis, and applications common in industrial engineering. Upon this foundation, the student constructs a specialization in one of the following areas: quality management, lean operations management, or manufacturing systems.

Admission to the master's program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements see page 17. Applicants with a baccalaureate degree in engineering from an institution accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET), and who have earned a grade point average of at least 2.8 in the upper division of their undergraduate program are eligible for admission. International students are required to complete the GRE exam. Additionally, applicants with an undergraduate degree in mathematics, physics, computer science, or another discipline with a strong analytical base may be considered for admission.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science in Industrial Engineering is offered under the following options:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits including an eight credit thesis.

Plan C: Thirty-two credits of course work.

Both options require a common core of eight credits as described below. While the core provides breadth to the student's program, depth of understanding is acquired through completion of the required twenty-four credits in one of the specialization areas. Appropriate courses for specific specializations can be found on the department's website.

Thesis Option: If a thesis option (Plan A) is selected, eight credits of Master's Thesis Research and Direction (IE 8999) may be required, which integrates with the student's plan of work to create depth of understanding in an area relevant to the program objective. In such cases, the requirement for the twenty-four credit hour specialization is waived, and an individually-designed program of study must be approved by both the thesis research adviser and a coordinator.

Master of Science in Manufacturing Engineering

The master of science degree program in manufacturing engineering is built on a core designed to provide a firm foundation in the various elements of manufacturing and systems engineering. Building on this preparation, the student constructs a specialization in one of three areas: integrated product engineering, computer integrated manufacturing, or quality engineering.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants with a baccalaureate degree in engineering from an institution accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET) and who have earned a grade point average of at least 2.8 in the upper division of their undergraduate program are eligible for admission. International students are required to complete the GRE exam. Applicants whose admission credentials show deficiency in background material will be required to successfully complete pre-requisite courses that will NOT count toward the thirty-two credit degree requirement.

Because of the interdisciplinary nature of the program, applicants whose undergraduate education is deficient in prerequisites for graduate classes may be required to take background courses which will NOT count toward the thirty-two credit degree requirement.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science in Manufacturing Engineering is offered under the following options:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits including an eight credit thesis.

Plan C: Thirty-two credits of course work.

Appropriate courses for specific specializations can be found in the departmental advising manual on the Department's website.

Thesis Option: If a thesis option (Plan A) is selected, eight credits of Master's Thesis Research and Direction (IE 8999) may be required, which integrates with the student's plan of work to create depth of understanding in an area relevant to the program objective. In such cases, an individually-designed program of study must be approved by both the thesis research adviser and a coordinator.

Master of Science in Engineering Management

The Master of Science in Engineering Management is designed to build both technical competence and business acumen. The program builds understanding and skills critical to the support of fast-to-market strategies, which also guarantee product quality, and cost minimization. A systematic analytical framework is developed and coupled with tools for managing the engineering and technical functions within manufacturing-based companies. This cross-disciplinary program draws from the expertise of the College of Engineering and the School of Business Administration.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. The program is intended for the practicing engineer or technical leader with an undergraduate degree from an accredited engineering program, who possesses at least four years of full-time work experience.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This program is offered under Plan B: forty-two credits including a six-credit final project. There are four core segments: engineering management, business cognate, engineering cognate, and capstone project. A detailed course outline is available on the Department's website.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Industrial Engineering

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In general, applicants are required to have a Master of Science degree in industrial engineering or operations research with a minimum grade point average of 3.5. Students with an undergraduate degree in one of these areas and a grade point average of 3.5 or above may apply for direct admission to the Ph.D. program. In such cases direct admission will be predicated on the specific courses and strength of the undergraduate curriculum.

Applicants with an undergraduate major in mathematics, computer science, or the physical sciences, completed at an accredited institution, are also eligible for admission to this program, provided an evaluation concludes that the educational background includes sufficient background in analytically-oriented course work.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for the doctoral degree must complete ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate, including thirty credits of dissertation direction. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. A preliminary examination, a written and oral qualifying examination, and an oral dissertation defense are required. Students should consult page 30 for Graduate School regulations governing doctoral study.

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Mechanical Engineering

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Mechanical Engineering

The opportunities and challenges in the field of mechanical engineering are diverse and virtually unlimited. The broad variety of career possibilities includes research and development, design analysis and synthesis, manufacturing and production engineering, testing, sales, engineering, maintenance and administration. The challenge of a mechanical engineer may lie in the perfection and reliability of a device that will be duplicated a million-fold or in the control optimization of a single complex system of unique design. The mechanical engineering curriculum is designed to prepare graduate students in many applied fields, including such important areas as biomechanics, energy conversion, combustion engines, emissions controls, machine tool design, manufacturing, computer graphics, structural analysis, automatic controls, vehicle dynamics and design, continuum mechanics, fluid dynamics, environmental design, mechanisms, acoustics and noise control, laser diagnostics, and composite materials. Faculty members in the Department are currently engaged in state-of-the-art research in all of these areas. Specialized areas of research support for graduate students include: manufacturing processes, composite material behavior, combustion, acoustics and noise control, vibrations, laser diagnostics, biomechanics, control of mechanical systems, electronic packaging, sheet metal stamping, and engine research.

Part-time study (with most courses offered in the evening) and cooperative programs allow professionals working in local industry to pursue graduate degrees while employed.

Master of Science in Mechanical Engineering

Program specializations at the master's degree level may be undertaken in many areas, including acoustics, vibrations, machine tool design, biomechanics, combustion engines, automatic controls, composite materials, and fluid and solid mechanics, among others.

These program specializations are available to both part-time and full-time students, in either research or non-research degree programs.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The master's degree in mechanical engineering is offered under the following options:

Plan A: A minimum of thirty-two credits in course work including an eight-credit thesis.

Plan C: A minimum of thirty-two credits in course work.

Credit distribution includes: at least twenty-four credits in mechanical engineering courses, including a minimum of two courses on the 7000-level for Plan A students and three 7000-level courses for Plan C students. Directed study and directed research courses (M E 7990 and 7996) cannot be counted toward the satisfaction of the 7000-level course requirement. A maximum of four credits in directed study or directed research (M E 5990, 7990 and 7996) can be applied towards the degree. Every master's degree student (both Plan A and Plan C) must select at least four courses from one of the following areas: vibrations and acoustics, controls and dynamics, biomechanical engineering, solid mechanics, manufacturing/design, and thermal/fluid science. At least one of the four courses must be a core course in that area. A list of approved courses may be found in the Handbook for Graduate Students in Mechanical Engineering, available from the Department and listed on the Department home page. In addition, a minimum of four credits in engineering analysis is required, to be taken from the following list: M E 5000, 5010; MAT 5070, 5220, 5230, 5410. Thesis credit requirements are met by satisfactory completion of M E 8999. All courses in the master's Plan of Work must be completed with a grade of 'B-minus' or better. The graduate grade point average will be calculated using all graduate courses taken at Wayne State University. ## Graduate Degree

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Engineering Technology

The Division of Engineering Technology, founded in 1973, stresses the application of current technology to typical industrial problems. The curricula maintain a close relationship between theoretical principles taught in the classroom and their applications.

Engineering technology is a profession closely related to engineering. It deals with the application of knowledge and skills to industrial processes, production and management. Technologists are organizers of people, materials, and equipment for the effective planning, construction and maintenance of technical facilities and operations. Their responsibilities require technical and practical knowledge. Graduates of Wayne State's engineering technology programs are employed in such areas as manufacturing engineering, engineering production, marketing, maintenance, quality control, product testing, field engineering, consulting engineering, design, and technical supervision.

Master of Science in Engineering Technology

The Master of Science in Engineering Technology (M.S.E.T.) program is designed to meet the needs of adults who wish to expand or upgrade their knowledge within the areas of their previous training or current profession. It provides for highly individualized graduate study, and is designed to promote greater depth of understanding in a field of specialization beyond the bachelor's level. It allows more advanced coverage in specialized topics, develops more rigorous analytical skills, helps to advance expertise, and prepares graduates to perform more sophisticated and independent work.

Admission Requirements and Student Selection Procedures: Admission to the M.S.E.T. degree program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Additionally, all applicants must:

a) Hold a bachelor's degree in engineering technology or a related discipline from a college or university of recognized standing, or the equivalent;

b) Have maintained at least a 'B' average (3.0 g.p.a.) in undergraduate coursework;

c) Provide at least two letters of recommendation from persons acquainted with the applicant's academic achievement at the institution most recently attended (applicants whose academic references date back more than five years may substitute other references, if desired);

d) Submit with his/her application a preliminary proposal for the intended plan of study which includes a general set of objectives and an outline of types of coursework or other educational projects to be pursued;

2. Applicants who do not meet the 3.0 g.p.a. requirement but whose g.p.a. does fall within the Graduate School's qualified admission span (2.2 to 2.9 g.p.a.) may be admitted with a conditional status. Immediately upon successful completion of two graduate-level courses with a grade of 'B' or above, the candidate must request in writing that his/her status be changed to regular status.

3. Students will be required to submit a finalized Plan of Work, listing all the courses the student intends to take to fulfill the degree requirements. The Plan must be developed with the aid of the student's faculty adviser and is generally submitted by the time the student has earned eight credits.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science in Engineering Technology degree is offered only under the Plan B option. The M.S.E.T. degree requires twenty-six to twenty-eight semester credits in coursework in engineering technology and closely-related fields, and a four- to six-credit master's project appropriate to the student's plan of study under the supervision of a faculty adviser. All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees (see sections beginning on pages 26 and 133, respectively), in addition to fulfilling the general scholarship requirements of the Division.

Residency Requirement: Of the thirty-two semester credits required for the M.S.E.T. degree, twenty-four must be taken at Wayne State University, including eighteen credits from Division of Engineering Technology courses. Up to eight credits in graduate courses completed at Wayne State as a non-degree graduate student may be applied toward degree requirements and must be included in the applicant's preliminary Plan of Work. Minimum completion period for the degree is three semesters.

Curriculum Requirements:

a) Core Courses (twelve credits)

E T 7430 -- Methods of Engineering Analysis I: Cr. 4
E T 7450 -- Methods of Engineering Analysis II: Cr. 4
E T 7850 -- Statistical Methods and Applications: Cr. 4

A member of the Division of Engineering Technology faculty holding a graduate faculty appointment chairs the student's Master's Project Advisory Committee. (Individuals outside the Division directing master's project research must hold an adjunct graduate faculty appointment.) An adjunct graduate faculty member may co-chair the Committee. Using the form provided by the Division, the student must submit a proposal indicating the scope of the project, the problem to be solved, the nature of the system to be studied, the plan of approach and work plan for the activity, facilities and resources to be employed, and the student's qualifications for performing this work. The Master's Project Advisory Committee may accept, decline, or request resubmission of the proposal as explained to the student. Only students with accepted proposals are allowed to register for E T 7999. College of Fine, Performing, and Communication Arts

DEAN: Sharon L. Vasquez

Foreword

The College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts at Wayne State University has as its mission the provision of the highest quality education for practitioners, scholars and consumers in art, art history, communication, dance, music and theatre. This education leads to careers, uses for the arts in other disciplines, enhanced critical abilities, the enrichment of everyday life and the building of new generations of artists, professionals and scholars.

The College serves the University and the larger community by creating partnerships that emphasize its own rich, diverse curriculum, interdisciplinary studies, reciprocal professional interaction and outreach activities appropriate to each area of work. Special emphasis is placed on forging alliances with local, state and national constituencies such that the College is both a leader and a resource providing expertise, information and guidance.

Within an appropriate and attractive academic environment the College promotes an atmosphere conducive to intellectual and artistic growth, risk-taking and personal and professional development at all levels in both individual and collaborative endeavors. This environment also assists the College in its role as a national center for creative, research and teaching excellence.

As the cultural conscience of the University, the College provides public events and curricular offerings that nurture creative development, enrich aesthetic values and sensitivity, heighten awareness of the arts experience and reflect the disciplinary diversity of its areas of study. Cultural, racial, ethnic and gender diversity is an important commitment in public events and educational efforts.

Ultimately, the mission of the College is to focus on the integration of theory and practice through the creation, discovery, preservation and transmission of knowledge in the fine, performing and communication arts.

Campus Resources: Traditional courses of study are augmented by a variety of performance and presentation resources considered integral to many of the creative programs. Included in these are the Hilberry Repertory Theatre, the Wayne State University Dance Company, the Symphonic Band and University Orchestra, the Intercollegiate Debate Team, plus exhibitions in the Elaine L. Jacob Gallery and the Community Arts Gallery, which often feature work created by students and studio faculty. These are only a few of the campus resources that are especially important for majors in the College. A more comprehensive listing can be found under each of the specific departments.

Detroit Resources: The proximity of the Wayne campus to institutions of the Detroit Cultural Center (which includes the Detroit Institute of Arts, the College for Creative Studies, the Charles Wright Museum of African American History, Michigan Opera Theatre and Orchestra Hall, among other institutions) provides further unique and enriching benefits for students; professional staff members of these institutions often serve as adjunct faculty in College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts programs. Nearby, too, are major print and electronic communications resources that similarly provide both adjunct faculty and professional assistance to other programs in the College.

Accrediting Agencies: Programs offered by the Maggie Allesee Department of Dance are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Dance. Programs in the Music Department are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music. Programs in the Theatre Department are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Theatre.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

For complete information regarding rules and regulations of the Graduate School, students should consult the general information section of this bulletin beginning on page 17. The following additions and amendments pertain to the College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts.

Regular Admission

—See page 17.

In the selective admission of graduate students, preference is given to those students who have achieved superior undergraduate scholastic records and who evidence superior artistic abilities.

If a student's undergraduate preparation is considered deficient for advanced work in his/her major field, additional work may be required at the undergraduate level. All prerequisite credits must be earned prior to or concurrent with the first graduate credits. Certain degrees have additional requirements as stated in the following pages.

Graduate Scholarship

Graduate degrees are conferred not merely upon the completion of a prescribed number of courses nor necessarily after a given period of residence, but rather in recognition of each candidate's outstanding ability and high attainments as evidenced in all course work, research, scholarly writing, examinations, personal fitness for a chosen profession, and promise of professional competence. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic regulations of the Graduate School, as well as College and Departmental regulations governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 169.

GRADUATE DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

General requirements for graduate degrees may be found beginning on page 29. In addition to these and to the information below, other requirements are specified by the individual graduate departments. Students should consult the program and requirements of the departments in which they plan to major.

Candidacy is an advanced status which is recommended by the student's adviser and authorized by the Graduate School or the Dean of the College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts upon evidence of the applicant's superior scholarship, appropriate personal qualities and promise of professional competence. Admission as an applicant does not assure acceptance as candidate for a degree. Also, candidacy is a necessary but not sufficient requirement for graduation.

To be eligible for candidacy, the student must file an official, approved Plan of Work. The Plan of Work should provide for effective concentration in a major field, with proper supporting courses in related fields. All master's applicants should file the Plan of Work with the graduate officer of the College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts. In preparing a Plan, students should evaluate with care their personal and professional objectives as well as all degree and departmental requirements. Normally, students enrolled in master's degree programs are expected to file a Plan of Work by the time the equivalent of eight to twelve graduate credits have been earned. In the Master of Fine Arts program, however, the Plan of Work should be filed by the time the equivalent of fourteen to eighteen credits have been earned. Candidacy must be authorized by the time twelve to eighteen graduate credits have been earned (dependent upon the applicant's degree program) or subsequent registration may be denied. Plans are filed with the College's graduate officer. Once the Plan of Work has been approved, the form to change the student's rank from 'applicant' to 'candidate' will be processed by the College Graduate Officer.

Ph.D. applicants should file the Plan of Work with the Graduate School, when approximately forty credits beyond the baccalaureate degree have been earned. In addition to filing the Plan, the student must have satisfied the foreign language requirements, must have passed the Final Qualifying Examination (written and oral), and must have submitted and received the Graduate Dean's approval on the Dissertation Outline before the doctoral committee will recommend candidacy.

Commencement: Students are required to file an Application for Graduation with the Registrar's Office no later than the first day of classes in the intended term of graduation. Information concerning commencement announcements, caps and gowns, invitations, tickets, time and place, assembling and other relevant items will be mailed to graduates prior to the event. Candidates for advanced degrees are requested and expected to attend the commencement at which the University confers upon them the honor of the degree earned.

Master's Degree Requirements

In the Master of Arts and Master of Music programs, the minimum requirement for the degree is thirty-two credits under one of the following plans:

Plan A: Twenty-four credits in course work plus an eight-credit thesis.

Plan B: Twenty-nine credits in course work plus a three-credit essay.

Plan C: Thirty-two credits in course work. This plan is authorized only in selected areas. The essay or thesis is not required for this plan; however, most departments require a final comprehensive examination. Students should consult an adviser for details.

These requirements vary slightly depending on the department and major curriculum; students should see the degree programs outlined in the following pages for specific information.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS: At least twenty-four credits must be taken in residence. At least six credits in the major field, in addition to the essay or thesis, must be in courses open only to graduate students (7000 and above).

Master of Fine Arts Degree Requirements

In the Master of Fine Arts degree programs, the minimum requirement includes fifty-four to sixty graduate credits plus a final project completed under Plans B or C as follows:

Plan B: Sixty credits including a three-credit essay. This plan is open only to studio art majors.

Plan C: Fifty-four to sixty credits, depending on the student's major, including a final project. For specific requirements, students should consult the Art and Art History or Theatre departmental sections of this bulletin.

All M.F.A. degree requirements must be completed within three years.

Doctoral Degree Requirements

Candidates for the doctoral degree must complete ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree including thirty credits of dissertation direction. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

— Examinations

Preliminary Qualifying Examinations: Responsibility for the requirement of a preliminary qualifying examination is vested in the graduate faculty of each department and specifically its committee on doctoral study. Accordingly, each committee may require this examination of all of its candidates or of any candidate at any time it may determine prior to the final qualifying examination.

Final Qualifying Examination: The final qualifying examination is required of each applicant. The applicant may request his/her doctoral committee to authorize the final qualifying examination after an approved Plan of Work has been filed with the Graduate School, AND after the Dean of the Graduate School has approved the Dissertation Outline. The examination will be in part written and in part oral. When this examination has been passed, the applicant will be advanced to the status of 'doctoral candidate'.

The Written Qualifying Examination will cover the applicant's major and minor areas and may include such other related matters as the doctoral examining committee may prescribe. Within thirty days after the written examination has been passed, the oral qualifying examination will be conducted by the doctoral examining committee, in the presence of the chairperson of the departmental committee on doctoral study or his/her designee. This examination will relate to the subject matter of the written examination, the applicant's major and minor areas and other pertinent matters.

If an examining committee does not certify that the applicant has been passed in either the written or oral examination, it must make specific recommendations with reference to admitting the applicant to a second examination and specify any additional work that should be completed prior to such an examination. If a second examination is held, it must be scheduled within one calendar year and shall be considered final.

The student's doctoral committee is selected at the time the doctoral Plan of Work is prepared. At this time, and upon consultation with the chairperson of the student's doctoral committee, a member outside of the student's major department is appointed to the committee by the Graduate School. This appointed representative is expected to meet as a member of the student's committee while the research and preparation of the dissertation are in process. He/she, along with all members of the committee, will also be present at the final oral presentation. The chairperson of the student's committee files a brief report to the Graduate School detailing the conduct of the oral presentation.

— Essays, Theses, and Dissertations

There is no prescribed form for the essay. Title page format as given in the Graduate School's Guide for Preparing Theses and Dissertations may be used for essays. Standard style manuals may be consulted for form, as desired by the student or department.

The original copy of the essay should be submitted to the Fine, Performing and Communication Arts Graduate Officer after it is approved and signed by the adviser. This copy will be returned to the department within a reasonable time after the student's graduation date.

The thesis or dissertation must be an original work, either in or definitely related to the student's major area of specialization. If proper standards of quality, objectivity, originality, and independence are maintained, the candidate may use data which he/she has derived from his/her University research. Neither the results of the research nor the publication of findings can be restricted by any non-university agency nor can they be published prior to acceptance by the Graduate School, unless prior approval of such publication has been secured from both the adviser and the Graduate School. Advisers have primary responsibility for approval of the essay or thesis, but every member of a doctoral committee must read, approve and sign the dissertation.

A student may not begin work on a manuscript until he/she has submitted an approved Plan of Work and outline form. He/she may then register for the thesis or dissertation and pay regular fees in the same manner as for all other course work.

Master's degree candidates under the essay plan register for the course numbered 7999, Master's Essay Direction, in the department of their major; a total of three credits must be elected.

Master's candidates under the thesis plan register for the course numbered 8999 in the department of their major. This course is entitled Master's Thesis Research and Direction and must be elected for a total of eight credits. Ph.D. candidates register for thirty credits in their major field in the course numbered 9999, or in the courses 9991-9994, as outlined above, under 'Doctoral Degree Requirements.' All credit used toward meeting dissertation requirements must be earned in this course.

The publication and dissemination of research findings will not be restricted by the University after the manuscript has been received and accepted by the Graduate School.

— Outline and Record Form

Before a student begins work on the thesis or dissertation, he/she must file an outline and record form. Master's candidates must prepare three copies that, after receiving departmental approval, will be forwarded to the Fine, Performing and Communication Arts Graduate Officer. Doctoral candidates must prepare four copies that, after receiving departmental approval, will be forwarded to the College Graduate Officer and the Graduate School.

FINANCIAL AID

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34. Additional information may be found in the College departmental sections, below. The following scholarship is also available:

Master of Arts in Art

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. The applicant must hold a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree or another degree and equivalent course work. Admission by the Graduate School of the University means only that the applicant has satisfied the academic standards required for general admission. Final admission is determined by the Department based on the following ranked criteria: 1) portfolio, 2) personal interview, 3) academic record.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: A minimum of thirty-two credits in art, including at least eighteen credits in the studio major, six credits in electives, three credits in art history, two credits in the Master of Arts Seminar in art, and three credits in Master's Essay. This program is offered under the following option:

Plan B: Thirty-two credits in course work, including three credits for an essay.

Candidacy: All graduate students begin their work as Master's Applicants. After twelve credits have been completed, a Plan of Work must be signed by the adviser and the department Graduate Officer and then submitted to the College graduate office. If the student has maintained a 3.0 grade point average and the Plan is accepted, his/her status is changed to Master's Candidate.

Master of Arts in Art History

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. The applicant must have an undergraduate or equivalent degree in art history, a minimum 'B' average in undergraduate art history, and two years of college-level work in one foreign language with a 'B' (3.0) average (a minimum of four semester courses; German or French is required).

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This master's degree is offered under the following options:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits in course work, including at least six credits on the 7000-level and eight credits in thesis.

Plan B: Thirty-three credits in course work, including at least six credits on the 7000-level and three credits in essay.

Students may concentrate in one of the following areas, but must take at least one course in each: classical, medieval, Renaissance/Baroque, modern (nineteenth and twentieth centuries). All students are required to take A H 5090, (WI) Theory and Methods of Art Historical Research, in their first year unless they have taken a similar course during their undergraduate training. Students must pass a comprehensive slide examination after fifteen graduate credits towards the master's degree have been earned and before the essay or thesis topic can be approved by the adviser.

Applicants should obtain from the Department a copy of Guidelines for M.A. Degree Candidates in Art History for more details.

Master of Arts in Design and Merchandising

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants for a graduate degree in design and merchandising must have at least a 2.80 g.p.a. Persons lacking a limited number of prerequisites may be admitted on probation until completion of certain courses specified by the adviser. Undergraduate preparation should include a minimum of twelve credits in clothing and textiles, merchandising, and consumer affairs, with supporting courses in closely-related fields. The Graduate Record Examination (general section only) is required of all applicants. Additional requirements depend upon area of specialization.

Fashion Design and Merchandising: Undergraduate preparation must include a minimum of twelve credits in the area of merchandising, clothing and textiles, with supporting courses in art (including basic design), science, social science or business.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The master's degree is offered under the following options:

Plan A: Requires a total of thirty-two credits, including a total of eight credits for a thesis.

Plan B: Requires a total of thirty-two credits, including a minimum of three credits for an essay.

The thesis or essay and at least one-half of all other credits, including the final seminar, must be in the major field. At least six credits in work in the major field, in addition to the essay or thesis, must be in courses numbered 7000-7999. It is strongly recommended that at least two courses be elected outside the Department of Art and Art History, and include a course in statistics.

Master of Fine Arts in Art

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants who present a superior portfolio and hold a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree or a Master of Arts degree in art may apply for direct admission. During the semester in which an applicant in the Master of Arts in Art program will be completing a minimum of fifteen credits, the student may be invited by the graduate review committee to apply for admission to the Master of Fine Arts program. If accepted, the applicant's fifteen credits in graduate study may apply toward the Master of Fine Arts degree.

In either case, the M.F.A. degree program demands superior qualification, potential, and commitment as an artist.

Candidacy: After twelve credits have been completed, a Plan of Work must be signed by the adviser and the departmental Graduate Officer and then submitted to the College graduate office. An applicant becomes a degree candidate only upon recommendation by the graduate review committee.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Fine Arts degree is offered under the following option:

Plan C: Sixty credits in art, including a specific project determined by the candidate's area of specialization.

Plan C must be completed within three years. 1. A satisfactory final review of the candidate's work.
2. An exhibition of the work produced for M.F.A. credit.
3. Submission for departmental files of 5-10 slides or CD of the work.

This program provides the student with the opportunity for intensive work toward personal artistic goals. The entire graduate staff is available to the student for consultation and instruction.

ASSISTANTSHIPS and SCHOLARSHIPS

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34. See also the Academic Regulations of the College, above. The following information pertains to the Department of Art and Art History.

Graduate Teaching Assistantships are offered for a full academic year and include a stipend and a waiver of tuition for up to ten credits in the Fall and Winter terms. They are available on a limited basis and selection is determined by a combination of merit and the teaching needs of the Department. Consequently, assistantships are usually reserved for students on the advanced level of the M.F.A. program.

Departmental Scholarships: The scholarships listed below pertain to the Department. In addition, other private and institutional donors make scholarship funds available to the Department for students in art and art history. Detailed information on scholarships is available in the Art and Art History Office.

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Communication and emphases in speech communication; communication studies; public relations and organizational communication; media arts; media studies; or communication education.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Communication and emphases in media arts and studies; or communication studies.

The Department of Communication, in the College of Fine, Performing, and Communication Arts, offers graduate study leading to master's and doctoral degrees. The Department includes about twenty tenured and tenure-track faculty with strong backgrounds in both scholarly and professional approaches to communication. The Department has about 600 undergraduate majors and 200 graduate students. Approximately twenty graduate assistantships are offered each year to doctoral students.

The Department and faculty offices are in 585 Manoogian Hall, located near the intersection of the John C. Lodge Freeway and Warren Avenue, in the heart of Detroit's Cultural Center. The television production facilities of the Department are in Old Main, at the intersection of Warren and Cass Avenues. Most graduate courses are offered in Manoogian Hall, in the evening.

Philosophy

Communication is a human activity in which ideas, information, and perceptions are shared. The study of human communication involves the theory, research, and practice of human interaction among individuals, groups, institutions, and cultures, using both quantitative and qualitative approaches.

The graduate program in communication is designed to establish and maintain high standards of scholarly research and creative/professional activity, while providing excellence in academic instruction at both the theoretical and applied levels. The graduate program encompasses the full range of empirical, critical, and creative approaches, in which each student is focused through a personal Plan of Work.

Alumni of the program are skilled practitioners, critical consumers, and thoughtful observers of communication processes. While many serve as recognized scholars and educators throughout the country and world, others occupy responsible positions as communication professionals in business, government, and industry.

The research interests and orientation of the faculty are diverse, and faculty and graduate students have written extensively on rhetorical theory and criticism, interpersonal/family/health communication, organizational communication and public relations, political communication, media criticism, and media effects. The graduate program is deeply committed to research and scholarship on the interrelations of theory, practice, research, experience, strategy, and ethics.

Master of Arts with a Major in Communication

The Department offers the master's degree with emphases in the following areas: speech communication, communication studies, public relations and organizational communication, media arts, media studies, and communication education (pedagogy).

Admission to the Department's Ph.D. program is competitive and is based on each student's entire academic record; requirements stated below are minimum standards for consideration and do not guarantee admission. The Department requires an M.A. degree in communication or a related field, with a minimum 3.5 grade point average based on a 4.0 scale. In those instances where an applicant's M.A. is not communication-related, and he/she has completed fewer than fifteen semester credits in communication, the applicant may be admitted to the department's master's degree program until such time as sufficient background for doctoral study is demonstrated.

There are six parts to the application to the doctoral program: (1) The Application for Graduate Admission, with a non-refundable $50.00 application fee ($50.00 for international students) made payable to Wayne State University. The application is available online at: <http://www.gradschool.wayne.edu/> (2) Three letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's scholarly potential. (3) A one- to two-page statement of the applicant's academic interests and professional goals. (4) A sample of written scholarship, such as a research paper. (5) Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores. (6) Official transcripts from each college and university attended. (Additionally, international students are required to have a minimum score of 600 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), or 250 on the computer-based test.)

Doctoral students are admitted for the fall semester only. The deadline for the first round of admissions is February 1; for the second round of admissions, March 15. All application materials must be submitted to: Graduate Secretary, Department of Communication, 585 Manoogian Hall, Wayne State University, Detroit MI 48201.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in music

MASTER OF MUSIC with a concentration in composition/theory, choral conducting, performance, jazz performance, and music education

CERTIFICATE IN ORCHESTRAL STUDIES

Because of the technical demands and intellectual breadth of the discipline of music, most serious music students find it necessary to build upon their undergraduate studies by continuing work at the graduate level. The Department of Music provides this program, faculty specialists, and learning resources for advanced study, as well as a metropolitan setting ideal for contacts with cultural institutions to facilitate career advancement.

MASTER'S DEGREES

The Master of Arts degree is designed for students who desire to pursue an academic career in music through a broad Liberal Arts curriculum. The Master of Music degree provides a program for talented students pursuing professional concentration in 1) performance, 2) composition/theory, 3) choral conducting, 4) jazz performance, or 5) music education.

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, master's degree applicants in music must satisfy the following criteria. The student should apply to Wayne State University Graduate School as a Music Major. The student must possess an undergraduate degree in the same field for which he or she wishes to pursue graduate study, or its equivalent in course work, private study, and experience as determined by examination, audition or interview, and review of transcripts. All applicants for graduate degrees are required to pass the departmental theory and history examinations. Furthermore, all students desiring to pursue any of the Master of Music curricula must be certified for entrance into the program through further examination and/or audition by the Divisional Director or a designee in the area of concentration.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The master's degree is offered by this Department under the following options:

Plan A: Twenty-four credits in course work, plus an eight-credit thesis. An original composition approved by the Divisional Director of Composition/Theory substitutes for the thesis in the M.M. degree with a concentration in composition.

Plan B: Twenty-nine credits in course work, plus a three-credit essay.

Plan C: Thirty-two credits in course work, plus a recital. (Thirty-four credits including two recitals for vocal performance majors.)

Candidates for the Master of Arts degree with a major in music, and the Master of Music degree with concentration in theory or composition, must elect Plan A. Plan B is open to candidates for the degree of Master of Music in Music Education. Candidates for the Master of Music degree with a concentration in performance, jazz performance, or choral conducting must elect Plan C.

Oral Examination: An oral examination is required of all students.

Candidacy must be established by the time twelve credits have been earned toward the master's degree. Applicants become degree candidates only upon recommendation of the departmental Graduate Program Director and submission of an approved Plan of Work. Before a student can be admitted to candidacy in the Master of Arts curriculum, satisfactory completion of a reading examination in a foreign language (preferably German or French) is required.

Scholarship: The University requires that each student achieve a minimum grade point average of 3.0, in order to be eligible for a graduate degree. Grades of 'C' and below are considered unsatisfactory and constitute valid cause for dropping a student from graduate study. However, the Department of Music permits a student to accumulate a maximum of six semester credits of 'C' in a graduate program, offset by an equal number of credits of 'A' in order to maintain the minimum 3.0 grade point average. Credits of 'C' in excess of six will result in dismissal from the program, regardless of whether the courses are included on the student's Plan of Work. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts and the Graduate School; see pages 169-170 and 17-29, respectively.

THE STUDY OF LAW AT WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY

History and Goals of the Law School

Wayne State University Law School has been a source of lawyers for Michigan and the rest of the nation for more than 75 years. A group of public-spirited lawyers led by Judge Allan Campbell, in cooperation with the Detroit Board of Education, established the new law school in 1927 as part of the Colleges of the City of Detroit. The Law School and other colleges grew and flourished and were subsequently renamed Wayne University. In 1956, the University joined the University of Michigan and Michigan State University as one of Michigan's three major public universities, and was renamed Wayne State University.

Wayne State University is an institution dedicated to excellence in education and research. The focus of the Juris Doctor (J.D.) program is preparation of lawyers for the wide variety of professional opportunities available with law firms, corporations, public interest groups, government, prosecutors' and defenders' offices and many other law-related fields. The rich and varied educational program not only teaches the legal rules by which business and personal affairs are governed in a complex society, but also instills an appreciation of the larger role of the legal profession as it shapes society's values and institutions. The program emphasizes experiences designed to develop the skill of written expression, and provides oral advocacy training in trial and appellate settings. In addition to the traditional classroom component, the Law School offers the opportunity to enrich legal education with real-life legal experience. Students are encouraged to take advantage of the special opportunities available in the Detroit metropolitan area for internships with judges, prosecutors' and defenders' offices and public interest law practices.

The Law School's faculty is actively involved in scholarly research. Professors at Wayne State University Law School make significant contributions to the understanding of issues in environmental law, taxation, criminal procedure, constitutional law, antitrust law, intellectual property law, urban law and many other fields. Their books and articles contribute to the depth and quality of classroom teaching.

The Law School community takes great pride in its diversity. The full-time faculty includes individuals experienced in local, state and federal government, others who have served as judicial clerks for federal judges, a number with backgrounds in private practice, and others who are well-known public interest advocates. They combine excellent academic credentials with practical experience. The faculty is committed to classroom teaching excellence and to advancing the state of professional knowledge through scholarship. The Law School is also fortunate to have excellent part-time faculty from the metropolitan Detroit area. Respected judges and practitioners bring valuable and specialized professional perspectives to the adjunct faculty.

Accreditation and National Recognition

Wayne State University Law School is accredited by both of the major national accrediting agencies for legal education—the American Bar Association and the Association of American Law Schools.

The Law School has a chapter of the Order of the Coif, the national honorary society dedicated to the highest standards of legal scholarship. Membership is limited to the top 10 percent of each graduating class, elected by the faculty. In establishing its chapter of the Order of the Coif, Wayne State University Law School has joined other elite law schools in promoting exceptional accomplishment in legal studies.

Law School Setting

Wayne State University is located in the heart of the University/Cultural Center area about four miles from downtown Detroit. Within a few blocks of the Law School are the Detroit Public Library, the Detroit Institute of Arts, the International Institute, the Detroit Historical Museum, the Detroit Science Center and the Museum of African-American History. South of the main campus area are the Detroit Medical Center and the Wayne State University Medical School. State and federal courts and offices are concentrated in the downtown area.

The Law School is located on the main campus convenient to the major University library complex and the University's Hilberry Theatre, which houses one of the most distinguished graduate theater repertory companies in the United States. In 2001, the Law School dedicated its 58,000 square-foot building addition along with the renovation of its existing building. The new building houses student services and student organization offices, seminar rooms, a student publications suite, a moot court room, a distance learning classroom and additional faculty offices. The highlight of the new building is the innovative 250-seat Spencer M. Partrich Auditorium. Equipped for lectures and trial and appellate court sessions (including judges' chambers and a jury room), the auditorium is the focal point for the Law School's instructional and public outreach activities. The balcony of the auditorium features two separately enclosable fifty-seat sections, giving the auditorium a high degree of versatility. The new building provides greatly improved instructional and technological resources, allowing the Law School to continue to offer a first-rate legal education at an affordable cost. It offers Wayne State students a warm, inviting place to gather and socialize as well as to learn. The Law School complex also includes the Law Library building and the classroom building. The classroom building has five auditoriums with terraced seating.

Arthur Neef Law Library

The Arthur Neef Law Library is the second largest academic law library in Michigan, and the 22nd largest in the United States. The Law Library is noted for its collection and the services provided by its law librarians and staff. With over 590,000 volumes, it serves as a major center of legal research for faculty and students of the Law School, for members of the local and state bar, representatives of state and federal agencies, alumni and people from the community.

In addition to a complete collection of all Michigan legal materials, the Library contains the reported cases of the highest courts and most of the lower court reports of all states and territories of the United States as well as current statutory compilations. It also contains other state materials such as legislative reports, session laws, attorney general reports, court rules and jury instructions. There are sets of all federal cases, statutes, treaties and court rules available in numbers adequate for active research by students and faculty. In addition, the Library has research aids such as digests, citators, legal encyclopedias, dictionaries, form books, loose-leaf services, indexes and reference works.

The collection includes information in books, journals, loose-leaf services and U.S. government documents and in various formats such as paper, CD-ROM, video, audio, and on the Internet. Special collections include the Alwyn V. Freeman International Law Collection, the Driker Antitrust Law Collection, the Jewish Law Collection, Michigan probate court opinions, Michigan Superfund site documents, U.S. Supreme Court Records and Briefs (original historical volumes from 1897-1935 and microfiche to the present), Michigan Supreme Court Records and Briefs from 1854 to the present, and U.S. Congressional documents from 1818 to the present. The Law Library provides access to over 200 titles on CD-ROM. Many electronic resources are now on the World Wide Web and accessible from the Law Library's homepage.

The total combined collections of the University's seven libraries exceed 2.9 million volumes. Students have access to the materials in the Shiffman Medical Library, the Purdy/Kresge Graduate Library, the Science and Engineering Library, the newly opened Oakland Center and the modern Undergraduate Library Center (opened fall 1997). These collections support the multidisciplinary interests of the students and the research of the faculty. Materials that are not part of the University Library System's collections are obtained for Wayne State University students and faculty from other libraries in the state, in the country or the world within days and sometimes hours. The libraries of the Detroit Public Library and the Detroit Institute of Arts are within walking distance and are part of the Detroit Area Library Network (DALNET).

Georgia A. Clark, B.S., A.M.L.S., serves as the Law Library Director. She is assisted by a staff of librarians with experience in foreign and international law as well as the newest information and instructional technology. The staff includes an assistant director, a cataloger, a public services librarian, and an access services librarian. Full-time support staff and part-time student assistants contribute to the research and service mission of the Law Library. Reference and research assistance is available during the daytime, the evening and a portion of the weekend.

The majority of the study space in the Law Library makes use of natural light. Reading tables, adjacent to the book shelves, as well as wired carrels, are available throughout the building. Rooms are available for Wayne State University law students' group discussion and study.

The Law Library has comfortable study spaces that use natural light, located near the bookshelves. Many spaces are equipped with communications ports and electrical outlets for convenient use of notebook computers. The Library also has numerous small study rooms that students may use for group discussion and study.

An important new feature is the new twenty-four station computer laboratory, featuring personal computers, available for the exclusive use of Wayne State law students. Numerous other public computer stations located throughout the library offer access to word processing, the online catalog and journal indices, and the Internet. In addition to the computing facilities in the Law School complex, students have access to more than 1,700 computers in other University libraries.

LAW DEGREES

The Law School offers academic programs leading to the degrees of Juris Doctor (J.D.) and Master of Laws (LL.M.). The J.D. is a graduate degree requiring a baccalaureate degree as a prerequisite. The LL.M. is a graduate degree offered by the Law School in the fields of taxation, labor law, and corporate and finance law which requires the J.D. or its equivalent as a prerequisite.

JURIS DOCTOR (J.D.) PROGRAM

First-year Programs

The Law School offers three programs for the first year of law study. Students may enroll in a full-time day program, a full-time combined day/evening program or a part-time evening program. All first-year programs begin only in the fall term.

Students in the first-year day program must enroll in all seven required courses: Property, Torts, Contracts, Civil Procedure, Constitutional Law, Criminal Law, and Legal Research and Writing. First-year day students should not be engaged in employment, even on a part-time basis.

The combined program is designed to meet the needs of students who wish to complete law school in three years, but who prefer to take several evening classes. The combined program may be elected by any applicant. Students take four or five of the seven first-year required courses and may take an elective course. In the second year, they take in the evening division any first-year required course they did not complete in their first year of law school and may take additional upperclass courses in the day or evening division. The combined-program students who attend summer school may complete the J.D. degree in three years. Combined-program students enrolled in 27 credits for the first academic year are strongly discouraged from employment, even on a part-time basis, during the first year of law school.

Students in the first-year evening program must enroll in all three required courses. Classes meet from 6:10-8:10 Monday through Thursday. Property, Torts, Criminal Law and Constitutional Law I are required in the second year. Students who begin law school in the evening division and enroll in eight credit hours per semester can complete requirements for the J.D. degree in five and one-half years. Students who begin in the part-time program are permitted up to six years to complete the degree. Evening students may accelerate their completion by taking more than eight credits per semester and by taking courses in the summer term. If a part-time evening student wishes to become full-time after the first year, he or she may do so. The student is required to take the Property, Torts and Criminal Law courses in the evening, but may concurrently enroll in day courses to make a full-time schedule.

Upper-Class Program

After completion of the first-year program, students may choose from among a large number of elective courses and seminars covering a broad range of subjects. Students may elect courses that meet in the day or evening or a combination of day and evening. It is not uncommon for evening students to elect from day classes and vice versa, and for upper-class students to change from one program to the other. Both day and evening upper-class students may accelerate by electing courses in the eight-week summer semester.

Law students interested in interdisciplinary study, but who do not want to pursue a joint degree, may elect up to four law-related graduate level courses in other departments of Wayne State University. One graduate level course may be elected each semester, and J.D. credit for graduate courses must be approved in advance by the Assistant Dean for Academic Services.

Admissions

For a complete statement of the admissions procedures and requirements as well as recommended preparation for the study of law see page 210.

Opportunities for Research and Writing

The Law School offers first-year students an excellent foundation in research and writing, including training in computer research. Upper-class students have the opportunity to pursue research in areas of their interest and enhance their writing skills by electing from the wide variety of courses, seminars and directed studies, and by participation in the Law Review.

Legal Research and Writing Courses

The Legal Research and Writing Program offers two courses: the four-credit Legal Research and Writing course required for first-year students and the three-credit Legal Writing: Advanced course available to upper-class students. Under the leadership of the Director of Legal Research and Writing, the program has earned an outstanding reputation. The Director and four other full-time instructors are experienced teachers who practiced law or were judicial clerks prior to teaching. The first-year Legal Research and Writing course begins with an intensive orientation program, which introduces new students to the court system, the case method of legal education, and methods of legal analysis. Following orientation, the Legal Research and Writing course meets once a week. Students also meet with their instructors in individual conferences. Course enrollment is small to allow for maximum student-teacher interaction and timely feedback on assignments. In the fall semester students research legal issues using Law Library materials and computer legal research programs and complete a series of memoranda designed to improve legal writing and analysis skills. Instruction in the course is coordinated with work in other first-year courses. Students draft pleadings in conjunction with the Civil Procedure course, and, with the assistance of the Contracts professors, students negotiate and draft a contract. In the winter semester the Legal Research and Writing course focuses on appellate advocacy skills; the major assignment is an appellate court brief based on a comprehensive trial court record and lower court decision. Students end the course by presenting an argument based on their brief to a three-judge mock appellate court composed of local attorneys, many who are graduates of this fine program. To prepare for their argument, students may attend sessions of state and federal trial and appellate courts whose judges visit the Law School and hear arguments in actual cases. Students also practice their arguments before upper-class students in the Moot Court program.

After completion of the first-year Legal Research and Writing course, students may elect the advanced writing course. Legal Writing: Advanced is offered each summer term and allows students to enhance their skills in persuasive writing by preparing two trial-level briefs and an appellate brief. Enrollment in the course is limited to fourteen students to encourage student participation in discussions and to permit students to engage in peer review.

Seminars and Directed Studies

The Law School provides numerous opportunities for students to engage in research and writing under faculty supervision. After the first year, students may enroll in a directed study (LEX 7990) for one or two credits and research and write a paper under the supervision of a member of the faculty. The number of credits and scope and subject matter of the project are determined by the faculty member who supervises the research and grades the paper. A maximum of four credits of the 86 credits required for the J.D. degree may be approved for directed study. Students with a special interest in commercial law may enroll in Commercial Law: Directed Research (LEX 7106), engaging in research projects the first year and may also enroll a second year and complete a writing project in that year.

Students also have opportunities to engage in research and writing by enrolling in one of a large selection of seminars offered by full-time faculty members in their areas of specialty. Seminar enrollment is limited to twenty-five or fewer students to encourage the widest possible participation in class discussion. Students enrolled in a seminar complete a substantial analytic paper and have the opportunity to share their paper with the other students in a discussion format. The faculty encourages students to publish their written work in law journals and other periodicals. A number of prizes are awarded each year for scholarly writing.

The Wayne Law Review and The Journal of Law in Society

The Wayne Law Review, published since 1954, is one of the Law School's official scholarly journals. Three of the four annual issues include articles of general academic and professional interest authored by practicing attorneys and law professors, as well as comments written by Law Review members. A fourth issue is an annual survey of developments in Michigan law and is widely read by members of the Michigan legal community. In addition to providing a forum for the discussion of important legal issues, The Wayne Law Review offers an opportunity for students to enhance their research and writing skills and further their knowledge of the law.

Students are invited to join The Wayne Law Review either on the basis of high academic standing or the writing competition held each summer. Each student selected serves as an assistant editor, and, in addition to weekly editing assignments, is required to write an article of publishable quality on a legal topic of his or her choice. The Law Review facilities include separate offices for the executive board editors, individual carrels for each member, a library with a complete set of Michigan materials and modern computer research and word processing equipment.

After the first year of participation, students may take on significantly greater responsibility by election to the senior editorial board. The board, selected from among the first-year members by the prior year's board, both manages the publication of the journal and selects and edits the articles to be published. All senior members have the option of writing an additional article. The Gushée Prize is awarded to the junior or senior member who writes the best article published each year. For all members, Law Review involves a significant time commitment, but it offers an unparalleled opportunity for growth in understanding legal issues and a prestigious credential well-recognized by the judiciary and the practicing bar.

The Journal of Law in Society provides a forum for the scholarly evaluation of the law in relation to various segments of society. It often contains articles which are an outgrowth of an annual symposium the Journal offers each spring on topics such as affirmative action, environmental justice, reparations for slavery, school vouchers, and gentrification. Students are chosen on the basis of their performance in a writing competition which is held each spring.

Degree Requirements

The Juris Doctor degree is conferred upon students who are admitted as candidates for the degree and who have satisfactorily completed the program of study prescribed in the Academic Regulations of the Law School. Students must apply for the degree in the Law School Records Office at the beginning of the semester in which they plan to complete degree requirements.

The following are the requirements for the Juris Doctor degree:

- 1) A baccalaureate or equivalent degree upon admission.
- 2) Completion of each of the following required courses (with final grades of at least 'D'): Contracts, Property, Civil Procedure, Criminal Law, Torts, Constitutional Law I and Professional Responsibility; and completion of Legal Research and Writing (with a final grade of at least 'LP' — low pass).
- 3) Upperclass writing requirement: All students entering the Law School in Fall 2001 and thereafter must participate in one or more programs offering a rigorous writing experience after their first year.
- 4) Completion of three years in residence. (Students receive a half-year in residence for each semester of 10 credits or more and a quarter-year in residence for each summer term of five credits or more. Fewer credits earn years in residence at the ratio of one semester hour equals .05 years in residence. Students may not earn more than a half-year in residence for a fall or winter term nor more than a quarter-year in residence for a summer term.)

5) Completion of a minimum 86 semester credit hours and overall average of 'C' (2.0) or better on all credit hours completed.

6) The final year of study must be completed at this Law School.

7) Students who enter law school as full-time students have up to five years to complete degree requirements; students who enter as part-time students have up to six years to complete degree requirements.

Law School Academic Regulations

The faculty of the Law School has adopted academic regulations which cover degree requirements, examinations and other academic matters. Compliance with the regulations is required of all law students. The Academic Regulations are available in the Law School Records Office or on the Law School website: <http://www.law.wayne.edu>

SPECIAL CURRICULAR PROGRAMS

Internships

Taking advantage of its location at the center of one of this country's largest metropolitan areas, the Law School offers students a broad range of opportunities for practical legal training through its internship program. The program is a cooperative effort between the Law School and courts; prosecutor and public defender offices; and various nonprofit law offices and governmental agencies. Under standards established by the Law School, the work of student interns is supervised directly by practicing attorneys. Students have served as interns for academic credit for justices of the Michigan Supreme Court, judges of the Michigan Court of Appeals and many state circuit courts as well as judges of the United States Court of Appeals and District Courts. They have also served as interns in many prosecutors' offices and at the State Appellate Defender Office. Internships provide experiences in specialty areas such as tax law (Internal Revenue Service District Counsel) and labor law (National Labor Relations Board and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission). Over twenty-five government offices and nonprofit agencies and numerous judges participate in the internship program.

Internships, which are open to upper-class students in good standing, give student participants a chance to apply the important analytical skills learned in the classroom to the solution of real legal problems. An internship with a court, for example, can provide students with insight into the operation of courts that cannot be provided easily in the classroom. Students interested in doing an internship must obtain the consent of the Director of Clinical Education. Students spend from eight to twelve hours per week in the fall or winter semesters and sixteen to twenty-four hours per week in the shorter summer semester in the field on work relating to their internship and receive two or three credits for the semester's work. In addition, students take an internship class that meets regularly throughout the semester.

Intellectual Property Law Institute (I.P.L.I.)

Since several Wayne State University Law School faculty members are experts in areas of intellectual property law, the Law School is able to offer a remarkable variety of courses in such areas as patent, copyright and trademark law.

In addition to these courses, Law School students have the opportunity to take courses at another Detroit law school and at a law school across the border in Canada through the Intellectual Property Law Institute (I.P.L.I.).

I.P.L.I. was created in 1987 as a cooperative effort of the law faculties of Wayne State University, the University of Detroit Mercy and the University of Windsor in Ontario. The Institute offers an exceptional, rich curriculum for law students with courses and seminars in patent, copyright, trademark, computer and related technology, communications and media law and entertainment law. Law students who enroll in I.P.L.I. courses pay tuition to their home institution. Wayne State students receive transfer credit for I.P.L.I. courses taken at the other law schools.

International Programs and Publications

Wayne State University Law School offers a large number of courses in the area of international law. In addition to the courses at Wayne State, students can take courses at the University of Windsor Faculty of Law just across the border in Canada.

The Law School also sponsors two international student exchange programs, a fellowship for summer study at the Hague, and houses a leading publication project in the field of international and comparative criminal law.

Center for Legal Studies

The Wayne State University Center for Legal Studies provides the University and the wider community it serves with a forum for communication, collaboration and research on legal issues. Sharing the University's urban mission to teach and serve, the Center for Legal Studies has three main objectives: to promote interdisciplinary communication and collaboration among faculty members at the University who share research and teaching interests in law and law-related fields; to encourage and facilitate interdisciplinary research on topics related to the law; and to promote and enhance opportunities for the interdisciplinary study of law at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

The Center's academic program focuses on an interdisciplinary approach to legal studies, rather than training students for the practice of law as a profession. The Center for Legal Studies offers an undergraduate minor in legal studies through the College of Liberal Arts. Its focus is on understanding law and legal institutions in their social and historical context, from a multidisciplinary perspective. Over 70 courses are available to undergraduate students who elect the minor in legal studies. Faculty who teach in the program are located throughout the University, giving students a rich interdisciplinary perspective.

In addition, the Center promotes joint graduate degree programs in law and related fields; encourages interdisciplinary study by law students and others; provides faculty with information on funding opportunities for law-related research; maintains a faculty interest profile; and sponsors and plans lectures, conferences and workshops.

The Center for Legal Studies hosts a monthly lecture series featuring reports on law-related research conducted by Wayne State University faculty. It also sponsors visiting lectures by academic and professional scholars, and organizes conferences which bring together diverse segments of the community to focus on issues of common interest. In doing so, the Center serves not only the Wayne State academic community, but also the public at large in the Detroit metropolitan area, southeastern Michigan and throughout the state and region.

More information on the Center for Legal Studies may be obtained by telephone, (313) 577-3947, or on the Internet at <http://www.law.wayne.edu.cls>

JOINT DEGREE PROGRAMS

Law students may pursue joint degree programs in law and economics, law and history, law and political science, law and business administration, and law and dispute resolution. The programs lead to receipt of a J.D. from the Law School and a M.A. from the Economics, History or Political Science Department of the College of Liberal Arts, or a M.B.A. from the School of Business Administration, or a Master of Arts in Dispute Resolution (M.A.D.R.) from the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs. Students must be admitted separately to the J.D. and the master's degree programs. Each of the joint degree programs contemplates that the student spend his or her first year taking law courses followed by two-and-a-half to three years of concurrent studies.

Law and Business Administration

Law students who wish to enroll in the joint program leading to the J.D. and M.B.A. degrees may apply for admission to the M.B.A. program at the School of Business Administration during their first year of law school. As a part of the application process, the student will have to take the Graduate Management Admission Test (G.M.A.T.). In the M.B.A. program, students may choose from courses in the areas of accounting, finance and business economics, industrial relations, international business, management and organizational behavior, information systems, personnel/human resources, management marketing, quality management and taxation. In the J.D. program, students may enroll in a wide variety of courses in commercial and banking law, corporate, business and antitrust law, tax law and labor and employment law. Students who have met pre-M.B.A. foundation requirements ordinarily will be able to meet both J.D. and M.B.A. degree requirements in four years of full-time study.

Law and Dispute Resolution

The joint program in law and dispute resolution leads to the receipt of a J.D. degree from the Law School and a Master's degree in Dispute Resolution from the Dispute Resolution Program of the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs. Law students may apply to the Master's in Dispute Resolution program at any time before their second year of law school. After acceptance, they may start their studies in the dispute resolution program after successful completion of their first year of law studies. The overall objective of the joint program is to provide law students with breadth and depth in alternative dispute resolution strategies. The joint degree program can be completed in three and one-half years.

Law and Economics

The joint degree program in law and economics leads to the receipt of a J.D. from the Law School and an M.A. from the Economics Department of the College of Liberal Arts. Law students may apply to the Economics Department for admission to the M.A. program, and upon admission may enroll in economics courses after successful completion of their first year of legal studies. Law students will acquire breadth and depth in economic concepts and statistical methods that are used to an increasing extent in trials. The joint program may be completed in as little as one semester more than the three-year period normally required for the J.D. degree alone

Law and History

The joint degree program in law and history leads to the receipt of a J.D. from the Law School and an M.A. from the History Department of the College of Liberal Arts. Law students may apply to the History Department for admission to the M.A. program, and upon admission may enroll in history courses after successful completion of their first year of legal studies. In the M.A. program, students may focus their studies on chronological history, including Roman, Western European and American backgrounds of law; on subjects related to specific areas of law practice such as labor, business or political history; or on the historical context of the lawyer's role in public policy making in domestic and international affairs. The joint degree program can be completed in three-and-one-half to four years of full-time study. A brochure more fully describing the joint degree program in law and history is available from the History Department or the Law School.

Law and Political Science

The joint program in law and political science permits a student to obtain both the J.D. degree and an M.A. in political science with a concentration in public policy. Students interested in the joint program should apply to the Political Science Department for admission to the M.A. program during their first year of Law School. As part of the M.A. program students may take courses focusing on public policy, political institutions and processes, and economics. Both a master's essay and written comprehensive examination are required for the M.A. degree in political science. As part of the J.D. program, students may take courses in constitutional law, administrative law and other areas of government law. The joint degree program generally requires four years of full-time study.

Other Graduate Study

Law School students may pursue a master's or other graduate degree in fields other than business administration, economics, dispute resolution, history or political science concurrently with their legal education. Upon completion of their first year of legal studies, students may apply to the appropriate school or college of the University for admission. If admitted, students may divide their time between the Law School and the concurrent program of study, devoting sufficient time to each to meet the academic and residence requirements of both schools. Students are not allowed to apply credit for law courses toward another graduate degree or to apply credit toward the J.D. degree for course work taken in another graduate program other than in the approved joint degree programs.

Bar Admission

Applications and information about the Michigan Bar Examination can be obtained by writing to the State Bar of Michigan Committee on Character and Fitness, 306 Townsend, Lansing, Michigan 48933-2083. Students who contemplate practicing law in states other than Michigan should consult bar examiners of those states at the earliest opportunity regarding the requirements of such states. In several states, prospective candidates are required to notify the bar examiners of their intention of taking the examination upon graduation when they begin law study.

Although the curriculum of the Law School is not primarily designed for preparing students to pass the various state bar examinations, substantially all of the subject matter of the examinations is covered adequately in the regular courses. The objective of the Law School is the development of an understanding of the theory of law, its application and the techniques of practice — in other words, to prepare a student for the practice of law.

ADMISSIONS PROCEDURES

Preparation for Law Study

The Law School has no requirements with respect to the content of pre-legal education, but the Admissions Committee will take into account the nature of college work completed as well as the grades achieved. Proficiency in the English language, both written and spoken, and in analytical skills is essential to the study of law.

The suggestions for prelaw preparation in The Official Guide to A.B.A.-Approved Law Schools, published by the Law School Admission Council, are excellent. This guide contains material on the legal profession and the study of law, and information on each American Bar Association (A.B.A.) accredited law school. It may be ordered from the Law School Admission Services (LSAS) in Newtown, Pennsylvania, and is available in most bookstores and libraries. Prospective students are welcome to come into the Wayne State University Law School Admissions Office during regular office hours to look at the official guide and other law school reference materials.

Admissions Policy

An applicant for admission to the Wayne State University Law School J.D. program must have a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university upon matriculation. (Prior to registration, each admitted student must arrange for the Law School to receive an official transcript from the degree-granting institution as proof of the grant of the degree.) Each applicant must also take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) and register with the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS). Applicants should take the LSAT no later than February of the year in which they intend to enroll. Upon request to the Admissions Office, applicants may be given permission to take the next LSAT in June, but should understand that most admissions decisions are made before June LSAT scores become available. The Admissions Office will accept LSAT scores up to five years old.

It is the goal of the Law School's Admissions Committee to ensure that the entering class is composed of the most highly qualified applicants. The Committee believes that, initially, the educational process during law school and the legal profession are best served by an admissions process that results in the selection of a diverse and talented student body.

The Committee considers the following factors in reaching admissions decisions:

- 1) The applicant's academic achievement and potential, as shown by the LSAT score and undergraduate grade point average;
- 2) Any special features of the applicant's academic record which may have had an impact on his or her grade point average, such as the age of the undergraduate grades or any marked improvement in grades shown in the later years of college;
- 3) Other relevant personal qualities and characteristics of significance, such as racial and ethnic background, socioeconomic and educational disadvantage, work and volunteer experience, leadership qualities, commitment to community service and communication skills. Applicants are urged to discuss any or all of these relevant factors in their personal statement, which is required as part of the application process.

Reconsideration

An applicant may request reconsideration of an adverse admissions decision by writing a letter to the Assistant Dean for Recruitment and Admissions stating the specific reasons why reconsideration is thought to be merited. The application will then be reviewed and reconsidered by the Admissions Committee. In the past, applicants who have successfully petitioned for reconsideration are those who have submitted updated information such as new test scores or additional grades.

Deferred Admissions

The Law School does not defer admissions. Anyone who withdraws from the class must submit a new application and fee for the subsequent year for which he or she seeks admission.

Reduced Program

The first-year day program curriculum is mandatory, but day students who have child care responsibilities or significant health care concerns may be permitted to take a slightly reduced course load. The applicant must submit a written request prior to registration to the Assistant Dean for Recruitment and Admissions setting forth the personal circumstances justifying the request for admission as a reduced-load student.

A Visit to the Law School

Prospective applicants are encouraged to visit the Law School and tour the Law School and University campus, attend a first-year class, participate in informal discussions with students about law school, and consult with a member of the Admissions Office staff about admissions policies, procedures and other concerns.

Application Procedures

There is a great deal of competition for the entering class at Wayne State University Law School. The Law School received approximately 1,800 applications for the 2003-2004 academic year, and fewer than one-half of the applicants were offered admission. The median undergraduate grade point average of the 2003-2004 entering class was 3.5 and the median LSAT score was 156. Applicants for admission to the first-year class are admitted to the fall term only.

Instructions to Apply for Admission to the First-Year Class

Applications for admission are accepted beginning October 1. Applications filed on or before March 15 receive priority consideration. Applicants are encouraged to apply before this priority date because the Law School has a rolling admissions process.

The applicant's file will be ready for consideration when the Admissions Office has received all of the following:

- 1) The Law School Application for Admission signed and dated by the applicant, with all required information on the application;
- 2) The nonrefundable application fee, submitted with the application, of $30 for U.S. citizens or permanent residents, and $50 for non-U.S. citizens. Checks or money orders should be made payable to Wayne State University. Checks drawn on Canadian or other foreign banks should carry the notation 'Payable in U.S. Funds Plus Service Charge.' Applicants should not send cash;
- 3) A brief personal statement designed to call to the attention of the Admissions Committee any experiences, interests, unusual circumstances or any other information which the applicant believes would help the committee evaluate his or her potential for success at the Law School. The Law School does not grant requests for personal interviews, so it is important for the applicant to include any special circumstances or other relevant factors in his or her personal statement;
- 4) The LSDAS Report, sent by LSDAS which will include the applicant's LSAT score(s), copies of transcripts from all of the U.S. undergraduate schools the applicant has attended and an analysis and summary of the transcripts. (The applicant must direct each U.S. undergraduate school attended to send a transcript to LSDAS. If the applicant's transcripts are not sent directly to LSDAS, LSDAS will not complete its report and the application will be incomplete.) An applicant who earned his or her bachelor's or equivalent degree from a college or university outside the U.S., Canada or Puerto Rico, is not eligible to subscribe to LSDAS. Such applicants should subscribe to a credentials evaluation service, such as the World Education Services, Inc.;

5) A letter of recommendation from an individual, such as a college professor or department chairperson, who can comment on the applicant's intellectual abilities and academic performance. An applicant who has been out of school for a number of years may substitute a letter of recommendation from an employer. To expedite completion of the applicant's file, he/she is encouraged to have the recommendation letter sent directly to LSDAS. (It may, however, be sent to the Law School.) Only one letter of recommendation is required, but the Admissions Office will review up to two letters.

Admissions Decisions

Applicants with high LSAT scores and grade point averages are administratively admitted and applicants with very low scores may be administratively denied admission. Applicants who are neither administratively admitted nor denied are placed in the discretionary pool. The Admissions Committee reviews applications from the discretionary pool and decides whether to admit, deny or wait list. Although a rolling admissions process is generally employed, discretionary admission decisions are the most difficult and usually made later in the admission year. The Admissions Committee is composed of Law School faculty members assisted by administrative staff. The administrative staff provides information, recommendations and other assistance to the faculty members who vote on the individual applications.

Transfer Applicants

A transfer applicant must have completed all of the first-year day or evening courses required by his or her ABA-accredited law school. Applicants must have superior law school academic credentials to be offered admission. Transfer students are admitted to the fall term only. The application deadline for transfer applicants is July 1.

A transfer applicant's file will be ready for consideration when the Admissions Office has received all of the following:

- 1) The Law School Application for Admission;
- 2) An official transcript sent directly from the applicant's law school including the final grades recorded for all law school courses completed (a photocopy will not be accepted);
- 3) A letter of good standing from the dean of the applicant's law school;
- 4) A copy of the applicant's LSDAS report;
- 5) An official transcript sent directly from the applicant's degree-granting undergraduate school.

Guest Student Applicants for Fall and/or Winter Term(s): The transfer applicant requirements and procedures outlined above apply to a law student who wishes to enroll at Wayne State University Law School for one or two terms as a guest student and who intends to transfer credit back to his or her 'home' law school. In the case of a guest student, the letter of good standing should also include a statement granting permission for the applicant to attend Wayne State University Law School for the semester(s) indicated, an agreement to transfer credits earned at the Law School and any other requirements or limitations.

Guest Student Applicants for Summer Term: A student from another ABA-accredited law school may take one or two summer courses at Wayne State University Law School provided the student is in good standing and receives permission from his or her 'home' law school. Application should be made on the Law School Summer Guest Application available from the Admissions Office.

MASTER OF LAWS (LL.M.) PROGRAM

The graduate program offers the degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) in the fields of labor law, taxation and corporate and finance law. It is primarily a part-time evening program designed to meet the needs of practicing lawyers for advanced specialized training, although students may elect a full-time schedule.

In addition to receiving credit for courses offered by the Law School, an LL.M. student may also receive credit for approved graduate courses from other schools of the University that apply to the student's field of study.

Admission Requirements:

Graduation from an American Bar Association-approved law school in the United States that is a member of the American Association of Law Schools (AALS) is normally required before an applicant can be considered for admission to this program. Consideration is also given to graduates of non-AALS member schools and to law graduates from other common-law countries with equivalent J.D. (or LL.B.) degrees and to students with distinguished academic records from non-common-law countries. Foreign applicants must demonstrate basic English language proficiency. A score of 600 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) is required.

Application for Admission:

TUITION, FINANCIAL AID and SCHOLARSHIPS

Tuition and fees cited are in effect as of the publication of this bulletin and are subject to change at any time without notice by action of the Board of Governors. Consult the official Law School Schedule of Classes, published in advance of each term, for tuition and fees in effect at the time of registration. In accordance with action of the Board of Governors, a portion of these fees is used for operation of the Student Center.

TUITION FOR J.D. AND LL.M. PROGRAMS:

Resident: $364.50 per credit

Non-Resident: $755.00 per credit

NOTE; J.D. And LL.M. students who elect graduate-level courses in other University schools and colleges pay regular graduate resident or nonresident fees, see page 20.

For additional information regarding fees, payment of tuition, and residency see 'Tuition and Fees' in the General Information section of this Bulletin, beginning on page 20.

Financial Aid

Resident tuition at Wayne State University Law School is considerably less than half the amount charged by the five other law schools in Michigan. The Law School's Financial Aid Department provides counseling and aids students in financing their education with the least debt at the lowest rates of interest. The department administers a variety of programs that provide financial assistance to students who otherwise would be unable to meet the costs of their Law School education. Assuming eligibility, students are awarded a financial aid package which may include grants, loans and work study from the following financial aid programs.

Board of Governors Grants

These grants are provided by the Law School and are applied to tuition costs. The amounts vary up to a maximum of $3,000 for the academic year (fall and winter terms).

Federal Perkins Loan

The maximum a student may borrow under this program is $3,000 for an academic year (fall and winter terms). Repayment begins and interest (at the rate of 5 percent) starts to accrue nine months after graduation.

Federal Stafford Loan

The maximum a student may borrow under this program is $8,500 for the year (fall, winter and summer terms). Interest varies based on the treasury bill rate to a cap of 8.25 percent. Repayment begins and interest starts to accrue six months after graduation.

Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan

The maximum a student may borrow under this program is $18,500 per year (fall, winter and summer terms), except that the maximum is reduced by any amount a student borrows in that year from The Federal Stafford Loan program. Regardless of financial need, a student may receive a direct unsubsidized Stafford Loan up to the standard budget amount (or $18,500, whichever is lower), but only after the student has been awarded his or her maximum Federal Stafford Loan. Interest on the Unsubsidized Stafford Loan varies based on the treasury bill rate up to a cap of 8.25 percent. Interest starts to accrue when the loan is received and continues while the student is in school. Students have the option of paying the monthly interest while in school. Repayment begins six months after graduation.

Federal and Michigan Work-Study

A student may be employed with the Law School's Free Legal Aid Clinic, with the Law Library, as a research assistant to a law professor, with a University department or with an employer that has a work-study contract with the University. The maximum award is $3,500 for the academic year (fall and winter terms), and $4,500 for the summer term. The Law School strongly discourages full-time first-year students from any employment. For that reason, work-study awards are not offered to law students until after they have completed their first year of studies. The Michigan Work-Study program is available only to Michigan residents during terms in which the student is enrolled at least half-time.

Eligibility and Policies

The following summarizes eligibility requirements and University policies for the above financial aid programs.

Foreign Students: All financial aid programs require that a student be either a U.S. citizen or a permanent U.S. resident.

Part-time J.D. Students: J.D. students must be enrolled at least part-time (five to nine credits for the fall and winter terms) to be eligible for the financial aid programs. However, in order to be eligible for a Board of Governors Grant, a J.D. student must be enrolled full time (at least 10 credits for the fall and the winter semesters).

LL.M. Students: LL.M. students who are enrolled at least part time (four to seven credits each term) are eligible for financial aid programs. However, LL.M. students are not eligible for Board of Governors Grants.

Summer Term Awards: Board of Governors Grants are not awarded for the regular summer term.

Federal Perkins Loans are not awarded for a summer term. Upper-class J.D. students who are enrolled at least part-time for a summer term (three or four credit hours) are eligible for their remaining need via the Stafford Loan and work-study programs. Law students who are not enrolled in law courses for the summer term may be eligible for the federal work-study program.

Guest and Defaulted Students: Students in either of these categories are not eligible for financial aid funds at Wayne State University. Guest students should contact their home school for assistance. Wayne State University does not participate in consortium agreements with other universities; it will, however, sign the agreement allowing the student's home school to process and forward funds on his/her behalf while attending.

Satisfactory Academic Progress: After the first year of law school, in order to be eligible for financial aid, a law student must meet the requirement of satisfactory academic progress, which, in the case of J.D. students, is defined by the Academic Regulations of the Law School, and in the case of LL.M. students is defined by the University.

Default: Eligibility for financial aid assumes that the student is not in default on any federal or nonfederal student loan. Students who are in default should contact their loan servicing center for assistance to re-establish eligibility.

Determining Need

The Law School Financial Aid Department determines each financial aid applicant's need by a standard method of analysis. Each year the school sets standard budgets that will adequately cover tuition, books and certain living expenses. A student's need is determined by deducting the expected contribution of the student toward his or her own education from the standard budget.

Application and Deadlines

To apply for financial aid, a student should complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the Federal Renewal Application and file it electronically with the federal processor (the FAFSA/Renewal data will be received electronically by WSU).

Students whose FAFSA/Renewal forms are received by the Federal Processor on or before March 15 will be considered for Board of Governors Grants. Those students who miss the March 15 filing and submission date should still complete the financial aid process and submit required forms promptly.

Students are no longer required to submit financial aid transcripts from post-secondary schools attended, except that currently enrolled law students must obtain a financial aid transcript from law schools they attended as a guest student.

All processing of Federal Stafford and Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loans is now done electronically through the Sallie Mae Servicing Center. Students should not obtain loan applications from banks.

A Financial Aid Handbook that gives more detailed information on financial aid programs is available from the Law School Financial Aid Department. The handbook also includes information about the Mi-Loan, private loans and the Bar Loan.

Law School Grants and Loans

The Law School has two small grant funds and several loan funds.

Ruth and Mitchell Bacow Scholarship Fund

Established in 1986 by Ruth and Mitchell Bacow, this fund provides grants or loans to law students with financial need.

These funds include the Leon Cousens Memorial Loan Fund, the Emergency Loan Fund, the Alexander Freeman Loan Fund, the George N. and Phyllis J. Parris Loan Fund, the Joseph S. Radom Loan Fund, the Michael L. Stacey Loan Fund, the William D. Traitel Loan Fund, the Ernest C. Wunch Student Loan Fund and the Law School Loan Fund. Applications for loans from any of these funds are available from the Law School Assistant Dean for Academic Services.

STUDENT SERVICES

Career Services

The careers of our alumni reflect well on the Law School. Wayne State University Law School alumni are established in virtually every state and many foreign countries, although most graduates choose careers in Michigan. Successful alumni include founders and senior partners in major metropolitan-area law firms, judges of the United States Courts of Appeals, justices of the Michigan Supreme Court, law school deans and professors, government leaders, public interest lawyers and those who have careers in fields such as sports and entertainment.

Through the Office of Career Services under the direction of an assistant dean, the Law School has made a major commitment to assisting students, recent graduates and alumni in transition in their efforts to plan, prepare for and pursue successful and satisfying careers. The office conducts a wide variety of recruitment programs, including on-campus interviews and career development workshops designed to introduce students to the varied opportunities in law and to provide them with skills useful to the pursuit of a meaningful career. Individual consultations and comprehensive resources are available to students and alumni engaged in employment searches.

During several weeks in the fall, and again in the spring, the office coordinates on-campus interviews with over 100 employers. A broad range of employers, including law firms, accounting firms, government entities, legal services agencies and public interest organizations interview for both post-graduate positions and summer law clerk opportunities. Employers unable to participate during the weeks set aside for on-campus interviewing may arrange to interview at other times during the academic year. For employers unable to visit campus, the Career Services Office commonly forwards student resumes as requested by out-of-state employers.

On-campus interviews and resume referrals are supplemented by other recruitment initiatives. The Career Services Office publicizes employment opportunities from hundreds of employers on its 24-hour telephone job hot line, updated weekly, and in its two publications, the Student Newsletter and Job Bulletin, published weekly, and the Alumni Newsletter and Job Bulletin, published monthly. The Student Newsletter also offers career planning advice and reports on new publications, upcoming programs, impending deadlines, summer study and graduate opportunities, internships and fellowships, writing competitions and professional organizations. The Alumni Newsletter includes market analyses, strategy advice and skills tips. The Career Services Office sponsors student participation in select national job fairs, including the Loyola University Patent Law Fair and the Black Law Student Association Midwest Regional Job Fair. Students and alumni seeking positions are provided with telephone, fax, and photocopying privileges at no charge.

Throughout the academic year the office conducts programs designed to help students identify career interests and to provide them with skills and information to pursue career opportunities. Seminars introduce students to areas of legal practice and types of employers, options in alternative or nontraditional careers, and developments in the legal employment market. In addition to its own programs, the office assists student organizations in hosting career days and sponsoring speakers on careers in specialized areas of the law. Workshops offered by the Career Services Office focus on the creation of employment search plans, preparation of effective resumes and letters, development of networking and interview skills, and utilization of on-line career search databases. Specialized presentations and services are offered for students interested in judicial clerkships. Individual consultations with the Assistant Dean for Career Services is available by appointment and during designated drop-in hours. The office has developed especially for Wayne State University Law School students its Career Services Handbook which includes an overview of its services and offers guidelines on career planning.

The office maintains an extensive career library for use by students and alumni, including reference books, directories, serials, periodicals, newspapers, commercial employment listings, videotapes and audiotapes, and selectively collected and cataloged reprints of numerous topical articles. There are also comprehensive employer profiles, as well as information on summer study programs, internships and fellowships, graduate programs, writing competitions and bar admission requirements. Computer terminals located in the office may be used for research in on-line career libraries. For students seeking public interest opportunities, the Career Services Office subscribes to the on-line database, Pro Bono Students America. Students and graduates seeking employment in areas out of state or overseas have access to specialized materials. Through reciprocity agreements with accredited law schools nationwide, those considering relocation may obtain job postings, market information, resource materials and career counseling. Newsletters with employment postings from over 75 law schools throughout the country are also available.

The office has application materials for the Michigan Bar Examination, the Multi-State Professional Responsibility Examination, and professional organizations such as the American Bar Association, State Bar of Michigan, Michigan Patent Lawyers Association, American Intellectual Property Law Association, American Trial Lawyers Association, Michigan Trial Lawyers Association, Women Lawyers Association of Michigan, and the Federal Bar Association.

Most of the Law School's graduates choose to practice in Michigan upon completion of their law studies. Private law firms attract a majority of graduates. Others accept positions with local, state and federal government, including some in prestigious judicial clerkships; corporations; public accounting firms; public interest and legal services employers; and academic institutions. Others use their law degree and legal training to advance current or prelaw school careers, or to pursue careers in business and other law-related fields.

Each year the Career Services Office conducts an employment survey of the graduating class. Of the 187 graduates in the 2000 class, 99 percent of those responding to the survey indicated that they were employed within nine months of graduation. The average salary for all 2000 graduates reporting was $57,481. The following table illustrates the distribution of known post-graduation employment of the 2000 class:

Private Firms: 56%

Government including Judicial Clerkships: 17%

Corporations: 18%

Public Interest Employers: 5%

Academic: 1%

Every employer that recruits through the Law School is expected to adhere to the school's nondiscrimination policy. In addition, both students and employers are expected to adhere to the American Bar Association standard which prohibits full-time law students from remunerative employment in excess of 20 hours per week.

Academic Counseling

Academic counseling is available at the Law School in the Office of the Assistant Dean for Academic Services. Assistance to students in choosing a program of study as well as counseling concerning course load and other academic-related matters is provided with the goals of maximizing each student's potential for academic success and best preparing each student for entry into the legal profession.

Supportive Services

The Law School's Supportive Services Office is unique, offering both academic assistance and counseling services. The program, directed by a Law School alumnus, offers one-on-one tutoring, small group sessions and academic assistance. Students are encouraged to drop by to discuss any aspect of their law studies, including course selection and schedule, study and interviewing skills. Knowing that there is someone at the Law School who will take the time to discuss any problem or concern can be very reassuring.

The Supportive Services Office also assists students with disabilities. Students requesting services should contact the office after admission to design a course of study. The office will assist the student in receiving services, reasonable accommodations and academic adjustments.

Throughout the year the Supportive Services Office sponsors seminars on topics of interest to first-year law students such as preparing for class, case briefing, stress and time management, outlining and examination writing. The office also organizes attorney/student study groups. In group meetings, attorneys, most of whom are recent Wayne State University Law School graduates, help students strengthen their analytical reasoning skills and examination writing skills. The office maintains a resource lending library with textbooks, hornbooks and substantive-law review tapes, as well as materials on first-year survival skills, law study techniques and examination writing skills. A databank of outlines is available to assist students in organizing their course work.

The Law School is committed to the academic success of all students. The Supportive Services Office provides students with assistance which will enable them to achieve that success.

ALUMNI ACTIVITIES and CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION

The Board of Visitors and the Law Alumni Association

The Board of Visitors consists of many of the Law School's most prominent graduates. The Board advises the Dean on important strategic matters. The Law Alumni Association is an independent organization of the graduates of Wayne State University Law School. Governed by graduates who serve as the executive committee and officers, the organization provides service to the Law School and its graduates through social events and support projects.

The Law School Fund

Although Wayne State University is a state-assisted school, the private contributions of alumni, law firms, corporations and other friends of the Law School provide the financial margin necessary to ensure outstanding teaching and faculty scholarship, excellent professional training, a modern and expanding library and student scholarships. The fund, growing steadily over the past several years, provides well over 10 percent of the Law School's annual resources. The alumni are asked each year to make a substantial donation to the Law School.

The Wayne Lawyer

All alumni and students receive The Wayne Lawyer, the official magazine of the Law School. Published twice each year, it provides current information about Law School activities, alumni accomplishments and profiles, a topical message from the Dean and articles of current interest written by members of the faculty.

Continuing Legal Education

The Institute of Continuing Legal Education is a nonprofit educational organization for the continuing education of the bench and bar. It was founded in 1959 under the sponsorship of Wayne State University Law School, the University of Michigan Law School and the State Bar of Michigan. The Institute, one of the most successful in the nation, serves the needs of Michigan lawyers primarily. It presents seminars and conferences dealing with numerous areas of substantive law as well as practice skills. The Institute has an extensive publishing program which includes authoritative texts on various specialty areas of the law and course handbooks.

Foreword

The College of Liberal Arts offers nineteen master's and eight doctoral degrees in the humanities and the social sciences. These programs are rigorous and yet flexible enough for students to pursue a variety of interdisciplinary studies. Faculty are selected for their excellence in teaching and research. More than two hundred faculty members are approved by the Graduate School for graduate level instruction. Graduate students in the College have ample opportunity for personal contact with faculty and are encouraged to conduct research with them. The College is committed to the diversity of students and faculty, so that learning in any degree program becomes a humanistic and social experience.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to any graduate degree program is contingent upon meeting the admission requirements of the Graduate School. For further information on these requirements, see page 17.

Preference is given to those students who have achieved superior undergraduate scholastic records and who evidence superior abilities.

All prerequisite credits must be earned prior to or concurrent with the first graduate credits. If undergraduate preparation for the major field is considered deficient, additional work may be required at the undergraduate level. Many programs have additional individual admission requirements. Students should consult the subsequent departmental sections in this bulletin for specific requirements in each field of study.

Graduate Record Examinations

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is used to assist advisers in evaluating educational preparation and to serve as a basis for planning future study. There is no uniform policy concerning GREs; some departments require GRE scores from all applicants for admission, while others require scores only from students in specified classifications. Students should consult the department in which they wish to major to determine which examinations must be taken.

Students required to take these examinations must apply at the Testing and Evaluation Office, 698 Student Center, either prior to or at the time of admission. Students who previously have taken the examination may have transcripts of these scores submitted. After the initial registration, no subsequent enrollment will be permitted nor will candidacy be authorized until examination requirements have been fulfilled.

'AGRADE' — Accelerated Graduate Enrollment

The College of Liberal Arts has established an accelerated combined undergraduate and graduate program ('AGRADE') whereby qualified seniors in the College of Liberal Arts may enroll simultaneously in some undergraduate and graduate programs of the College. A maximum of fifteen credits may be applied towards both undergraduate and graduate degrees in a student's major field if the major department is an 'AGRADE' participant. (Students should contact the chairperson of their major department to ascertain its 'AGRADE' status.) Those who elect the 'AGRADE' program may expect to complete the Bachelor's and Master's degrees in five years of full-time study.

Eligibility: 'AGRADE' applicants must have an overall g.p.a. which places them in the top twentieth percentile of the senior class (cum laude). Applicants are also expected to have performed at a superior level in their major, as determined by the major department and reflected in an g.p.a in the major of at least 3.6 at the time of application.

Application: A student seeking 'AGRADE' status should present to the Graduate Admissions Committee of his/her major department all of the materials which that department requires for normal admission, EXCEPT for the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) required by some departments. For departments in which the GRE is required, it is expected that this examination will be taken at the normal time and scores forwarded to the major department. Specific departmental admission requirements can be found in the University Graduate Bulletin or in the Graduate Office of the College of Liberal Arts (313-577-3117).

The earliest date by which a student may apply for the 'AGRADE' program is during the semester in which he/she completes ninety credits toward the undergraduate degree.

'AGRADE Credits': Students may elect a minimum of three and a maximum of fifteen 'AGRADE' credits. These will be used to complete the baccalaureate degree as well as to serve as the beginning of graduate study. Upon formal admission to a master's program, 'AGRADE' credits are transferred as if they were graduate credits transferred from a graduate program at another university. The remaining graduate credits required for the master's degree will be earned in the conventional manner following formal admission to the graduate program.

For more details about the 'AGRADE' program, contact the chairperson of the department in which 'AGRADE' enrollment is sought, or the Graduate Office of the College of Liberal Arts (313-577-3117).

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Graduate degrees are conferred not merely upon the completion of a prescribed number of courses nor necessarily after a given period of residence, but rather in recognition of each candidate's outstanding ability and high attainments as evidenced in all course work, research, scholarly writing, examinations and personal fitness for a chosen profession. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School (see pages 17-29) and College of Liberal Arts regulations. In addition to the general Graduate School requirements for degrees and to the information provided below, other requirements are specified by the individual graduate departments. Students should consult the programs and requirements of the departments in which they plan to major.

Candidacy

Candidacy is an advanced status recommended by student advisers and authorized by the Graduate School or Liberal Arts Graduate Office upon evidence of superior scholarship, appropriate personal qualities and promise of professional competence. Students should note that admission as an applicant does not assure acceptance as a candidate for a degree, and that candidacy is a necessary but not sufficient requirement for graduation.

To be eligible for candidacy, students must file officially approved Plans of Work. The Plan should provide for effective concentration in a major field, with proper supporting courses in related fields. Ph.D. applicants should file their Plan with the Graduate School; master's applicants with the graduate officer of the College of Liberal Arts. In preparing a Plan, students should evaluate with care their personal and professional objectives as well as all degree and departmental requirements. Normally, a student enrolled in a master's degree program is expected to file a Plan of Work by the time twelve graduate credits or their equivalent have been earned.

It is recommended that an approved Plan be filed by applicants for the Ph.D. degree before approximately forty credits beyond the baccalaureate degree have been earned. In addition to filing the Plan, students must have satisfied any foreign language requirements and must have passed the Final Qualifying Examination.

Commencement

Information concerning commencement announcements, caps and gowns, invitations, tickets, time and place, assembling and other relevant items will be mailed to graduates by the Alumni Office prior to the event. Candidates for advanced degrees are requested and expected to attend the commencement at which the University confers upon them the honor of the degree earned.

Master's Degree Requirements

In most master's degree programs, the minimum requirement for the degree is thirty-two credits under either Plan A or Plan B or Plan C as cited below. At least twenty-four credits must be taken in residence. At least six credits of work in the major field, in addition to the essay or thesis, must be in courses open only to graduate students (courses numbered 7000 and above).

Plan A requires twenty-four credits of course work plus an eight credit thesis.

Plan B requires twenty-nine credits of course work plus a three credit essay.

Plan C requires thirty-two credits of course work. Essay or thesis not required. Authorized only in selected areas. Most departments require a final comprehensive examination. Students should consult adviser.

These requirements vary slightly by departments; see listings under the individual departments for exact information.

DOCTORAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Preliminary Qualifying Examination

Responsibility for preliminary qualifying examinations is vested in the graduate faculty of each department; specifically, in its committee on doctoral study. Accordingly, committees may require this examination of all candidates or of any candidate prior to the final qualifying examination.

Final Qualifying Examination for Candidacy

The final qualifying examination is required of all applicants and will be a written examination. It may also contain an oral portion if the department requires one. Consult the specific department for requirements.

The written qualifying examination will cover applicant's major and minor areas and may include such other related matters as the doctoral examining committee may prescribe. If an oral qualifying examination is required it will be conducted by the departmental qualifying examination committee within sixty days after the written qualifying examination has been passed.

If an examining committee does NOT certify that the applicant has passed either the written or oral examinations, it must make specific recommendations with reference to admitting the applicant to a second examination and specify any additional work that should be completed prior to such an examination. If a second examination is held, it must be scheduled within one calendar year and shall be considered final.

Selection of the student's doctoral committee, including one member from outside the student's department, is a requirement for candidacy. Substitutions in the membership of this committee may be made until submission of the Outline and Record Form to the Graduate School. After this form is approved, any change in committee membership requires written approval from the Graduate School. This committee conducts the final dissertation defense. A Graduate Examiner, appointed by the Graduate School, presides over the defense.

Essays, Theses, and Dissertations

There is no prescribed form for the Master's essay. Essay guidelines, indicating standard style manuals for each department and title-page samples, are available in the Liberal Arts Graduate Office, 2226 Faculty/Administration Building.

Master's degree candidates under the essay plan register for the course numbered 7999, Master's Essay Direction, in the department of their major; a total of three credits must be elected.

The original copy of the essay should be submitted to the Liberal Arts Graduate Office after it is approved and signed by the adviser. This copy will be returned to the department within a reasonable time after the student has graduated.

The thesis or dissertation must be an original work, either in or definitely related to the student's major area of specialization. If proper standards of quality, objectivity, originality, and independence are maintained, candidates may use data which they have derived from their University research. Neither the results of the research nor the publication of findings can be restricted by any non-university agency nor can they be published prior to acceptance of the dissertation by the Graduate School, unless prior approval of such publication has been obtained from the adviser. Advisers have primary responsibility for approval of the essay or thesis, but every member of a doctoral committee must read, approve and sign the dissertation.

Students may not begin work on a manuscript until they have submitted an approved Plan of Work and outline form. They may then register for the thesis or dissertation and pay regular fees in the same manner as for all other course work.

Master's candidates under the thesis plan register for the course numbered 8999 in the department of their major. This course is entitled Master's Thesis Research and Direction and must be elected for a total of eight credits. Ph.D. candidates must enroll in thirty credits of doctoral dissertation direction. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

The publication and dissemination of research findings will not be restricted by the University after the manuscript has been received and accepted by the Graduate Office.

Outline and Record Form

Before students begin working on theses or dissertations, they must file outlines and record forms. Master's candidates must prepare three copies which, after receiving departmental approval, will be forwarded to the Liberal Arts Graduate Office. Doctoral candidates must prepare four copies which, after receiving departmental approval, will be forwarded to the Graduate School.

Financial Aid

For general sources of graduate financial aid, see the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34. Specific information may be found in various departmental sections of the College of Liberal Arts, below.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Anthropology

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Anthropology and a concentration in applied medical anthropology

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Anthropology and specializations in cultural anthropology, archaeology, medical anthropology, physical anthropology, urban anthropology, applied anthropology, and business and organizational anthropology.

Anthropology is a comparative social science that seeks to uncover principles that govern human behavior. Anthropology is divided into the fields of cultural, physical, and linguistic anthropology, and archaeology. Wayne State's department offers a broad-based Master of Arts degree in anthropology and a Master of Arts with a concentration in applied medical anthropology. Additionally, the Ph.D. with a major in anthropology is offered in a variety of sub-fields. The Department also offers an opportunity to pursue graduate studies in business and organizational anthropology at the M.A. and Ph.D. levels.

Today, anthropologists are employed in a wide range of areas. Some gain their livelihood in traditional institutions such as colleges, universities, and museums, but the general and specialized skills of anthropology also prepare them for employment in numerous other public and private settings. These include most notably health, governmental, and social agencies, business and organizational settings, and institutions supporting historic preservation and public archaeology. Accordingly, graduate programs in this department are designed to accommodate a variety of specific student interests and objectives.

Individuals who hold degrees in fields other than anthropology and desire admission to graduate degree programs will be individually reviewed. Admission will be allowed at the discretion of the Graduate Committee after review of the applicant's background, training, and academic standing; supplementary work may also be individually prescribed. Three letters of recommendation and a statement of personal and research goals should be sent directly to the graduate director of the department.

Scholarship: All course work completed to satisfy the following degree requirements must be done in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively. All students are required to maintain a 'B' average. A grade of 'B-minus' or below in two courses will be sufficient reason to dismiss a student from a graduate program.

A student may not register to repeat a graduate course in which he or she has received a grade of B-minus or below, without first obtaining approval in writing from the College Graduate Officer (for M.A. students), the Anthropology Graduate Committee (for Ph.D. students), and the Dean of the Graduate School (all students). No more than two courses may be repeated during the student's graduate study.

Master of Arts With a Major in Anthropology

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Additionally, applicants must satisfy the following:

- (1) The student must have completed Anthropology 2100 or its equivalent. Admission may be granted while this deficiency is remedied.
- (2) The student must submit three letters of recommendation. Forms for this purpose may be secured from the Department office and are to be returned to the Chairperson of the Graduate Committee.
- (3) The student must submit a letter of intent outlining his/her research interests and intentions in the field of anthropology, so that the Department may determine if the student's goals are compatible with its available expertise. The student may also mention any life history experience which may be helpful in the decision to admit.
- (4) The student may arrange for his/her Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores to be sent to the Department if he or she wishes.
- (5) The student must have an undergraduate grade point average (g.p.a.) of at least 3.2 except for applicants in the areas of business/organizational and medical anthropology where a minimum of 3.5 is required. Admission may be granted in exceptional cases where the grade point average is less than 3.2. Admission is contingent upon g.p.a., GRE scores (if applicable), recommendations, the compatibility of research and educational goals with departmental resources, and the availability of openings in programs with high demand.
- (6) All applications and admissions material may be submitted to the Department and Graduate Admissions at any time. Generally, all materials should be submitted by November 1 for admittance to the Winter Semester, and by April 1 for admittance in the following Fall Semester. Applicants will not be permitted to perform graduate study until all material has been received and reviewed.

Each student must file a Plan of Work prior to completion of twelve credits.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Students pursuing the M.A. in anthropology have three options, referred to as Plans A, B, and C, below. Students pursuing the M.A. with a concentration in applied medical anthropology must follow Plan C. All other applicants for the M.A. must initiate their graduate work in either Plan A or Plan B.

ANT 6300 is required for all first-year graduate students unless they have completed this course as an undergraduate. Students who have not completed ANT 2100 or the equivalent as an undergraduate must complete this course with a grade of at least 'A-minus' within their first year of graduate studies (credits for this course do not apply toward the M.A.).

Students must petition to the Graduate Committee for any exceptions to the M.A. requirements.

Plan A is designed for students who wish to conduct research and write a thesis on a topic of particular interest. One component of the thesis should be the demonstration of an ability to integrate information from at least two of the traditional sub-fields in anthropology. Students interested in Plan A must secure the agreement of their adviser and constitute an M.A. thesis committee of three faculty members, who will administer an oral examination on the thesis topic.

Twenty-one credits must be in anthropology, six of which must be in anthropology courses at the 7000 level (directed studies and thesis credits excluded; see below). The following core courses or their equivalents must be completed with a grade of 'B' or better: ANT 5140, 5200, 5210, 5270, 5320, 6300, and two 7000-level courses, including a 7000-level seminar. Any of the above requirements, with the exception of ANT 7200, 7210 and the graduate seminar, may have been completed as an undergraduate. A student who enters the M.A. program after completing a B.A. in anthropology is expected to complete the above core requirements (some of which may have been completed as an undergraduate), and in addition complete: one further course in the student's sub-field; one course in another of the three sub-fields; and one additional seminar at the 7000 level.

Plan B requires thirty-two credits. Course requirements for this option are the same as for Plan A except that a three-credit essay replaces the thesis and there is no committee or final oral examination. The essay should be directed by the student's adviser in his or her area of concentration, and must demonstrate scholarly research and analysis at the M.A. level. A second faculty reader in addition to the adviser is required for approval of the essay.

Plan C (M.A. with a Concentration in Applied Medical Anthropology): Thirty credits.

This master's degree program is not intended to lead into the doctoral program.

The following courses must be completed as an undergraduate or graduate student: ANT 5140, 5210, 5320, 5400, 5420, 5700, a statistics course, and three electives, of which two must be seminars at the 7000 level.

Additional information regarding this program is available from the Department upon request.

Doctor of Philosophy With a Major in Anthropology

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Only a limited number of applicants who have demonstrated superior ability can be accepted. To be considered for admission, a student must have a master's degree.

In addition to the transcripts and other materials required by the Graduate School, the department requires all materials cited above for admission to the Master of Arts program. An applicant's admissibility into the doctoral program will not be reviewed until all these materials have been received.

Unlike the M.A. admissions process, for the doctoral program all applications, transcripts, other documents, and fees should be sent to the Chairperson of the Graduate Committee, Department of Anthropology. For further information contact the Anthropology Graduate Coordinator. Students will be notified of admissions decisions on the final recommendation of the Graduate Committee.

Ph.D. candidacy status is established by filing a Plan of Work and successfully completing Ph.D. Qualifying Examinations. The Plan of Work should be filed at the time the student has completed ten to twelve graduate credits.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Doctor of Philosophy requires ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree, thirty of which must be earned as dissertation credit (9000-level). Once the student has attained candidate status, he/she is required to register for doctoral dissertation credits. Students must register for 9000-level credits (9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994) through the Graduate Office and must fulfill 7.5 9000-level credits each semester for four consecutive semesters (excluding spring-summer). All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College of Liberal Arts and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively.

The student is expected to have completed as an undergraduate or graduate student ANT 2100 and the core requirements for an M.A. degree in anthropology at Wayne State University. In addition, the student must complete two or more 7000-level anthropology seminars and ANT 6300, 6310, 7200, and 7210. ANT 6300 is required for all first-year graduate students. The student must also complete eight graduate-level credits (cognate credits) in a discipline outside anthropology. All eight cognate credits are to be taken within the same discipline. A minimum of thirty credits of graduate work must be at the 7000 level or above (excluding dissertation credits). Students must petition the Graduate Committee for course equivalents, substitutes, or any other exceptions to the Ph.D. requirements. The student is expected to command in detail theories, concepts, methodology, and research techniques in common usage in the student's subfield of concentration (cultural anthropology, linguistics, archaeology, or physical anthropology).

In the Qualifying Examinations, the student must establish, by written examination, competence in depth in at least three specialties and is expected to satisfactorily complete an oral examination in his/her specialties. After passing the Qualifying Examinations and prior to beginning fieldwork, the student must submit the following documents: (a) an approved doctoral dissertation outline and record of approval form; (b) a prospectus; and (c) a Human Investigations Committee Behavioral Protocol Summary Form. Additionally, the student is expected to: (1) complete substantial field research, which will ordinarily be of sufficient duration and scope to provide materials for the student's dissertation (in the case of physical anthropology and some other specializations, the dissertation may be based on laboratory research); and (2) submit an acceptable dissertation and present a final lecture.

Foreign Language Requirement: Doctoral students must demonstrate a proficiency in an approved scholarly language. Approved foreign languages include (but are not limited to) Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian and Spanish. Proficiency may be demonstrated in any of the following ways: (1) a grade of 'C' or better in one and one-half years of work in the language offered to meet the requirement (three semesters or five quarters of classwork at any accredited college or university); (2) satisfactory performance on a standardized (Educational Testing Services) examination; (3) certification of competence to carry out research in the relevant language by a member of the graduate faculty of Wayne State or an equivalent university. The nature of the tools of research and requirements for satisfactory proficiency will be determined by each student's doctoral committee. Additionally mandated tools of research may include additional statistics, mathematics, computer science and/or a field language.

Additional Information: A more detailed discussion of the doctoral program, and information on graduate study in business and industrial anthropology and in medical anthropology, is available from the department upon request. See also Graduate Degree Requirements, page 30, for information on the required minor, residency, and other University requirements.

Financial Aid

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin. The following information pertains to the Anthropology Department:

Assistantships and Fellowships: A limited number of assistantships and fellowships are available. Consult the Department Chairperson for further details.

Leonard Moss Memorial Scholarship: One or more awards are made annually to graduate students in support of tuition or an outstanding research proposal.

Barbara C. Aswad Award: Several awards are made annually to graduate students to support research in cultural anthropology.

Graduate Degree

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Classics and concentrations in ancient Greek and Latin, Latin, or Ancient Studies

MASTER OF ARTS IN LANGUAGE LEARNING

This department offers courses and programs of instruction in Latin and Greek (both ancient and modern), in the Classical literature of these languages in English translation, and in aspects of Greek and Roman culture. Graduate minor or cognate credit may be earned in classics courses in English. The substance of these studies constitutes the basis of Western civilization and education for over two thousand years. The prevalence of this heritage in a wide variety of academic disciplines affords Classics majors excellent preparation for a variety of careers: teaching at the high school or university level, professional work in law, library and information science, museum practice, political science, medicine and the health sciences (when combined with science study); or non-academic fields such as government, publishing, tourism and business, where intelligence and a broad liberal education are valued. The Department offers cognate work for majors in other departments.

Scholarship: All course work for the following degrees must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively.

Graduate Degree

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Criminal Justice

The Criminal Justice graduate program is a professional course of study designed to prepare persons for positions of leadership in the administration of justice. The study of criminal justice begins with analysis of the entire justice system as a force for social order. Advanced study inquires into the political, organizational, social and behavioral aspects of various components of criminal justice. Research courses give students the tools with which to independently analyze criminal justice and skills important for career development. Courses are offered in the following core areas: contemporary criminal justice, administrative law in criminal justice, police administration, and research and quantitative methods.

Master of Science with a major in Criminal Justice

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Strong undergraduate social science preparation is recommended, and additional undergraduate course work may be specified in criminal justice or related areas where such preparation is inadequate. Admission to the criminal justice graduate program is based on (1) evidence of a completed baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university, and (2) the quality of the applicant's undergraduate record as evidenced by his/her undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 or above. Applicants with a g.p.a. from 2.75 to 2.99 will be considered for admission if they have a combined Verbal and Quantitative score on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) of 1000 or above; an applicant with a g.p.a. below 2.75 will not be admitted.

The completed Application for Graduate Admission (and applicable non-refundable fee), official GRE scores, and official transcripts should be sent to: The Graduate Director, Department of Criminal Justice, 2305 Faculty/Administration Building, Wayne State University, Detroit MI 48202. (The official transcript must be sent by the applicant's undergraduate school/college directly to the Graduate Director.) In addition, it is strongly suggested that three letters of recommendation (at least two of which are by former instructors of the applicant) also be sent to the Graduate Director. Questions about the admission process should be made to the Graduate Director: 313-577-2705.

Candidacy must be established by the time nine credits have been earned. An official Plan of Work must be filed by that time.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science degree is awarded upon successful completion of thirty-two credits in selected course work, including required core courses (see below) and electives, as described in the student's Plan of Work and the satisfactory completion of either a master's thesis or a master's essay. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively. Students should also obtain a copy of the Criminal Justice Department's Graduate Handbook of Degree Requirements, Policies and Procedures. The degree is offered as either a Plan A or Plan B option, as follows:

Plan A: thirty-two credits in course work including a thesis.

This plan is designed for students who intend to pursue doctoral work in the social sciences and who demonstrate exceptional ability in research methods. Consult the Department Chairperson or the Graduate Director for further details.

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Economics

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Economics

(Also see MASTER OF URBAN PLANNING with specialization in economics, under Urban Planning, page 487; and MASTER OF ARTS in Industrial Relations, under Industrial Relations, page 492.)

Economists should have broad intellectual interests as well as technical expertise. The Department encourages applications from students with strong quantitative skills, regardless of undergraduate major. Accordingly, the Department sets minimal course prerequisites for its graduate programs.

The M.A. in Economics is frequently a terminal degree leading to careers in business, public service, or junior college teaching. Because many master's students study part-time, the Department schedules the core courses in the evening.

The M.A. Program in Industrial Relations (M.A.I.R.) is also oriented toward students with full-time jobs. Sponsored jointly by the Departments of Economics, Psychology, and Management, the program prepares students for careers in industrial relations, focusing on the structure and process of collective bargaining. M.A.I.R. is described on page 492.

The new J.D. - M.A. Program, leading to a degree conferred jointly by the Department of Economics and the Law School, was established because of the steadily increasing influence of economic analysis on the law, its effect on legal scholarship and on judicial decisions. To enter this program the student must have completed the courses required for the first year of Law School at Wayne State; successful completion of Law School is required for this joint degree.

The Ph.D. curriculum provides thorough training for professional economists through course work, tutorials and research workshops. It gives students a solid foundation in economic theory and econometrics and offers a wide choice of specializations. Because the program is rigorous and adheres to strict timetables, it is not advisable to combine doctoral study with full-time employment. About two-thirds of the Department's Ph.D. graduates hold academic positions; one-third choose careers in business, research organizations or government.

Fellowships, Assistantships and Awards

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin.

Teaching and research assistantships providing tuition, stipends and health insurance are available each year to highly qualified graduate students. Fellowships and tuition scholarships are also available. Preference in selection for these positions and stipends is given to doctoral students. ## Graduate Degrees and Certificates

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in English

MASTER OF ARTS in Comparative Literature

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in English

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in American Studies

The graduate programs of the English Department offer advanced study in bibliographical and textual studies, comparative literature, composition and rhetoric, creative writing, cultural studies, film studies, folklore, gender studies, linguistics, literature (including African-American, Irish, postcolonial, and other literatures in English), popular culture and cultural studies, and women's studies. Applicants for the M.A. degree may pursue special interests by satisfying the requirements in the writing-emphasis program, or by taking appropriate course work in the areas mentioned. The proportion of the total program devoted to such areas, however, will vary according to the strength of the student's background in English and American literature, as determined by the Graduate Director. The Ph.D. program is designed to develop the applicant's potential as a scholar, critic, and teacher of language and literature. Emphases in the Doctor of Philosophy program include American literature, composition and rhetoric, critical theory, cultural studies, English literature, film studies, popular culture and cultural studies, and women's studies.

Master of Arts

With a Major in English

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Students who wish to register as graduate majors in English should consult the departmental Graduate Director, but submit their formal application to the Graduate Admissions Office. An applicant who does not have an undergraduate major or a strong minor in English may be asked to take courses as prerequisites before receiving credits toward the master's degree. The General Test of the Graduate Record Examination is required for all applicants prior to admission. The Subject Test of the Graduate Record Examination is recommended for all applicants, especially for those whose achievement in English may not be fairly represented by the undergraduate grade point average. All applicants are additionally required to submit a writing sample, a statement of purpose, and at least two letters of recommendation to the departmental graduate director.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Arts degree is offered as a Plan A or Plan B option. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively.

Plan A: Thirty-three credits, including an eight-credit thesis.

Plan B: Thirty-three credits, including a three-credit essay.

Major Requirements: The student's graduate program should be planned to supplement undergraduate preparation so that he/she will have knowledge of literature and of critical approaches to literary and cultural studies, in addition to special interests such as writing, linguistics, or film. Outside this general requirement, each individual program can accommodate particular interests and needs. It must include, however, at least five graduate (7000-level) seminars, and the essay or thesis. The remaining courses may be at the 5000, 6000, or 7000 level.

Comparative Literature: For course requirements, see p. 243.

Writing Emphasis Curriculum: This M.A. program is for students who wish to specialize in either creative or technical writing. The program is career oriented, but flexible enough to prepare students for a variety of options. Plan A (twenty-five credits of course work plus an eight-credit thesis) may be used for the creative writing emphasis; Plan B (twenty-seven credits in course work, a three-credit internship, and a three-credit essay) is required for the technical emphasis. The technical writing M.A. is on moratorium. For information, contact the Graduate Director of the Department.

Foreign Language Requirement: Students are required to have a reading knowledge of at least one foreign language. Students may demonstrate a competence in a variety of ways; for further details, consult the English Department.

Doctor of Philosophy With a Major in English

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Admission to the doctoral program in English is open to superior students who may apply to the Ph.D. program with either a bachelor's or a master's degree. Application credentials should be filed in the Graduate School not less than three, and preferably five, months before the applicant plans to register for doctoral work. The applicant must also address a letter to the Department's Graduate Director indicating his/her educational history, interests, reading, aptitudes, and other matters which will enable the committee to evaluate the student's ability and qualifications. The General Test and the Subject Test of the Graduate Record Examination are required, as are samples of the student's scholarly and critical writing. At least two letters of recommendation are required.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Doctor of Philosophy requires at least ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree. At least sixty credits must be in graduate course work; thirty must be earned as dissertation credits. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively.

Course Requirements: Students will take their course work in the graduate seminars (7000-level) and the advanced graduate seminars (8000-level); a minimum of two advanced seminars is required. Specific course work is chosen in consultation with faculty so that the most appropriate sequence of courses will prepare students adequately in their particular fields of expertise.

Cognate: The Department requires a minor of at least two courses outside the field in which the student takes the Qualifying Examination. A student may have the opportunity to develop an interdisciplinary focus to enhance his or her overall program in one of numerous areas, including but not limited to American studies, anthropology, art history, film studies, foreign literatures, history, linguistics, and psychology.

Foreign Language Requirement: Students are required to have a reading knowledge of at least one foreign language. Students may demonstrate a competence in a variety of ways; for further details, consult the English Department.

Final Qualifying Examination: The examination must be taken within one calendar year after the completion of course work.

A final Public Lecture Presentation-Defense, after the dissertation has been completed, is also required. For a description of this, see page 32.

For further details concerning examinations and requirements, please contact the English Department.

All students must first be admitted to the German graduate program before they will be considered eligible to participate in this option. Students already enrolled are eligible to participate upon successful completion of sixteen graduate credits within the department with a grade of 'B' or better, approval of the M.A. Plan of Work, and/or the approval of the graduate adviser. Students who wish to spend their first year of graduate study in Munich must complete their studies on the W.S.U. campus in order to receive the M.A. degree. While in Germany the student will complete a minimum of eight credits per semester. W.S.U. credit will be granted only for those classes approved in advance by the graduate adviser and for which the student has earned benotete Scheine.

For further details and requirements, see the graduate adviser.

Master of Arts in Language Learning

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Candidacy must be established by the time twelve credits have been earned.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Arts in Language Learning degree is offered by this department, with a major in German, under the Plan B (essay) option only. It requires a minimum of thirty-three credits in course work, plus a three-credit essay.

Course work is divided into three core areas. The first core consists of a minimum of twelve credits in language, literature and culture at the 5000, 6000, 7000, and 8000 levels. The second core is focused on language learning; all students complete GER 5750, 5850/7850, 5860/7860 plus two courses from: GER 5810/7810, 5820/7820, and 5830/7830. The third core consists of six credits in cognate areas. The three-credit essay will be written in conjunction with materials learned in the language learning core. The Graduate School requires that a minimum of six credits must be completed at the 7000-level or above.

This program is targeted at in-service elementary, secondary, and college-level teachers, as well as those completing degrees in the College of Education. Students should be advised that it does not provide provisional state licensure, and does not include a practice teaching component.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Modern Languages

The Ph.D. in Modern Languages is an interdisciplinary, interdepartmental program administered jointly by the Department of German and Slavic Studies and the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures. Applicants wishing to major in German should write to the Department of German and Slavic Studies.

The Doctor of Philosophy requires ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree, thirty of which must be earned as dissertation credits. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

The Doctor of Philosophy in Modern Languages allows students to combine a major and a minor that best meet their interests and career goals. Several options are available:

Major Concentration: Doctoral students may concentrate their studies in French, German, or Spanish. Thirty-six graduate credits must be completed in one of these major areas.

Minor Concentration: Doctoral students broaden their course of study through the choice of a minor concentration. Minors are available in literary and cultural criticism, French, German, Italian, Russian, or Spanish.

The minor in literary and cultural criticism is fulfilled by taking a series of four designated courses for a total of sixteen graduate credits. These courses, which are taught in English, aim to increase the student's knowledge of criticism and theory in cultural, national, and international contexts. Courses rotate each semester among the German, Italian, French, Spanish, and Slavic language areas.

A minor in a second modern language may be fulfilled by taking sixteen graduate credits in French, German, Italian, Russian, or Spanish. Courses are chosen in consultation with the graduate adviser.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. The application for admission and transcripts of all previous college work should be filed in the Office of University Admissions at least three months in advance of the time the applicant plans to register.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively.

The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree, thirty of which must be earned as dissertation credits. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

Course Requirements: A minimum of thirty-six credits on the graduate level in the major field, sixteen credits in one minor field, and eight credits in related courses. The total program must include thirty credits (excluding dissertation direction) at the 7000 level or above. German 6100 (minimum three credits) is required of all doctoral students with a major concentration in German. Course requirements for the Master of Arts (Plan A or B) apply in the field of major concentration. The graduate adviser may approve certain courses taken under Plan C for application to doctoral study.

Language Requirements: The doctoral candidate must pass a Ph.D. reading examination in one language other than those of his/her major and minor fields. The choice of the language will be determined in consultation with the graduate adviser and subject to the approval of the Graduate Committee.

Qualifying Examinations: Within a reasonable time after the completion of all course work, students are required to pass extensive examinations, both written and oral, in the major and minor fields. Later, after the dissertation has been completed, a final oral presentation and defense of it is required.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in History

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in History and specializations in Europe, America, Archival Administration

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in American Studies

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in Archival Administration

The graduate program in history offers advanced education for qualified students who wish to develop the analytical and research skills appropriate to the study of history. Basic to all graduate programs in this discipline is an emphasis upon the location and classification of historical evidence, the interpretation of this evidence, and its synthesis in written or oral form. The purpose of historical research and writing is to advance understanding of the past, to place the problems of the contemporary world in historical perspective, and to furnish insight about the future.

Advanced degrees in history serve several audiences, chief among them being those intent upon a teaching career at the secondary, junior college or university level; those interested in employment in government research, as foreign service officers, or in the management of archival resources and public and private historical agencies; and those who wish to study history as a means of understanding contemporary society and social issues. Private sector businesses and institutions consider a history degree, because of its emphasis on reading, writing, and analytical thinking, to be one of the more valuable for their generalists.

Both the M.A. and the Ph.D. programs provide sufficient flexibility to meet the professional needs of these various interests at differing levels of achievement. All M.A. students must show mastery of their subject matter and demonstrate an ability to do basic historical research. Attainment of the Ph.D. requires the ability to use such research tools as statistics and foreign languages, as well as extensive mastery of a series of historical fields and a demonstrated capacity for original research. The doctoral dissertation is the culmination of the historian's training and constitutes an enlargement of our knowledge and understanding of history. Normally one and one-half years of study will be required for the completion of the M.A.; fulfillment of all requirements for the Ph.D. will usually involve four years of full-time study beyond the Master of Arts degree.

Programs in Archives and Law

The Department administers a graduate certificate program in archival administration in cooperation with the Reuther Library of Labor and Urban Affairs (see below), as well as a joint J.D.-M.A. degree program operated in cooperation with the Law School. Both programs are described in the Department's Graduate Handbook

Master of Arts with a Major in History

MASTER OF ARTS in Linguistics

Linguistics is devoted to the scientific study of language structure and use. The Linguistics Program at Wayne State offers an interdisciplinary approach to this field, permitting students to explore a wide range of topics and issues in language research. Three core courses are offered on a regular basis: introduction to linguistic theory, phonology, and syntax. The Program offers concentrations in the following areas: (a) linguistics and a language; (b) syntax and semantics; (c) language variation and change; (d) language acquisition and processing; (e) sociolinguistics and discourse/pragmatics; and (f) individualized program.

Training in linguistics prepares students for advanced work in linguistic research, as well as for employment in teaching English and foreign languages; computer systems (especially natural language processing); broadcasting, mass media and journalism; publishing and editing; translation; international business; intercultural communication and negotiation; law; and generally any profession requiring the precise use or analysis of speech or writing.

The Linguistics Program is administered by a director and an advisory committee of participating faculty who regularly teach courses for the Program.

Master of Arts in Linguistics

Admission Requirements: Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants to the linguistics program must have taken at least one year of a foreign language.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Political Science

MASTER OF ARTS — JURIS DOCTOR

MASTER OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Political Science

The study of political science is aimed at understanding and illuminating the nature and problems of government and the role of politics in the modern world. This is accomplished through systematic exploration of the structure and processes of government at different levels and across nations, through the study of individual and collective political behavior, and through analyses of policy problems and the processes through which public policies are formulated and administered. The field of political science is of special importance to students whose career goals include:

1. Professions likely to involve participation in public affairs, including law, engineering, criminal justice, public health, social welfare and education.
2. Administrative or executive positions in government — local, state or federal, and in non-profit organizations dealing with the public sector.
3. Teaching of political and social science at the secondary, community college and university levels.
4. Positions in the diplomatic, foreign and overseas programs of the U.S. Government and of large private concerns doing business abroad.
5. Leadership, research and staff roles in citizen organizations, political parties, economic and social interest groups, municipal research bureaus and nonprofit organizations.
6. Positions associated with mass communications, such as radio, television and newspapers, where understanding of public affairs and governmental policies and organization is required for accurate reporting and analysis.
7. Positions in private enterprise where knowledge of governmental processes is essential, such as in industrial relations, legislative liaison and public relations.

Master of Arts with a Major in Political Science

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. A strong undergraduate performance is a prerequisite and substantial undergraduate preparation in the social sciences is recommended. Applicants must take the Graduate Record Examination and have the results sent to the Department, 2040 Faculty/Administration Building, Wayne State University, Detroit MI 48202.

Applicants to the program should consult the Department's graduate adviser. Further information on this and other graduate requirements and programs is contained in the department's M.A. Handbook, which is available from the department on request.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Arts with a Major in Political Science is offered under the following options:

Plan A: Thirty-three or thirty-four credits including an eight-credit thesis.

Plan B: Thirty-three or thirty-four credits including a three-credit essay.

Depending on the student's program, thirty-three or thirty-four credits, including a minimum of twenty-four credits in political science, are required. All students must satisfy a general Departmental requirement aimed at the development of basic analytic and methodological skills by successfully completing Political Science 5630 (statistics) and Political Science 7660 (research methodology). These courses should be taken early in the student's program of study. Students select a major field from among the following five fields: American Government and Politics, Comparative and World Politics, Political Theory, Public Policy, or Urban Politics. All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively. A written, comprehensive examination in the major field is required. If the thesis option is elected, an oral examination on the thesis is also required.

A student's program is finalized in a Plan of Work that must be filed by the time the student has earned twelve credits. The student should consult the Department's graduate adviser for guidance in the development of his/her Plan of Work and for the specific requirements of the major concentration.

No credit will be granted without authorization of the Department's Graduate Committee for courses in Political Science taken at Wayne State University prior to formal admission to the M.A. program.

Master of Arts/Juris Doctor

This Department in cooperation with the School of Law offers a joint degree program leading to a Master of Arts degree in Political Science with a concentration in Law and Public Policy and a Juris Doctor degree.

Admission: Students in this program must be admitted to both the Law School and the Department of Political Science. These admissions need not be simultaneous. Students who have already been admitted to the Law School are not required to take the Graduate Record Examination, but must otherwise satisfy all departmental requirements for admission to the Master of Arts program (see above) and meet the following prerequisites: some undergraduate background in the social sciences to include course work in American politics and policymaking and in economics. Students lacking in the prerequisites are required to take prescribed course work in addition to the minimum required for the degree.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This degree is offered only as a Plan B master's program requiring thirty-three credits including a three credit essay. Credit distribution must consist of twenty-one credits of political science including P S 5630, 7660, and the essay credit; and twelve credits in law courses. Programs integrating course selections from the two principal areas are developed on an individual basis. A written comprehensive examination in the M.A. major in Law and Public Policy is required at the end of course work.

Upon completion of these M.A. requirements and the Law School requirements for the J.D., students are awarded both degrees. Students may begin course work in either political science or the Law School. However, upon admission to the Law School, students must complete the required first year law curriculum before taking any other courses. Subsequently, a combination of political science and law courses may be taken. For further information regarding the joint program, students should consult the political science graduate adviser.

Master of Public Administration

This degree program is designed to prepare students for careers in the management of public and nonprofit organizations through a curriculum that emphasizes the study of organizational dynamics, the legal and political context of public management, management techniques, and the analysis of public policies.

Accreditation: The program is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA).

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants should consult the Department's M.P.A. program director. Undergraduate preparation in the social sciences is recommended. Additional undergraduate course work may be specified where such preparation is inadequate. Graduate Record Examination scores must be submitted to the Department by all applicants for the M.P.A. There are two exceptions to this requirement:

1. Applicants with an undergraduate grade point average of 3.30 need not submit GRE scores.
2. Applicants who hold a master's degree in another field, and have a graduate grade point average of 3.30 or above in their graduate degree work, need not submit GRE scores.

For further information, prospective applicants should consult the Graduate Program in Public Administration brochure which is available from the Department on request. Alternatively, they should access the departmental website.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Public Administration is offered under the following option:

Plan C: Thirty-nine credit minimum in course work.

Of the thirty-nine credits required for the degree, thirty credits are earned in a required set of core courses within the Department. Students without significant administrative background must meet an additional requirement of at least three credits of supervised internship over and above the minimum of thirty-nine credits otherwise required. All students must complete thirty credits of core requirements including P S 5630, 7300, 7320, 7330, 7340, 7350, 7375, 7410, 7480, and 7660. As part of the thirty-nine credits, students are also required to complete an area of concentration consisting of at least nine credits, which may require course work outside of political science. Passage of a written comprehensive examination based on the core curriculum is also required to earn this degree.

A student's program is finalized in a Plan of Work which must be filed by the time the student has earned twelve credits. The student should consult the department's M.P.A. program director for guidance in preparing this Plan of Work.

All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively. No credit will be granted for courses taken at Wayne State prior to formal admission to the M.P.A. program without prior authorization of the Department's Graduate Committee.

Areas of Concentration: Students in the M.P.A. program are required to select an area of concentration consisting of a minimum of nine credits of interrelated course work. Students must consult with, and secure the approval of, the M.P.A. program director prior to undertaking this part of the program. A number of possible concentrations are listed below, but other areas specifically designed in light of a student's career goals may be developed in consultation with the M.P.A. program director. Concentrations are often interdisciplinary in content.

Aging Policy and Management
Criminal Justice Policy and Management
Economic Development Policy and Administration
Health Services Policy and Management
Human Resources Management
Information Technology Management
Non-Profit Management
Organizational Behavior and Management
Public Policy Analysis and Program Evaluation
Public Finance
Social Welfare Policy and Management
Urban Policy and Management
Elective Option (individually tailored)

Certificate in Gerontology: In conjunction with their degree work, M.P.A. students may also pursue a certificate in gerontology offered through the Wayne State University Institute of Gerontology. Students interested in this program should refer to the Graduate School General Information section of this bulletin, beginning on page 17.

Certificate in Economic Development: In conjunction with their degree work, M.P.A. students may also pursue a certificate in economic development, offered through the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs. Students interested in this program should consult the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs, page 484.

'AGRADE' — Accelerated Graduate Enrollment

The Department of Political Science permits undergraduate majors with superior academic records to petition for accelerated graduate enrollment under the 'AGRADE' program of the College of Liberal Arts. This program allows qualified seniors to apply credits earned in specifically approved courses to both a bachelor's and a master's degree. Acceptance in the program is governed by the rules and procedures set forth by the College (see page 169). Students in the program must also satisfy the Department's normal admission requirements for the master's degree, including the Graduate Record Examination, in order to be admitted to the Graduate School. For further details, students should contact the Department's graduate adviser.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Political Science

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. The doctoral program is open only to highly qualified students. Prospective students should secure the Information Booklet for the Doctor of Philosophy in Political Science by writing to the Department or by visiting the Department's webpage at: <http://www.cla.wayne.edu/polisci/>. Students should also review the requirements for graduate study in the Graduate School section of this bulletin (see pages 17-29).

All students are required to take the Graduate Record Examination. All applications for admission to the doctoral program in political science must have the approval of the Departmental graduate committee. Applicants may apply for admission at any time, but all application materials must be received at least six weeks prior to the start of the semester for which admission is sought. Applicants seeking financial aid should apply for Fall semester admission and submit all application materials by February 15.

The doctoral degree in political science indicates not merely superior knowledge of this discipline but also intellectual initiative and the ability to design and carry out independent research and evaluation. Students in their pre-candidacy stage will be judged on the basis of these attributes as well as on their grade-point performance. Possession of a master's degree does not automatically warrant admission to doctoral study.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: A Ph.D. student is required to complete a minimum of ninety graduate credits, thirty of which are earned through the dissertation. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999, and who attained Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

Doctoral students structure their course work in terms of a single major field and two minor fields of political science. Major field concentrations may be elected in American Government, Public Administration, Public Policy, Urban Politics or World Politics. Minor concentrations may be in the above five fields or in Political Theory, Comparative Politics, or (for those not pursuing World Politics as a major field) Comparative/World Politics. Other concentrations may be allowed upon approval of the Departmental graduate committee. Students should consult the graduate adviser regarding the specific requirements of these concentrations. Satisfactory completion of written and oral final qualifying examinations are a condition for candidacy.

All Ph.D. students are required to teach at least one semester course during their course of study for the degree, unless this requirement is specifically waived by the graduate adviser.

Admission to candidacy for the doctor's degree will usually require at least two years of full-time graduate study beyond the bachelor's degree. It is granted upon fulfillment of the following requirements:

1. Completion of Departmental and Graduate School residence and course requirements, including Political Science 7660 and 8600.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Sociology

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Sociology

The graduate programs offered by the Department of Sociology are designed to prepare students for professional careers in a variety of settings. These programs require substantial course work in the general areas of sociological theory and sociological research methods. In addition to this core required of all students, individual students have considerable flexibility in pursuing course work designed to concentrate on specific areas of substantive specialization in sociology which reflect the current interests and work of the departmental faculty.

Academic Procedures: All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 230, respectively.

Master of Arts with a Major in Sociology

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants to the sociology program must satisfy the criteria below. Applications are considered for admission to fall and winter terms only; all stages and materials in the application process must be completed by July 1 for fall term, and by November 1 for winter term. Materials required for admission include: (1) Transcripts of all previous collegiate work. Transcripts must be mailed directly from the previously attended college or university to the Department of Sociology, Wayne State University. (2) The Application for Graduate Admission, with all required information supplied. The Application should also be sent to the Department of Sociology. (3) Students must submit to the Graduate Committee three letters of recommendation, at least two of which should be from faculty members. Students filing Change of Status forms are also required to submit three letters of recommendation. (4) A one-page statement of interest should be submitted to the Graduate Committee. (5) A sample of written work. (6) The G.R.E. is recommended but not required.

Forms for application and letters of recommendation are available from the Graduate Program Director, Department of Sociology.

A grade point average of at least 3.3 in upper division courses, and in sociology courses, is required for admission. An undergraduate major in sociology is not an absolute requirement for admission, but an applicant should have a substantial background in sociology. Students who do not have an undergraduate degree in sociology are required to take as prerequisites: SOC 4050 (theory) and SOC 4200 (methods); if not previously completed, an undergraduate statistics course is also a recommended prerequisite. Prerequisite courses should be completed by the end of the first year of graduate studies, and prior to taking graduate-level theory and methods courses. Prerequisite courses do not apply to graduate credit, and must be successfully completed with a grade of 'B' or better.

Candidacy must be established by the time fifteen credits have been earned.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: All students are required to complete Sociology 6050 or 6060, 6280, 7030, 7200, and to demonstrate computer literacy.

The Master of Arts degree with a major in Sociology is offered under the following options. Students seeking the Ph.D. degree should select Plan A.

Plan A requires thirty-two credits in course work including:

SOC 6280, 7200, 7030, 6050, 6060, 8999 (thesis, eight credits), and four credits in sociology electives. Ph.D. students must select this Plan. A final oral examination is required.

Plan B requires thirty-two credits in course work including:

Either SOC 6050 or 6060; SOC 6280, 7200, 7030, 7999 (essay, three credits); and thirteen credits in electives, at least ten of which must be in SOC courses. A final oral examination is required.

—with a Concentration in Applied Sociology and Urban Studies

The goal of this program is to combine an intellectually stimulating academic experience with practical training for careers in public and private policy development, evaluation research, and administration. Students receive instruction in sociological theory and methodology (quantitative and qualitative), and first-hand experience in applied research and policy-related internships. The program is designed as a flexible course of study suitable for both full and part-time students, including those wishing to continue their education after some years of absence from the University, mid-career professionals seeking additional training, and post-baccalaureate students. Applied sociology may also be used as an area of specialization for the Ph.D. in Sociology.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This concentration is offered only as a Plan B master's program for which thirty-two credits are required. Required courses include Sociology 6050 or 6060, 6280, 6580, 6590, 7000, 7030, 7200, 7999, and two advanced courses within one major area of sociology. Students must demonstrate computer literacy.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Sociology

been completed before the student begins regular Ph.D. course work: Sociology 4050, 4200, 6050, 6060, 6280, 7030, and 7200.

The Department requires three recommendations (preferably including one from the student's adviser) in addition to the transcripts and other materials required by the Graduate School. Application forms may be downloaded from the Admissions Office website: <http://www.gradschool.wayne.edu/phdadmission/phdadmission.html/>. A statement of interest and sample of written work are also required. The G.R.E. is recommended but not required. The completed forms are to be returned to the Director of Graduate Programs of the Sociology Department. Recommendation forms can be obtained from the Graduate Secretary, 2228 Faculty/Administration Building and must be submitted at the same time the admission form is submitted. For more information regarding application procedures, see the Master of Arts admissions statement above.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree, thirty of which must be earned as dissertation credit. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. Prior to electing Ph.D.-level courses, all doctoral students in sociology must complete the following prerequisite courses: Sociology 6050, 6060, 6280, 7030, 7200; and demonstrate computer literacy. Only two of these prerequisites (Sociology 6060, 7030) count toward the thirty credits in Ph.D.-level courses. Required courses at the Ph.D. level include: SOC 7050 or 8060 (theory), SOC 7260 (Qualitative Sociology), six to nine credits in a cognate field, and nine to twelve credits in a specialization within sociology; and an additional course in methods in either qualitative (7500) or quantitative (6290). Areas of specialization include: Medical Sociology, Family, Inequality, and Deviance. Two written qualifying examinations and an oral qualifying examination are required. Doctoral applicants are required to have two successive semesters in residence as full-time students as defined by the Graduate School.

A detailed description of the doctoral program, including specific requirements, is provided in a brochure of general information for doctoral students in sociology, available from the Department upon request.

Doctoral students are encouraged to engage in teaching and research as a condition for qualifying for a degree.

The Information Profession

Engaged in challenging careers, qualified information professionals are working in varied settings all over the globe. In the United States alone, approximately 150,000 of these professionals are employed in 125,000 libraries; others are using their library and research skills in information services outside of traditional library settings. With more than fifty percent of today's gross national product related to the management of information, career opportunities for individuals trained in library and information science are abundant and diverse.

In this new century and beyond, information professionals will have a wider than ever choice of where and how to apply their knowledge and abilities. Exciting career opportunities will exist in both the public and private sectors, including business, law, medicine, publishing, government, archives and museums, communications and media, engineering, academic environments, and pre-K-12 education.

Facilities

University Library System: Wayne State University has six libraries with a total of over three million books and eighteen thousand current subscriptions to periodicals. The Purdy/Kresge Library complex houses all materials in the fields of business, education, humanities, and social sciences. This complex also contains Library Computing and Media Services and the offices of the Library and Information Science Program.

Careers, computers, and student survival skills are the special focus of the David Adamany Undergraduate Library, that maintains and supports over 500 computer workstations, a growing print collection that supports the undergraduate curriculum, and a twenty-four hour study center.

Computer science, engineering, life sciences, nursing, and physical science materials are housed in the Science and Engineering Library. Legal documents and related materials are located in the Arthur Neef Law Library. Health science materials are located in the Vera Shiffman Medical Library.

The Walter P. Reuther Library of Labor and Urban Affairs is a rich source of archival materials. It includes the personal papers of many urban leaders and is an important source of original data regarding Detroit, the auto industry and unionization.

The location of Wayne State University in the heart of Detroit's cultural center provides additional advantages to the library and information science student. Readily available to the university student is the main branch of the Detroit Public Library, the professional research library of the Detroit Institute of Arts, the Detroit Historical Museum, and the Charles H. Wright Museum of African American History.

Computer Laboratories: The Library and Information Science (LIS) Program's computer laboratory is intended for LIS Program students, faculty and staff. Students can access the University Library System's network, a variety of common library databases and full-text e-journals, and Internet-accessible resources. Located on the 3rd floor of the Kresge Library, the LIS Program computer lab provides hands-on experience in accessing a variety of information retrieval systems, as well as other computer applications in library and information services. Library and information science students also have access to the computing facilities located in the Instructional Computing Lab of the Purdy Library and in the David Adamany Undergraduate Library.

DEGREE and CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

MASTER OF LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SCIENCE

The master's degree program in library and information science (M.L.I.S.) prepares graduates to assume entry-level positions in the profession. Upon completion of thirty-six credits in course work, the student will possess a body of knowledge common to all libraries and library positions, and be versed in the application of theory and principles of librarianship and information studies. The goal of the Library and Information Science Program is to educate professionals who will assume leadership in the field and who will appreciate the need for professional growth through continuing learning experiences. Finally, the Program is designed to provide students with the philosophical and conceptual framework, as well as the basic professional skills, needed to serve in a variety of library and information settings.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, Master of Library and Information Science applicants must satisfy the following criteria:

1. Possess an undergraduate degree from an accredited college or university. A balance of study consisting of at least forty-five credits of course work in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences is recommended.
2. Have a grade point average of 2.75 or better (C = 2.0). (Non-degree admission may be authorized upon review if the applicant's g.p.a. is below 2.75);
3. Submit a word-processed goals statement reflecting relevant personal and academic background and experience.
4. Submit a current resume or curriculum vitae.

Application: Students applying to the LIS Program should submit a completed Graduate Admission Application, a written goals statement of academic goals and objectives, a current resume or curriculum vitae, and the application fee to: Wayne State University, Office of University Admissions, P.O. Box 02759, Detroit, Michigan 48202-0759. Additionally, applicants should request that transcripts of all post-secondary work be sent to the Office of University Admissions. If the student has been previously admitted to the Wayne State University Graduate School, he/she should submit a completed Change of Graduate Status Application to the Library and Information Science Program. Application packets are available from the LIS Program.

Degree Requirements

The Master of Library and Information Science is offered only as a Plan C master's program (see page 29) requiring a minimum of thirty-six credits to be distributed as follows: Eighteen credits in the library and information science professional core, and eighteen credits in elective professional courses. A maximum of six credits in courses outside of library and information science may be accepted as cognates.

Professional Core (Eighteen Credits)

A Plan of Work is a formal statement of the goals and prescribed courses of a student's academic program. The library and information science master's degree program requires that a Plan of Work be submitted after completion of six to nine credits of graduate course work. The Plan is prepared in consultation with the faculty adviser and may be organized around an area of concentration. The emphasis may relate to the type of environment in which the student intends to work: i.e., public libraries, academic libraries, archives, law libraries, school libraries, and medical libraries; or to special functions: i.e., reference, technical services, information technology, and public services. Faculty advisers will assist the student in selecting the optimal Plan of Work for his/her academic goals.

SPECIALIST CERTIFICATE IN LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SCIENCE

The Specialist Program in Library and Information Science is a post-master's certificate curriculum designed for the practicing professional who requires specialized competence in an area of librarianship, such as public services, technical services, reference, or information technology. This program enables librarians to:

1. update knowledge in the rapidly changing field of librarianship and information management—the organization, storage, retrieval, and dissemination of the human record;
2. use investigative methods and research findings in problem-solving and in the planning and evaluation of library and information services;
3. advance and extend competencies in areas of specialization begun during the first professional degree program (M.L.I.S.). Specializations may be in a particular library function (such as organization of materials, retrieval of information, information technology, collection development, management, public relations, and adult education), or in a type of information center (such as public, school, academic, and special), or in a service to a specific target group (such as business and industry, early childhood, the elderly, the handicapped, the institutionalized);

4. develop a new specialization responsive to the changing economic, technological, or social climate or to changing conditions in the life of the individual information professional; and/or
5. achieve other professional goals, as needed.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants to the Specialist program in Library and Information Science must satisfy the following criteria:

1. Possess a master's degree in library and information science;
2. Have professional employment experience as a librarian or information specialist;
3. Submit a goals statement reflecting relevant personal and academic background and experience.
4. Submit a current resume or curriculum vitae.
5. Demonstrate professional competence, leadership, and potential for further growth.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

Candidates for the Specialist Certificate in Library and Information Science must complete thirty credits of 6000-8000 level course work providing the appropriate degree of concentration relevant to the student's career goals. Students in specialist certificate programs at Wayne State must maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.0 A Plan of Work and prescribed courses will be developed in consultation with a faculty adviser.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN ARCHIVAL ADMINISTRATION

The archival profession has experienced growth in recent years as many institutions such as colleges and universities, federal, state and local units of government, businesses, churches, and professional organizations have recognized the importance of maintaining their inactive historical records. In addition to the expansion of existing archives, many organizations are establishing archives. This has created a demand for individuals with undergraduate degrees in history or the humanities, who have advanced training in archival administration. In large archival establishments, archivists can become specialists in such areas as appraisal, conservation, exhibits, publications, reference service, oral history, records management, processing and public relations.

The Graduate Certificate Program in Archival Administration serves the needs of those who wish to enter the archival profession as well as those who have responsibility for overseeing archival programs. The program is open to students with baccalaureate degrees from accredited universities, students with advanced degrees, and students enrolled in other Wayne State University graduate programs.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS

Students in graduate certificate programs at Wayne State must maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.0. # Foreword

The primary mission of the School of Medicine is to provide the Michigan community with medical and biotechnical resources, in the form of scientific knowledge and trained professionals, in order to improve the overall health of the community.

The School offers educational programs leading to the following degrees: Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Philosophy, Master of Science and Master of Arts. Graduate education in clinical fields, post-doctoral study and continuing medical education programs are also offered, as well as a joint M.D.-Ph.D. degree. Two hundred fifty-six students are admitted annually to the M.D. program and approximately three hundred sixty students are enrolled in Ph.D. or master's degree study in fourteen program areas, predominantly in the basic medical sciences. More than nine hundred students are post-graduate trainees as medical residents, post-doctoral fellows, or fellows in twenty-nine different clinical research programs. Continuing education programs, seminars and colloquiums serve the faculty and students of the School as well as professionals throughout the community as a resource for current and ongoing developments in the health sciences. In addition to degree programs, the School offers courses in many basic medical science disciplines which are appropriate for students in other colleges and schools of the University. Non-degree enrollment in basic science courses at the graduate level is permitted on a limited basis for qualified students.

Research focusing on human health is the foundation of the activities in the School of Medicine. Fundamental and applied research in biomedical sciences, clinical specialties, and health care systems is directed by faculty of the School. Research programs at the School are supported by more than $130 million annually through research grants, contracts and gifts. Members of the faculty serve on scientific boards, panels, study groups and in professional leadership roles in health care regionally, nationally and internationally. The research facilities of the School are modern, well-equipped and continually growing with the pace of current technological advances.

The clinical services provided by the faculty, post-graduates and students in the School are rendered predominantly through The Detroit Medical Center institutions, including five hospitals on the downtown campus, three hospitals outside the campus and in the near suburbs, and many outpatient facilities throughout the greater Detroit area. The School is also affiliated with 14 other hospitals throughout the metropolitan area for the purpose of conducting undergraduate and graduate medical education.

The School also perceives a responsibility to the population of the Detroit metropolitan region as a whole, both as an educational institution and as a supplier of physicians who are highly skilled providers of health care to staff other institutions and to practice in the community. Furthermore, the School is committed to its educational and care delivery activities within the context of medical education as a national activity, to which each institution contributes responsibly according to its abilities and resource.

History of the School

The School of Medicine of Wayne State University has been operating and granting degrees as a college of medicine since 1868. Originally called The Detroit Medical College, it was founded by Dr. Theodore A. McGraw, a native of Detroit who returned to the city in 1865 after serving for two years in the United States Army as a contract surgeon.

In 1879 a second medical college, the Michigan College of Medicine, opened in Detroit. The two colleges soon united to become the Detroit College of Medicine. In 1919, the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery, as it was known then, became an official part of the Detroit Board of Education and thus an important unit in the rapidly developing Colleges of the City of Detroit. In 1933, the name of the Colleges of the City of Detroit changed to Wayne University in honor of the American Revolutionary War hero General Anthony Wayne. Wayne University became a State institution in 1956.

With a total enrollment of more than 1,000 medical students, the Wayne State University School of Medicine is the largest single campus medical school in the country.

Accreditation

Programs in the Wayne State University School of Medicine are accredited by the Liaison Committee on Medical Education, representing the American Medical Association and the Association of American Medical Colleges (M.D. Program); the Liaison Committee of Graduate Medical Education of the American Medical Association and various Residency Review Committees (Residency Programs); and the Accreditation Council of Continuing Medical Education (Continuing Medical Education).

Admission and Registration — M.D.

Assistant Dean for Admissions: Silas Norman, M.D.

The School of Medicine currently accepts 256 students for its entering class. The students are selected from a large number of applicants. Encouragement is given to qualified students from minority groups, medically underserved areas, and students who bring diversified interests and abilities to the medical profession. Every effort is made to choose those students who possess the academic and personal characteristics which will enable them to succeed in completing the School of Medicine curriculum.

Academic Recommendations for Admission

Although the Wayne State University School of Medicine prefers that applicants for admission have earned a bachelor's degree, it will occasionally consider students of unusual academic attainment and maturity who have completed three years of college.

Recommendations for entrance are: general physics with laboratory, one year; inorganic and organic chemistry with laboratory, one year each; general biology or zoology with laboratory, twelve semester or eighteen quarter credits. The student is urged to select those subjects which will contribute substantially to a broad cultural background. Applicants from professional schools must have completed ninety semester credits in liberal arts courses.

It is to be noted that when students are accepted before completion of their premedical requirements, they must maintain a satisfactory scholastic average in their continued premedical work to warrant enrollment in the School of Medicine.

The Medical College Admission Test is required of all applicants for admission into the first year class. Students seeking admission into the September freshman class should take this test no later than October of the previous year. After a preliminary review of application credentials, interviews are held with those applicants who warrant further consideration.

Admission to the First-Year Class

The School of Medicine adheres to the acceptance procedures of the Association of American Medical Colleges, including the 'Early Decision Plan.' Admission procedures of this School are:

1. No place in the first-year class shall be offered to an applicant more than one year before the actual start of instruction for that class.

2. Following the receipt of an offer of a place in the first-year class, a student shall be allowed two weeks in which to make a written reply.

3. Payment of a $50.00 deposit is required upon acceptance by the student of a place in the first-year class. The deposit will be credited toward the initial tuition payment.

4. No student who has at any time been requested to withdraw for any reason from a medical school in which he/she has been registered will be accepted by this School of Medicine. Students who have been dropped for poor scholarship by the School of Medicine should not expect favorable consideration for readmission.

5. Any applicant accepted by the School of Medicine who does not complete enrollment must apply for readmission and meet all requirements in force at the time of such new application.

Admission with Advanced Standing

Students from approved L.C.M.E. American medical schools may be admitted with advanced standing to the second and third years only, subject to the number of vacancies which may exist in the second and third years. Application for advanced standing should be made not later than July 15. The following requirements must be met:

1. An applicant must have matriculated as a student in an approved United States or Canadian medical school for a period of time equal to that spent by the class in which he/she seeks entrance and must have completed courses equivalent to those required of that class.

2. The applicant must file a completed application form and must present official transcripts from each school attended showing that he/she meets, in full, the entrance requirements for admission to this School.

3. The applicant must be a student in good standing at the medical school from which he/she is withdrawing. A letter of support from the dean of that school is required.

4. The applicant must take such examinations in the courses for which he/she seeks credit as may be required by the faculty of the School of Medicine (either the National Board Part I or the Medical Science Knowledge Profile exam).

Diversity and Integrated Student Services

Director: Julia M. Simmons, M.A.

This unit is responsible for assisting in maintaining a representative enrollment of minority students through a combination of counseling and academic programs for high school, college, and post-baccalaureate students. The post-baccalaureate program guarantees admission to the School of Medicine for all students who perform satisfactorily in the program. This unit is also responsible for the summer program for incoming minority students.

Registration Requirements

Physical Examination: Freshman medical students are sent a physical form with registration materials. Each student must present proof of a physical examination at or before registration for the freshman year. Students are also required to be annually tested for TB (skin test or chest x-ray).

Health Insurance: Students must present, at registration, proof of health insurance. The University offers low cost health insurance which may be purchased at registration.

Transcripts: Transcripts of all university-level work must be on file in the Registrar's Office for each medical student, including the degree statement from the university from which the student obtained his/her degree.

FEES

All fees are payable in advance. Listed below are the fees in effect as of the publication of this bulletin. They are subject to change at any time without notice by action of the Board of Governors.

Medical Student Fees Regular Program

Annual Tuition: Resident: $17,378.20; Nonresident: $35,519.00

($505.00 Omnibus fee is included.)

Annual Student Fee:

Years I - IV: Resident: $350.00; Nonresident: $350.00.

Cancellation of Registration and Refunds: If a student finds it necessary to withdraw from the University, he/she should notify the Office of Student Affairs, Wayne State University School of Medicine, in writing. If notice of withdrawal is sent by mail, the date of its postmark will be considered the effective date. The refund schedule is as follows:

Through the end of the sixth week of classes: 100% less $75.00<sup>1</sup>

Thereafter: No refund

Books and Equipment: The total four-year cost for books, supplies and equipment is approximately $4,750. The costs are approximately $2,900 for the first two years, and $1,850 for the subsequent two years. Books and equipment are available in bookstores near the School. Student organizations and volunteers also conduct sales of certain equipment and of used books each year.

Financial Aid

The primary responsibility for financing a medical education rests with the student and his or her family. However, assistance is available to students who demonstrate financial need and meet all other eligibility criteria. Students anticipating the need for financial assistance during their medical education should begin researching their options as early as possible.

Students wishing to be considered for financial assistance must begin by completing a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>. Although medical students are automatically considered independent for the purposes of completing the FAFSA, parental data is required if a student wishes to be considered for institutional aid programs. The School of Medicine's priority filing deadline is March 1st of each year. Students interested in attending the WSU School of Medicine should complete the application process by the priority deadline even if their admission has not yet been confirmed. Complete application instructions and other required documents are available on the School of Medicine's Web site, http://www.med.wayne.edu/student\_affairs/financial\_aid.

For students who qualify, financial aid is available in the form of loans, grants, scholarships and/or work-study, from federal, state, institutional and/or private sources. Offers of assistance are made to students after they have fulfilled all financial aid requirements and have been admitted to the School of Medicine.

The Admissions Office awards renewable tuition scholarships to ten incoming freshmen per year in the amount of resident tuition. Partial tuition Board of Governors grants are awarded to medical students each year based on family financial need. Restricted private donor and organization funds are awarded to students who demonstrate financial need and meet the guidelines specified by the donor. Student loans are available through U.S. and Canadian government loan programs and credit-based private educational loan programs. Some credit-based private educational loan programs require that non-U.S. students provide a creditworthy U.S. co-maker.

Service obligation programs are available to students who are willing to fulfill a commitment of 'service' to the organization providing the funding. Most programs require one year of service for each year of funding. The Health Professions Scholarship Program offered by the Army, Navy and Air Force requires payback as a military medical officer. The U.S. Public Health Service offers the National Health Service Corps scholarship to medical students who commit to practicing primary care medicine in federally designated physician shortage areas for their service payback.

Students may wish to pursue outside sources of aid through community foundations, clubs, churches, employers, hospitals, or other non-profit agencies. Web-based scholarship searches are available at no cost to the user. Students should avoid using fee-based scholarship search services and be wary of scholarship scams.

The School of Medicine Office of Financial Aid is located at 1374 Scott Hall, 540 East Canfield, Detroit, MI 48201 and may be reached by calling (313) 577-1039.

M.D. DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Associate Dean for Academic and Student Programs:

Robert Frank, M.D.

Coordinator of Medical Education Programs:

Mark Speece, Ph.D.

The Office of Academic and Student Programs' major responsibility is the overall management, administration, and supervision of the undergraduate medical curriculum. In addition, Minority Recruitment and Conjoint Teaching Services are units under the direction of this office.

Academic Program

The undergraduate program in medicine consists of a core curriculum in normal and abnormal human biology followed by clerkships in clinical medicine and a year of selective and elective experiences.

In the first year, through concentrated study of anatomy, histology, embryology, physiology, biochemistry, and genetics, students learn about the normal structure and function of the human body. In addition, there are units of study devoted to the neurosciences, and to an introduction to clinical medicine. Clinical medicine begins with introduction to the patient.

In the second year, through concentrated study of pathology, immunology and microbiology, pharmacology, psychiatry, public health and preventive medicine, and evidence-based medicine, students learn the basics of the effects of disease processes on structure and function, and the principles of drug action and therapy. This is followed by interdisciplinary organ system units of study devoted primarily to pathophysiology. Clinicians as well as basic scientists serve as lecturers. In addition, training is required in human values and ethics, physical diagnosis, clinical interviewing, human sexuality, laboratory medicine, and public health.

The third year curriculum consists of clerkships providing in-patient and out-patient clinical education and training in internal medicine, surgery, gynecology/obstetrics, pediatrics, psychiatry, neurology, and family medicine, and an office-based continuity clerkship.

The fourth year is devoted to selective and elective study and all students are required to take a subinternship in medicine, a month of emergency medicine and a month of ambulatory medicine. Within certain guidelines (for example, five of the eight elective periods must be spent in hospitals with a major Wayne State University affiliation), students can select from over 200 electives in 23 disciplines. In addition to the many programs offered by Wayne University, students can take advantage of approved elective programs offered by other institutions.

Students must pass step one of the USMLE (United States Medical Licensing Examination) in order to be promoted from Year II to Year III and students must pass Step 2 (CK) in order to graduate.

Matriculation and Promotion

Primary evaluation of the students is the responsibility of the faculty of the appropriate departments or courses for Year I-III students, and the Elective Course Coordinators for Year IV students.

Students are evaluated promptly by the primary evaluators, who make recommendations to the Promotions Committee which may include: promotion, reexamination, repetition of all or part of the year, interruption or suspension or probation of a student's program, or dismissal. Questions of suitability for the study and practice of medicine on other than academic grounds are handled according to the University's 'Guidelines for Assisting Persons with Behavioral Problems.'

The Promotions Committee is chaired by the Dean or his/her designee and consists of twelve members: four nominated from the faculty by the President of the Faculty Senate, with the advice and consent of the Executive Committee; four nominated from the Council of Departmental Chairpersons; and four selected by and from the student body. Faculty members serve three-year terms. Student members serve for one year and have full discussion privileges. Their votes are advisory to the Committee.

At appropriate intervals, the Promotions Committee meets to make promotional decisions based upon the student's academic performance. For the course of making these decisions, the Committee has the obligation to assure that the rules of the School and the rights of the individuals involved have been fairly met. Decisions are transmitted for the Committee by the Associate Dean for Curriculum. Students have the right to appeal such decisions by direct petition to the Promotions Committee. In the event of such an appeal, the Committee may gather evidence and hear witnesses. The student involved has the right to be heard by the Committee and may call a reasonable number of witnesses to testify in his/her behalf. The Promotions Committee is the final decision-making body with regard to the promotion process. The student has the right to request the Office of the Provost to review any determinations made by the Promotions Committee of the School of Medicine relative to academic performance on his/her part.

Leaves of Absence may be granted to students with documented health problems, or to those with appropriate educational opportunities outside the School.

Any students whose enrollment is continued by the Promotions Committee, or, in the case of Leaves of Absence, by the Dean or his/her designee, is considered to be making academic progress toward the M.D. degree.

Scholarship

The grading system throughout all years of the School's curriculum is: 'H' (Honors), 'S' (Satisfactory), 'U' (Unsatisfactory), 'I' (Incomplete). The minimum passing grade is 'S.' In order to be promoted from year to year, students must obtain 'S' on all course work and complete all requirements established by course directors.

Requirements for Graduation

A student regularly registered in the School of Medicine may receive the degree Doctor of Medicine upon the fulfillment of the following requirements:

1. He/she must be at least 21 years of age, must exhibit good moral character, and must be suitable for the practice of medicine.
2. He/she must have satisfactorily completed all the academic requirements established by the School.
3. He/she must have paid all fees in full, and have all holds released.
4. He/she must pass Step 1 and pass Step 2 (CK) of National Board examinations.

Cooperative Electives Exchange Program

The Deans of the four Michigan medical schools, acting as the Michigan Medical Schools Liaison Committee, have signed cooperative agreements allowing students full credit for courses taken as electives at any one of the participating medical schools: Wayne State University, University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine. The Deans intend the program 'to make the best use of one another's resources to the greater advantage of the student and the Michigan community. By allowing medical students full academic credit for elective courses taken at any one of our respective medical schools, our students will be able to share productively in the learning and training opportunities of the entire State.'

Under the course exchange program, election of an 'away course' at one of the cooperating schools requires approval of both the parent and host institutions. Enrollment, matriculation and fee payments continue without alteration at the parent institution; however, students are responsible for all travel and living expenses incurred during the 'away' elective. Additional information can be obtained from Records and Registration, School of Medicine. # CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION

Assistant Dean: David R. Pieper, Ph.D.

The Division of Continuing Medical Education (CME) was established to provide medical education activities to physicians who have completed their training, as well as support in graduate medical education programs. The CME Division is concerned with addressing the continuing medical education needs of physicians residing in the tri-county area of metropolitan Detroit, as well as the needs of the other physicians in the state. The Division also works in close cooperation with the State's other schools of medicine and of osteopathy for the provision of educational opportunities for practicing physicians.

Various special conferences, symposia and workshops, lasting one to five days, are offered under the academic sponsorship of the departments in the Medical School. Physicians from Michigan and many other states and countries attend meetings which reflect new discoveries and changes in needs and interests in medicine. Every effort is made to assist physicians in their continuing efforts to increase their knowledge and to improve their skills on behalf of the patients they serve.

In addition to these special programs, 'continuing' activities of one- to two-hour duration are scheduled at regular intervals during the year. Physicians are encouraged to participate in the departmental workshops, teaching rounds and grand rounds that meet their interests or needs; they are conducted in the clinical settings of the Detroit Medical Center hospitals: Children's, Detroit Receiving, Harper University, Sinai-Grace, Huron Valley-Sinai, Hutzel, the Rehabilitation Institute, and the VA Hospital.

There are increasing pressures on practicing physicians to maintain and update their professional knowledge and skills. Wayne State University School of Medicine is striving to respond to these needs through continuing medical education. Inquiries may be directed to the Division for information about programs on specific subjects or programs for specific medical specialties.

Accreditation

Wayne State University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council of Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical education (CME) for physicians. As an accredited sponsor of CME, the School designates certain of its continuing medical education offerings as meeting the criteria for Category 1 of the Physician's Recognition Award of the American Medical Association, and for the requirements for license renewal by the Michigan Medical Practice Board. Other certifications from various medical specialty societies and boards are secured for individual offerings as may be required.

Graduate Medical Education Program

Coordinator: Mary F. Euth

Wayne State University and seven Detroit Medical Center hospitals (Children's Hospital of Michigan, Detroit Receiving Hospital and University Health Center, Harper University Hospital, Huron Valley Sinai Hospital, Hutzel Women's Hospital, Sinai-Grace Hospital, and the Rehabilitation Institute of Michigan), together with the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Detroit, sponsor a joint venture in Graduate Medical Education for physicians who are extending their training beyond the M.D. or D.O. degree. This program, the Wayne State University/Detroit Medical Center Graduate Medical Education Program, utilizes the impressive clinical resources of the hospitals and clinics of the sponsors in the training of approximately 950 physicians in twenty-one specialty areas of medicine.

Residency positions are available in the following areas: anesthesiology, dermatology, emergency medicine, family medicine, internal medicine, medicine-pediatrics, neurology, neurosurgery, obstetrics-gynecology, occupational medicine, ophthalmology, orthopaedic surgery, otolaryngology, pathology, pediatrics, physical medicine and rehabilitation, plastic surgery, psychiatry, radiation oncology, radiology, surgery, thoracic surgery, urology and transitional year. Fellowships in numerous subspecialties are also available.

All participants in the program are involved in a system of graduate teaching responsibilities within the realm of clinical diagnosis and patient care, including contribution to the teaching of medical students who rotate through the clinical department. Orientation programs, teaching conferences and seminars, bedside teaching, and a wide variety of supervised surgical and technical training are a systematic part of the graduate medical education of the physicians in the various specialty programs.

Enrollees in the program must be eligible to register as students in Wayne State University and must have an M.D. degree or equivalent, temporary or permanent licensure to practice medicine in the State of Michigan, and approval of the appropriate program director. Appointments on an annual basis to appropriate levels within the Graduate Medical Education Program establish the basis for a stipend which is paid to the physician as a means of personal support while enrolled in training.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Academic Regulations

Assistant Dean for Research and Graduate Programs:
Kenneth C. Palmer, Ph.D.

Advanced study programs leading to the Doctor of Philosophy and Master of Science degrees are available in the School of Medicine. The primary purpose is to provide an opportunity for graduate training in preparation for careers in research in the medical and health-related sciences, and the biotechnology industry.

The graduate student enters a community of scholars and is expected to become acquainted with the development of a main area of study and its relationship to other pursuits. Students are expected to become independent and self-directed, to acquire useful perspectives on the meaning and limitations of exact science, and to maintain a balance between practicality and abstract intellectual activity. They are expected to draw from and add to the wealth of accumulated knowledge in their chosen discipline. Graduate students work closely with faculty advisers who help plan course schedules and research programs and supervise laboratory training.

Admission

Admission to these graduate programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Requests for program information and application materials should be made directly to the program of interest. Mailing address and individuals to contact are cited below.

Application: Applicants must submit: (i) University Graduate School application form; (ii) official transcripts of all undergraduate (and applicable graduate) academic work; (iii) Graduate Record Examination scores, verbal, quantitative and analytical or writing components. Individual programs may have additional application requirements.

Most study programs are planned for students who begin in the fall semester; however, matriculation may be possible at other times during the year in individual cases.

Students for whom English is not their native language will be required to submit TOEFL examination scores and to demonstrate competency, both verbal and written, in English within the first year of study.

The recommended procedure for application is:

1. Contact the Graduate Officer of the department for information and forms;
2. Submit ALL application materials by February 1 for admission to begin study in the fall semester;
3. Earlier applications will be accepted in most cases. Late applications will be evaluated; however, the graduate programs have limited enrollment, and thus late applicants may encounter programs already filled. Most financial aid competition is promulgated in the months of February and March; late applicants may have very limited opportunities for financial assistance.

Graduate Officers: The following Graduate Officers may be contacted through the School of Medicine, Wayne State University, 540 E. Canfield Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48201 (telephone: 313-577-1455; Fax: 313-577-8796), or at our Web site: <http://www.med.wayne.edu/gradprog/>:

Graduate Fees

Students in the graduate programs offered by the School of Medicine pay the regular graduate fees of the University; see page 20.

Master of Science

Descriptions of individual programs may be found in the departmental sections which follow. Two interdisciplinary programs are offered in addition to the discipline-based courses of study: a master's degree program in basic medical sciences and a master's degree program in medical research. These are described below. General requirements for the Master of Science degree may be found on page 29, or at our Web site: <http://www.med.wayne.edu/gradprog/>.

Doctor of Philosophy

Programs leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree in the basic medical sciences are under the jurisdiction of the Graduate School of the University. Majors within the School of Medicine are available in the following academic areas: anatomy and cell biology, biochemistry and molecular biology, cancer biology, cellular and clinical neurobiology, immunology and microbiology, medical physics, molecular biology and genetics, pathology, pharmacology, and physiology. Brief program descriptions are provided under each department heading in the following pages, as are listings of graduate courses offered by the School of Medicine. The program in medical physics is described in the Radiation Oncology Departmental section of this bulletin. Programs in cancer biology, cellular and clinical neurobiology, and molecular biology and genetics are described below.

Ph.D. students, admitted to one of the graduate programs listed above, typically enroll in the School of Medicine's Interdisciplinary Biomedical Sciences (IBS) core curriculum during their first year. The IBS is a broad-based curriculum involving courses in Biomedical Molecular Biology and Biomedical Cell Biology and selected courses in the IBS Systems curriculum. Details of the core curriculum may be found in the individual descriptions of each Ph.D. program. General requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy degree may be found beginning on page 30, or at our Web site: <http://www.med.wayne.edu/gradprog/>

The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

Joint Doctor of Medicine / Doctor of Philosophy Degrees

A joint M.D. and Ph.D. program of study may be designed to provide an opportunity for exceptionally talented students to acquire knowledge and expertise in both research and clinical medicine. By combining and interrelating the Doctor of Medicine and Doctor of Philosophy programs, the dual degree objectives may be accomplished effectively and often in a shorter time than is possible by two separate degree programs completed in sequence. Such a program will prepare the student to assume investigative leadership in medical schools and in institutes for medical research. Our program is flexible so that it can be adapted to best suit the student's discipline, needs and objectives.

Admission: Students will apply to the joint degree program at the time that they apply to the School of Medicine via the American Medical College Application Service (AMCAS). However, failure to be admitted to the joint degree program will not alter the student's opportunity to be considered for medical admission. In some instances, medical students may be admitted during their first or second year of undergraduate medical school, but this will involve other means of financial support than when he/she has been admitted by a joint process to the M.D.-Ph.D. program in the School of Medicine. At the time of acceptance to the joint degree program, students will be required to submit a graduate application. Students interested in a joint degree program may contact the Graduate Programs Office in the School for further information and counseling.

Degree Requirements: The requirements for the joint M.D.-Ph.D. degrees conform to those established for the separate degrees by the School of Medicine, the Graduate School, and the individual departments involved.

Financial Support for Graduate Study

Graduate assistantships, fellowships and tuition scholarships are available for qualified students admitted to the various graduate programs. All forms of support are limited in number and are awarded on a competitive basis. The School endeavors to generate support for all qualified full-time doctoral and M.D.-Ph.D. students.

A major scientific challenge at the present time is the determination of the underlying biological basis for cancer. The related major clinical challenge is to apply basic research results to the treatment of cancer in humans. Both the experimental and clinical study of cancer require a scope and approach to the problem which transcends traditional departmental structures and requires knowledge in several disciplines including biochemistry, molecular biology, pharmacology, cellular biology, chemistry, pathology, physiology, therapeutics, anatomy, biophysics, and immunology. Investigators in cancer biology are in the forefront of basic developments in molecular and cellular biology such as cell regulation (growth factors, oncogenes), host immunological modulations, virology and biologic project-based industries (monoclonal antibodies, genetic engineering).

The Cancer Biology Program offers programs of study leading to the master of science and doctor of philosophy degrees. The doctoral degree is standard in the Program; master's study is recommended only for special circumstances. The graduate program outlined below emphasizes basic investigation at the molecular, cellular and tissue levels, and its focus can be varied to suit individual student needs. It leads to the Doctor of Philosophy degree; a joint Ph.D.-M.D. program is also available. Research training is also offered to holders of first professional degrees (e.g., M.D., D.D.S., D.V.M.).

Ph.D. students in the graduate program in cancer biology enroll in the School of Medicine's Interdisciplinary Biomedical Sciences (IBS) curriculum during their first year. The IBS curriculum includes IBS 7010, Biomedical Molecular Biology (five credits) and IBS 7020, Biomedical Cell Biology (five credits). It also includes selection by the student in conjunction with the program Graduate Officer of courses within the IBS Systems curriculum. The IBS Systems curriculum includes: IBS 7030, Biomedical Functional Genomics (two credits), IBS 7040, Biomedical Cardiovascular, Renal and Respiratory Systems (two credits), IBS 7050, Biomedical Neurobiology (two credits), IBS 7060, Biomedical Endocrine and Reproductive Systems and Development (two credits), IBS 7080, Biomedical Gastrointestinal Systems and Nutrition Biology (one credit), and IBS 7090, Biomedical Immunology (two credits).

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (see page 17) and the graduate programs in the School of Medicine (see page 316). Applicants to the Graduate Program in Cancer Biology should have a background in one of the chemical or biological sciences. Students with other backgrounds will be considered for admission based on their competence related to specific areas of interest in the program. A minimum grade point average of 3.0 is required for admission. Applicants should provide scores from the Graduate Record Examination; personal interviews may be requested. International students must be proficient in English as determined by satisfactory performance on the TOEFL English proficiency examination. Address letters of inquiry to the Program Director.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: An applicant for the Doctor of Philosophy degree must complete ninety credits, including at least thirty credits in dissertation research; and all other program and Graduate School requirements. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. ## Master of Science in Genetic Counseling

Office: 2375 Scott Hall

Program Directors: Anne E. Greb, M.S., and Angela Trepanier, M.S.

Genetic counselors are medical professionals who provide information and supportive counseling for individuals, families, and pregnancies who have or are at risk of having a genetic condition, and for families at risk of having a child with a genetic condition or birth defect. The practice of genetic counseling requires comprehensive knowledge of genetic diseases and mechanisms in combination with an appreciation for the psychological burdens and complex ethical and social issues associated with genetic disorders. Genetic counselors work as part of a health care delivery team. They are also involved in research, teaching, screening programs, disease-specific support groups and administrative duties.

The graduate program in genetic counseling is designed to prepare students with the appropriate knowledge base and practical experience to function as responsible genetic counselors in a variety of work settings. The curriculum consists of course work in fundamental genetic principles, human and medical genetics, as well as interviewing and counseling techniques. In addition, students gain practical experience by doing supervised clinical rotations in a variety of genetic and subspecialty clinics. The program is accredited by the American Board of Genetic Counseling.

Additional information and requests for application materials can be obtained by contacting Willia Lake, Genetic Counseling Graduate Program, 2375 Scott Hall, Wayne State University School of Medicine; telephone: 313-577-6298; e-mail: wlake@med.wayne.edu

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School and the Graduate Programs of the School of Medicine, see pages 17 and 316, respectively. Applicants must have a bachelors degree with a grade point average of at least 3.0. Undergraduate course work in biology, chemistry, genetics, organic chemistry, calculus, statistics and psychology is required. Also required are three letters of recommendation, a written essay, and Graduate Record Examination scores. Prospective students are encouraged to obtain exposure to a clinical setting with relevance to developmental disabilities and genetic diseases. In addition, advocacy experience is highly recommended.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science in Genetic Counseling is offered only as a Plan B Graduate School program, requiring an essay project, including approximately thirty-six credits: twenty-eight credits in course work, six credits in clinical internships, and two credits for the research project. A detailed listing of the required courses is available from the Program Director. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic rules and regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine, see pages 17 and 316, respectively.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in anatomy and cell biology

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in anatomy and cell biology

Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy Degrees

The Department of Anatomy and Cell Biology offers training for investigation of biological and biomedical problems using molecular, cellular, and morphological approaches. Faculty members are active in a diversity of research areas, including cell and developmental biology, neuroanatomy and neurophysiology, vision research, reproductive and evolutionary biology and immunology. Study for the Ph.D. degree includes dissertation research in the laboratory of a faculty member and can generally be completed in four to five years. Students who have also been admitted as medical students can typically complete both M.D. and Ph.D. degrees in six years. Admission to the master's degree program is very limited and based on special circumstances.

During their first year, Ph.D. students typically enroll in the School of Medicine's Interdisciplinary Biomedical Sciences (IBS) curriculum. The IBS curriculum includes IBS 7010, Biomedical Molecular Biology (five credits) and IBS 7020, Biomedical Cell Biology (five credits), in which students attend lectures and have opportunities for interactive participation with faculty in a small group setting. It also includes selection by the student in conjunction with the program Graduate Officer of courses within the IBS Systems curriculum.

The IBS Systems curriculum includes: IBS 7030, Biomedical Functional Genomics (two credits), IBS 7040, Biomedical Cardiovascular, Renal and Respiratory Systems (two credits), IBS 7050, Biomedical Neurobiology (two credits), IBS 7060, Biomedical Endocrine and Reproductive Systems and Development (two credits), and IBS 7090, Biomedical Immunology (two credits). Seminars and elective courses broaden the exposure to clinically-relevant areas of research.

Opportunities are provided for the student to become acquainted with the diverse research interests of the faculty and to obtain hands-on experience in selected techniques. In the second year, students may select advanced courses in several areas of Anatomy and Cell Biology and choose an adviser to assist in development and implementation of a dissertation research project. The graduate program is flexible and allows for continuing interdisciplinary training; emphasis is placed on designing a program which is tailored to the student's particular goals. In addition to developing research competence, individuals interested in pursuing teaching as part of a career will be able to achieve competence in neuroscience, embryology, and microscopic or gross anatomy.

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School and the graduate programs of the School of Medicine; for requirements, see pages 17 and 316, respectively. Applicants must have an undergraduate degree. A minimum grade point average of 3.0 is required for admission to the Ph.D. program; a minimum of 2.6 is required for admission to the master's program. An interview with the Graduate Committee Chairperson or designated representative is desirable. The Graduate Record Examination is required for admission. Foreign students must be proficient in English as determined by satisfactory performance on the standardized TOEFL English proficiency examination.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The general requirements for the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees may be found in the Graduate School section of this bulletin. The master's degree is offered as Plan B only, which includes a manuscript based on original research. Candidates for the Ph.D. are required to select at least two subdiscipline courses in anatomy and cell biology from the following: ANA 7010, 7030, 7080, 7130; they also complete written and oral qualifying examinations. The major component of the Ph.D. program is preparation of a dissertation which details the results of original research.

The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

Assistantships and Research

The Department has graduate assistantships and graduate research positions available for a number of qualified students. All students accepted into the graduate degree program are considered for financial assistance, and no application forms are necessary for this purpose. Students on assistantships are advised to elect no more than twelve credits in a given semester. All students, whether or not they hold a fellowship or assistantship, are required to assist the graduate faculty in teaching and research activities as a component of their educational experience. For more information on financial assistance, students should consult or write the Graduate Committee Chairperson, Department of Anatomy and Cell Biology, Wayne State University School of Medicine, 540 East Canfield, Detroit, Michigan 48201.

This department offers medical students a program in anesthesiology comprised of individual instruction in the operating room and a series of regularly scheduled seminars. The major objectives of study in this field include the acquisition of skills and knowledge related to: (1) airway management, including endotracheal intubation; (2) lumbar puncture and spinal anesthesia; (3) monitoring of anesthetized patients; (4) pharmacology of anesthetic agents and other drugs related to anesthesia; (5) preoperative evaluation and preparation of a patient for anesthesia and surgery; (6) physiology of the perioperative period; (7) respiratory therapy including management of patients who require prolonged ventilator care; (8) management of acute drug intoxication; and (9) management of pain.

A one-month elective in anesthesiology is offered to medical students during the senior year. The student may select to have this elective at one of a number of designated hospitals in the Detroit metropolitan area, or, upon special request and with the approval of the department chairperson, at some other institution.

Graduate Degree

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology

Students electing to study in the Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology will find faculty with a broad range of research interests, including structural studies of macromolecules by both x-ray crystallography and nuclear magnetic resonance, bioenergetics, enzymology, chromosome structure, and the molecular basis of drug resistance. During their first year, students undertake rotations, each of ten weeks duration, in three laboratories of their choice. The intention of rotations is to allow the student to make an informed decision about their ultimate area of research specialization. The variety of coursework available within the Department, elsewhere in the Medical School, and in various departments on the main campus allows the student to acquire a deep and appropriate contemporary scientific background for experimental research. The Department encourages the development of an individually-designed thesis project in collaboration with a student's research mentors.

The Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology offers programs leading to the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. The doctoral degree is standard in the Department for students planning teaching or research careers in this field; master's study is recommended only for special circumstances. The department attempts to pattern students' programs according to their interests and, at the same time, to provide them with diverse experiences in the major areas of biochemistry. An M.D.-Ph.D. program with a major in biochemistry is also available.

Doctor of Philosophy Degree

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (see page 17) and the Graduate Programs of the School of Medicine (see page 316). Additionally, applicants are expected to meet the following departmental requirements: Students must have an undergraduate degree. Preferred majors include chemistry, biology, or physics, although other students are encouraged to apply. A minimum grade point average of 3.0 for the Ph.D. program is required; and an interview with the Graduate Officer or designated representative should be arranged if possible. The Graduate Record Examination is required for admission. Foreign students must be proficient in English as determined by satisfactory performance on the standardized TOEFL English proficiency examination.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Applicants for the Doctor of Philosophy degree must complete ninety credits, including at least thirty credits in research and dissertation, at least six credits in a minor and the remaining credits distributed between the major and required cognate courses and electives. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in the following way: Students who attain Candidacy then register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. Coursework requirements include two courses in the School of Medicine's Interdisciplinary Biomedical Sciences (IBS) curriculum: IBS 7010, Biomedical Molecular Biology (five credits) and IBS 7020, Biomedical Cell Biology (five credits); as well as a selection of additional courses (total four credits). Additional courses should be selected from: IBS 7040, Biomedical Cardiovascular, Renal and Respiratory Systems (two credits), IBS 7050, Biomedical Neurobiology (two credits), IBS 7060, Biomedical Endocrine and Reproductive Systems and Development (two credits), IBS 7080, Biomedical Gastrointestinal Systems and Nutrition Biology (one credit), and IBS 7090, Biomedical Immunology (two credits). Required departmental courses include BMB 7320, Protein Structure and Function (three credits), BMB 7330, Advanced Molecular Biology (two credits), and six credits in BMB 7890, Journal Club.

Each student must arrange a program in an area of minor concentration with a representative of the department in which he/she plans to minor and preferably with the representative on the doctoral committee. Concentrations in the following are among the acceptable minors: organic chemistry, physical chemistry, physical-organic chemistry, microbiology or immunology, pharmacology, physiology, biology and computer science.

Graduate Programs

MASTER OF PUBLIC HEALTH with specializations in Quantitative Health Sciences, Public Health Practice, and Occupational and Environmental Health

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Community Health Services and a specialization in Occupational Medicine<sup>1</sup>

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in Public Health Practice

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in Community Health Services Research and Evaluation<sup>1</sup>

Community medicine is the academic discipline that deals with the identification and solution of health problems of communities and human populations. It is a population-based study that addresses health promotion, disease prevention, restoration of health, relief of suffering, and the maintenance of health. The range and scope of the sciences and skills required in community medicine include epidemiology, biostatistics, research methodology, health services research, behavioral sciences, and biomedical sciences. Central to the approach of community medicine is a focus on public health and community-level factors that influence health including social, economic, cultural, ethnic, and environment factors.

There is a strong community and public health focus in the Department, and an emphasis on research and applications of socio-behavioral and medical sciences to health problems in the community. Collaboration with other schools in the University allows for an interdisciplinary approach to study of the health care system.

The Department also provides training for first-year and second-year medical students in epidemiologic and biometric studies, and in current health service issues relevant to medical practice. Opportunities exist for students who wish to concentrate on aspects of community and public health during their senior elective year.

Master of Public Health

Admission to the Master of Public Health (M.P.H.) program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School and the School of Medicine; see pages 17 and 316, respectively. Candidates must also complete undergraduate work in mathematics, natural science, and social science, and have experience in a health-related position.

1. An admissions moratorium is in effect for this program.

Contact the Department or view the webpage for specific admissions requirements. Students can begin the program only during the Fall semester. All admissions materials must be received by February 15 for a student to be considered for the following fall semester. It is strongly recommended that international students submit their materials by January 1 to insure that they are processed in time. Students applying for the Occupational and Environmental Health concentration must meet additional admissions requirements. (See the Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences program, Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, page 400.)

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for the master's degree must complete forty-two credits in course work. Course selections must include C M 6010, 7010, 7100, 7240, 7320; OEH 7420 or OEH 7060 (depending on concentration); and the practicum C M 7440. Additionally, students must fulfill concentration requirements (see below), complete a Master's Project (three credits) or a Master's Thesis (eight credits), and take sufficient approved electives to complete the forty-two credits required. All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively. All work must be completed within six years.

Students choose one of three concentrations:

Quantitative Health Sciences Concentration (10 credits)

Required courses for the specialization: C M 6020, 7260, 7390

Public Health Practice Concentration (10 credits)

Required courses for the specialization: C M 7210, 7230, 7250

Occupational and Environmental Health Concentration (9 credits)

Required courses for the specialization: OEH 7300, 7720, 7860. (See the offerings associated with the Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences program in the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, page 400.)

Scholarship: A grade of 'B-minus' or lower is considered unacceptable work at the graduate level and graduate students must maintain a g.p.a. of 3.00 or better. Students who receive a 'B-minus' or lower grade in any core course must repeat the course and receive a 'B' or better grade. The student is not eligible to take advanced courses or earn credits toward the project or thesis until the core course deficiency is satisfied. If a student receives lower than a 'B' upon their second attempt, the student will need tutoring and ultimately repeat the course a third time. If still unsuccessful, the student will be dismissed from the program. Students will be allowed to balance a 'B-minus' or lower grade in a non-core course with an 'A-minus' or higher grade in another course, thus maintaining a 3.00 or higher overall g.p.a. However, any student who receives a 'B-minus' or lower in a course will be asked to meet with their adviser to insure that they are aware of graduate school requirements and to determine if any remedial aid is required. Failure to maintain a g.p.a. of at least 3.00 after such counseling will result in dismissal from the M.P.H. program.

Combined M.P.H. — Graduate Certificate in Gerontology: A concentration in health and aging is available to qualified students in the master's program. Upon completion, a Graduate Certificate in Gerontology is awarded with the M.P.H. degree. This course of study is designed to train persons committed to careers in health-care institutions, long-term care facilities, and community agencies and organizations. Students must fulfill all requirements for the M.P.H. degree as described above, completing forty-nine credits in community health and gerontology. Approval of the directors of both programs is required. (For the Graduate Certificate program, see the Institute of Gerontology, page 43.)

Graduate Certificate in Public Health Practice

The Department offers a graduate certificate program in public health practice, which provides specialized training for individuals of varying backgrounds and experience who are committed to working in the health care field. The course of study is designed to develop the student's capacity to apply public health theory and practice in analyzing community health problems and health care delivery services.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School and the School of Medicine; see pages 17 and 316, respectively. In addition, a background in health care is required, as is a background of course work or experience in the areas of mathematics, social science, natural science, and computer usage. Students may enroll in the certificate program concurrently with a regular graduate degree program (M.S., M.A., or Ph.D.).

The Department of Emergency Medicine provides basic life support training and physical diagnosis instruction to sophomore students. Junior students receive advanced cardiac life support training and participate in a suture laboratory to learn suture techniques. A mandatory rotation in emergency medicine for all senior students takes place at Detroit Medical Center hospitals or other affiliated hospitals.

The fourth year rotation is designed to familiarize the student with: (1) the evaluation, assessment and stabilization of patients with urgent medical problems; (2) invasive and noninvasive procedures routinely used in the emergency department; and (3) management of acutely-ill patients in a timely manner.

Graduate medical education includes four three-year emergency medicine residency programs, two based at the Detroit Medical Center (Detroit Receiving Hospital and Sinai-Grace Hospital), and one each at William Beaumont Hospital - Royal Oak and St. John Hospital and Medical Center. All programs are fully accredited.

FINANCIAL AID: The John Skjaerlund, M.D., Endowed Fellowship was established to support emergency medicine research by Wayne State medical students and emergency medicine residents. To apply for funding, contact: Gary Krause, M.D. (basic science research) or Robert Zalenski, M.D. (clinical research).

Undergraduate Education

The Department of Family Medicine provides a significant amount of teaching in the medical school curriculum. The Family Medicine Clerkship Director is also the co-director of the Medical Student Year 1 (MS1) and Year 2 (MS2) Clinical Medicine Course in which students first learn about the clinical skills of interviewing, the physical examination and medical record keeping. This course also includes site visits to community physician offices. Much of the instruction in this course is case-based and occurs in small groups led by physicians. Several of the sessions include interviews with 'standardized patients,' actors who have been trained to respond to student interviewers as would a 'real' patient. Family Medicine faculty also provide primary instruction and curriculum design for Public Health and Preventive Medicine, Vertically Integrated Curricular themes including Interpersonal Violence, Alcohol, Tobacco and other Drug Use, Occupational and Environmental Medicine, Cultural Competence, Geriatrics and Managing Care. The Clerkship Director is also the Clerkship co-director of the six month MS3 Continuity Clinic Clerkship.

A required four-week third year clerkship/preceptorship is conducted by the Department. Most students are placed with private physicians or residencies in family practice located throughout the Detroit metropolitan area. Alternative placements locate students in physicians' offices in out-state Michigan, including the Upper Peninsula. This course stresses ambulatory family practice with an emphasis on skill-building based in a continuity of care experience.

A number of electives are offered in the fourth year, including: additional preceptorship experiences with practicing family physicians, specially-designed experiences with family practice residency programs, geriatrics, occupational health, community medicine, and research.

Students can fulfill a required four-week subinternship in Family Medicine. During the sub-internship, students function as would a first year resident, taking night call and assisting in the care of hospitalized patients while under the supervision of attending physicians.

Graduate Education

The Department, in cooperation with Sinai-Grace Hospital and other Detroit Medical Center institutions, sponsors a three-year accredited Family Practice Residency Program. Ambulatory family practice experience takes place in the Family Practice Center, located in northwest Detroit. Hospital rotations are arranged through the Detroit Medical Center network. Residents gain experience in Sinai-Grace, Children's, Harper University, Hutzel, Detroit Receiving, Huron Valley-Sinai, and the Veterans Administration hospitals. The Department has initiated a two-year program in occupational and environmental medicine training at the graduate level.

Postgraduate Education: The Department plays an active role in providing continuing education for family physicians in practice. A five-day clinical update conference is presented each year in addition to weekly and monthly Departmental conferences approved for continuing medical education credit to which practicing physicians are invited.

Community Service: In order to carry out clinical education functions, faculty and residents of the Department offer medical care to the community through the Family Practice Centers and related institutions. Patient care functions are performed in collaboration with other health professionals such as clinical nurse specialists, clinical pharmacists, and social workers and their students. These services are available to individuals and families of all socio-economic levels in the community, including students, staff and faculty of the University. The Department provides geriatric care at Grace Hospital and the Detroit Medical Center Nursing Center in Dearborn Heights. A senior departmental faculty member directs the epidemiology section of the Karmanos Cancer Institute.

Research: Departmental research interests include studies designed to improve delivery of primary care health services at the individual, family, and community levels and to provide health promotion services which recognize the important role of the family and community in maintaining health and coping with illness. Examples of specific research projects include increasing influenza vaccine acceptance in the elderly, antibiotic use and the incidence of vulvovaginal candidiasis, and patient use of the internet to identify health resources. The Department also has strong ties with the cancer epidemiology program within the Karmanos Cancer Institute. Specific projects in that area include quality of life in long term survivors of cervical cancer, the prevention of tobacco use in youth, the interaction of luminal lipid exposure and genetics risk factors in colon cancer, genetic susceptibility to infection related cancer, methods for calculating race/ethnic cancer incidence rates, genetic polymorphisms in prostate cancer, environmental risk factors for kidney cancer, and genetic risk factors for pancreas cancer. Our faculty is also involved in the development of the newly funded Center for African American Urban Health.

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Immunology and Microbiology

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Immunology and Microbiology

The Department of Immunology and Microbiology has eighteen faculty with primary appointments in the Department and support personnel including graduate students, post-doctoral fellows, and administrative and technical staff. In addition, affiliate faculty in health care units of the Detroit Medical Center, Henry Ford Health System, and the Karmanos Cancer Institute participate in departmental activities. The faculty are actively engaged in individual and collaborative research in the areas of immunology, virology, and bacteriology. Current research of the immunologists includes autoimmune diseases, cancer immunology, immunoparasitology, infectious diseases, lymphocyte biology, neuroimmunology, mucosal immunology, and immune regulation. The virologists are investigating the control of viral gene expression, glycoprotein functions, molecular mechanisms in latent and persistent viral infections and transcriptional regulation using herpes simplex viruses, influenza and retroviruses. The bacteriologists are studying molecular mechanisms of bacterial pathogenesis, regulation of bacterial gene expression in eukaryotes, ocular infections and drug delivery systems and structure-function analyses of bacterial toxins.

The Department offers a diversified program leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree. The Master of Science degree is available for Ph.D. students who are unable to complete the Ph.D. requirements. All questions concerning these programs should be directed to the Graduate Officer, Department of Immunology and Microbiology.

Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy Degrees

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (see page 17) and the Graduate Programs of the School of Medicine (see page 316). Additionally, applicants are expected to meet the requirements of the Department: students must have an undergraduate degree and a minimum grade point average of 3.0 to apply for the Ph.D. program. An interview with the Graduate Officer or designated representative is desirable. The Graduate Record Examination aptitude test is required. Foreign students must be proficient in English as determined by satisfactory performance on the standardized TOEFL English proficiency examination.

Scholarship: All course work in the programs must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School, the School of Medicine, and the Department of Immunology and Microbiology governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively.

MASTER OF SCIENCE REQUIREMENTS

The major objective of the educational program in internal medicine is to establish a firm conceptual basis for clinical diagnosis and treatment of disease. The exposure to clinical disciplines is graduated throughout the student's four year curriculum. During the early medical school years emphasis is placed on the application of knowledge gained in the basic science courses to an understanding of the biological disorders which accompany human disease. In the freshman year, the student works with the Department of Internal Medicine through participation in several clinical conferences. During the sophomore year, the student's attention is directed toward the study of pathophysiologic mechanisms of disease, the principles of clinical diagnosis and the scientific basis of therapeutics. An internal medicine forum is available for students interested in internal medicine as a career. In the junior and senior years emphasis is placed on the student's direct participation in patient care as a member of the health-care team. In the junior year the student gains clinical experience through assignment to Wayne State University teaching hospitals; this insures acquaintance with several members of the faculty and to a wide spectrum of medical problems. During the senior year, the student spends a month as an acting intern and a month in an outpatient clinic to gain experience with ambulatory medicine. Elective courses in subspecialties are offered. Students may also choose to pursue laboratory investigative programs under the tutelage of members of the faculty. In addition to formal course work, the student may elect more intensive study as a student-fellow in either clinical or laboratory medicine during the summer recesses. With the expansion of the Internal Medicine faculty, a number of research experiences supported by a variety of national funding agencies are available.

The Department of Neurological Surgery has the goal of acquainting the undergraduate medical student with the problems, both diagnostic and therapeutic, in the field of neurological surgery. This is accomplished by close affiliation with and participation in the neurosciences core curriculum of the freshman and sophomore years. Lectures, conferences and ward rounds are included in this teaching program. In the third year neurology teaching program the Department curriculum emphasizes the surgical aspects of neurology. Third year students are made aware of problems best handled by neurosurgical techniques during their trauma and emergency surgery rotation. Fourth year students seeking further study of neurosurgical techniques may elect programs in clinical neurological surgery and in experimental treatment of head injury cases. Detroit Receiving Hospital, Harper University Hospital, Sinai-Grace Hospital, and Children's Hospital of Michigan are the primary clinical facilities for undergraduate instruction by this department.

A five-year residency training program (with an option of a two-year laboratory curriculum directed toward a Ph.D.) in neurological surgery is conducted by the Department and based at the following University-affiliated hospitals: Detroit Receiving, Harper University, and Children's. The research interests of the department are concentrated primarily in the neurological mechanisms involved in ischemic stroke, brain tumors, stereotactic and computer-assisted surgery, neuro oncology, skull base surgery, aneurysms and AVM clinical studies, craniofacial anomalies, and hydrocephalus. The Department of Neurological Surgery operates a microsurgical laboratory for residents and participants in ongoing research projects who require training in microsurgical techniques and microsurgical anatomy. The residents also participate actively in tumor research at Karmanos Cancer Institute.

Undergraduate Medical Education

The Department of Neurology provides instruction in the first, second, third, and fourth years of the medical curriculum. Members participate in the first year basic neuroscience course. In the second year the department is responsible for the clinical neuroscience-neurology course, which emphasizes pathophysiology. During the third year, all students rotate for four weeks through the neurology unit at one of the University-affiliated hospitals, at which time the students receive bedside and outpatient teaching and are given responsibilities in patient management. Clinical electives for students who have completed the required courses are available for interested students.

Post Graduate Education

The Wayne State University Neurology Residency Training Program is a fully-accredited program. The department offers a three-year training program for candidates applying for a second year post-graduate level of training. Post-residency fellowships are also available in neuromuscular diseases/EMG, epilepsy/EEG, neurocritical care, multiple sclerosis/neuroimmunology, stroke, and sleep disorders.

Research Electives

Research electives for medical students are available, either in brief summer rotations or for longer periods taken during elective time. Interested students are encouraged to contact the Department of Neurology.

The discipline of obstetrics and gynecology is concerned with the reproductive health of women. This concept implies knowledge that extends from embryology through gerontology. A prime objective of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology is to present, and to add to, the current knowledge of the normal physiology and pathology of reproduction.

Major teaching and research efforts in the Department focus on several subspecialty areas, including maternal-fetal medicine, gynecologic oncology, reproductive endocrinology/infertility, and reproductive genetics. In addition, emphasis is placed on family planning and contraceptive technology, sonographic imaging, psychosexual issues, and computer applications in treatment, diagnosis, and research. The faculty integrates basic science and clinical research into clinical practice.

Students gain clinical experience in obstetrics and gynecology in Detroit Medical Center Hospitals — Hutzel and Sinai-Grace — in addition to other affiliated hospitals: William Beaumont, Oakwood, Providence, St. John's, and Henry Ford. The third year clerkship includes an extensive didactic course, as well as in-depth clinical experience. Further, clinical and research opportunities are available in all subspecialty areas during senior elective periods. Summer student research fellowships are available, both in clinical research within the Department, and in basic research at the C. S. Mott Center for Human Growth and Development, where the Department's basic science laboratories are located.

The Ophthalmology Department is committed to education, research, and patient. These activities are conducted primarily in the central campus of the Detroit Medical Center, in the Kresge Eye Institute, under the direction of the Department Chairperson. The close association of medical practice, research and teaching makes the Kresge Eye Institute a unique teaching facility. Whether correcting common eye disorders such as cataracts, glaucoma and strabismus, or performing highly technical operations such as vitrectomy, corneal transplants or lens implantations, the medical staff uses the most advanced diagnostic, treatment, and surgical methods. Thus, the Institute is ideally suited for clinical instruction because it attracts many patients with rare eye diseases, engages in advanced diagnostic techniques, performs a wide range of delicate eye operations and is a center for eye research. Through its affiliation with the University and the Detroit Medical Center, the Institute provides a stimulating learning environment for graduate physicians and medical students. At this facility they have the opportunity to work with leading ophthalmologists and research scientists.

Each year the Institute selects seven outstanding medical graduates for a three-year residency training program in eye diseases and surgery. Clinical and research fellowships in vitreoretinal diseases and surgery, glaucoma and ocular trauma are available on a selective basis upon completion of the residency program. The Institute's faculty also provides lectures and clinical training for third and fourth year medical students. The teaching encompasses courses in ophthalmology for residents in family practice and emergency medicine.

Undergraduate orthopaedic instruction is an integrated program designed to introduce the medical student to the entire field of musculoskeletal diseases and injuries. By means of demonstrations, lectures, conferences, clinics and clerkships, the student learns the important specifics of the orthopaedic examination and is exposed to many groups of musculoskeletal problems related to trauma in adults and children. By study of the factual content of common problems in each field, the student's attention is directed to general principles of diagnosis and treatment.

The undergraduate teaching program of the Department of Otolaryngology, Head and Neck Surgery is designed to acquaint students with all diseases treated by the modern otolaryngologist. Instruction is given in the methods of examining the ear, nose and throat in the outpatient department. Audiology is included so that the student may properly classify deafness in prescribing appropriate therapy.

Head and neck, and plastic and reconstructive surgery as related to otolaryngology are included in the instructional program. Observation and, at times, assistance at surgical operations offer additional learning opportunities to students. In general, the program stresses the correlation of ear, nose and throat to the entire curriculum in medicine and surgery.

Graduate Degree

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in pathology

The Pathology Graduate Program provides students with the tools to carry out first-rate basic research with state-of-the-art technologies and a solid understanding of clinically relevant human diseases. Research focuses on unveiling the molecular and cellular mechanisms responsible for the pathogenesis of human diseases.

At the graduate level, the Department of Pathology offers programs in cellular and molecular pathobiology leading to the Doctor of Philosophy degree. Ph.D. students in the Cellular and Molecular Pathobiology program enroll in the School of Medicine's Interdisciplinary Biomedical Sciences (IBS) curriculum during their first year. The IBS curriculum includes IBS 7010, Biomedical Molecular Biology (five credits) and IBS 7020, Biomedical Cell Biology (five credits). It also includes selection by the student in conjunction with the departmental Graduate Officer of courses within the IBS Systems curriculum. The IBS Systems curriculum includes: IBS 7040, Biomedical Cardiovascular, Renal and Respiratory Systems (two credits), IBS 7050, Biomedical Neurobiology (two credits), IBS 7060, Biomedical Endocrine and Reproductive Systems and Development (two credits), and IBS 7090, Biomedical Immunology (two credits).

Doctor of Philosophy

Admission is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School and the graduate programs of the School of Medicine; see pages 17 and 316, respectively. Applicants to this doctoral program should have a background in one of the chemical or biological sciences. Students with diverse backgrounds will be considered individually if they have special competence related to one of the departmental interests. Applicants are expected to provide their scores on the Graduate Record Examination. Personal interviews are desirable. Letters of inquiry should be directed to the Graduate Officer of the Department.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Requirements for students enrolled in the doctoral degree programs are described on pages 30 and 316. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. Students are expected to demonstrate their understanding of the IBS curriculum as well as general pathology, in order to pass a general examination for candidacy for the Ph.D. degree. Other courses are arranged to meet the specific needs and interests of each student. Research in pathology is expected of students in order to complete requirements for the Ph.D. degree, and may be conducted in the various fields of faculty specialization. In the area of experimental pathology, these include: cardiovascular pathology and biochemistry, cell and molecular biology, cancer biology and metastasis, tissue culture, cell differentiation, apoptosis, growth factor signaling, diabetes and neuropathology.

Assistantships and Research

The Department, through IBS, competes for graduate research positions available for a number of qualified students. All students accepted into the graduate degree program are considered for financial assistance and no application forms are necessary for this purpose. Students on graduate research assistantships are advised to elect no more than ten credits in a given semester. All students, whether or not they hold a fellowship or an assistantship, are required to assist the graduate faculty in teaching and research activities as a component of their educational experience. For more complete information on financial assistance, students should consult or write the Graduate Officer, Department of Pathology, Wayne State University School of Medicine, 540 East Canfield, Detroit, Michigan 48201. Formal teaching by the Department of Pediatrics takes place in the patient units and clinics at Children's Hospital of Michigan during the third year of the medical school program. The aim of the student clerkship is to acquaint the student with the course of normal development, the common variations from normal patterns, and the reaction of the immature to illness. An effort is made to incorporate all aspects of childhood in the allotted time of study in order to have full participation by members of the surgical, orthopedic, and psychiatric staff. An inpatient and outpatient experience is offered that affords the student an opportunity to be exposed to a broad array of pediatric illness. The Department of Pediatrics maintains contact with the student before the clerkship through contribution to the curriculum of basic science courses. The Department also provides an optional program of study during the fourth year.

The Fourth Year Elective Program offers the senior student an opportunity to gain experience in general pediatrics at a greater level of responsibility in patient care. The student assumes an increasing role as a primary caretaker under the supervision of the resident staff in advanced years of pediatric training. Experience in the pediatric subspecialties is also available to senior students. Thus, they are able to improve the level of their clinical skills and to obtain familiarity with the application of clinical and laboratory research techniques to the investigation of pathophysiology in a wide variety of children. Further information regarding programs may be obtained by writing to the office of the Chairperson of the Department.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in pharmacology

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in pharmacology

The discipline of pharmacology is concerned with all aspects of the effects of drugs and chemicals on living systems. The field ranges from investigations at the molecular level to population studies on a global level. Drug development and evaluation make up an important part of pharmacology, but the field also includes the use of drugs as tools to probe the functions of macromolecules, cells, organs and even whole animals, and investigation of the harmful effects of chemicals on cells, organs and animals (toxicology). The breadth of interests encompassed by pharmacology provides excellent opportunities for individuals with strong interests and training in biology or chemistry to apply their knowledge to the understanding of fundamental biological processes.

Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy Degrees

The Department of Pharmacology offers programs leading to the Master of Science degree and to the Doctor of Philosophy degree. In general, it is not recommended that students elect to register for a master's degree program, except under unusual circumstances. A joint Ph.D.-M.D. program is also available.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (see page 17) and the Graduate Program of the School of Medicine (see page 316). Applicants to the graduate program of the Department of Pharmacology should have a background in one of the chemical or biological sciences. Students with diverse backgrounds will be considered individually if they have special competence related to one of the departmental areas of interest. Applicants are expected to provide scores from the Graduate Record Examination. A subject test is not required, but is helpful in making the admission decision. Personal interviews are recommended. Letters of inquiry should be directed to the Chair, Graduate Admissions Committee of the Department.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Requirements for students enrolled in graduate degree programs are described in this bulletin beginning on page 26. Ph.D. students in the graduate program in pharmacology enroll in the School of Medicine's Interdisciplinary Biomedical Sciences (IBS) curriculum during their first year. The IBS curriculum includes IBS 7010, Biomedical Molecular Biology (five credits) and IBS 7020, Biomedical Cell Biology (five credits). It also includes selection by the student in conjunction with the departmental Graduate Officer of courses within the IBS Systems curriculum. The IBS Systems curriculum includes: IBS 7040, Biomedical Cardiovascular, Renal and Respiratory Systems (two credits), IBS 7050, Biomedical Neurobiology (two credits), IBS 7060, Biomedical Endocrine and Reproductive Systems and Development (two credits), and IBS 7090, Biomedical Immunology (two credits). Pharmacology course requirements include participation in the journal club (PHC 7700) and seminar series (PHC 7890), and the selection of six advanced pharmacology minicourses (PHC 7650).

Students are expected to demonstrate their understanding of basic biochemistry, physiology and pharmacology in order to pass their general examination for candidacy for the Ph.D. degree. For each student in the program a unique plan is constructed to allow utilization of previous educational experience and individual interests, permitting the student to progress as rapidly as possible. The program consists of a small number of required courses, several research rotation projects, a qualifying examination, and a doctoral dissertation based on new and significant research findings. The research opportunities available for graduate students include the areas of biochemical, cellular, cardiovascular, autonomic, and renal pharmacology; neuropharmacology; cancer biology, carcinogenesis, and chemotherapy; drug metabolism; and environmental toxicology. Major expertise is available in cell biology of protein trafficking and signal transduction, in protein chemistry, proteases and molecular biology, and in functional imaging technology. The master's degree requires successful completion of a thesis based on original laboratory research. The thirty credit Ph.D. dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled by registration in the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

Assistantships and Research

The Department has graduate assistantships and graduate research positions available for a number of qualified students. All students accepted into the graduate degree program are considered for financial assistance and no application forms are necessary for this purpose. Students on assistantships are advised to elect no more than twelve credits in a given semester. All students, whether or not they hold a fellowship or assistantship, are required to assist the graduate faculty in teaching and research activities as a component of their educational experience. For more complete information, students should consult or write the Chair, Graduate Admissions Committee, Department of Pharmacology, Wayne State University School of Medicine, 540 East Canfield, Detroit, Michigan 48201.

Graduate Degree

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Rehabilitation Sciences

The Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation encourages the student to acquire knowledge of the patient as a person, not merely of his/her disease. The student is taught to assess the neuromuscular and musculoskeletal systems and to manage disorders of these systems. In addition, a concept of rehabilitation is presented which considers not only the disease or injury that leads to chronic disability, but emphasizes the coordination of effective therapies and forces which will ameliorate the social, psychological and vocational problems created by the impairment.

Teaching is conducted through lectures, demonstrations, staff conferences and seminars, with the major emphasis upon office practice instruction. Clinical instruction is provided at the Rehabilitation Institute of Michigan and Sinai-Grace Hospital, the principal teaching facilities of the Department, and at the following institutions: Harper University Hospital, Detroit Receiving Hospital, Children's Hospital, and Veterans' Administration Hospital.

Master of Science with a Major in Rehabilitation Sciences

The goal of this program is to prepare a physiatrist (physician specialist in physical medicine and rehabilitation) in the expanded roles of clinician-researcher and clinician-administrator. Students in this program will primarily be residents in physical medicine and rehabilitation. The curriculum will enable graduates to function as competent practitioners in the care of persons with disabilities. In addition, it will develop core competencies in the areas of medical rehabilitation research and rehabilitation administration. Many classes are offered in a distance-learning format.

Admission is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School and the graduate programs of the School of Medicine; see pages 17 and 316, respectively. Admission to the program is determined by the Admissions Committee of the faculty of the Department. Applicants must have completed an M.D. or D.O. degree at an accredited institution and have been accepted into the residency training program in physical medicine and rehabilitation; and demonstrate a record of interest and involvement in research activities and/or leadership roles. Admission to this program occurs at the Post Graduate Level Year II, the level at which physicians enter residency in the Department.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science with a major in Rehabilitation Sciences is offered as either a Plan A or Plan B option, requiring a total of thirty-four credits. The Plan A (thesis) option requires twenty-six credits in course work plus an eight-credit thesis. The Plan B (project) option requires twenty-six credits in required course work, four elective credits, and a four-credit project.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Physiology

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Physiology

Physiologists study the functions of living organisms or their parts, with emphasis on the functional interrelationships between healthy, as opposed to diseased, tissues, cells and sub-cellular components.

Increasingly, the discipline has focussed on the properties of single cells and their sub-cellular components and, in this respect, has much in common with molecular biology. However, whether at the level of the single cell or the whole organism, the aim of the physiologist is to understand those complex functional interrelationships between body tissues.

Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy Degrees

The Department of Physiology offers programs leading to the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Students planning a career in teaching or research in physiology are advised to complete the requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy degree. The degree of Master of Science is frequently the first step toward the Ph.D. degree.

Admission to the program is contingent upon satisfying the requirements of the Graduate School (see page 17) and the Graduate Programs of the School of Medicine (see page 316). In addition, applicants for the Doctor of Philosophy degree are expected to have a personal interview with the members of the departmental graduate committee.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The overall requirements for the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are set forth in the Graduate School section of this bulletin. The master's degree is offered under Plan A only (as defined on page 29), for which the student must submit a thesis based on original research. Ph.D. students in the graduate program in physiology enroll in the School of Medicine's Interdisciplinary Biomedical Sciences (IBS) curriculum during their first year. The IBS curriculum includes IBS 7010, Biomedical Molecular Biology (five credits) and IBS 7020, Biomedical Cell Biology (five credits). It also includes selection by the student in conjunction with the departmental Graduate Officer of courses within the IBS Systems curriculum. The IBS Systems curriculum includes: IBS 7040, Biomedical Cardiovascular, Renal and Respiratory Systems (two credits), IBS 7050, Biomedical Neurobiology (two credits), IBS 7060, Biomedical Endocrine and Reproductive Systems and Development (two credits), IBS 7080, Biomedical Gastrointestinal Systems and Nutrition Biology (one credit), and IBS 7090, Biomedical Immunology (two credits). Candidates for the Ph.D. are expected to conduct original research and prepare a dissertation commensurate with thirty credits of dissertation direction. The research supporting the dissertation must be judged suitable for publication in one of the current scientific journals. This latter requirement may, in exceptional cases, be waived by the Chairperson of the Department.

The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

Assistantships and Research

The Department has graduate assistantships and graduate research positions available for a limited number of qualified students. All doctoral students accepted into the program are considered for financial assistance and no application forms are necessary for this purpose. Students on assistantships are advised to elect no more than twelve credits in a given semester. All students, whether or not they hold a fellowship or an assistantship, are required to assist the graduate faculty in research and teaching activities as a component of their educational experience. For more complete information on fellowships, students should consult or write the Graduate Officer, Department of Physiology, Wayne State University School of Medicine, Gordon H. Scott Hall of Basic Medical Sciences, 540 East Canfield, Detroit, Michigan 48201.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Psychiatry and Behavioral Neurosciences

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Cellular and Clinical Neurobiology (For additional information, see page 320.)

Undergraduate Education

The teaching program in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neurosciences provides the medical student with an awareness of psychiatric problems as they are experienced in the practice of medicine, regardless of whether the student plans a general or specialty practice. Students become familiar with the social, psychodynamic, behavioral, and biological factors involved in the development of personality, emotional conflicts and psychopathology. Additionally, they are taught to recognize the importance of the emotional aspects in the doctor-patient relationship. The Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neurosciences is active in the teaching of the medical student throughout four years of training with a required clinical clerkship occurring in the third year. Clinical psychiatry rotations are conducted at Detroit Receiving Hospital, Harper University Hospital, Providence Hospital, Sinai-Grace Hospital, University Psychiatric Centers, and Veterans' Administration Medical Center.

Assistantships

The Department has graduate assistantships available for a number of qualified students. All students accepted into the graduate program are considered for financial assistance, and no separate application forms are necessary for this purpose. For further information, contact: Graduate Officer, Cellular and Clinical Neurobiology Program, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neurosciences, Wayne State University School of Medicine, 2309 Scott Hall, 540 East Canfield, Detroit, Michigan 48201.

Master of Science in Psychiatry

The Master of Science in Psychiatry program organized within the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neurosciences provides formal research training in clinical psychiatry and basic sciences with clear training objectives. This program is designed for physicians and medical students interested in an academic or research career. The interdisciplinary program combines the clinical and training resources of the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Neurosciences and basic research training resources of the Cellular and Clinical Neurobiology Program. The core curriculum consists of clinical psychiatry, neurobiology, advanced topics in cellular and clinical neurobiology, statistics and research problems, and directed laboratory experience. Faculty includes Drs. Balon, Bannon, Galloway, Johansen, Kapatos, Schuster, Tancer and others. An oral thesis defense is required. Individual curriculum plans and research projects will be developed for each student.

Physicians can enter the program at two different levels – either at the second year of their residency training in psychiatry (four year program: PGY II – PGY V), or at the first year of their research fellowship in psychiatry (two year program: PGY V – PGY VI). Medical students can enter the program at any point after finishing the first year of medical school. Physician applicants should have an M.D. or D.O. degree and have to be accepted to either a residency or two year research fellowship in psychiatry at Wayne State University School of Medicine psychiatry residency training program. Medical students have to be students in good standing at the Wayne State University School of Medicine.

Inquiries should be addressed to: Graduate Director, Psychiatry Master's Degree Program, University Psychiatric Center, 2751 E. Jefferson Avenue, Suite 200, Detroit, MI 48207; phone: (313) 993-3416, FAX: (313) 993-3422

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School and the Graduate Programs of the School of Medicine; for requirements, see pages 17 and 316 respectively. A bachelor's degree in physics or a physical science is the preferred background for students entering these programs, although candidates with degrees in other scientific or technological specialties may be accepted provided they have an adequate education in physics and mathematics. Applicants with incomplete physics and/or mathematics backgrounds will normally be required to complete their preparation in these areas before acceptance into a program.

Course subjects appropriate to graduate work in medical and radiological physics include human anatomy and physiology, electronics, mechanics, nuclear physics, modern physics, radiological physics (applicable to all areas of radiology), radiobiology, radiation safety, computer science, and statistics.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Medicine governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 316, respectively.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science with a major in Radiological Physics is offered under Plan B as defined by the Graduate School on page 29. For course requirements, contact the Program Director.

The Ph.D. requires ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate including thirty credits of dissertation direction. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. The Clinical Internship is required. The dissertation must be based on original research under the direction of a graduate faculty adviser.

Assistantships and Research

The faculty of the medical physics graduate programs offers students ample opportunity to work on special projects, primarily of a research nature. A wide selection of interesting and fulfilling projects is available for master's essay or Ph.D. dissertation research.

The Department has graduate assistantships and graduate research positions available for a number of qualified full-time students. All students accepted into the graduate degree program are considered for financial assistance and no application forms are necessary for that purpose. Students on assistantships are advised to elect no more than twelve credits in a given semester. All students, whether or not they hold a fellowship or an assistantship, are required to assist the graduate faculty in teaching and research activities as a component of their educational experience. For more complete information on financial assistance, students should consult or write Colin G. Orton, Ph.D., Department of Radiation Oncology, Wayne State University School of Medicine, 540 East Canfield, Detroit, Michigan 48201.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Radiological Physics

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Medical Physics

Undergraduate teaching in the M.D. program in this department is directed toward a total integration of the fundamentals of radiology with the basic sciences, particularly anatomy, physiology, chemistry and pathology. Radiologic instruction is correlated at freshman and sophomore levels with other departments. Junior-level instruction is clinically oriented and numerous radiologic electives are offered in the senior year. Various diagnostic imaging techniques such as conventional radiographic procedures; radionuclide imaging, both static and dynamic; ultrasonography; computerized tomography, MR; and digital subtraction radiography are included in both the undergraduate and graduate level of instruction. The pre-clinical program has been designed to orient the anatomy student to normal roentgen anatomy and also to relate this to aspects of physical diagnosis. There is further coordination in anatomy and physiology to emphasize function and in turn relate this to aspects of history taking. In the fields of physiology and physiologic chemistry, radioactive isotope techniques are presented relating particularly to endocrine functions, renal functions and blood formation. Correlated teaching is also carried in gross pathology.

In the clinical years, teaching of diagnostic radiology, radiation therapy, nuclear radiology, computerized tomography, MRI, and ultrasonography is related to total patient care and such teaching is, therefore, predominantly correlated with other clinical departments. The clinical aspects of diagnostic radiology, radiation therapy and radionuclide procedures and techniques are taught during clerkship and in the clinics and various inter-departmental and intra-departmental conferences.

Graduate Degree Programs: The Department of Radiology collaborates with the Department of Radiation Oncology to offer courses of study leading to a Master of Science degree in Radiological Physics or a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Medical Physics. Students should refer to that department (page 354) for program descriptions and an outline of admission and degree requirements.

physical trauma, the translation of these into recognizable symptoms and signs and the rational correlation of therapy with these basic disturbances. Surgery is taught as only one aspect of patient care and emphasis is placed on the relationship of the surgeon to other personnel who form part of the health team. As part of their education, students are part of the resident care team and are assigned patients for study.

With the unusually broad spectrum of diseases treatable by surgical methods present in the Wayne State University affiliated hospitals, students have contact with oncological, vascular and gastrointestinal problems. Students obtain a wide clinical experience at Detroit Receiving and Harper University Hospitals. During their third year, they may also select to rotate to one of the other affiliated hospitals such as the Veterans' Administration, Sinai-Grace, Beaumont, Henry Ford, and North Oakland Medical Center.

Students are encouraged to participate in experimental and clinical research programs with staff supervision during their senior elective periods and summer vacations. The program is designed to provide the student with the opportunity to develop career interests in surgery at an early stage in their education.

The main objectives of the Department of Surgery are to relate the principles of the basic sciences to clinical practice and to impart the details of patient care in light of modern physiological and pharmacological knowledge. Emphasis is on understanding of the deranged metabolic processes occasioned by surgically treatable disease and Undergraduate medical education in the field of urology begins in the junior year of medical school with a series of lectures. Students receive these lectures as part of their general surgery curriculum. These lectures incorporate the fundamental concepts of the disease processes which affect the genital-urinary system. The lectures attempt to integrate the physiologic and anatomic mechanisms of urological disorders, their clinical presentations, and contemporary treatment strategies and outcomes. Clinical electives in urology are offered to students in their third/junior and fourth/senior years of medical school training. The electives are arranged in four week blocks. Rotations on the urology service can be tailored to the individual student. The entire rotation may be spent on the adult urology service based out of Harper University Hospital or split between the adult service and the pediatric urology service at Children's Hospital of Michigan. Students may also spend time in the various office clinics within the department of urology to broaden their experience.

College of Nursing

DEAN: Barbara K. Redman

Foreword

The Wayne State University College of Nursing is regionally, nationally, and internationally recognized for educating graduate and undergraduate students as practitioners and scholars in the nursing profession. The College is committed to research and scholarly activity that contributes to the discipline of nursing and excels in the development, application, and dissemination of such knowledge to promote human health and well-being.

Nursing is an academic discipline and a profession. As a discipline, nursing develops knowledge concerning human beings, their care, health, and the environment. Concepts derived from such research order the discipline and profession of nursing as well as give identity to nursing practice and direct inquiry and theory development. As a profession, nursing creatively uses knowledge in response to the health care needs of society. Both of these functions are enhanced by the scholarly environment of the University and its multicultural urban setting as a context for professional nursing practice.

Consistent with this view of the nursing profession, the College supports the importance of liberal arts, humanities, and the sciences in nursing education. The faculty believes that programs designed for the preparation of nurses must be composed of the intellectual, social, cultural, and technical components of liberal and professional education that are available to students within an institution of higher learning. The faculty also affirms the necessity and value of clinical practice within a professional nursing program. Experience within a variety of clinical and vulnerable populations is one of the primary modes for the development of nursing practice competencies.

Learners from diverse backgrounds enter the College to begin or continue their education and thereby add to the richness of this learning environment. The faculty supports the right of students to question, challenge and debate within the context of inquiry as an essential ingredient to their development. Continuing evaluation on the part of the students and the faculty is essential to advancing nursing knowledge and sustaining the integrity of the program.

The faculty of the College of Nursing, as members of the academic community, recognizes that its professional functions extend beyond contributions to formal teaching. Research, practice, and community service are important expectations of the faculty. The faculty views as essential, academic freedom, shared governance, opportunity to develop knowledge, and responsibility to incorporate new knowledge into teaching and nursing practice. The faculty assumes responsibility for enhancing the image of the College of Nursing and the University locally, nationally, and internationally through various avenues including research, scholarship, practice, consultation, and participatory decision-making.

Accreditation

The baccalaureate program is approved by the Michigan State Board of Nursing, and graduates are admitted to the licensing examination for professional nurses in the State of Michigan. The baccalaureate and master's programs of the College are accredited by the National League for Nursing. In addition, the B.S.N. and M.S.N. programs were recently granted approval by the newly established Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

Admission Requirements

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Additionally, students must satisfy the following criteria mandated by the College:

1. The applicant must have completed a National League for Nursing (NLN) or Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) accredited baccalaureate program in nursing with a grade point average (g.p.a.) of 2.80 or above in the upper division course work. A qualified admission may be authorized if an applicant's g.p.a. is between 2.40 and 2.79 and there is substantial evidence of extra-scholastic qualifications of such merit as to warrant special consideration.
2. Completion of Graduate Record Examinations within five years of admission, with a composite score (verbal and quantitative) of 800 or above.
3. Verification of professional competence as documented by three references (forms provided).
4. Possession of a current Michigan Registered Nurse Licensure. All applicants educated outside the U.S. must be certified by the Commission on Graduates of Foreign Nursing Schools (CGFNS). Contact CGFNS, 3600 Market St., Philadelphia PA 19104-2651 to request a certification application, or call: 215-349-8767. Verification of a student's CGFNS certification must be forwarded to the State of Michigan Board of Nursing by the CGFNS in order to take the RN licensure examination.
5. A personal statement of goals for graduate study (forms provided).
6. An interview with a faculty adviser may be requested.

There may be additional requirements in each of the clinical areas. Please refer to the course descriptions and consult with an adviser for specific prerequisites.

Application: All new applicants must submit two application forms, the Application for Graduate Admission and the College of Nursing Application for Admission to the Master of Science in Nursing Program. Both applications are available in the Office of Student Affairs, College of Nursing.

Application to Wayne State University and the College of Nursing, including all supporting documentation, must be received in the appropriate offices by the posted deadline dates. Deadline dates for submission of application materials are July 1, November 1, and March 15, for Fall term, Winter term, and Spring/Summer term, respectively. Applicants interested in full-time study are encouraged to apply for Fall term admission.

Pre-Master's Admission: Occasionally, individuals with special needs may be admitted as a pre-master's student. In this classification, a student may register for a maximum of nine graduate credits; she/he may not register for clinical nursing courses. Enrollment as a pre-master's student does not guarantee admission to the master's program.

Readmission: The master's student who withdraws from the program in good standing for one or more years should contact the Office of Student Affairs, College of Nursing, one semester prior to the semester for which re-enrollment is desired. Following a review by the Office for Academic Affairs, the student will be informed of the steps needed to qualify for readmission.

Revalidation of Credit: The College of Nursing reserves the right to revalidate all credits in the clinical nursing sequence which are over three years old or any other credits earned at Wayne State University which are between six and ten years old. Additional credits for degree completion may be required. Such authority rests with the Graduate Officer of the College of Nursing.

Master's Degree Requirements

Candidates for the Master of Science in Nursing must complete thirty-four to fifty-two credits of study. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see sections beginning on pages 26 and 370, respectively. Credits must be distributed as follows:

Clinical Nursing Sequence: Cr. 27-36
Cognate/Related Science: Cr. 6
Research Sequence: Cr. 7-14

Concentrations currently available to satisfy these three generic requirements are detailed below. Cognates, which are clinically specific, are predetermined by selection of the clinical nursing sequence and will be found as part of the clinical areas. Research requirements may be found on page 365. Students should inquire about possible additional offerings. All programs are subject to periodic revision.

All MSN students must elect a series of courses that will prepare him/her to be competent in the utilization of research findings. To develop these skills, the student completes courses in inferential statistics and research methods in nursing before conducting a study that includes the scientific analysis of data.

Plan of Work: With the approval of the adviser, the student develops and files a Plan of Work prior to completion of twelve graduate credits at Wayne State University. A student must have a minimum 3.0 grade point average in order to have a Plan of Work accepted by the Graduate Officer. Each Plan must include the course requirements for the clinical nursing sequence and intended degree. It is the responsibility of the student to file any changes in the Plan of Work.

Time Limitations: Students have six years to complete requirements. The six-year limit begins from the end of the semester during which the student has taken course work applicable toward meeting the requirements of the degree; this may occur before the student is regularly admitted to the major.

Adult Acute Care Nursing (Forty-two credits)

The Master of Science in Nursing degree with a focus in Adult Acute Care Nursing prepares the nurse for advanced practice in the care of the physically ill adult. Emphasis is on adults with existing and/or potential physiological alterations, and their concomitant developmental and psychosocial needs. The curriculum develops the advanced practice nurse's roles of practitioner, educator, and clinical scholar, through education in rigorous and consistent diagnostic reasoning and theory-based practice, as well as in the analysis, critique and utilization of nursing and biopsychosocial theory and constructs. Graduates are eligible to take the Adult Primary Care Nurse Practitioner Exam through ANCC or AANP.

Adult Primary Care Nursing
(Forty-seven credits required)

This clinical area prepares the advanced practice nurse in primary care of adults. The focus of the clinical sequence is on the adult client and his/her response to actual or potential health care needs. Primary care includes the assumption of accessible, accountable, comprehensive, coordinated first contact care as well as longitudinal management. Opportunity is provided to study the theoretical foundation of nursing practice with the development of practice models of primary care. Advanced assessment and diagnostic reasoning are taught as the basis for nursing management. The study and practice of gerontological nursing are integrated in the clinical sequence. Emphasis is placed on the development of clinical judgment in health promotion as well as in the nursing management of acute and chronic health problems. Clinical practicum is implemented in an autonomous primary care nursing service with emphasis on the adult nurse practitioner roles. Graduates are eligible to take the ANCC Acute Care Nurse Practitioner certification examination.

Advanced Practice Nursing with Women, Neonates and Children
(Forty-seven credits required)

This program of study is designed to prepare nurses for advanced practice in the care of women, high-risk neonates, or children. The curriculum combines both broad foundational knowledge essential for care of women, neonates and children as vulnerable populations, as well as specialty knowledge on women's health, high-risk neonatal care, and child health. Attention is given to health promotion, prevention of disease, and disability. Students select a specialty focus within the curriculum on women's health, high-risk neonatal care, or child health in the school setting. Upon program completion, students are eligible to take a certification examination through the National Certification Corporation (NCC), American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), or the National Certification Board for Pediatric Nurse Practitioners and Nurses (NCBPNP/N), to become a women's health care nurse practitioner, neonatal nurse practitioner, or pediatric nurse practitioner. The goal of this innovative program is to prepare advanced practice nurses who will promote the health and development of women, neonates, and children as individuals and as population groups encountering changing health care systems within urban and global environments.

RN — MSN Program

This program is designed for registered nurses (RNs) with an associate degree in nursing (ADN) who are interested in preparing themselves for advanced nursing practice at the master's level. The RN — MSN program combines the baccalaureate and master's degree programs for academically-talented RNs. Through this accelerated program, students receive both the B.S.N. and, once admitted to graduate studies, the M.S.N. degrees.

The program allows students to apply a maximum of fifteen graduate credits toward both an undergraduate degree and a graduate degree in nursing. Upon completion of all B.S.N. requirements, students, if admissible to graduate study, complete M.S.N. requirements. Requirements for the B.S.N. degree are listed in the Wayne State University Undergraduate Bulletin.

Admission: Students are admitted to this program through the regular undergraduate admission procedures, as set forth in the Wayne State University Undergraduate Bulletin. Additionally, students must satisfy the following criteria required by the College:

1. Completion of College of Nursing Undergraduate application initially and the Graduate Application during last year of undergraduate study.
2. Completion of an associate degree in nursing with a grade point average (g.p.a.) of 2.5 or above.
3. Current registered nurse licensure in Michigan.
4. A minimum of one year's experience as a registered nurse.
5. Students are required to have a grade point average of 3.0 or above at the time of application to the Graduate School.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

For complete information regarding academic rules and regulations of the University, students should consult the General Information section of this bulletin, beginning on page 5. The following additions and amendments pertain to the College of Nursing.

Registration

Each student is required at the beginning of each semester of attendance to register according to the procedure and schedule published in the official University Schedule of Classes. Registration must be completed before the student may attend classes. For registration dates, the student should consult the Schedule of Classes. A minimum of eight credits in graduate courses constitutes a full-time load for graduate students. Some courses require approval of the academic adviser and the College Graduate Officer.

Professional Licensure and Liability Insurance

Graduate students must be registered to practice nursing in Michigan and have professional liability and malpractice insurance before registering for courses involving clinical practice. The minimum amount of liability insurance is $1,000,000,000/$3,000,000,000. Each student is to present his/her professional liability and malpractice insurance policy to the Office of Student Affairs no later than July 15th of each year of clinical course work.

Health Requirements

A completed College of Nursing Health Clearance Form must be on file in the Office of Student Affairs no later than July 15th prior to the first clinical course. All students must have an admission physical examination and history and must comply with requirements for a Basic Cardiac Life Support - Level C (BCLS-Level C) course, mumps, Tuberculin Skin (TB) test or chest x-ray, proof of Rubella, Rubeola, and Chicken Pox immunity, and the complete series of inoculations against Hepatitis B virus. Some majors require Advanced Cardiac Life Support Certification (ACLS).

Master's Degree Scholarship

The graduate grading system is intended to reflect high standards of scholarship. The policies for academic progression for graduate students are listed below.

1. A student must earn an overall grade point average of 3.0 or better to be awarded the M.S.N. degree.
2. A student must earn a grade point average of 3.0 or better for advancement from master's applicant status to master's candidate status.
3. A student achieving less than a 3.0 g.p.a. at any point in the program must achieve a g.p.a. of 3.0 or better within the next nine credits. If there is evidence that the goal of a 3.0 g.p.a. is not achievable, the student will be excluded from the program.

FACULTY OF PHARMACY

The Faculty of Pharmacy is the component of the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences offering a program of professional pharmaceutical education at the undergraduate, graduate, and graduate-professional levels. This unit of the College traces its past through two pharmacy colleges.

In 1890, the Detroit College of Pharmacy was founded as a program in the Detroit Medical College, the forerunner of the Wayne State University School of Medicine. The Detroit College of Pharmacy later separated from its parent institution, operated independently for two years and in 1907 affiliated with the Detroit Institute of Technology.

In response to the urging of Detroit area pharmacists, and developing from the six-year course in pharmacy established at Cass Technical High School two years earlier, a new College of Pharmacy was organized by the Detroit Board of Education in 1924. This College of Pharmacy and the Detroit Board of Education's Colleges of Medicine, Education, Liberal Arts, Engineering and Graduate School were united in 1933 into a university called the Colleges of the City of Detroit and named Wayne University in 1934. In 1957, one year after Wayne University became Wayne State University, the College of Pharmacy at the Detroit Institute of Technology joined the College of Pharmacy at Wayne by merging into Wayne State University.

Pharmacy is a dynamic and essential component of the health care delivery system. Responding to the changing needs of society presents an exciting challenge to which the Faculty of Pharmacy has repeatedly responded. To this end, statements, provisions, or regulations contained herein are neither offers nor parts of a contract and the Faculty of Pharmacy reserves the right to change, at any time, any such statements, provisions or regulations.

Financial Aid

General sources of financial aid for graduate students are listed in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin. In addition, there are a limited number of teaching and research assistantships available to qualified students. Inquiries should be directed to the chairperson or director of the student's program. See also the individual departmental and program sections, below, for additional details. The following are open to pharmacy students:

Exceptional Financial Need Pharmacy Scholarship: An award of tuition plus a stipend, open to a student demonstrating exceptional financial need as defined by the Federal Government. Contact the University Office of Financial Aid for details.

John Helfman Pharmacy Scholarship: An award of variable amount open to any undergraduate or graduate pharmacy student who has demonstrated outstanding scholastic achievement and financial need. Contact the Alumni and Student Affairs Office, 2600 APHS, for details.

Accreditation

The Wayne State University Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education. The Doctor of Pharmacy degree conferred by the College is recognized by all state boards of pharmacy.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

For complete information regarding academic rules and regulations of the University, students should consult the General Information section beginning on page 5.

For purposes of the Faculty of Pharmacy academic rules and regulations, the following definitions apply:

1. Professional course means any course required in the Pharm.D. curriculum and any course approved for professional elective credit and elected by the student for that purpose.
2. Satisfactory grade means a grade of 'C' or above, or a grade of 'S.'
3. Unsatisfactory grade means a grade of 'C-minus' or below 2.0 grade points, or a mark of 'X' or unauthorized 'W.' Marks of 'X' or marks of 'W' which have not been authorized will be treated as an 'E.'
4. Probation means a restricted status in the program (see below).
5. Dismissal from the program means that the student may no longer register in the program, or elect professional course work. Continued registration in the University requires that a Change of Status to another program be effected.

Academic and Professional Progress

The Faculty of Pharmacy expects its students to develop professional competence and to satisfy the same high standards of exemplary character, appearance, and ethical conduct expected of professional pharmacists.

To merit confidence and esteem, both personally and in the health care professions, appropriate dress and demeanor are expected of each student in the academic and professional program in pharmacy. The Committee on Academic and Professional Progress (CAPP) reviews student performance regularly and makes decisions concerning probationary status. A student may be dismissed from the college at any time for an unsatisfactory academic or professional record, for irresponsible attendance, or other failures to diligently pursue the academic and professional program.

Outside Employment

The curriculum has been arranged with the presumption that the student will devote full time and energy to the program. Pharmacy internship and other pharmaceutical employment is recognized as an integral part of the academic and professional growth of the pharmacy student. The student, however, is responsible for maintaining the appropriate balance between such activity and satisfactory achievement in the classroom.

Attendance

Regularity in attendance and performance is necessary for success in college work. At the beginning of each course the instructor will announce the specific attendance required of students as part of the successful completion of the course.

Course Elections

The program must be elected on a full-time basis, following the curriculum as outlined in this bulletin, unless specifically directed otherwise by the Committee on Academic and Professional Progress, and/or the Faculty. No course may be elected unless a satisfactory grade has been earned in each of the course prerequisites.

Registration to audit a course, or for courses elected on a Passed-Not Passed basis, is permitted only for elective credits in excess of the minimum degree requirements, or by guest or post-degree students.

Leaves of Absence

A leave of absence may, and should, be requested by a student when personal circumstances interfere with the student's ability to devote sufficient time to academic pursuits to assure reasonable expectations of success. A leave of absence is requested from and granted by the Dean in consultation with the CAPP. If a student requests and is granted an immediate leave of absence during a term, the student must withdraw from all courses enrolled in for that term.

A leave of absence must be requested no later than the end of the twelfth week of the term, or in the case of courses not offered over a traditional semester, prior to completion of seventy-five per cent of the course, and requires a prior consultation with the student's faculty adviser and/or the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs.

A student who takes an unauthorized leave of absence will be considered to have voluntarily withdrawn from the program and may be permitted to return only upon the recommendation of the Admissions Committee in consultation with the CAPP.

Time Limitations

The program must be completed within six calendar years of admission unless an extension is granted by the Committee on Academic and Professional Progress (extensions are appropriate in circumstances such as a delay required to repeat a course preceding or following an authorized leave of absence or an authorized leave of absence that extends beyond one year).

Students who are delayed in their progress by reason of academic failure and/or leaves of absence beyond the six-year limit may be required to repeat and/or take additional courses in order to assure their graduation with appropriate preparation for contemporary professional practice; such determination will be made by the CAPP in consultation with appropriate faculty.

Minimum Grade Requirement

No professional course in which an unsatisfactory grade is earned will be counted for degree credit in this program unless repeated for a satisfactory grade.

Grade Appeals

Following is the grade appeals policy in the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences:

At the beginning of each term the instructor is to inform students (in writing where feasible and appropriate) of the criteria used in arriving at grades for the class, including the relative importance of prepared papers, quizzes and examinations, class participation, and attendance. Where student performance in other practical and structured activities is relevant in evaluating professional competency, criteria used in such evaluations should be stated. Written materials should be graded in a timely manner and such materials, together with comments and an explanation of grading criteria, are to be made available to students by appropriate means. Students should be encouraged to discuss with the instructor any class-related problems.

Instructors are expected to evaluate student work according to sound academic standards. Equal demands should be required of all students in a class (although more work is expected from graduate students than from undergraduates), and grades should be assigned without departing substantially from announced procedures.

It is the instructor's prerogative to assign grades in accordance with his/her academic/professional judgment, and the student assumes the burden of proof in the appeals process.

Grounds for appeal are: (1) the application of non-academic criteria in the grading process, as listed in the University's Non-Discrimination and Affirmative Action Statute: race, color, sex, national origin, religion, age, sexual orientation, marital status, or handicap; (2) sexual harassment; or (3) evaluation of student work by criteria not directly reflective of performance relative to course requirements.

This policy does not apply to allegations of academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty matters should be addressed under the Student Due Process Statute (see 'Academic Dishonesty,' below.)

Questions regarding grades, whether a grade on an individual course component or a final grade, properly should be directed to the instructor for resolution. The formal appeal of the grade in question must be initiated in writing within twenty-one calendar days following the student's receipt/knowledge of the grade (for example, return of marked paper, posting of marks, official report of grades). The instructor and each appeal officer in the College shall respond in writing within ten calendar days. Failure of the instructor or any appeal officer to respond within ten days of the formal written appeal entitles the student to proceed to the next level of appeal. In no case should there be any assumption that a failure to respond at any level signifies a granting of the appeal.

If an appeal is not resolved at the instructor's level, further appeals may be directed to the departmental chairperson. If the chairperson agrees with the instructor's determination, the student may appeal, upon the same bases, to the Dean of the College. If the position of the student is upheld, a recommendation to the instructor that a 'Change of Grade' be effected may be made. If the instructor refuses and there is, in the opinion of the Dean, evidence that the instructor has been arbitrary or capricious in the grade decision, appropriate administrative procedures may be initiated and an administrative 'Change of Grade' may be effected.

Probation

Any student who earns an unsatisfactory grade in a professional course will be placed on professional probation until the course is satisfactorily repeated or the student dismissed from the program.

Any student who is on probation may not hold student elective or appointive offices (includes professional pharmacy fraternities, student professional organizations, and pharmacy class offices). If a student holding such an office is placed on probation, a hold will be placed on their registration for the following semester until he/she has officially relinquished the position.

Dismissal from the Program

A student will be dismissed from the program for the following reasons:

- a) Failing to earn a satisfactory grade when repeating professional course.
- b) Earning unsatisfactory grades in seven or more credits of professional course work in a single term.
- c) Accumulating unsatisfactory grades in ten or more credits of professional course work. Unsatisfactory grades count towards this cumulative total even if a satisfactory grade was earned upon repetition of the course(s).
- d) Inability to complete the program within the time limitations outlined above unless granted an extension by the CAPP or the Faculty.
- e) Failing to meet any special conditions required by the CAPP or the Faculty for the student's continuation in the program.

Academic Review Process

If, upon notification of probation or dismissal, it appears that the action was based on incorrect information or that these academic policies and procedures were not appropriately applied, the Chairperson of the CAPP should be immediately notified in writing on the form provided, so that the action can be reviewed. Extenuating personal circumstances will only be considered in cases involving dismissal and/or an extension of the time limitation. Written notice of the CAPP determination will be promptly provided.

Following notice of the decision of CAPP, the student may request a review by the Dean. Following a final decision by the Dean, a procedural review may be sought from the Provost.

Note that this academic review process does not apply to grades. The CAPP will not review the assignment of grades within a course. All appeals regarding grades must follow the procedures described in the 'Grade Appeals' section, above.

Readmission

Following Academic Dismissal

Applications for readmission from students who have been dismissed from the program for academic reasons will only be considered when the applicant has earned a Bachelor of Science or higher degree in one of the physical or life sciences (biology, chemistry, or physics) subsequent to the dismissal.

If a readmission is granted, the student may be required to repeat some or all of the previously completed professional courses, if the material covered in the courses has changed to the extent that the student's preparation has become outdated; such determination will be made by the Committee on Academic and Professional Progress in consultation with the Admissions Committee and appropriate faculty.

Readmitted students will be required to complete all requirements of the curriculum in effect at the time of readmission.

This policy applies to any students excluded at the end of the Fall term 1989 and thereafter.

Student Conduct

Every student is subject to all regulations set forth by the University, the College, and the Faculty of Pharmacy, governing student activities, student behavior, and in use of their facilities. The University, College, and Faculty have the responsibility of making these regulations available and it is the student's responsibility to become thoroughly familiar with all regulations and to seek any necessary clarification. Questions and concerns regarding regulations should be brought to the appropriate faculty member and/or the Dean's office.

There are obligations inherent in registration as a student in the College. Students entering the profession of pharmacy are expected to have the highest standards of personal conduct so as to be a credit to themselves, the College, the University, and the profession. When there are reasonable grounds to believe a student has acted in a manner contrary to ethical standards, the law, or mores of the community, such student may be disciplined. This discipline may include suspension or dismissal from the program after due process in accord with published policies.

Academic Dishonesty

In any instance of academic dishonesty occurring in any course offered by the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, as defined in section 3 of the University Due Process Statute, the provisions of Section 10.1 of the Statute will be implemented as follows:

The grade for the course will be reduced to an 'E.' In addition, charges may be filed, as provided for in Section 10.2 of the Statute, which may lead to further sanctions up to and including expulsion from the College and/or University.

PHARMACY STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The College has a Chapter of the Academy of Students in Pharmacy (ASP), an affiliate of the American Pharmaceutical Association (APhA). The purpose of ASP is to encourage an early respect for pharmacy as a profession, and to promote student activities on a professional level. The Chapter accomplishes these goals by supporting professional functions at the College, by encouraging student attendance at local, state, and national conventions, and by promoting membership in professional associations.

A chapter of the Student National Pharmaceutical Association (SNPhA) was established at Wayne State University in 1976. The purpose of this organization is to plan, organize, supplement and coordinate a comprehensive program to improve the health, educational and social environment of minority groups in the United States; to aid both individuals and families in achieving a rich sense of dignity and self-respect. SNPhA hopes to provide a greater opportunity by which health-oriented minority students can achieve greater self awareness and a larger representation in colleges and universities of the United States.

The Alpha Chi Chapter of Rho Chi, the national honor society of pharmacy, has the fundamental objective of promoting the advancement of the pharmaceutical sciences through the encouragement and recognition of academic excellence. High standards of scholarly attainment are required for selection to membership. Students ranking in the top twenty percent of the class and having at least a 3.0 g.p.a. are eligible for selection, which takes place in the beginning of the second and third professional years (P2 and P3).

The Arab-American Pharmacy Student Organization (AAPSA) is a non-profit organization founded in 1999 by a promising new generation of pharmacy students. The mission of AAPSA is to prepare members to be pharmacy professionals who provide and promote patient-oriented pharmaceutical care, and the promotion of the pharmacy profession among the Arab-American public.

Pharmaceutical Fraternities

The following national professional pharmaceutical fraternities maintain active chapters at the College: Kappa Psi, Phi Delta Chi, and Lambda Kappa Sigma.

Kappa Psi (Mu Omicron Pi Chapter) is the largest and oldest professional fraternity in pharmacy with over 100 years experience in assisting the pharmacy student to grow professionally and socially. Kappa Psi is a training ground of leadership and maintains resident housing, study accommodations, and recreational facilities.

Lambda Kappa Sigma (Omicron Chapter) is an international professional fraternity that promotes women in pharmacy and promotes professionalism within the College. Through publications, meetings and conventions, members maintain the ties of good fellowship and understanding.

Phi Delta Chi Pharmacy Fraternity (Alpha Eta Chapter) was formed in 1883 to aid its members to become part of the profession. The objectives of Phi Delta Chi include the advancement of the science of pharmacy, the fostering of a fraternal spirit among its members, and the development of projects to aid the patient and the health care system.

Pharmacy Alumni Association

The WSU Pharmacy Alumni Association was established to advance pharmacy programs of the College. The Association fosters a professional spirit and promotes mutual improvement among alumni, as well as supporting College endeavors through seminars, scholarships, and tutorial programs offered to students.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Pharmaceutical Sciences and specializations in Medicinal Chemistry, Pharmaceutics, and Pharmacology/Toxicology

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Pharmaceutical Sciences and specializations in Medicinal Chemistry, Pharmaceutics, and Pharmacology/Toxicology

The pharmaceutical sciences encompass the traditional disciplines of medicinal or pharmaceutical chemistry, pharmaceutics and pharmacology/toxicology. While an undergraduate pharmacy degree is desirable, applicants with a strong background in the behavioral, biological and/or physical sciences are excellent candidates for graduate work in this department. Because of the complementary nature and interrelationships among these disciplines, the emphasis is on an interdisciplinary approach and the curriculum involves a single major with specializations rather than separate majors. This also leads to greater flexibility in designing individualized programs geared to the applicant's preparation and interests.

The specialty in medicinal chemistry is primarily devoted to the discovery and development of new compounds which may be of value in the diagnosis and treatment of disease. Included are applications of organic chemistry, natural product chemistry, biochemistry, pharmacology and the relationships among chemical structure, physical properties and biological activity.

Within pharmaceuticals, the areas of biopharmaceutics and pharmacokinetics are focused on the kinetics of absorption, distribution, metabolism and excretion of drugs and model compounds. Physical pharmacy deals with physical chemical principles and their application to the pharmaceutical sciences. Also of interest in pharmaceuticals is the application of biopharmaceutics, pharmacokinetics and physical pharmacy to pharmaceutical product development.

Pharmacology/toxicology deals with the principles and mechanisms of drug action on biological systems and the toxicological aspects of drugs and other substances.

Master of Science with a Major in Pharmaceutical Sciences

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. For the master's degree program, with a major in pharmaceutical sciences, the following criteria must also be satisfied:

The General portion of the Graduate Record Examination is required of all applicants.

Applicants whose native language is other than English must demonstrate proficiency in English prior to beginning the program (see page 19).

In addition to the regular University application, the applicant must also submit the following:

1. A general statement (300-400 words, typewritten) of reasons for selecting the program, including a resume, career objectives and possible research interests.
2. Three letters of recommendation.

If an applicant's undergraduate preparation is considered deficient for advanced work in the pharmaceutical sciences, additional work may be required at the undergraduate level. All prerequisite credits must be earned prior to or concurrent with the first graduate credits.

Application materials may be obtained by contacting the Graduate Officer, Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan 48202 or may be downloaded from the department website: <http://www.cphs.wayne.edu/psc.html>

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science with a major in Pharmaceutical Sciences is offered only as a Plan A master's program requiring thirty credits, including an eight-credit thesis. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the section of this bulletin beginning on page 26.

Courses required will vary with the student's previous preparation and the area of specialization. These will be determined by the student's graduate adviser, with review and approval by the College Graduate Officer by means of the Plan of Work. In addition to individualized courses, all Master of Science students are required to complete three core interdisciplinary courses: PSC 6800, PSC 7010, and PSC 7020. Master's students are required to give one regular Departmental Seminar and one Introductory Seminar after completing one year in the program. Doctoral students are required to provide an additional Departmental Seminar. The thesis and at least half of the remaining credits must be in the major. At least eight credits in the major, in addition to the thesis, must be in courses open only to graduate students (courses numbered 7000 and above).

To qualify for the degree, all courses specified on the Plan of Work must be satisfactorily completed with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0. In addition, a final oral examination covering course work and the thesis is required of all candidates.

After successful completion of the oral examination, an original and two unbound copies of the approved thesis must be delivered to the Graduate School Office (4300 Faculty/Administration Building) for binding. A copy of the binding receipt must be provided to the College Graduate Officer before the degree can be certified.

Selection of Adviser: A faculty member designated by the Graduate Officer will serve as temporary adviser to the applicant during the first semester. During this semester, the applicant is encouraged to meet with all graduate faculty in the specialty, discuss their research interests, choose an adviser and obtain his/her consent to direct the student's research. This adviser will then sign the student's program requests, Plan of Work and other necessary forms.

Candidacy: Applicants apply to the College Graduate Officer (1600 APHS) to become degree candidates by filing a Plan of Work, approved by their adviser, prior to the completion of twelve graduate credits in the program. To qualify, applicants must exhibit satisfactory scholarship (graduate grade point average of 3.0 or above), have completed any prerequisite and/or corequisite courses specified at the time of admission and have regular admission status. Applicants who have not been advanced to candidacy by the time twelve graduate credits have been completed may be denied further registration in the program.

Academic Progress: At the conclusion of the Fall and Winter semesters, progress of every student in the program will be reviewed by the departmental Curriculum Sub-Committee. Each student is evaluated in terms of performance in course work, research progress, fulfillment of University requirements for filing a Plan of Work, thesis of dissertation outline, etc., and overall professional development. The evaluation at the conclusion of the winter semester includes a written assessment by the faculty adviser of the student's strengths and weaknesses, as well as an indication of how any deficiencies will be addressed.

A student will be placed on probation for any of the following reasons;

1. Qualified admission status at the time of matriculation;
2. Receipt of a grade lower than 'B' in any course;
3. Notification from the adviser that the student is not making adequate progress in his/her research.

The student will be informed in writing, at the time of being placed on probation, of the requirements for removal from probationary status.

A student may be excluded from the program for the following reasons:

1. Failure to comply with requirements set by the Departmental committee;
2. Receipt of two or more grades below 'B' in any single semester;
3. Unauthorized leave of absence.

Leave of Absence: A leave of absence is defined as an absence from the graduate program for one or more semesters and is only permitted for extenuating personal or medical reasons. Students who are granted a leave of absence may be required to do remedial work, depending on the length of absence from the program.

Students who have not registered for two or more consecutive semesters will be placed on inactive status and must obtain the permission of the Department Curriculum Sub-Committee and the College Graduate Officer before registering again.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Pharmaceutical Sciences

Admission: In addition to the requirements of the Graduate School (see page 17), the applicant should present a bachelor's or master's degree with a major in one of the behavioral, biological, pharmaceutical or physical sciences.

The General portion of the Graduate Record Examination is required of all applicants.

Applicants whose native language is other than English must demonstrate proficiency in English prior to beginning the program (see page 19).

In addition to the regular University application, the applicant must also submit the following.

1. A general statement (300-400 words, typewritten) of reasons for selecting the program, including a resume, career objectives and possible research interests.
2. Three letters of recommendation.

Application materials may be obtained by contacting the Graduate Officer, Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan 48202.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for the doctoral degree must complete ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree, in compliance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School; see page 30. This includes the successful completion of three core interdisciplinary courses: PSC 6800, PSC 7010, and PSC 7020. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. The only exception to those regulations is the waiver of the foreign language requirement for doctoral students in the pharmaceutical sciences.

Doctor of Pharmacy

The College offers to qualified applicants a professional program leading to the Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.). The Doctor of Pharmacy program develops a highly qualified expert in pharmacotherapy who is prepared to provide professional leadership in the practice of pharmacy.

The Profession of Pharmacy

Like most of the health professions, the practice of pharmacy has experienced profound change during the past three decades. Its traditional role in drug distribution has increasingly expanded to incorporate the concept of pharmaceutical care. The pharmaceutical care philosophy gives pharmacists the responsibility for assuring drug therapy that achieves defined outcomes and improves a patient's quality of life. Pharmacists in contemporary practice are trained and expected to work collaboratively in therapeutic decision-making with the patient and the patient's other health care providers to assure that drug therapy is safe and effective.

The ability of the pharmacist to play an active role in drug therapy is recognized at both the state and national levels. In recent years, several states have passed, or are considering, legislation that allows pharmacists to initiate or modify drug therapy, through collaboration with a physician or through independent authority. In Michigan, pharmacists may prescribe under the delegated authority of a licensed physician.

The profession of pharmacy continues to progress from a drug-product orientation to a more patient-focused practice. In addition, employers in managed care, long-term care, and primary care are demanding pharmacy professionals with increasingly higher levels of education. It is now required that pharmacy students be intensively trained in the basic sciences while emphasizing patient assessment, communication, and pharmacotherapy, for all of which an additional year of training is necessary. Therefore, the Doctor of Pharmacy degree at Wayne State University is the entry-level pharmacy degree program.

Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) Program

Admission: Students are admitted to the Doctor of Pharmacy curriculum in the fall semester only. Enrollment in the Doctor of Pharmacy curriculum is limited to applicants who have met the general requirements for admission to the University by the stipulated deadline and present evidence of professional admissibility and promise of academic and professional competence in pharmacy.

The applicant must complete fifty-eight credits in preprofessional core courses at the undergraduate level, with a grade point average of 2.5 or better, plus any credits required to demonstrate competency in computer literacy, critical thinking, and oral communication to a minimum total of sixty-seven credits.

For complete information on admission, and preprofessional and professional undergraduate program requirements, consult the Wayne State University Undergraduate Bulletin.

Application: Deadline for submission of all application materials is February 1. Applications are available through the Pharmacy College Application Service (PharmCAS) at <http://www.pharmCAS.org>. A competitive score on the Pharmacy College Admissions Test (PCAT) is also required. Only candidates, who have completed all prerequisites by the end of the winter term preceding the fall term of prospective admission, are considered for admission.

Admission to the Doctor of Pharmacy program is competitive and the following criteria are used to evaluate applications from prospective students. Admissions decisions are made by the Admissions Committee of the Faculty of Pharmacy. (Only in exceptional circumstances will applicants who do not meet all of the following criteria be considered for admission.)

1. Minimum core grade point average of 2.5 (on a four-point system), calculated on the final grades earned in the required pre-professional courses. Completion of prerequisites with minimum grades does not guarantee admission.
2. Science grade point average of 2.5 (on a four-point system) calculated on the final grades earned in the required pre-professional science courses (biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics). Completion of science prerequisites with minimum grades does not guarantee admission.
3. Promise of success in a professional curriculum. Transcripts are evaluated for evidence of continued success in a full-time, science-based curriculum. Patterns of course repetition and excessive withdrawals are considered. It is recommended that applicants repeat not more than two mathematics and science courses in order to improve grades.
4. All applicants must complete a supplemental application. The supplemental application may be found at: <http://www.cphs.wayne.edu>.
5. All applicants must take the Pharmacy College Admissions Test (PCAT). Applicants may obtain PCAT information by calling 800-622-3231.
6. All applicants must complete the Wayne State University English Proficiency Requirement during the winter semester prior to fall admission. Applicants not enrolled at Wayne State University may arrange for out-state testing to satisfy this requirement at their present educational institution; for information, call the Testing and Evaluation Office: 313-577-3400.
7. Applicants whose first language is not English must pass the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) with a minimum score of 550.
8. A personal interview with a member of the Faculty of Pharmacy Admissions Committee is offered and may be required.

Post-Bachelor Admission permits registration in undergraduate courses, subject to the approval of the Dean or the Dean's designee and in compliance with University policy (see page 18). Post-bachelor status is an undergraduate classification and course credits earned in it may not be converted to graduate credit.

Post-Degree Students: Students with a baccalaureate degree from this College or another accredited college of pharmacy may be admitted as post-degree students. This permits registration in pharmacy courses subject to the approval of the Dean or Dean's designee. Post-degree status is an undergraduate classification and course credits earned in it may not be converted to graduate credit.

Degree Requirements

The Doctor of Pharmacy requires a minimum of 118 semester credits in the professional program. All course work must be done in compliance with the academic procedures of the University and the College; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on page 17 and 380, and the Wayne State University Undergraduate Bulletin.

Residence: A student must have devoted at least two academic years to resident study in the Doctor of Pharmacy Program, of which the last thirty credits must be taken at the Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences.

Grade Point Average: A student must maintain a grade point average of at least 2.0 in all Doctor of Pharmacy courses and in total residence credit.

A student must complete all curriculum and program requirements, remove any marks of 'I' or 'Y', and be recommended by the Faculty for the degree. The student must complete the required minimum number of credits, elect courses in the proper sequence in the curriculum shown below, and meet all course prerequisites and corequisites, unless excused from doing so by the Dean.

PHARM.D. PRACTICE EXPERIENCES

To provide the pharmacy student with education in the application of knowledge he/she has gained in courses in the curriculum, pharmacy practice experiences are scheduled throughout the first three years of the Pharm.D. program. Pharmacy practice experiences give the student the opportunity to apply his/her pharmaceutical education directly to patients in a variety of pharmacy settings: community, ambulatory, and institutional locations. Practice experiences are required of all students.

Four experiences are required and four experiences are elective. Pharmacy practice experiences may include adult medicine, pediatrics, drug information, and the like. In addition, students may elect up to two experiences in non-patient care setting, such as pharmaceutical sciences research, managed care, pharmacy organizations, institutional or community management, or pharmaceutical management.

Requirements: Before students are scheduled in practice environments, they must provide health clearance documentation, proof of professional liability insurance, personal medical insurance, and Basic Cardiac Life Support certification; and sign a travel waiver. Students provide their own transportation to practice sites. Additional information on practice experience requirements and when they are required may be obtained from the College.

Pharmacist Licensure

The graduate of the four-year Pharm.D. curriculum earns the degree Doctor of Pharmacy and is eligible for the NAPLEX examination to obtain licensure as a pharmacist. Licensure, either by examination or reciprocity, is available in all states and the District of Columbia.

Internship is an educational program of professional and practical experience under the supervision of a preceptor in a pharmacy approved by the Michigan State Board of Pharmacy, beginning after the student has been licensed by the Board of Pharmacy as an intern. Students must obtain a Michigan Internship License when they begin the professional curriculum of the College.

For additional information regarding internship, examination, or licensure in Michigan, write: Director, Licensing Division, Bureau of Health Services, Department of Consumer and Industry Services, P.O. Box 30670, Lansing MI 48909. Reciprocity information is available from: The Executive Director, National Association of Boards of Pharmacy, 700 Busse Highway, Park Ridge IL 60068-2402.

Student Manual

The student manual, provided by this department, also contains policy statements that may pertain to admission, candidacy, and degree requirements. Students should be sure and consult this manual for the current statements on these policies.

Graduate Degree and Certificate Program

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Anesthesia

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in Pediatric Anesthesia

Anesthesia is a dynamic health profession which deals primarily with methods and procedures for rendering a patient insensible to pain and emotional stress during surgical, obstetrical and some diagnostic and medical procedures. The practice of anesthesia by a nurse is an expanded role which implements both nursing and medical functions. Nurse anesthesia education builds upon a previously established nursing base, incorporating a rigorous scientific foundation, including general and regional anesthesia and the art of anesthesia practice. The functions of nurse anesthetists include, but are not limited to: pre- and post-operative assessment, planning, implementing, and managing total and safe anesthesia care to all patients regardless of level of acuity. Nurse Anesthetists serve as a team member for trauma airway management, and cardiopulmonary resuscitation of patients throughout the hospitals and their clinics. The nurse anesthetist provides high quality anesthesia care in collaboration with an anesthesiologist or other fully-privileged physician or dentist.

Accreditation: The program is fully accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Nurse Anesthesia Educational Programs and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA).

Master of Science in Anesthesia

The Program in Nurse Anesthesia offers two educational tracks leading to a Master of Science in Anesthesia. Enrollment occurs annually in the fall and to be eligible for interview, a completed application must be on file in the College Office of Enrollment Services (1600 APHS) no later than July 1, one year prior to the expected enrollment. There are two tracks in nurse anesthesia:

TRACK I: This curriculum is designed for the registered professional with a baccalaureate-degree in nursing or in science who will, upon completion of the anesthesia curriculum, earn a master of science degree in anesthesia. The graduate then becomes eligible to take a national certification examination for initial certification as a Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist (CRNA). The program consists of twenty-four months of full-time study. The didactic curriculum is totally integrated with clinical experiences involving many hospitals as clinical affiliates: the Detroit Medical Center hospitals, the Veteran's Administration and many urban and community hospitals. The program is also in partnership with two major hospitals in Toledo, Ohio for students recruited from the Toledo area.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (see page 17) and satisfaction of the following professional program requirements prior to the personal interview:

Track I Requirements:

1. Application to the Graduate School of Wayne State University.
2. Application to the Nurse Anesthesia Program, including an official transcript of all undergraduate records. Credits in biology, organic and inorganic chemistry courses must be less than ten years old.
3. Verification of current Nursing Licensure.
4. Fulfillment of the following:
  - a) have an undergraduate grade point average (g.p.a.) of 3.0 or above, including a science g.p.a. of 3.0 or above.
  - b) complete two graduate prerequisite courses with a g.p.a. of 3.0 or above: EER 7630 and EER 7640. BMS 5550 will be completed upon admission to the graduate school.
  - c) possess current certification in Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS) and Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS).
  - d) have a minimum of one year continuous employment (two years preferred) in a critical care nursing unit (preferred order: SICU, MICU, Combined SICU-MICU, and CCU).
  - e) Submit a Graduate Record Examination (GRE) score of a combined score of 800 or above for quantitative and verbal sections. A minimum score of 3.5 is expected for the analytical section of the test.
  - f) provide references from: the dean or director of the applicant's school of nursing; present employer or supervisor; and a practicing colleague familiar with the applicant's work as a Registered Nurse.
  - g) submit copy of military discharge (if applicable).
  - h) be available for a personal interview.
  - i) present evidence of observation experience with Nurse Anesthetists prior to interview.

NOTE: Applicants whose native language is other than English must demonstrate proficiency in English prior to entering the program (see page 19.)

TRACK II: This curriculum is designed for the practicing CRNA with a baccalaureate degree in anesthesia from an accredited nurse anesthesia program. This track is for practitioners who wish to expand their skills in teaching, education and administration. Track II students have a maximum of four years to complete the program including a terminal research project.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (see page 17) and satisfaction of the following professional program requirements prior to the personal interview:

Track II Requirements:

1. Current certification and recertification as a nurse anesthetist.
2. Completion of suitable course work in anatomy, physiology and pharmacology for anesthesia.

3. Submission of letters of reference from the applicant's current chief nurse anesthetist, chief anesthesiologist, and one other professional colleague.
4. Submission of official transcripts of both the nursing and nurse anesthesia programs.
5. Be available for a personal interview.
6. Completion of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE).

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for the Master of Science in Anesthesia must complete the course requirements for either Track I (sixty-two credits in professional courses and nine credits in graduate prerequisites), or for Track II (thirty-two credits). Courses for each track are listed below.

All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the section of this bulletin beginning on page 26. To qualify for the degree, all specified courses must be satisfactorily completed with a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or above.

Advisers: Track I students are assigned a uniform Plan of Work, and the faculty serve as advisers throughout the program and the terminal project or research postings. Track II students have an adviser assigned to them by the Director of the program, who approves the student's Plan of Work and other necessary forms.

Candidacy: Track I applicants will be advanced to candidacy upon completion of the first semester courses. Students must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or above with no grades being below a 'B.' Classes are offered in sequence and are only repeated annually. Repeating a class following an unsatisfactory grade is not feasible due to the way the curriculum is structured. The professional program requirements on grades are listed under the program of anesthesia guidelines and are reviewed with students during their orientation.

Track II applicants may file a Plan of Work with their adviser prior to the completion of twelve graduate credits. Applicants must exhibit satisfactory graduate grade point average of 3.0 or above. Applicants who have not been advanced to candidacy by the time twelve graduate credits have been completed may be denied further registration in the program.

Academic Progress: Continuance in the master's program depends upon satisfactory progress as determined by the adviser and the College Graduate Officer. Students who have not registered for two or more consecutive semesters will be placed on inactive status. To register, students must obtain the permission from the College graduate office.

Graduate Degree and Certificate Programs

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences and specializations in industrial hygiene, industrial toxicology, and occupational and environmental medicine

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in Occupational Safety

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in Analytical Toxicology for Forensic and Environmental Health Scientists

POST-MASTER'S CERTIFICATE in Industrial Toxicology

MASTER OF PUBLIC HEALTH with a concentration in Occupational and Environmental Health: degree administered by the Department of Community Medicine, School of Medicine (also see page 329)

The Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences are disciplines grounded in the basic sciences but with a distinctly practical purpose. Protection of the health of the working person, and assessment and abatement of hazards from air, water and solid waste pollution are fascinating areas of scientific research and socially valuable forms of technical activity. As new industrial processes continue to be introduced at an ever-increasing pace, and as the medical profession progresses by shifting its emphasis from cure to prevention, the specialist in occupational and environmental health sciences can look forward to increasing importance in tomorrow's world. Applicants come from such diverse backgrounds as agriculture, biology, chemistry, engineering, clinical laboratory science, medicine, pharmacy, physics, pre-medicine and radiation therapy technology. Part-time evening study is offered in the occupational and environmental health sciences program.

Program Objectives: Consistent with the mission and strategic plan of Wayne State University, the educational objectives of the Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences graduate programs in the

Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences include:

- 1) The recruitment and retention of a diverse population of outstanding students.
- 2) The preparation of students for careers in the Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences and related disciplines.
- 3) The promotion of individual professional development.
- 4) The support of the community and industrial needs of southeastern Michigan.

Master of Science with a Major in Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences

This degree is offered with curricular options in: Industrial Hygiene, Industrial Toxicology, and Occupational and Environmental Medicine.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university. Undergraduate course work must include the following prerequisites:

1. One term of mathematics at the level of pre-calculus (minimum) or calculus (preferred).
2. Two terms of physics or equivalent.
3. Two terms of biological science or equivalent.
4. Two terms of general chemistry.
5. One term of organic chemistry.
6. One term of quantitative analysis.

A minimum grade of 'C' is required in each prerequisite course.

Applicants to the industrial hygiene program must also meet the undergraduate requirements of the Accreditation Board of Engineering and Technology Applied Sciences Accreditation Commission (ABET-ASAC). ABET-ASAC website is: <http://www.abet.org>. Contact the Program for further information.

An applicant lacking only one of the above prerequisites may be admitted as a pre-master's non-degree student (see page 18 for additional information). Upon satisfactory completion of the prerequisite, the student may request a 'Change of Status' from the College Graduate Officer, 1600 APHS, seeking either regular or qualified admission to the program.

Any applicant lacking two or more of the above prerequisites is not eligible for admission. Prerequisites may be completed at other institutions, including community colleges, or at Wayne State as a Post-Bachelor student (see page 18 for additional information). Application for Post-Bachelor status is made at the Office of University Admissions, Welcome Center, 42 W. Warren, Wayne State University, Detroit MI 48202.

Regular admission requires a minimum upper division (junior and senior years) grade point average of 2.6. Qualified admission may be granted to those with an upper division grade point average between 2.25 and 2.6 if there is strong performance in the prerequisite courses.

The General portion of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required of all applicants except in unusual cases where an applicant has substantial prior experience in medicine, occupational health, or industrial hygiene at a senior level of responsibility. Applicants will be expected to achieve a combined score of at least 1000 on the verbal and quantitative sections and 4.0 on the analytical section of the GRE.

For those students applying to the occupational medicine specialization, an M.S., M.P.H., M.D., M.B., D.D.S., D.V.M. or D.O. degree from an accredited program will be acceptable in lieu of the above undergraduate course and GRE requirements.

Applicants whose native language is other than English must demonstrate proficiency in English prior to beginning the program (see page 19).

Admission is granted primarily for the fall semester. In order to assure a decision on admissibility; completed applications should be received no later than June 1st. Applications may be accepted throughout the year, but it should be noted that only elective courses may be available during that time, prior to the completion of introductory coursework offered in the fall.

Application materials may be obtained by contacting Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences, Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan 48202.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The program consists of a minimum of thirty-two credits for industrial hygiene (IH) or industrial toxicology (IT), and thirty-six credits for occupational and environmental health (OEH), taken under one of the following plans:

Plan A requires a minimum of 24 credit hours for IH and IT (28 for OEH) in coursework plus a thesis (8 credit hours) and is available to those specializing in any of the three M.S. degree specialities.

Plan B requires a minimum of 28–30 credit hours for IH and IT (32–34 for OEH) in coursework plus an essay (2–4 credit hours) and is available to those specializing in any of the three M.S. degree specialities.

Plan C requires a minimum of 32 credit hours for IH and 36 credit hours for OEH in coursework and directed studies (Plan C is not available to those specializing in industrial toxicology).

Each candidate will complete the required courses listed below for each of the three specialties, as well as sufficient elective courses to accrue the required number of credits. Electives will vary with the student's previous preparation and interests. These will be determined mutually by the student and the adviser, with review and approval by the College Graduate Officer through endorsement of the Plan of Work. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic policies of the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees and degrees; see the section of this bulletin beginning on page 26.

Students may pursue a dual specialization in both industrial hygiene and toxicology. Dual specialization requires the completion of the required courses for each specialization, and sufficient electives to satisfy the minimum requirement of thirty-two credits.

To qualify for the degree, all courses specified on the Plan of Work must be satisfactorily completed with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0. The thesis or essay and at least half of the remaining credits must be earned in the major subject. FINAL COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATIONS, BOTH WRITTEN AND ORAL, ARE REQUIRED OF ALL CANDIDATES AND SHOULD BE TAKEN ONLY AFTER SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF ALL REQUIRED COURSES. If Plan A or Plan B is followed, the final oral examination includes a defense of the thesis or essay.

Plan A candidates, after successful completion of the oral examination, must deliver the original and two unbound copies of the approved thesis to the Graduate School Office (4300 Faculty/Administration Building) for binding. A copy of the binding receipt must be provided to the College Graduate Officer before the degree can be certified.

Plan B candidates, after successful completion of the oral examination, must deliver three copies of the essay, provided by the candidate — one to the adviser and two to the College Graduate Officer, prior to certification of the degree.

Post-Master's Certificate in Industrial Toxicology

This Graduate Certificate in Toxicology is responsive to the projected demand and interests of professionals in industrial toxicology, industrial hygiene, and related health disciplines, for continuing and updating their knowledge of current issues in toxicology. Students in the master's program in industrial hygiene may benefit by expanding their present program into areas of toxicology; and those already employed in industry may improve job and career prospects by completing additional work beyond the master's degree. In addition, the Certificate prepares health and safety professionals to respond to changing issues and emphases in their profession, and is an opportunity for continuing education for master's degree holders in industrial hygiene and toxicology. This certificate program is consistent with the Program's objective of presenting part-time graduate education to those in the southeastern Michigan and southwestern Ontario area who are employed full-time.

through the Department of Occupational and Environmental Health Sciences.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (see page 17) and the School of Medicine (see page 316). Applicants must have a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and have experience in a health-related position. For the specialization in occupational and environmental health, undergraduate course work must include the following prerequisites:

1) One term of mathematics at the level of pre-calculus (minimum) or calculus (preferred); 2) Two terms of physics or equivalent; 3) Two terms of biological science or equivalent; 4) Two terms of general chemistry; 5) One term of organic chemistry; 6) One term of quantitative analysis. A minimum grade of 'C' is required in each prerequisite course.

Any applicant lacking two or more of the above prerequisites is not eligible for admission. Prerequisites may be completed at other accredited academic institutions, including community colleges, or at Wayne State as a Post-Bachelor student (see page 18 for additional information).

Regular admission requires a minimum grade point average (g.p.a.) of 3.0 or above. Qualified admission may be granted to those with a g.p.a. of 2.65 to 2.99 if there is evidence of strong performance in the prerequisite courses and previous experience in the field. In addition, students with qualified admission status must earn a grade of 'B' or better in Epidemiology and Biostatistics courses; full admission will be granted after this requirement is fulfilled.

The General portion of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required of all applicants except in unusual cases where an applicant has substantial prior experience in medicine, occupational health, or industrial hygiene at a senior level of responsibility. Applicants will be expected to achieve a combined score of at least 1000 on the verbal and quantitative sections and 4.0 on the analytical section of the GRE.

Applications require three letters of recommendation, a statement of career objectives, a professional resume, and an interview in person or by telephone. Individuals can apply for a waiver of the undergraduate and GRE requirements if they have an M.D., D.D.S., D.V.M., D.O., or M.S. degree from an accredited institution or provide substantial evidence of previous work experience in public health-related fields.

All admissions material must be received by February 15 for a student to be considered for the following fall semester. Applicants with international credentials must submit their applications by January 1st for the fall semester.

Applicants whose native language is other than English must demonstrate proficiency in English prior to entering the program (see page 19.)

DEGREE and CONCENTRATION REQUIREMENTS: The program consists of a minimum of forty-two credits taken under one of the following plans:

Plan A requires a minimum of thirty-four credits in required and elective coursework that includes a practicum experience plus a thesis (8 credits).

Plan B requires a minimum of 39 credits in required and elective coursework including a practicum experience plus a project (3 credits).

Students are expected to file a Plan of Work before completion of nine to twelve credits and are required to finish the degree program within six years. (Six transfer credits from another accredited program are allowed for the M.P.H. degree.)

Scholarship: Students in this degree program must maintain high standards of scholarship. Immediately after mid-term grades are determined, faculty who believe students to be at a 'B-minus' level or lower will notify the Graduate Officer, who will discuss their progress and methods of solving their grade problem. If a final grade of 'B-minus,' 'C-plus,' or 'C' is ultimately given for the course, it must be offset with an 'A-minus' or higher grade in another course. All core and required courses with less than a 'B' must be repeated. If a student receives lower than a 'B' for the second attempt, the student will require tutoring before taking the course a third time. If still unsuccessful, the student will be dismissed from the program.

It is the responsibility of the faculty adviser to counsel students whose cumulative g.p.a. falls below a 3.0. A student will have up to a year to remedy any difficulties. Failure to maintain a g.p.a. of at least 3.0 after such counseling will result in dismissal from the M.P.H. program.

MASTER OF SCIENCE in Occupational Therapy

MASTER OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

Occupational therapy helps people regain, develop, and build skills that are essential for independent functioning, health, and well-being. Occupational Therapists work with people experiencing health problems such as stroke, spinal cord injuries, cancer, congenital conditions, developmental problems, and mental illness. Occupational therapy can also prevent injury or the worsening of existing conditions or disabilities and thereby promote independence in individuals who may otherwise require institutionalization or other long-term care. Practitioners work in a wide range of settings including schools, hospitals, skilled nursing facilities, home health, outpatient rehabilitation clinics, psychiatric facilities, and community health programs.

The mission of the Occupational Therapy program is to advance the health and well-being of society through the preparation of highly skilled occupational therapists, and through research to discover, evaluate and implement new knowledge to improve practice and methods of intervention both locally and globally.

Master of Science in Occupational Therapy

The Master of Science in Occupational Therapy provides an advanced degree for practitioners who are certified occupational therapists. The purpose of this program is to prepare occupational therapists to become advanced clinicians, clinical researchers, entrepreneurs and leaders in a changing health environment. Following completion of core courses, students may elect concentration studies in neurorehabilitation, assistive technology, gerontology, pediatrics, or occupational health. An individualized area of concentration also may be possible for the student with more specialized interests. A master's thesis is the culminating project for the MS degree. The MS degree may be completed on a full- or part-time basis. The degree may be completed by full-time students in approximately one and one-half years, while part-time students typically require between two and four years, depending on the number of courses taken per semester. Coursework for selected graduate certificate programs may also be applied toward the MS degree.

Admission: For admission to this program, the applicant must:

1. Fulfill requirements for regular admission to the Graduate School; see page 17. Qualified admission is not allowed. Applicants whose native language is other than English must demonstrate proficiency in English. The minimum acceptable overall TOEFL score for the MS program is 600.
2. Be certified by the National Board of Certification in Occupational Therapy (NBCOT). International applicants must be a graduate of a facility accredited by the World Federation of Occupational Therapy.
3. Complete the M.S. program application form.
4. Provide three letters of reference, attesting to the applicant's potential for success as a graduate student.
5. Provide a statement of purpose, identifying the applicant's practice interests, future professional goals, and rationale for undertaking graduate studies.
6. Provide a resume or curriculum vita.

Application: Application materials may be obtained at <http://www.cphs.wayne.edu>, or by contacting the Occupational Therapy Program, Eugene Applebaum College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Wayne State University, Detroit, MI 48201. Applications are accepted at any time.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The successful completion of thirty-two credits is required for the M.S. program, including a thesis in the selected concentration area of the student. Concentration areas include neurorehabilitation, assistive technology, pediatrics, gerontology, and occupational health. An individualized concentration area may also be feasible.

To qualify for the degree, all courses specified on the Plan of Work must be satisfactorily completed with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0. The thesis and at least half of the remaining required credits must be earned in the major subject. At least eight credits in the major, in addition to the thesis, must be in courses numbered 7000 and above. A final oral presentation and examination covering course work and the thesis is required. After successful completion of the oral examination, an original and two unbound copies of the approved thesis must be delivered to the Office of the Graduate School, 4300 Faculty/Administration Building, for binding. A copy of the binding receipt must be presented to the College Graduate Officer before the degree can be certified.

A grade of 'C' in any graduate course is unacceptable. To remain in the program, the student must repeat the course in which the 'C' was earned and raise the grade to a 'B' or above. This procedure is permitted only once during the student's tenure in the occupational therapy graduate program. All coursework must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the section of this bulletin beginning on page 26.

Each candidate must complete the core curriculum listed below and sufficient concentration and elective courses to achieve thirty-two graduate credits. Concentration and elective courses, and the course sequence, are determined mutually by the student and the adviser. Both the occupational therapy Graduate Program Coordinator and the college graduate officer must endorse the Plan of Work.

The petition for candidacy must be completed prior to the completion of twelve credits, and must be signed by the student, the adviser, the Graduate Program Coordinator, and the College Graduate Officer. Applicants who have not been advanced to candidacy by the time twelve graduate credits have been completed may be denied further registration in the program.

Thesis Direction: At the time of thesis selection, the student may request a preferred adviser. The adviser must meet Graduate School requirements and agree in writing to direct the student's thesis. The thesis adviser may, but need not, be the same as the student's program adviser.

Academic Progress: Full-time students are expected to take courses during the Fall, Winter, and Spring or Summer terms. Part-time students are expected to take courses minimally during the Fall and Winter terms. If a student finds it necessary to take a term leave, permission must be obtained from the adviser. Students who have taken authorized leave for two consecutive terms will be placed on inactive status. To be reactivated, students must petition in the writing the adviser, the Graduate Program Coordinator, and the College Graduate Office. Students who have taken unauthorized leave for two terms will be dismissed from the program. All master's degree requirements must be completed within six years of the first course applied toward the degree.

Master of Occupational Therapy

The Master of Occupational Therapy (MOT) program has replaced the occupational therapy baccalaureate program, in response to the mandate endorsed by the American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA) and the Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education (ACOTE), beginning in the 2003-2004 academic year.

The goal of this entry-level program is to educate individuals to become occupational therapy health care professionals. It is designed as a five-year program. During the first two (undergraduate) years, students complete their liberal arts and science pre-professional credits, totaling seventy-one to seventy-three credits. In the following (first professional) year, an additional fifty-four credits is completed, after which the student is awarded a Bachelor of Science in Health Sciences degree. In the final two professional years, students complete thirty-seven credits, inclusive of fieldwork requirements (ACOTE Standards). Upon completion of the MOT degree, students are eligible to sit for the national certification and examination procedures of the National Board of Certification in Occupational Therapy.

Admission to Preprofessional Study: Admission to the preprofessional program is contingent upon undergraduate admission to the University. (Consult the Occupational Therapy Program and the Wayne State University Undergraduate Bulletin.) In the preprofessional program, students complete two years of course work, including the University undergraduate General Education Requirements and the prerequisite courses for the Occupational Therapy Core.

Professional Program Admission: Applicants must apply for admission to the professional program and be formally admitted. All applicants must hold a minimum grade point average of 3.0 or above for the preprofessional program. All prerequisite courses must be completed with grades of 'C' or better. A maximum of two professional core prerequisite courses may be repeated to improve grades. In addition, the applicant must: a) complete twenty hours of contact with a registered occupational therapist and provide documentation of the twenty hours; b) complete a Program Personal/Professional Statement; c) submit a letter of recommendation from a current or former supervisor. Students who have no work experience may seek a recommendation from an instructor of one of the Occupational Therapy Core Courses.

Each student is assigned a faculty adviser upon admission to the MOT program. After completion of the undergraduate component, each student will be assigned a second faculty adviser, to team-advise the student for the remainder of the program.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The MOT program consists of a minimum of 164 semester credits in course work including the pre-professional program and professional courses. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the section of this bulletin beginning on page 26.

Admission: Applicants must meet the admission standards of the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Please contact the Occupational Therapy Program for further information.

PREPROFESSIONAL PROGRAM: For up-to-date descriptions of preprofessional and undergraduate-level professional requirements, contact the Occupational Therapy Program.

MASTER IN PHYSICAL THERAPY

Physical therapy is a health care profession whose primary purpose is the promotion of optimal human health and function through the application of scientific principles to prevent, identify, assess, correct, or alleviate acute or prolonged movement dysfunction. This discipline focuses primarily on those individuals whose potential or actual impairment is related to neuro-musculoskeletal, pulmonary, and cardiovascular symptoms.

Physical therapists engage in a broad spectrum of activities including direct patient care, consultation, administration, supervision, teaching, and community service. They practice in a variety of settings such as general and specialty hospitals, private offices, schools, agencies for the handicapped, rehabilitation centers, sports clinics, and home care agencies.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to any graduate degree program is contingent upon meeting the admission requirements of the Graduate School. For further information on these requirements, see page 17. Preference is given to those students who have achieved superior undergraduate scholastic records and who evidence superior abilities.

All prerequisite credits must be earned prior to or concurrent with the first graduate credits. If undergraduate preparation for the major field is considered deficient, additional work may be required at the undergraduate level. Many programs have additional individual admission requirements. Students should consult the subsequent departmental sections in this bulletin for specific requirements in each field of study.

Graduate Record Examinations

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is used to assist advisers in evaluating educational preparation and to serve as a basis for planning future study. There is no uniform policy concerning GREs; some departments require GRE scores from all applicants for admission, while others require scores only from students in specified classifications. Students should consult the department in which they wish to major to determine which examinations must be taken.

Students required to take these examinations must apply at the Testing and Evaluation Office, 698 Student Center, either prior to or at the time of admission. Students who previously have taken the examination may have transcripts of these scores submitted. After the initial registration, no subsequent enrollment will be permitted nor will candidacy be authorized until examination requirements have been fulfilled.

'AGRADE' Program

Several departments of the College — Biological Sciences, Computer Science, Geology, Mathematics, and Nutrition and Food Science — permit academically superior students to petition for admission into the College's 'AGRADE' program. 'AGRADE' procedures enable qualified seniors to enroll simultaneously in the undergraduate and graduate programs of the College and apply a maximum of fifteen credits towards both a bachelor's and master's degree in the major field. Students electing 'AGRADE' programs may expect to complete the bachelor's and master's degrees in five years of full-time study.

An 'AGRADE' applicant may petition the Graduate Committee of the major department for acceptance into the program no earlier than the semester in which ninety credits are completed. Applicants must have an overall g.p.a. at the 'Cum Laude' level (approximately 3.6) and not less than a 3.6 g.p.a. in the major courses already completed. If the student's petition is accepted, the student's faculty adviser shall develop a graduate Plan of Work, specifying the 'AGRADE' courses to be included in subsequent semesters.

For more details about the 'A GRADE' program, contact the Graduate Office of the College of Science (313-577-5188), and the chairperson of the major department.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Graduate degrees are conferred not merely upon the completion of a prescribed number of courses nor necessarily after a given period of residence, but rather in recognition of each candidate's outstanding ability and high attainments as evidenced in all course work, research, scholarly writing, examinations and personal fitness for a chosen profession. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School (see the section of this bulletin beginning on page 17) and College of Science regulations. In addition to the general Graduate School requirements for degrees and to the information provided below, other requirements are specified by the individual graduate departments. Students should consult the programs and requirements of the departments in which they plan to major.

Candidacy

Candidacy is an advanced status recommended by student advisers and authorized by the Graduate School or Science Graduate Office upon evidence of superior scholarship, appropriate personal qualities and promise of professional competence. Students should note that admission as an applicant does not assure acceptance as a candidate for a degree, and that candidacy is a necessary but not sufficient requirement for graduation.

To be eligible for candidacy, students must file officially approved Plans of Work. The Plan should provide for effective concentration in a major field, with proper supporting courses in related fields. Ph.D. applicants should file their Plan with the Graduate School; master's applicants with the graduate officer of the College of Science. In preparing a Plan, students should evaluate with care their personal and professional objectives as well as all degree and departmental requirements. Normally, a student enrolled in a master's degree program is expected to file a Plan of Work by the time twelve graduate credits or their equivalent have been earned. Otherwise, subsequent registration is denied.

It is recommended that an approved Plan be filed by applicants for the Ph.D. degree when approximately fifty credits beyond the baccalaureate degree have been earned. In addition to filing the Plan, students must have satisfied foreign language requirements and must have passed the Final Qualifying Examination and must have submitted and received the Graduate Dean's approval on the Dissertation Outline before the doctoral committee will recommend candidacy.

Candidacy is reached after the Plan of Work has been approved, the final Qualifying Examination has been passed, approximately 50 credit hours have been completed, and the dissertation committee has been named.

Commencement

Information concerning commencement, caps and gowns, invitations, tickets, time and place, assembling and other relevant items will be mailed to graduates by the Alumni Office prior to the event. Candidates for advanced degrees are requested and expected to attend the commencement at which the University confers upon them the honor of the degree earned.

Master's Degree Requirements

In most master's degree programs, the minimum requirement for the degree is thirty-two credits under either Plan A or Plan B or Plan C as cited below. At least twenty-four credits must be taken in residence. At least six credits of work in the major field, in addition to the essay or thesis, must be in courses open only to graduate students (courses numbered 7000 and above).

Plan A requires twenty-four credits of course work plus an eight credit thesis.

Plan B requires twenty-nine credits of course work plus a three credit essay.

Plan C requires thirty-two credits of course work. Essay or thesis not required. Authorized only in selected areas. Most departments require a final comprehensive examination. Students should consult adviser.

These requirements vary slightly by department; see listings under the individual departments for exact information. In accordance with the Time Limitation of the Graduate School, all requirements for the master's degree must be completed within a six-year period.

DOCTORAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Preliminary Qualifying Examination

Responsibility for preliminary qualifying examinations is vested in the graduate faculty of each department; specifically, in its committee on doctoral study. Accordingly, committees may require this examination of all candidates or of any candidate prior to the final qualifying examination.

Final Qualifying Examination for Candidacy

The final qualifying examination is required of all applicants and will be a written examination. It may also contain an oral portion if the department requires one. Consult the specific department for requirements.

The written qualifying examination will cover the applicant's major and minor areas and may include such other related matters as the doctoral examining committee may prescribe. If an oral qualifying examination is required it will be conducted by the departmental qualifying examination committee within sixty days after the written qualifying examination has been passed. This examination will relate to the subject matter of the written examination, the applicant's major and minor areas and other pertinent matters.

If an examining committee does NOT certify that the applicant has passed either the written or oral examinations, it must make specific recommendations with reference to admitting the applicant to a second examination and specify any additional work that should be completed prior to such an examination. If a second examination is held, it must be scheduled within one calendar year and shall be considered final.

Selection of the student's doctoral committee, including one member from outside the student's department, is a requirement for candidacy. Substitutions in the membership of this committee may be made until submission of the Outline and Record Form to the Graduate School. After this form is approved, any change in committee membership requires written approval from the Graduate School. This committee conducts the final dissertation defense. A Graduate Examiner, appointed by the Graduate School, presides over the defense.

Essays, Theses, and Dissertations

There is no prescribed form for the Master's essay. Essay guidelines, indicating standard style manuals for each department and title-page samples, are available in the Science Graduate Office, 2155 Old Main.

Master's degree candidates under the essay plan register for the course numbered 7999, Master's Essay Direction, in the department of their major; a total of three credits must be elected.

The original copy of the essay should be submitted to the Science Graduate Office after it is approved and signed by the adviser. This copy will be returned to the department.

The thesis or dissertation must be an original work, either in or definitely related to the student's major area of specialization. If proper standards of quality, objectivity, originality, and independence are maintained, candidates may use data which they have derived from their University research. Neither the results of the research nor the publication of findings can be restricted by any non-university agency nor can they be published prior to acceptance of the dissertation by the Graduate School, unless prior approval of such publication has been obtained from the adviser. Advisers have primary responsibility for approval of the essay or thesis, but every member of a doctoral committee must read, approve and sign the dissertation.

Master's students may not begin work on a manuscript until they have submitted an approved Plan of Work and outline form. They may then register for the thesis and pay regular fees in the same manner as for all other course work.

Master's candidates under the thesis plan register for the course numbered 8999 in the department of their major. This course is entitled Master's Thesis Research and Direction and must be elected for a total of eight credits. For Ph.D. candidates, the thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

The publication and dissemination of research findings will not be restricted by the University after the manuscript has been received and accepted by the Graduate Office.

Outline and Record Form

Before students begin working on theses or dissertations, they must file appropriate outline and record of approval forms. Master's candidates must prepare three copies which, after receiving departmental approval, will be forwarded to the Science Graduate Office. Doctoral candidates must prepare one copy which, after receiving departmental approval, will be forwarded to the Graduate School.

Financial Aid

For general sources of graduate financial aid, see the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34. Specific information may be found in various departmental sections of the College of Science, below.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Audiology

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Speech-Language Pathology

DOCTOR OF AUDIOLOGY

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Speech-Language Pathology

Graduate Degrees

Audiology is the study of the normal and impaired auditory system. Speech-language pathology focuses on impaired speech, language, fluency, and voice function of children and adults. The master's and the Doctor of Audiology (Au.D.) degree programs offer students intensive and diverse academic and clinical experiences. The State of Michigan Teaching Certificate may also be earned by students in speech-language.

The course of study for either program should be developed as early as possible with the student's major adviser, and candidacy must be established by filing an approved Plan of Work by the time twelve credits have been earned. SLP 7000 must be included in all Plans of Work and should be taken at the earliest opportunity.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College of Science and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS for all departmental graduate programs are: 1) a minimum undergraduate grade point average of 3.0, 2) completion of the Graduate Record Examination, 3) submission of three letters of recommendation, 4) submission of a written Statement of Intent. International applicants must provide, in addition, official results of the TOEFL, TWE, and SPEAK/TSE. Admission to all programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17.

Assistantships: Four graduate teaching assistantships are available in the Department. Students should consult the Graduate Officer of the Department for information.

Accreditation: The programs are accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association.

Master of Science with a Major in Audiology

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. This program is for students who are planning careers in hearing science and ultimately plan to pursue doctoral study in the field of communication disorders or related disciplines. Students interested in professional entry into clinical audiology practice should NOT apply to the M.S. program but to the Doctor of Audiology program, which meets entry-level professional requirements. Occasionally, students who begin in the Au.D. program may choose to transfer to the M.S. program. Au.D. students considering this option require approval of their adviser and the Departmental Graduate Officer. Additional program details, as well as application forms, are available from the department.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This degree is offered as a Plan A or Plan C master's program. Plan C requires fifty-five to fifty-nine credits in course work and a comprehensive examination. Some students, especially those intending to pursue a doctoral degree, choose to complete Plan A, which requires fifty-one credits in course work and an eight-credit thesis.

Master of Arts with a Major in Speech-Language Pathology

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Application requirements are stated above. Deadline for receipt of application for fall admission is January 1. Additional program details, as well as application forms, are available from the department.

It is essential that prospective graduate students in this area confer with an adviser in the area of Speech-Language Pathology concerning academic, clinical and professional programs to meet certification requirements as set forth by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Arts degree is offered by this Department under the following options:

Plan A: 54 - 60 credits, including an eight-credit thesis.

Plan B: 54 - 60 credits, including a three-credit essay.

Plan C: 54-60 credits in course work, plus written and/or oral comprehensive examinations in the major (total credits determined by major area of study).

Doctor of Audiology

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Application requirements are stated above. Additional program details, as well as application forms, are available from the Department; the Department also reserves the right to arrange a personal interview with an applicant, via telephone or in person.

Prerequisite courses for admission to the Doctor of Audiology (Au.D.) program include coursework in behavioral and social sciences, mathematics, natural science, human communication, language acquisition, phonetics, acoustics, and/or speech science, and an introductory course in human communication disorders. Most applicants will have also completed introductory coursework in speech-language pathology and audiology.

The Au.D. program is designed to prepare audiology professionals to meet requirements for certification and licensure and is consistent with the standards of the Council on Academic Accreditation of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. There are two degree tracks leading to the Au.D.: the post-bachelor track, and the post-certification track.

The post-bachelor track is specifically designed for individuals who have completed an undergraduate degree program in an accredited college or university and who have met the prerequisite requirements for admission to the Au.D. program. This is a four-year (eleven semester) full-time academic and clinical program. Most applicants who have completed an undergraduate degree in communication disorders meet our course work requirements for admission. Applicants with undergraduate degrees in other fields may need to complete prerequisite course requirements prior to admission to the graduate program.

The post-certification track is designed for individuals who have completed a master's degree in audiology and who hold a current Certificate of Clinical Competence in Audiology from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. This program may be completed on a part-time basis and will include a distance-learning component.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The post-bachelor track requires successful completion of 110 - 114 graduate credits in the major. The post-certification track requires successful completion of thirty-eight to forty-two graduate credits beyond the master's degree.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Speech-Language Pathology

Candidacy: In order to become a candidate for the Ph.D. degree, an applicant must successfully complete both a written and an oral qualifying examination.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: A minimum of ninety graduate credits beyond the baccalaureate is required for completion of the Ph.D. program. Most students exceed this requirement in the course of completing the degree. The student and his/her adviser work cooperatively to plan a program of study designed to establish the necessary skills and knowledge for successful completion of the degree and in preparation for careers in research, higher education, and advanced clinical practice. As part of the program of study, the student will complete thirty credits in Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

GRADUATE COURSES

The following courses, numbered 5000-9999, are offered for graduate credit. Courses numbered 5000-6999 which are offered for undergraduate credit only may be found in the undergraduate bulletin, as well as all other undergraduate courses (numbered 0900-4999). Courses in the following list numbered 5000-6999 may be taken for undergraduate credit unless specifically restricted to graduate students as indicated by individual course limitations. ## Master of Science with a Major in Molecular Biotechnology

Web address: <http://www.bio.wayne/biotech>

The Molecular Biotechnology Program is a career-oriented program specifically designed to educate and train technically-oriented people in both the theory and practice of modern biotechnology. The program's main emphasis is on the application of these skills through integration of classroom, laboratory, and research experiences.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants are expected to have attained a level of scholarship in the baccalaureate program equal to a grade point average of 3.0 or better, including adequate preparation in biological sciences and supporting courses in chemistry, physics and mathematics. The general portion of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) with a score of 1650 or higher is required. An introductory genetics course and a microbiology course passed with grades of 'B' or better are required, and completion of an introductory biochemistry course is strongly recommended. Deficiencies in course work must be completed before beginning the program. Students may enter in the Fall semester only.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This program is offered as a specially approved Plan C master's program only, requiring forty-six credits. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

Candidacy: Applicants become degree candidates by filing a Plan of Work which has been approved by the department Graduate Officer.

Course work will be completed in accordance with the schedule set by the Program's director. Students must consult with Dr. V. Hari, Program Director, each semester prior to registration.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Biological Sciences

Admission: In addition to the requirements of the Graduate School (see page 17), the applicant should have completed a bachelor's or master's degree with a major in a biological or other science. Applicants who have completed degrees in other disciplines will be considered on an individual basis.

Applicants must take the general portion of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) and achieve a minimum combined score of 1650. The approval of the Department of Biological Sciences Graduate Admissions Committee is required for admission of applicants. Three letters of reference must be submitted, along with a statement of the Candidate's goals and career objectives.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree, thirty of which must be earned as dissertation credit. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. The remaining sixty credits must include the following:

- a) at least twelve credits in Biological Sciences course work from a core curriculum;
- b) at least six credits of research or course work in a minor;
- c) no more than thirty-two credits in BIO 7996, Research Problems;
- d) two semesters of BIO 9996, Lab Rotation;
- e) thirty credits in course work at the 7000-level or higher, exclusive of doctoral dissertation research.

All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

Qualifying examinations are administered in two parts. The first part is a written test which is taken by all students in November of their second year of study. A list of examination topics will be generated by the faculty and posted by the end of September. Students are required to notify the Graduate Officer in writing of their choice of four examination topics; topics are chosen in consultation with the adviser.

Students who pass the written qualifying examination take the oral examination by September 30 of the following fall semester. Students are required to complete a written prospectus of their dissertation research, in the form of a grant proposal. The oral examination will include, but not be limited to, a defense of the prospectus. The examiners will be members of the student's graduate committee. The oral examination is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Candidacy status is reached after the Plan of Work has been approved, the written portion of the qualifying examination has been passed, approximately fifty credits have been completed, and the student's dissertation committee has been named.

Teaching/Research Requirement: Every doctoral student is required to teach at least two semesters or have equivalent teaching experience.

Continuance in the doctoral program depends upon satisfactory progress as determined by the student's Dissertation Committee with the departmental chairperson as an ex-officio member.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Chemistry

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Chemistry

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Chemistry and specializations in analytical chemistry, biological chemistry, inorganic chemistry, organic chemistry, and physical chemistry

General Requirements for Graduate Study

Every student entering the graduate program in chemistry will be required to take a series of entrance (proficiency) examinations covering the major disciplines of chemistry. These examinations, which cover standard undergraduate-level material, will be administered on announced dates in August, January, and May (prior to the start of each term). The examination in each area must be taken every time it is offered until a satisfactory level of proficiency is demonstrated in three of the five major fields.

Demonstration of proficiency in each area may be achieved:

- by receiving a grade of 'pass' on the proficiency examination; or
- by completing a 7000-level course in the area with a grade of 'A' or 'B'.

Full-time graduate students must establish proficiency in three areas within twelve months of commencing graduate study. Part-time graduate students must meet this requirement by the time they have completed twelve hours of graduate credit.

A final oral examination is required of all graduate degree candidates.

Scholarship: All course work to be accredited to graduate degrees must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

Master of Science with a Major in Chemistry

This is a professional degree for those planning to enter the chemical profession.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17.

Admission may be granted to applicants who have completed one year of college physics, mathematics through calculus, and the equivalent of undergraduate semester credits in chemistry as follows: general chemistry (eight credits), organic chemistry (eight credits), physical chemistry (six credits), quantitative analysis (four credits), and advanced chemistry (three credits). Applicants specializing in biological chemistry may substitute advanced biology for advanced chemistry.

A minimum undergraduate grade point average of 2.75 in chemistry and cognate science is required. Students who do not meet the requirements may petition the departmental committee on graduate study for qualified admission. Admissions under this program may include special requirements specified on the basis of the student's previous experience and training.

Candidacy must be established by the time twelve credits have been earned. The applicant must file a copy of the Plan of Work with the Graduate Officer.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Plan A only. (Chemistry courses below the 6000 level may not be applied toward this degree.)

1. Total of twenty-two credits in course work which must include:

- one credit in CHM 8850;
- two or three credits in seminar (CHM 8800, 8810, 8820, 8830, or 8840);
- one credit in CHM 6740;
- at least twelve credits in chemistry courses open to graduate chemistry students (excluding research, seminar, CHM 6740, and CHM 8850) of which at least nine credits must be at the 7000 level;
- six credits in chemistry and/or cognate courses;

2. Eight credits in CHM 8999 involving independent thesis research under the direction of a faculty member in the Department.

3. Submission of a satisfactory research thesis.

Master of Arts with a Major in Chemistry

This degree is designed for those who wish advanced training in chemistry but intend to pursue careers in cognate fields, such as education or business.

Admission Requirements: see above, under the Master of Science degree.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Plan C only. (Chemistry courses below the 6000 level may not be applied toward this degree.) A total of thirty-two credits in course work which must include:

- one credit in CHM 8850;

(b) two or three credits in graduate seminar (CHM 8800, 8810, 8820, 8830, or 8840);

(c) one credit in CHM 6740;

(d) at least eighteen credits in chemistry courses open to graduate chemistry students (excluding research, seminar, CHM 6740 and CHM 8850) of which at least nine credits must be at the 7000 level. Courses must be elected in at least four of the following fields: analytical, biological, inorganic, organic, and physical chemistry.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Chemistry

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. All applications for admission to the doctoral program in chemistry and all adjustments in the program subsequent to admission must have the approval of the Graduate Officer of the Department of Chemistry.

A minimum undergraduate grade point average of 3.0 in chemistry and cognate science is required except by special permission of the Departmental Committee on Graduate Study. An applicant having a master's degree from another institution must show a grade point average of at least 3.0 ('B').

Transfer from the Master's Program to the Ph.D. Program: In order to transfer to the Ph.D. program, a student must accumulate a minimum of nine credits in chemistry course work numbered 6040-8690 with a grade point average of at least 3.25. An applicant having a lower average must earn the master's degree with a superior academic record before acceptance as a doctoral applicant.

Candidacy: In order to become a candidate for the Ph.D. degree, an applicant must successfully complete both a written and oral qualifying examination. The written examination consists of a series of short cumulative examinations administered seven times per year, of which a student must obtain five passes within thirteen attempts (three of which must be in the major division). The oral examination includes the major field and covers minor and cognate fields as well. Any additional requirements set by the Graduate School or the department must be completed. Copies of such requirements may be obtained from the Chairperson of the Departmental Committee on Graduate Study.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Questions regarding requirements should be addressed to the Academic Services Officer. The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree, thirty of which must be earned as dissertation credit, and the remainder of which must include the following:

1. A minimum of six courses (eighteen credits) in graduate course work of which at least nine credits must be in chemistry courses at the 7000 level or above; not less than six credits shall be from outside the major division of specialization. A student who does not pass any proficiency examinations upon entrance to the program will be required to pass an additional graduate course, for a total of seven courses (twenty-one credits). Additional courses beyond the required six or seven, may be specified by the student's Ph.D. adviser or committee to address deficiencies or to develop expertise in one or more specific research areas.

The minor requirement may be satisfied by two courses (at least six credits) taken outside the major division of specialization. The minor requirement may be satisfied in any one of the following ways:

(a) Outside Minor may be satisfied by a minimum of six credits in related fields outside chemistry (biology, chemical engineering, computer science, mathematics, physics, etc.) with appropriate courses at the 5000 level and above.

(b) Distributed Minor may be satisfied by a minimum of six credits taken in chemistry and a related field. The chemistry credits must be at the 7000 level; the outside credits must be at the 5000 level or above.

(c) Concentrated Chemistry Minor may be satisfied by a minimum of six credits at the 7000 level in a single division outside the major division (including 7000-level courses taken to satisfy proficiency requirements).

2. Credit by Examination: Well-prepared students may receive up to nine credits by passing the final examinations in 6000- or 7000-level courses. These may be in either the major or minor fields.

3. At least four credits of graduate seminar (CHM 8800, 8810, 8820, 8830, or 8840).

4. At least one credit in CHM 8850.

5. One credit in CHM 6740.

6. Thirty credits in Ph.D. research involving independent research under the direction of a faculty member in the Department. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

7. Satisfactory completion of a 'Pre-Oral' examination based on the student's doctoral research is required prior to the final writing of the dissertation and at least six weeks before the final public lecture-defense or before the student's departure from campus, whichever occurs first.

8. Submission of a satisfactory research dissertation.

Graduate Degrees and Certificate Programs

POST BACHELOR CERTIFICATE in Computer Science

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE in Scientific Computing

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Computer Science

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Computer Science

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Computer Science

The Department of Computer Science offers instruction in the principles of design and use of computing and information systems. Underlying concepts are emphasized in order to give students the flexibility to manage the ever-increasing complexity of this rapidly-changing field. The main objective of the Department is to provide a learning environment which fosters the development of computer scientists possessing strong fundamental concepts. Students with widely varying backgrounds and goals will find plans of study and research designed to meet their needs.

Post Bachelor Certificate in Computer Science

The certificate program in computer science is designed for students who have obtained an undergraduate or graduate degree in another discipline from an accredited university, and who wish to acquire undergraduate-level competence in computer science skills. Students whose background includes courses that satisfy the College of Science Group Requirements (see Undergraduate Bulletin) will generally apply for a second bachelor's degree rather than the Certificate in Computer Science.

The Post Bachelor Certificate Program verifies completion of the technical courses required for the Bachelor of Arts with a major in Computer Science and provides the minimal course requirements for admission to the graduate program in this field at Wayne State University. Students planning to enter the graduate program in computer science are strongly advised to take as many additional mathematics and computer science courses as their programs will allow, to provide adequate background for graduate work.

Admission: Students who have received their undergraduate degree from Wayne State University should apply directly to the University Advising Center. Two copies of the student's transcript must be submitted to the University adviser.

Students who have received their undergraduate degrees from another institution must complete the application for Undergraduate Admission and request that official transcripts from the college or university granting their undergraduate degree be sent directly to the Office of Admissions.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for this certificate must achieve a level of competence in mathematics and computer science equivalent to completion of fifty-one credits as set forth in the following program. Prior preparation at the undergraduate level as evidenced in transcript notation or by demonstrable proficiency may be used to satisfy any of these requirements, except that twenty-three credits in computer science must be earned at Wayne State University. Current program requirements are as follows (students should consult a Computer Science adviser for recent updates):

1. A bachelor's degree or its equivalent in some discipline other than computer science with a grade point average of at least 2.0.
2. Mathematics 2010, 2020, and 2210.
3. Introductory Computer Science courses 1100, 1500, and 2110. (A minimum grade of 'C' is required in these classes.)
4. Computer Science courses beyond the introductory level including:
  - (a) Computer Science 2200, 3200, 4100, 4110, 4420, and 4996.
  - (b) Nine additional credits in Computer Science courses numbered 3000 or above excluding CSC 4990 and CSC 4995.
  - (c) At least twenty-three credits in Computer Science (CSC) courses must be taken at Wayne State University.
  - (d) CSC 4500 is required for admission to the graduate program.
  - (e) Minimum Computer Science grade point average of 2.5 is required to receive Certificate. (3.0 g.p.a. is required for graduate admission.)
  - (f) A minimum grade of 'C' is required in CSC 1100, 1500, and 2110.

Graduate Certificate in Scientific Computing

The Graduate Certificate in Scientific Computing Program is an interdisciplinary program administered through the Graduate School. It is designed to give students a deep and focused grounding in the techniques and tools necessary for all computational scientists and to integrate this understanding with the student's primary subject area. The certificate may be earned concurrently with a graduate degree or may be earned independently by students who already hold a B.A. or B.S. from an accredited institution.

Admission is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School (see page 17). Students must possess a B.A. or B.S. or equivalent degree from an accredited institution and must have a minimum g.p.a. of 2.60. Applicants must be able to demonstrate a basic degree of computer literacy and facility in using at least one scientific computing program language (Fortran, C, or C++). There is a three-year time limit in which to meet the certificate requirements.

Students who wish to earn the certificate independently of other graduate study submit the Application for Graduate Admission together with all other required material. Students who wish to earn the certificate concurrently with the pursuit of a graduate degree need complete only a brief program application in addition to the regular requirements for graduate admission.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS: The certificate is earned by successful completion of the Core Curriculum, for a total of twelve credits, with a grade of 'B' or better. For students working concurrently toward a graduate degree, nine of the twelve credits may be used to satisfy both degree and certificate requirements. Students who enter the program with advanced computing knowledge may, with the consent of the program administration and their graduate advisor, substitute no more than two courses from the advanced scientific computing interdisciplinary curriculum for core courses.

Core Curriculum (twelve credits):

- SCP 7100 -- Scientific Systems Programming (CSC 5050)
- SCP 7200 -- Numerical Methods I (MAT 5100)
- SCP 7300 -- Parallel Computing I (CSC 6220)
- SCP 7400 -- Scientific, Engineering, & Medical Applications of Modeling and Simulation (CSC 5830)

Master's Degree Programs

The Department of Computer Science awards the degrees of Master of Arts and Master of Science with a major in computer science. The degrees are distinguished on the basis of relative diversity and concentration of curricula. The Master of Arts degree program offers students experience in many areas of computer science. The Master of Science degree is granted to students who pursue a more concentrated cluster of topics leading to a master's thesis.

The great variety of subjects that are part of computer science, together with the immense diversity of their applications, makes it imperative that students in the master's program maintain close contact with their advisers to achieve a coherent plan of study directed toward a specific goal. In particular, elections of courses should be made after consultation and the approval of the student's adviser.

Admission to these programs is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements; see page 17. In addition, applicants are expected to have attained a level of scholarship in the baccalaureate program equal to a grade point average of 3.0 or better, including adequate preparation in computer science and supporting courses in mathematics. Normally, the entering student will be expected to have fulfilled the equivalent of the requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree at Wayne State University and to have satisfied any deficiencies by successfully completing necessary course work, before becoming an applicant for an advanced degree. The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required for admission to the Master of Science and Master of Arts program.

Applicants must submit official transcripts from each college or university attended, three letters of recommendation, Graduate Record Examination scores, a statement of approximately 300 words describing the applicant's academic and professional goals, and the Computer Science Graduate Admission Evaluation Form. Application forms may be downloaded from the Department website: <http://www.cs.wayne.edu/>

Students planning to pursue some of the more technical courses may find it necessary to have additional preparation in mathematics and/or computer science. The student should make a careful examination of the prerequisites for advanced courses in his/her areas of special interest before seeking admission. Prerequisite course work which is required as a condition of admission must be completed prior to electing graduate courses.

Upon admission, each student is assigned an adviser for guidance and direction in meeting degree requirements and academic goals. As the student's interests in computer science become more refined, a change in adviser may be appropriate; forms for this purpose are available from the Department Office. Such a change should be done before submitting the Plan of Work.

Candidacy: By the time twelve credits have been earned, a Plan of Work should be developed with the student's adviser and submitted to the Chairperson of the Computer Science Graduate Committee. In the Plan of Work the student indicates his/her choice of master's program Plans A or C (see below). Upon approval of the Plan of Work by the Graduate Committee and the Dean of the College of Science, the student is considered a degree candidate. The student is not permitted to take more than twelve credits in the master's program unless candidacy has been established. If the student has not graduated after two years as a candidate, the Plan of Work will be reviewed for possible adjustment.

Scholarship/Academic Probation: Students must maintain a minimum overall 3.0 grade point average. Failure to do so for one semester places the student on academic probation. Failure to do so for two semesters will result in the student's dismissal from the graduate program. All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414. The above requirements are those in force as of the publication date of this bulletin; however, students should keep in mind that the degree requirements for any particular student are those in force at the time of his/her admission.

Doctor of Philosophy With a Major in Computer Science

The Doctor of Philosophy degree is conferred upon individuals who have demonstrated the ability to make original contributions to the knowledge of the field.

The Ph.D. program develops experts and professionals who will continue in academic work, industry, or government. It encourages the attainment of excellence in research and scholarship necessary to catalyze the advancement of computer science. The fulfillment of doctoral requirements is monitored primarily by examinations and the presentation of the dissertation rather than by the summation of courses, grades and credits.

The doctoral program emphasizes research and the Department encourages prospective Ph.D. candidates to involve themselves in faculty projects at the earliest possible opportunity.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applications should be submitted in duplicate directly to the Computer Science Department. The applicant should possess a bachelor's or master's degree with a major in computer science or related field. In addition, applicants are expected to have attained a level of scholarship equal to a 3.3 grade point average or better in the most recent degree, including adequate preparation in computer science and supporting courses in mathematics. Normally, the entering student will be expected to have fulfilled the equivalent requirements for the Bachelor of Science in Computer Science and to satisfy any deficiencies by successfully completing the course work, before becoming an applicant for the advanced degree.

Applicants must submit to the Department official transcripts from each college or university attended, three letters of recommendation, Graduate Record Examination scores, a statement of approximately 300 words describing the applicant's academic and professional goals, and the Computer Science Graduate Evaluation Form. Application forms may be downloaded from the Department website: <http://www.cs.wayne.edu/>

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate degree, thirty of which must be earned as dissertation credit. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

The computer science doctoral program is designed to be flexible, in order to meet the individual student's interests and to reflect the dynamic nature of the field. It is comprised of six major stages:

1. Adviser/Program Selection: The first stage is devoted to the selection of a faculty adviser, taking course work and production of a Plan of Work in consultation with the student's faculty adviser. Students are encouraged to investigate the different areas of research available by meeting various Graduate Faculty. Adviser selection should be done within the first semester of admission. The student will then begin course selection and outlining the Plan of Work. The approved Plan of Work must designate a primary area of research and a minor field outside the department. The student is encouraged, in consultation with the adviser, to define his/her own primary and minor fields of interest by forming a cohesive grouping of available graduate courses. The Plan of Work must include at least thirty credits in course work at or above the 7000 level. Twenty-one of these credits must be in course work other than directed study (CSC 7990). Both CSC 6500 and CSC 6580 must be elected.

2. Proficiency Examination: To demonstrate knowledge of undergraduate-level computer science fundamentals, all Ph.D. students are required to pass the proficiency examination within the first two semesters of starting the program. This exam is given once each semester, including the spring/summer term. The first attempt must be made at the beginning of the semester of admission. In the first attempt, all four subjects must be taken. Students are given two attempts to pass each subject. If all the exams are not passed within two attempts, the student will not be allowed to continue in the Ph.D. program.

3. Written Qualifying Examination: The student is required to pass the written qualifying examination in order to demonstrate critical reasoning skills and written communication skills in the English language (especially with regard to technical and theoretical material). By the end of the second year, the student is required to make the first attempt of this exam, demonstrating knowledge of computer science at the graduate level in the core areas (CSC 6500 and CSC 6580) and in the major area of the student's research; by this time the student must have passed both CSC 6500 and CSC 6580 with grades of 'B' or better. This exam will assess the student's major area of research. The exam is offered in March and November, and the student will be allowed to retake it one time. Failure to pass the Written Qualifying Examination by the end of the fifth semester will result in the student's removal from the Ph.D. program.

4a. Dissertation Committee Formation: With the approval of the Department Graduate Committee, the student establishes a Dissertation Committee that consists of four members. If there are co-chairs, the committee will consist of five members. At least two committee members are from the student's home department. The Chair and one additional member must hold a Regular Graduate Faculty appointment in the Department of Computer Science. The committee will also include an external member from outside the department. This Committee is responsible for administering the prospectus and the dissertation defense of the candidate.

4b. Prospectus: After completion of the written qualifying exam, the student will continue to develop the dissertation prospectus, a document which provides evidence that the prospective doctoral candidate has completed adequate preliminary research on the topic of the proposed doctoral dissertation. The principles for determining the scope of the prospectus are detailed in the Doctoral Dissertation Outline and Record of Approval form; general characteristics are available on the website: <http://www.gradschool.wayne.edu/>

5. Candidacy: Candidacy is reached after the Plan of Work has been approved, the written qualifying examination has been passed, approximately fifty credits in course work have been completed, the dissertation committee has been formed, and the prospectus presented. Upon completion of these requirements, a Recommendation for Doctor of Philosophy Candidacy Status form is submitted to the Graduate School in order to advance the Ph.D. applicant to Candidate Status.

6. Dissertation: The final stage is devoted primarily to research and preparation of the dissertation. The dissertation research is presented and defended before the Dissertation Committee in a public lecture presentation. See the website for further information and graduation deadlines: <http://www.gradschool.wayne.edu/>

Assistantships and Fellowships

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin.

The number and nature of assistantships vary each academic year. Those interested in applying for a graduate teaching or research assistantship should submit their application materials to the Department of Computer Science by February 15 for the fall term, and by October 15 for the winter term of the preceding academic years. Late applications will be considered only on the basis of available positions. Along with the application students should submit three letters of recommendation, copies of transcripts, GRE scores, a description of research interests and background.

Research and Instructional Laboratories

The Department of Computer Science operates four instructional and multiple research laboratories comprising about 400 state-of-the-art workstations and servers.

Web Page: The Department maintains a home page at <http://www.cs.wayne.edu>

Master of Science in Geology

The Master of Science in Geology consists of advanced studies that are designed to prepare the student to assume a position of responsibility as a professional geologist; or to enter a program leading to the doctor of philosophy in geology or a related discipline at another university. The Master of Science in Geology is designed to prepare the student to assume a position of responsibility as a professional geologist with special training in the environmental aspects of this discipline in keeping with the urban setting of Wayne State University. Students receiving the degree of Master of Science in Geology will be especially prepared to work in a capacity that deals with or provides solutions to environmental problems in which an intimate relationship between the environment and earth science is an important factor.

The master's degree program involves the rigorous, in-depth study of major concepts pertaining to the earth, and the techniques used to study them. Entrance into the program assumes a firm foundation in the basic and elemental concepts of geology.

The verbal and quantitative parts of the Graduate Record Examination are required for admission to the graduate program, and the applicant must file three personal letters of recommendation before acceptance.

Students transferring from other fields should make an appointment with the Graduate Officer or the Department Chairperson who will review the applicant's background and make recommendations regarding the graduate program.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The master's degree is offered by this department only under the following option:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits including an eight credit thesis.

Students must complete twenty-four credits in graduate course work from the following courses: GEL 5000, 5080, 5120, 5150, 5450, 6400 and 6500. If additional credits are required, then, courses may be selected from other graduate courses in chemical and/or civil engineering, or graduate courses in chemistry or physics. Graduate courses in disciplines other than geology require the approval of the thesis adviser and the graduate committee. Eight credits in thesis (GEL 8999) are also required. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College of Science and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

The graduate program may be modified by the Geology Department to conform to the needs of individual candidates. The eight thesis credits must be in geology, but the thesis credits will not be counted as constituting part of the nineteen credits in Geology course work.

Candidacy for the Master's degree is established by submitting an acceptable Plan of Work to the Graduate Officer of the College of Science. This plan must be submitted and approved by the College by the time twelve graduate credits have been earned. Once candidacy is established, the student, in consultation with his/her adviser and the Geology Department graduate officer, will select the thesis committee. The committee will be comprised of a minimum of three members of the graduate faculty with the student's adviser serving as one member and committee chairperson. Two of the three members of the committee (including the adviser) must be from the Department of Geology. The third member may be from another department if this third member will be making a significant contribution to the applicant's course work and/or thesis study.

Cognate Requirements: Although there are no cognate courses required for the Master of Science degree, geology majors should consult their adviser regarding cognate courses which will be of value to their particular program. Depending on interests and future goals, courses in mathematics, physics, chemistry, and computer science, and especially those in chemical and civil engineering will be of particular value.

Assistantships

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin.

A limited number of graduate teaching assistantships may be available for academically superior students. Their availability can be ascertained by writing to the Geology Department graduate office.

Graduate Degree

MASTER OF ARTS in Linguistics

Linguistics is devoted to the scientific study of language structure and use. The Linguistics Program at Wayne State offers an interdisciplinary approach to this field, permitting students to explore a wide range of topics and issues in language research. Three core courses are offered on a regular basis: introduction to linguistic theory, phonology, and syntax. The Program offers concentrations in the following areas: (a) linguistics and a language; (b) syntax and semantics; (c) language variation and change; (d) language acquisition and processing; (e) sociolinguistics and discourse/pragmatics; and (f) individualized program.

Training in linguistics prepares students for advanced work in linguistic research, as well as for employment in teaching English and foreign languages; computer systems (especially natural language processing); broadcasting, mass media and journalism; publishing and editing; translation; international business; intercultural communication and negotiation; law; and generally any profession requiring the precise use or analysis of speech or writing.

The Linguistics Program is administered by a director and an advisory committee of participating faculty who regularly teach courses for the Program.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Mathematics, Mathematical Statistics, or Applied Mathematics

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Mathematics and specializations in pure mathematics, applied mathematics and mathematical statistics

The courses offered by the Department of Mathematics serve several purposes; they supply the mathematical preparation necessary for students specializing in the physical, biological or social sciences, in business administration, in engineering, and in education; they provide a route by which students may arrive at the level of research competency in any of several special mathematical areas; they allow students to prepare themselves for work as mathematicians and statisticians in industry and government; and they give an opportunity to all inquisitive students to learn something about modern mathematical ideas.

Graduate Scholarship

All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414. Degree applicants are expected to inform themselves concerning these regulations and to take the responsibility of conforming to them. Additional requirements for specific graduate degrees in mathematics are explained below.

Master of Arts Degrees in Mathematics

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17.

Except for the program leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Applied Mathematics, the entrance requirements for the master's programs in mathematics and statistics include successful completion of twelve semester credits in mathematics beyond sophomore calculus (equivalent to MAT 2010, 2020, 2030, 2250, and 2350); this course work should include advanced calculus and linear or modern algebra. Credit accrued in courses such as the history of mathematics or the teaching of mathematics, in which the study of mathematics itself is not the primary purpose will not be counted toward this requirement. As preparation for graduate study, the Mathematics Department strongly recommends undergraduate course work along the line of option A, described under Bachelor's Degrees in the undergraduate bulletin.

— With a Major in Mathematics

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Arts with a Major in Mathematics is offered under the following options:

Plan A: Twenty-four credits in course work plus an eight credit thesis.

Plan B: Twenty-seven credits in course work plus a three credit essay.

Plan C: Thirty credits in course work.

Completion of these plans must satisfy the following criteria:

1. At least twenty-four credits must be earned in course work from the Mathematics Department. Credits earned toward a thesis or essay in accordance with Plan A or Plan B may be included among these twenty-four credits.
2. Election of Mathematics 5420, 5430, 5600 and 5610, if not previously completed. Election of Mathematics 6500 or 6600, if not previously completed.
3. Election of at least two of the following, if not previously completed: Mathematics 5100, 5220, 5230, 5410, 5530, 5700, 5770, 5800, 5870. These courses represent several areas of applied mathematics.
4. Election of at least one additional mathematics course numbered 6000, or higher, with the exception of Mathematics 7999, 8999 and teacher preparation courses.
5. By the time twelve credits have been earned a Plan of Work, approved by a departmental adviser, should be submitted to the director of the master's program in mathematics. At this time, the Graduate Committee will act on the application for candidacy. The student will not be allowed to take more than twelve credits in the master's program unless candidacy has been established.
6. In the Plan of Work the student will state his or her choice of one of the plans A, B, or C. The choice of plan must be approved by the Graduate Committee.
7. There is a final oral examination for the master's degree. All students in Plan C are required to take this examination. Students in Plan A or B may, upon recommendation of the thesis or essay adviser, be excused from the final oral examination by the Graduate Committee.
8. It is required that the thesis or essay of each student in Plans A or B be presented in a public lecture.

NOTE: Candidates for the Master of Arts degree with a major in mathematics or in mathematical statistics are exempt from the requirement of the Graduate School that six credits in the major field must be in courses numbered 7000 and above.

— with a Major in Mathematical Statistics

The requirements for this degree differ from those for the Master of Arts with a major in mathematics (see above) only in that the three requirements 2, 3, and 4 are replaced by a single one:

2. Election of Mathematics 5420, 5430, 5600, 5610, 5700, 5710, and 5800, if not previously completed. Election of two courses from the group: MAT 5030, 5770, 5830, 5870, 6830, 6840, 6500 or 6600. Mathematics 7700 is recommended.

It is stressed that all other requirements (1, 5, 6 and 7 above) are the same, except that the essay under Plan B must be written in the area of mathematical statistics.

— With a Major in Applied Mathematics

This degree is designed for students who are interested in applied mathematics or are interested in applying mathematics to areas outside of mathematics (e.g., biology, chemistry, computer science, economics, engineering, geology, medical science, physics, psychology, social science). The program is flexible in that it does not represent the teaching of any fixed body of knowledge. It does require two areas of concentration, one of these being the major in mathematics (pure and applied) with emphasis on the applicable subjects. The minor area is to be either in applied mathematics or in an area outside of mathematics (such as the above) to which the student is interested in applying mathematics. Mathematical methods are emphasized.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants for the program leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Applied Mathematics must have either twelve credits beyond the calculus sequence or knowledge equivalent to Mathematics 2010-2030, 2250, 2350, 5070, 5420, Computer Science 2110 and a good background in some area in which he or she is planning to apply mathematics. A bachelor's degree in mathematics is not required.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This program is usually offered as a Plan B master's degree option requiring twenty-nine credits of course work plus a three credit essay. However, other master's degree options (see above under Major in Mathematics) may be elected with the approval of the Departmental Graduate Committee. Specific requirements for the degree are as follows:

1. A minimum of thirty-two credits.
2. A minimum of twenty credits in mathematics courses not previously completed and numbered 5030 or above (except courses for teachers). At least four of these credits must be elected from the courses listed in requirement 3 for mathematics major cited above.
3. Each student must declare a minor (e.g., one of the areas mentioned above) in which he or she is planning to apply mathematics, and have at least eight credits in that area in addition to those required above.
4. The entire program of study must be a coordinated one that meets with the approval of the student's academic adviser, who will be assigned upon admission.

Each student in this program will ordinarily be required to write a project-type essay for three credits under the direction of a supervisor in the Mathematics Department and an essay adviser from some department related to the minor area, both of whom must approve the essay. (If the chosen minor area is in applied mathematics, the adviser in the major area can be the same as the adviser in the minor area.) The selection of advisers and topics must be approved by the Graduate Committee of the Mathematics Department.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Mathematics

All applicants for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy with a major in mathematics are urged first to study the general University requirements for this degree and to plan their programs so that all those requirements are fulfilled in the proper order and at the proper times. Listed below are the major steps in earning this degree. Specific requirements of the Mathematics Department are included.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Doctoral applicants must have completed a master's degree in mathematics or reached an equivalent level of advancement. The Department Graduate Committee may make exceptions to this rule in cases where unusual ability has been demonstrated. Admission to the doctoral program will be granted only to those whose records indicate an ability to succeed in advanced study and research.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for the doctoral degree must complete ninety credits in course work beyond the bachelor's degree, including thirty credits of dissertation direction. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. Additional specific requirements for this degree in mathematics are as follows:

Preliminary Examinations are two two-hour written tests, covering undergraduate level material in analysis and algebra (from a sophisticated point of view). A student who is admitted to the Ph.D. program must take the Preliminary Examination within the first two scheduled examination sessions after the date of admission. Any delay in taking the examinations must be approved in advance by the Graduate Committee.

Language Examinations: Students are expected to show proficiency, at the level of translating mathematical literature, in two modern languages other than English. Examiners and exam format will be determined on an individual basis by the Graduate Committee. One language exam must be in French, German, or Russian, and this examination must be passed before completion of the written qualifying examinations. The second language may be any language in which there is a substantial body of modern mathematical literature, including computer languages. The second language exam must be passed before the Defense of Dissertation is scheduled.

Course Requirements: In addition to the examinations described above, before advancement to candidacy every student in the Ph.D. program must complete each of the following four courses with a grade of 'B' or better: MAT 7400, 7500, 7600, and 6600.

QUALIFYING EXAMINATIONS consist of two sections, a written and an oral examination. A student must begin the written qualifying examination by the end of the third year in the Ph.D. program, and must pass all parts of the examination by the end of the fourth year in the Ph.D. program. All parts of the examination must be passed before a student can advance to Candidacy Status.

Written Qualifying Examinations consist of two 3-hour parts, a major and a minor area exam. The examination committee will give the student a list of topics in the student's area of specialization. These topics should both reflect the student's particular research interest and be of sufficient breadth to cover the entire area. The committee will also designate a minor area on which the student will be examined. The minor area is to be supportive of the major area but sufficiently different to avoid compromising the diversity of the total two-part exam.

Oral Qualifying Examinations: By University regulations, after passing the written Qualifying Examinations, a student must take an oral Qualifying Examination within thirty days after certification of passing the written exam. The oral examination committee consists of the written examination committee, and a representative of the Graduate Committee. The oral examination will normally cover material similar to that of the written examinations, but may also include material outside the written examination areas which is deemed relevant to the student's research work.

Defense of Dissertation: Candidates must pass a final oral examination covering their research after the candidate's adviser has approved the completed dissertation.

Fellowships, Assistantships, Scholarships

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin.

A number of graduate assistantships and research fellowships are available for graduate students. Requests for information should be addressed to the Chairperson of the Department of Mathematics.

GRADUATE COURSES (MAT)

The following courses, numbered 5000-9999, are offered for graduate credit. Courses numbered 5000-6999 which are offered for undergraduate credit only may be found in the undergraduate bulletin, as well as all other undergraduate courses (numbered 0900-4999). Courses in the following list numbered 5000-6999 may be taken for undergraduate credit unless specifically restricted to graduate students as indicated by individual course limitations. ## — Program for Dietetic Interns

Students accepted into an approved dietetic internship at another institution may pursue either of the above described plans of work. Applicants may earn up to four credits in supervised field experience (NFS 5992) in association with the dietetic internship experience; grades for this course will be deferred until satisfactory completion of eight credits of general requirement courses in the Department. In addition, upon approval of the academic adviser and the internship director, qualified students may pursue a directed study (NFS 7990) during an eight week residency program with emphasis on either clinical nutrition, management, or community dietetics.

Doctor of Philosophy

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants to the program usually have a master's degree in nutrition and/or food science or in a cognate science. Exceptionally well-qualified students may be admitted directly to the doctoral program. A minimum grade point average of 3.0 and the Graduate Record Examination are required. Two letters of reference must be submitted, along with a statement of the applicant's goals and career objectives. Students with a master's degree in nutrition, food science, or related disciplines will have their transcripts evaluated to determine which courses meet the Ph.D. course requirements.

Candidacy: In order to become a candidate for the Ph.D. degree, an applicant must successfully complete both a written and an oral qualifying examination.

Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF ARTS with a major in Physics

MASTER OF SCIENCE with a major in Physics

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Physics

Physics is the science that describes the behavior of the physical world. It is the most basic of all sciences and as such is responsible for the interpretation of fundamental physical processes which support many other scientific disciplines.

Our degree programs are designed to provide the student with the broad-based knowledge and problem-solving skills that are needed in order to be a productive physicist in an academic, government, or industrial environment. The programs can accommodate students with varying undergraduate backgrounds and are designed to provide maximum flexibility for individual students. At the doctoral level, specializations are offered in the areas of: elementary particle physics, nuclear physics, condensed matter physics, atomic physics, materials science, optics, mathematical physics, quantum field theory, and applied physics.

Faculty members are committed to excellence in research and teaching, and work in an open and informal atmosphere which allows effective communication between students and advisers. The faculty hold national and international reputations in their areas of specialization. They organize and participate in conferences, publish extensively, and receive numerous outside grants, contracts and fellowships. In addition, they engage in many collaborations with scientists in both foreign and American universities and national laboratories. The department is housed in a modern physics building containing well-equipped research laboratories.

Master's Degrees

For some students, the master's degree will be used as part of a continuing Ph.D. program; for others, it will be a terminal degree leading to employment in government laboratories, industrial programs, hospitals, teaching positions, and other occupations. The Master of Science with a Major in Physics is offered under Plan A, and the Master of Arts with a Major in Physics is offered under Plan B, as described below.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. In addition, applicants must satisfy the following criteria.

Prerequisite preparation should include a minimum of general college physics with laboratory (equivalent to Physics 2170, 2180, and 3300), fifteen credits in the intermediate physics courses (for example, those equivalent to Physics 5200, 5350, 5600, 6200, 6300, 6500, 6600, 6800, 6850); mathematics through Mathematics 5070; and Chemistry 1220/1230 or equivalent courses.

The Graduate Record Examination, both the General section and the Physics subject test, is strongly recommended as a counseling aid in preparing the student's plan of study.

Candidacy must be established by the time twelve credits have been earned.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College of Science and the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

MASTER OF SCIENCE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Science degree is offered by this Department only under the following options:

Plan A: Twenty-four credits in course work plus an eight-credit thesis.

Specific requirements include the following:

1. At either the graduate or undergraduate level, Physics 5600, 6200, 6300, 6500, 6600, 6800, or equivalent courses, and mathematics through MAT 5070 or an equivalent course.
2. At least nine credits of coursework in physics at the 7000 level or above (exclusive of Physics 7990, 7996, 7999, 8995, 8999).
3. A departmental final oral examination is required of all candidates.

MASTER OF ARTS REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Arts degree is offered by this Department only under the following option:

Plan B: Twenty-nine credits in course work plus a three-credit essay.

Course requirements are the same as requirements (1) through (3) in the Master of Science program above.

Doctor of Philosophy With a Major in Physics

Admission Requirements: see above, under 'Master's Degrees.'

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates for the doctoral degree must complete ninety credits beyond the baccalaureate, including thirty credits of dissertation research. The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled by registering for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters. Students must demonstrate proficiency in the fields of:

- (a) Mechanics
- (b) Electromagnetic Theory
- (c) Quantum Physics
- (d) Thermodynamics and Statistical Mechanics

The following courses or their equivalent will be required of all candidates: Physics 7110, 7200, 7400, 7410, 7500, 7600.

In general, it is recommended that students take all the advanced courses in their specialty. Students specializing in any branch of theoretical physics are encouraged to take the quantum theory of fields, or a related directed study. Finally, the student must submit an approved dissertation.

On petition of the student and his/her thesis adviser, the Departmental Graduate Committee may waive any of the above course requirements.

Ph.D. Qualifying Examination: This will normally be taken after the student has completed approximately two years of graduate course work. Its purpose is to investigate the student's knowledge of physics and capacity for creative thought. This is a written examination. The student must submit a Plan of Work prior to taking this examination.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

Physics Colloquium (PHY 8995): It is required that all full-time graduate students register for and attend the Departmental Physics Colloquium each semester they are in residence.

Financial Aid

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Assistance, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin.

Graduate teaching assistant appointments are available to qualified entering and continuing graduate students. A graduate course load of approximately eight credits per semester is usual with such an appointment. Normally about eight to ten contact hours of quiz (recitation) sections or laboratory instruction sessions per week are arranged. Graduate teaching assistants also spend time at the Physics Resource Center assisting undergraduate students.

Graduate research assistant appointments, involving no teaching duties, are also available to qualified students. Stipends for these appointments are comparable to the teaching appointment stipends. Research undertaken while holding such an appointment may form the basis of the master's or doctoral thesis.

In addition, various government fellowships, University fellowships, and Knoller Physics Fellowships are available within the Department. Students applying for either teaching or research appointments are automatically considered for these grants. Application blanks and specific information concerning the above appointments may be obtained by writing the Chairperson.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The following courses, numbered 5000-9999, are offered for graduate credit. Courses numbered 5000-6999 which are also offered for undergraduate credit may be found in the undergraduate bulletin, along with all other undergraduate courses (numbered 0900-4999). Courses in the following list numbered 5000-6999 may be taken for undergraduate credit unless specifically restricted to graduate students as indicated by individual course limitations. MASTER OF ARTS in Human Development

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY with a major in Psychology and specializations in behavioral and cognitive neuroscience, clinical, industrial/organizational, and cognitive and social psychology across the lifespan

Master of Arts in Human Development

This program is designed for students whose career goals involve work in early intervention, physical or occupational therapy, infant mental health, parenting, and other human service activities that serve infants, children, adolescents, adults, the aged and their families. Unlike the Master of Arts with a Major in Psychology, this program is NOT a transitional stage leading to doctoral degree candidacy.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Students may enter the program in either the fall, winter, or spring/summer semester. The application deadline for the fall semester is June 15, for the winter semester, October 15, and for the spring/summer semester, April 15. The general portion of the Graduate Record Examination is required. To obtain more information about this program, contact the Department of Psychology, 71 W. Warren Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48202 (313-577-2800), or access the Psychology Department website at <http://www.psych.wayne.edu>.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Arts in Human Development is offered under two options:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits including an eight-credit thesis.

Plan B: Thirty-two credits including a three-credit essay.

Required courses include a practicum, a course in research methods, and a developmental seminar as well as courses in infancy, childhood, adolescence, adulthood and/or developmental assessment. An appropriate course in statistics and a final examination are required of all students pursuing Plan A.

All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

Master of Arts with a Major in Psychology

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17.

Only students who have been admitted to the doctoral program in psychology will be considered for admission to this master's program; hence all candidates are considered as doctoral applicants.

Applicants holding bachelor's degrees, master's degrees, and/or other advanced degrees will be considered for admission. At the undergraduate level, applicants must have earned a 3.0 or better average in psychology courses and in total course work. A minimum of twelve semester credits in psychology is required and must include a laboratory course and a statistical methods course in psychology. Courses in college mathematics and biology and familiarity with computers are highly recommended. The Graduate Record Examination, both general and subject (psychology) portions, is required.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The Master of Arts with a major in psychology is offered only as a Plan A master's program requiring thirty-two credits including an eight-credit thesis. In addition to the thesis, a minimum of twenty-four credits in psychology is required and must include PSY 7150 and two of the following: PSY 7010, 7080, 7090, 7120, 7250, 7400, 7590, and 7620.

Emphasis is placed on factual knowledge, theory, and research methods in general psychology. The thesis involves the use of laboratory or field data and must be approved by the adviser and two other members of the graduate faculty selected by the Departmental Graduate Committee. A final oral examination pertaining to the thesis and all courses included in the student's degree program is required.

All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414.

Doctor of Philosophy with a Major in Psychology

Admission: Since the doctoral degree offered by this department is viewed as a continuation of the Master of Arts degree program in psychology, students are expected to earn the M.A. degree or complete a master's-equivalent project as a preliminary stage in doctoral study and should refer to the above section, Master of Arts with a Major in Psychology, for admission requirements. The work of students who hold advanced degrees when they enter this program will be evaluated to determine the extent to which it satisfies the requirements of the M.A. degree in psychology.

Applicants must complete a Psychology Department application form and provide at least three letters of recommendation in addition to the transcripts and application form required by the Graduate School. Appropriate forms and instructions are available from the Graduate Office of the Department of Psychology. Students will not be considered for admission until all of the above have been received and evaluated. All forms for applicants intending to pursue doctoral work are due by January 15. Applicants will be notified of the admission committee's decision on or about March 15.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 414. All graduate students are expected to maintain at least a 'B' average. Students receiving grades of 'B-minus' or below in more than two courses will be dropped from the doctoral program. No more than two courses at the 6000 level may be applied toward credit for the doctoral degree.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

In order that students may acquire a broad background in the factual and theoretical content of psychology, four substantive courses are required of all doctoral candidates: PSY 7150 and 7160, plus one additional quantitative analysis course and two of the following outside the student's major area: PSY 7010, 7080, 7090, 7120, 7250, 7400, 7590, 7620. Each student is expected to select a major and minor area of specialization from among the following list. (Alternate minor areas may be developed in consultation with relevant faculty, subject to the approval of the Department Graduate Committee.)

BEHAVIORAL AND COGNITIVE NEUROSCIENCE: This interdisciplinary research and training program prepares students for positions in research and teaching in many areas of neuroscience, including functional cognitive neural imaging, neural physiology, behavioral pharmacology, neurobehavioral teratology, and affective neuroscience. Academic training is provided through foundation courses, specialized seminars, and intensive participation in mentored research based on one-to-one working relationships with faculty members.

CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY: Students in this specialty area take courses in clinical research, psychopathology, assessment methods, and therapeutic interventions. Requirements also include supervised experience in assessment and treatment of clients in practicum courses and during an internship. Special opportunities for training and research in neuropsychology, developmental psychopathology, health, and community psychology are available in the clinical program.

COGNITIVE AND SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY ACROSS THE LIFESPAN: This program offers an integrated interdisciplinary approach to the study of human behavior and development. Students may elect to pursue an established program of study in socio-emotional development, applied cognitive psychology, psycholinguistics, or applied social and community psychology; alternatively, they may develop an individualized program in collaboration with a mentoring team. Students may also elect a specialization in Health Psychology to their primary program. All students take a required introductory seminar and an integrated research methods class that emphasize the commonalities of the diverse approaches represented in the program. Cooperative arrangements for research are available with the Merrill-Palmer Institute, the Institute of Gerontology, the Community Medicine department, the Mott Center for Human Development, and a variety of other settings within the University and with community organizations.

INDUSTRIAL/ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY offers concentration in criterion development, performance evaluation, personnel selection, employee training and development, motivation and morale, leadership and executive development, and employee-management relations. Opportunities exist for field experience in major corporations.

Residence: All new doctoral students must enroll for their first academic year on a full-time basis. Students must complete at least six three-credit courses, exclusive of research and thesis credits, during the first year. Any incompletes in these six courses must be removed prior to the fall semester of the second year.

Examinations: The qualifying examination, a written examination covering the student's major area, is required. It is normally taken after completion of the master's thesis and sixty credits in graduate coursework.

Training, Teaching, and Research: Doctoral students are required to participate in a training assignment each academic year they are in residence. This is required of all full-time students, irrespective of whether the training assignment includes a stipend. The student's area committee is responsible for seeing that this requirement is met each year. The training assignment involves appropriate teaching, research (other than thesis or dissertation research) or professional activities.

Dissertation Research: The thirty credit dissertation registration requirement is fulfilled in one of two ways: 1) Students who have accumulated credits in the course numbered 9999 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction) register for a total of thirty credits in 9999; or 2) Students who have not accumulated any credits in the course numbered 9999 and who attain Candidacy after Summer semester 2001 register for the courses 9991, 9992, 9993, and 9994 (Doctoral Dissertation Research and Direction I, II, III, and IV, respectively), in consecutive academic year semesters.

Foreword

Social Work

The School of Social Work at Wayne State University has as its mission the teaching of the knowledge, values, and skills of the social work profession. Graduates of the School should understand the needs of vulnerable populations and those for whom the quality of life is threatened. Through research on practice, the faculty of the School contributes to the knowledge base of the social work profession. Faculty and students serve the community by participating in professional societies, civic and community groups, and human service organizations

The School of Social Work is an integral part of Wayne State University, an urban university in a culturally diverse, industrialized, metropolitan area. The School is committed in its teaching, research, and service activities to address the problems of people living in this environment. Both in class and in the human service organizations that are the sites for field education, students learn how to provide effective social services and to influence social policies.

The School's activities are intended ultimately to alleviate the condition of those affected by poverty, racism, sexism, ageism, homophobia, unemployment, and those with emotional disturbances, or physical or developmental impairments, or both. Students learn methods of intervention with individuals, families, groups, communities, and organizations. Consistent with its emphasis on serving people in the Detroit metropolitan area, the School shares with the University a commitment to recruiting students of minority ethnic backgrounds.

MASTER OF SOCIAL WORK

The School offers full-time and part-time study programs leading to the Master of Social Work degree. This program prepares graduates for advanced professional practice in social work. The full-time degree program consists of four semesters of study in which field work is concurrent with class work. Students spend two full days a week in the field and two days in classes for two consecutive years. With approval of the graduate officer, students in the second year may elect to have three full days a week in the field. Required classes in the full-time program may be offered in day, evening, and Saturday sessions.

The part-time program permits students to complete degree requirements over a three-year or a four-year period. Part-time study is open only to students who have been formally admitted to the program by the Admissions Director. Details of the several phases of class and field work involved in this program, as well as specific information on admissions requirements, may be obtained from the Office of Admissions and Student Services, School of Social Work.

ADMISSION

Applications for admission for full-time or part-time study in the program leading to the Master of Social Work degree may be submitted as early as one year in advance of the term in which the student wishes to enter the School. Applications are reviewed only when all supporting materials have been received. New students admitted into the foundation (core) year of the Master of Social Work degree program are enrolled in September. Applications and all supporting materials for the full-time or part-time program beginning in September must be submitted by February 28. Applications received after that date cannot be guaranteed processing. Applications and all supporting materials for admission with advanced standing (pre-candidate master's status) must be submitted by January 31. Applications received after that date cannot be guaranteed processing.

Applicants to the full-time or part-time program leading to the Master of Social Work degree must: (1) complete and forward to the Office of University Admissions, Wayne State University, the Application for Graduate Admission; (2) submit to the Office of University Admissions, Wayne State University, directly from their college or university, official transcripts of all credits previously earned, whether in one or several educational institutions; (3) complete and forward to the School of Social Work, Office of Admissions and Student Services, the completed form, Application for Admission to Graduate Study, School of Social Work, and related materials; (4) have completed thirty semester credits in academic work distributed in the social, behavioral, and biological sciences, and in English and the humanities; (5) show evidence to the School of Social Work's Director of Admissions of suitability and fitness for the profession and the ability to undertake successfully graduate professional education in social work. Experience in the social services is given greater weight in the decision for admission to the part-time program. The responsibility for deciding whether a student shall or shall not be admitted rests with the School. An applicant who wishes a review of an admissions decision may obtain specific information on the procedure for review from the Office of the Dean, School of Social Work. Admission is confirmed contingent upon the applicant's receipt of a bachelor's degree and an earned minimum grade point average of at least 2.6; a g.p.a. of 3.0 or above is preferred.

NOTE: Students who have already been admitted to and registered in the Graduate School of Wayne State University should omit steps one and two above and should have sent directly to the School of Social Work, Office of Admissions and Student Services, official transcripts from their college or university of all credits previously earned, whether in one or several institutions. Students should request that an adviser's copy of their Wayne State University transcript be sent from the University Records Office, Room 5101, 5057 Woodward Ave., to the School of Social Work, Office of Admissions and Student Services.

Applications for admission to the School of Social Work for the program leading to the Master of Social Work degree are given careful review in order to select those students best able to fulfill the requirements for professional education in this field.

Admission to Pre-Candidate Master's Status (Advanced Standing)

An applicant for admission to the Master of Social Work degree program who holds a baccalaureate degree from an undergraduate social work program accredited by the Council on Social Work Education may be admitted with advanced standing, called pre-candidate master's status. The responsibility for deciding whether the holder of a baccalaureate degree from an accredited undergraduate social work program shall or shall not be admitted to the graduate program rests with the School.

An applicant for admission to the program leading to the Master of Social Work degree who holds a baccalaureate degree from an undergraduate social work program accredited by the Canadian Association of Schools of Social Work (CASSW) may be admitted with advanced standing as an exception to the general rule that only graduates of undergraduate programs accredited by the Council on Social Work Education may be considered for admission.

Applications and all supporting materials for admission with advanced standing must be submitted by January 31. Applications received after that date cannot be guaranteed processing.

Students admitted with advanced standing are required to complete seven graduate credits toward the M.S.W. degree during the summer term following admission, and subsequently an additional thirty credits in the advanced curriculum of the graduate program, as prescribed within the student's concentration. Students must complete the following summer curriculum before enrolling in courses in the advanced curriculum:

S W 7070 or S W 7200

- Social Work Practice with Mezzo and Macro Systems: Cr. 2
- Social Work Practice with Organizations and Communities: Cr. 2

Cr. 2

S W 7500 -- Human Behavior Theory for SW Assessment: Cr. 2

S W 7810 -- Using and Conducting Research in Social Work: Cr. 3

Total credits: 7

Students may waive one or more of these summer courses by successfully completing a waiver exam. Contact the Office of Admissions and Student Services for information on the exams.

Students admitted with advanced standing may be permitted to complete the requirements for the Master of Social Work degree on a part-time basis. Students admitted to such a planned part-time program are required to complete seven graduate credits toward the M.S.W. degree during the summer term immediately following admission. The additional thirty credits may be completed in subsequent semesters. The School does not grant credit for life experience or previous work experience.

Transfer of Graduate Credits

Credits for professional social work courses earned at other graduate programs accredited by the Council on Social Work Education may be accepted toward the Master of Social Work degree. Students, however, must meet all of the specific course requirements or equivalencies in the program leading to the Master of Social Work degree at this School. A maximum of thirty credits may have been completed in another accredited school of social work. Transfer students must be in good standing in the school from which they transfer, must meet all other requirements of this School, earn a minimum of thirty credits at this School, and must be in residence during the final semester prior to graduation.

A maximum of eight graduate credits from the social work curriculum or from curricula closely related to social work earned in an accredited graduate program may be accepted toward the Master of Social Work degree if, in the judgment of the faculty, the credits are appropriate as elective credits in the social work curriculum. Students who elect the Community Practice and Social Action Concentration Concentration complete three more required course credits than those in Interpersonal Practice, and therefore can take fewer elective credits (five, rather than eight).

Transfer credit must be of a 'B' grade or better and certified as graduate level credit on an official transcript. Courses approved for transfer from outside or within the University cannot have been applied as credit toward a prior degree. Extension credits earned at other than Michigan institutions cannot be applied toward a graduate degree.

Transfer credits do not alter the residency policy and time limitations governing School of Social Work degrees. Students may petition for the transfer of graduate credit only after they have been admitted to the M.S.W. degree program.

Nondiscrimination Policies

The School is bound by and actively endorses University policies of nondiscrimination respecting all persons regardless of race, color, sex, national origin, religion, age, sexual orientation, marital status, or physical or mental disability, and which expressly forbid sexual harassment or discrimination in hiring (see page 9 for these policies). The School prohibits discrimination against individuals because of political orientation. Copies of School and University nondiscrimination policies may be obtained in the Office of the Dean.

Academic Credit and Work/Life Experience

No academic credit for life experience or previous work experience will be awarded in the Bachelor of Social Work or Master of Social Work degree programs, in whole or in part, in lieu of the field practicum or of courses in professional foundation areas.

Withdrawal from the B.S.W. and M.S.W. Programs

A student who has been admitted to the Bachelor of Social Work or the Master of Social Work degree program shall be considered to have withdrawn from the program if the student is not enrolled in a course and/or field work during any semester of a planned program of study within the framework of the plan which has been approved. In order to terminate in good standing, students who withdraw from any degree program permanently or temporarily, for whatever reason, must formalize their withdrawal with the Director of Admissions. Under certain circumstances, with approval from the Dean, a student may be granted a leave of absence from the School. Copies of procedures for withdrawal or leaves of absence may be obtained from the Office of Admissions and Student Services, School of Social Work.

Readmission

Students who had been enrolled in a planned program leading to the Master of Social Work degree, who have withdrawn from the program and who wish to be considered for readmission to complete degree requirements, must follow regular procedures for admission to the School. Generally, students are required to complete two continuous terms of field work; readmitted students who had previously completed one term of field work will be required to repeat this term, and may be required to enroll concurrently in a course or courses in social work practice methods. Students who have withdrawn and wish to be readmitted may be required to obtain an assessment of their physical or mental health (or both) from a health professional approved and/or selected by the School.

Admission to Non-Degree Study

Students may enroll in certain classes as pre-master's registrants and will be permitted to accumulate a maximum of twelve credits in this status. Pre-master's students may not enroll in the field work courses and certain other courses in which specific prerequisites and/or corequisites preclude their registration. If the student is subsequently admitted to a program leading to the Master of Social Work degree, credits earned in a pre-master's classification may be applied toward the degree.

Applicants for pre-master's, non-degree study must hold a baccalaureate degree from a college or university of recognized standing and have completed a minimum of thirty semester credits of academic work distributed in the social and biological sciences and in the humanities.

Applicants must: (1) complete and forward to the Office of University Admissions, Wayne State University, the Application for Graduate Admission, indicating non-degree status in the School of Social Work; (2) arrange to have official transcripts of all credits previously earned (whether in one or several educational institutions) submitted directly from their college or university to the Office of University Admissions, Wayne State University.

Students applying for pre-master's study in the School of Social Work who have already been admitted and registered in the Graduate School of Wayne State University should consult the School of Social Work Office of Admissions and Student Services regarding the procedure for a change of college and/or status.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The Master of Social Work degree requires a minimum of sixty credits of graduate course work, completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School and the School of Social Work; see pages 17-29 and 472, respectively. The program includes a foundation (core) curriculum at the first level, and at the second level, one of two concentrations: Community Practice and Social Action, or Interpersonal Practice. The core curriculum provides the foundation for the advanced curriculum.

Students may complete the master's degree requirements by successfully completing S W 8810, Research Seminar, or S W 8996, Group Project Research and Direction, under Plan C; or complete a six-credit individual thesis, S W 8999, under Plan A. (See master's degree requirements, page 29.)

Foundation (Core) Curriculum

The foundation (core) curriculum provides a knowledge base for later study of advanced practice in the concentration. The core curriculum has content in the five major curricular areas: social work practice, human behavior and the social environment, social welfare policy and services, research, and field education. The core curriculum stresses fundamentals and knowledge of social work practice as they relate to individuals, families, small groups, organizations, and communities. In field education, theory is translated into practice and includes experiences for students in interpersonal practice and practice in organizations and communities.

During the foundation (core) year, students declare their interest in an advanced curriculum concentration. Students must complete the core curriculum before enrolling in advanced curriculum courses.

Advanced Curriculum

The advanced curriculum builds on the knowledge, values, and skills gained in the foundation (core) curriculum, with the objective of increasing the student's competence to deal with greater complexities of social work practice through a focus on areas of social concern. This advanced portion of the M.S.W. degree program is designed to provide specific advanced knowledge and practice skills.

Advanced Interpersonal Practice Theory-Specific HBSE/Practice Methods courses (two 4-credit courses are theory specific): Cr. 8

Advanced Community Practice and Social Action HBSE/Practice Methods courses: Cr. 11<sup>1</sup>

plus

Social Welfare Policy Analysis and Formulation course: Cr. 3

S W 8810 or 8820 -- Research Sem. (concentration specific): Cr. 3<sup>2</sup>

S W 8998 -- Field Work for Social Workers II: Cr. 8

Electives: Cr. 5-8

Total credits: 30

Students must meet the requirements for a concentration by: (a) satisfactory completion of specific concentration courses in HBSE/Practice Methods; (b) satisfactory completion of a field education placement in the concentration for each of the semesters of the advanced curriculum. Students choose one of two concentrations:

Community Practice and Social Action focuses on interventions in social agencies, institutions, and neighborhoods of the community and society to enhance the quality of life. Community Practice and Social Action students will be in practicums which relate to urban social planning, community development, comprehensive community mental health planning and development, coordination and planning for the aged, juvenile justice, and social change. Examples of sites for social work employment include community-based organizations, social welfare planning agencies, planning departments in governmental units, advocacy organizations, political offices, and human resource departments.

Interpersonal Practice studies one theoretical framework of human behavior and practice methods. Theory tracks are: Family Systems theory, Cognitive-Behavioral theory, and Psychodynamic theory. Students select field placements in areas of special interest: families at risk, child welfare, substance abuse services, schools, inpatient and outpatient mental health treatment, health care, and aging/gerontology. A full range of elective courses is offered to supplement the advanced year study.

1. Students who elect the Community Practice and Social Action concentration will have five elective credits. Students in the Community Practice and Social Action Concentration must select S W 8820.

2. Students may elect a four-credit group research project (S W 8996) or a six-credit individual thesis (S W 8999) in lieu of the three-credit Research Seminar.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

For complete information regarding academic rules and regulations of the Graduate School, students should consult the section of this bulletin beginning on page 17. The following additions and amendments pertain to the School of Social Work.

Students in the School of Social Work are responsible for informing themselves of all rules, regulations, and requirements, complying with all official policies and procedures, and fulfilling all course and degree requirements in proper sequence with satisfactory scholarship. The student should consult the Academic Services Officer or the M.S.W. Academic Adviser concerning any academic matter. Students should consult the Academic Services Officer or the M.S.W. Academic Adviser when developing a Plan of Work or selecting electives. The primary responsibility for counseling with the Academic Services Officer or Academic Adviser and for seeking information on policies, procedures, degree requirements, and all academic matters rests with the student.

The faculty of the School of Social Work has the responsibility to require a student to withdraw at any time prior to receipt of the degree when, in its judgment, the student fails to do satisfactory work. Such decisions may be based on deficiencies in performance in class or field or in personal fitness for the profession. The faculty has adopted a set of criteria and procedures for academic termination. Every effort is made to assist students whose work suffers as a result of conditions beyond their control such as personal illness, serious illness in the immediate family, or similar emergencies. The School's Policies and Procedures for Academic Termination and Reinstatement and Grade Appeals Procedures are available in the Office of the Dean and the Office of Admissions and Student Services.

Scholarship

To be awarded a Master of Social Work degree, the student must achieve an overall grade point average of 3.0. At the discretion of the faculty, a student whose grade point average falls below 3.0 may be permitted to graduate after passing an oral examination. An oral examination may be required of any student at the discretion of the faculty.

Degree Application

Application for the degree must be filed no later than on the first day of classes for the semester in which students expect to complete the requirements for the degree. Candidates must be recommended for the degree by the faculty. Candidates are requested and expected to attend the commencement at which the degree is conferred.

Time Limitation

Students have a six-year time limit to complete requirements for the Master of Social Work degree. For further information, see Degree and Certificate Requirements, page 29.

Attendance

Students are expected to attend all sessions of courses for which they are registered and to notify the instructor or the instructor's secretary prior to the class session, if possible, when the student may be absent due to illness or similar emergency. Each instructor may specify an attendance policy in the course syllabus, and announce it at the beginning of a course. Consistent or extended absences may jeopardize the student's grade in the course and, possibly, the student's enrollment in the School.

Field Education

All students enrolled in S W 7998, Field Work for Social Workers I, are required to carry professional liability insurance as a condition of field placement. The Field Education Manual contains a description of the field education program, and the policies and procedures related to the program. Students are responsible for observing the procedures governing field work practice which are detailed in the manual. The Field Education Manual is distributed to each student enrolled in S W 7998, Field Work for Social Workers I.

Field Education Health Clearance Policy

The School may require students in field placement to obtain assessments of their physical or mental health from health or mental health professionals approved by the School. The School of Social Work reserves the right to refuse to place or direct a student in field education if the physical or mental health status of the student indicates such action is warranted in order to safeguard clients, agencies, the student, other students, or the School.

FINANCIAL AID

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Aid, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin.

Scholarships, fellowships and other financial aids are available to social work students on a limited basis. The School expects students to utilize their own resources as much as possible to cover educational costs, and financial aid through University resources should be considered as supplementary. For additional information, inquiries should be directed to the School of Social Work Office of Admissions and Student Services.

Applications for student aid are evaluated by the University Office of Financial Aid based on financial need as reflected in the information provided by the students and/or their families on the appropriate forms. All requests for applications should be sent to the Office of Financial Aid, Wayne State University. Information on Guaranteed Student Loans may be obtained by contacting that Office. Students seeking graduate and professional scholarships should consult the Graduate School.

When financial aid is necessary, the School of Social Work will cooperate with the University Office of Financial Aid to develop the best possible student aid plan from the various scholarships, stipends, grants, or loans available. Such financial assistance will not be assigned or awarded until the student has confirmed his or her intention to enroll after being notified of admission. # SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Student Organization

The Student Organization is a vital component of the programs of the School of Social Work. In existence since 1949, it is the voice of the students in matters regarding School and profession. It is involved with School issues as well as broader educational and social concerns. All students currently enrolled in undergraduate or graduate programs in the School of Social Work are members of the Student Organization. A student newspaper, biweekly meetings, social and recreational activities, assistance in attendance at relevant conferences, and participation in the National Association of Social Workers are among student activities.

Greater Detroit Association of Black Social Workers — Student Chapter

The Wayne State University School of Social Work student chapter of the Greater Detroit Association of Black Social Workers is identified as GDABSW-s. This student association involves itself in educational, research, and community service activities on a year-round basis. GDABSW-s assists black and African American students in making the adjustment to the School of Social Work and provides students with supportive educational services. GDABSW-s also works closely with its parent organization, the Greater Detroit Association of Black Social Workers (GDABSW) in sponsoring forums, luncheons, conventions, and fund raising events, as well as a schedule of social and leisure time activities.

Student Organization for Latino/Latina Social Workers (S.O.L.A.S.W.)

The Student Organization for Latino/Latina Social Workers is the organization of students in the School who are interested in Latino/Hispanic affairs. The objectives of S.O.L.A.S.W. are to increase the number of Latino/Hispanic students and faculty in the School, to integrate the Latino/Hispanic experience into the School's programs and academic setting, to link the Latino/Hispanic community with the School, and to provide a Latino/Hispanic-related student forum in the University community. Membership in the S.O.L.A.S.W. is for students of Latino/Hispanic origin, but others with interest may join the group with affiliation status.

Special Interest Groups

Each year there are students with special interests who organize themselves into student activity groups around their interests, such as groups for gay/lesbian/bisexual students, Jewish students, Christian students, Arab/Chaldean students, and students interested in social work practice in communities and social action and policy change.

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association serves to enhance School and professional identification. To this end, the Association maintains a website (<http://www.socialwork.wayne.edu/alumni.html>), sponsors forums that encourage professional development, conducts special activities in support of the work of the School, and promotes fellowship among alumni, faculty and students through its activities on campus and in Oakland and Macomb Counties. It also provides scholarships and financial support to the School through fund-raising efforts.

College of Urban,
Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs

INTERIM DEAN: George C. Galster

Foreword

The College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs (CULMA) was approved by the Board of Governors, effective Fall Term 1987. The primary mission of the college is to promote, stimulate and engage in pure and applied urban-oriented research and scholarship; to provide instructional programs (credit and non-credit curricula) in urban and labor affairs; and to develop and conduct programs of service to public and private institutions and to individuals, consistent with the overall mission of the University. The major context of the college's work is the urban setting of metropolitan Detroit. Utilizing an interdisciplinary and interdepartmental approach, the College draws upon numerous departments in the University for its programs of study, research, and public service.

The College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs includes the Center for Chicano-Boricua Studies; the Center for Peace and Conflict Studies; the Department of Geography and Urban Planning; the Department of Interdisciplinary Studies; the Labor Studies Center; the Douglas A. Fraser Center for Workplace Issues; the Center for Urban Studies; the Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs; the University Professors for Labor Studies; the Skillman Center for Children; and the Detroit Orientation Institute. The State Policy Center is also located in the College.

The Center for Chicano-Boricua Studies (CBS) is a multi-service unit engaged in teaching, research, and service, and thereby plays an important role in the urban mission of Wayne State University. The Center's own mission has four components:

Recruitment, Academic Development, and Retention: The Center recruits Latino students into the University through a two-year program designed to facilitate the transition between high school and college and to increase retention. It also provides support services for Latino students outside of the program.

Research: The Center promotes research on a) issues relevant to the Latino community, especially in the urban and workplace environment; and b) Latin American history and current issues.

Community Outreach: The Center creates and fosters the interaction and exchange of personnel and resources between the University and the Latino community; and it serves as a source of expertise on Latino issues to the larger metropolitan community.

University Advocacy: As an advocate for the awareness and advancement of Latino issues within the University, the Center contributes to the University's continuing efforts to create a richer multicultural campus environment.

Scholarships: The Center grants $100,000 in scholarships to Latino students each year. Contact the Center for information.

Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs

Walter P. Reuther Library; 313-577-4024; Fax: 313-577-4300
Website: <http://www.reuther.wayne.edu>

The Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs, a unit of the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs, enjoys an international reputation as the largest and finest labor archives in the world. In all, the Archives has some 95 million documents in addition to 20,000 books, monographs, union publications and proceedings; 1,000,000 photographs; and 20,000 films and tape recordings. A unique portion of the holdings is the labor journal and newspaper collection, which has nearly 1,600 current and non-current titles dating from the late 1800s to the present.

The Archives was established in 1960 to collect and preserve records of the American labor movement, related social, economic, and political reform groups, and twentieth century urban America. The Archives has since become the official depository for the inactive files of the United Auto Workers, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the American Federation of Teachers, The Newspaper Guild, the United Farm Workers, the Service Employees International Union, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, the Air Line Pilots Association, the Association of Flight Attendants, the Industrial Workers of the World, and many state and local labor organizations. Records have also been received from such groups as the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty, the Michigan Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, the Detroit Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the United Community Services of Detroit, United Way for Southeastern Michigan, and New Detroit, Inc. Many individuals who played leading roles in labor and urban affairs have also placed their papers in the Archives.

University Archives

Walter P. Reuther Library; 313-577-4024

The University Archives, a unit of the College of Urban, Labor and Metropolitan Affairs, was established in 1958 as a research/reference center for the University's historical records. In addition to being the official repository for records of Wayne State and its predecessor institutions, the Archives also collects faculty papers and the records of student and professional organizations which document the development of the University and higher or professional education.

The Archives' holdings of over 6,000 cubic feet include manuscripts, minutes, publications, photographs and reports. There are over 500 current and non-current titles, extensive vertical and biographical files, catalogs from 1868 to present, and the student newspaper from 1918 to present. Topics range from House Un-American Activities Committee, Michigan Academy of Pharmacy, occupational health and safety, and teacher training to student activities. Tours of the University Archives and the Reuther Library may be scheduled upon request.

Center for Peace and Conflict Studies

2323 Faculty/Administration Building; 313-577-3453; Fax: 577-8269
Website: <http://www.pcs.wayne.edu>

The Center for Peace and Conflict Studies was established in 1965, and provides programs devoted to the resolution of conflict in all contexts, from the local community to the international system. Under the faculty director and an interdisciplinary executive committee, research projects are developed that contribute to the exploration of the social and political problems of our time. Conferences and speaker series are organized and occasional papers issued. The Center serves as the base for an undergraduate co-major and minor in peace and conflict studies, and participates in the interdisciplinary Master of Arts in Dispute Resolution program in conjunction with the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs. The Center director also co-directs the Program in Mediating Theory and Democratic Systems, sponsored by the Hewlett Foundation, one of sixteen national centers investigating theories and approaches to ethnic, racial, gender, or religious dispute settlement. The Center is active in community service on conflict resolution and global education.

Detroit Council for World Affairs: The Council is the community arm of the Center for Peace and Conflict Studies and presents activities for a broad audience on crucial world issues and domestic and international conflict. The Council serves as a link between the University and the community in the greater Detroit metropolitan area. Members of the public and organizations may join the Council to participate in Center and Council activities.

Skillman Center for Children

Website: <http://www.skillmancenter.culma.wayne.edu>

The Skillman Center for Children, created in 1991 by a Skillman Foundation endowment, is located in the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs. Its mission is to utilize University expertise and resources to support the work of existing agencies, citizen/parent groups, organizations and governmental units concerned with needs of urban children, youth and families in the metropolitan Detroit area.

To implement this mission, the Skillman Center for Children: 1) serves as a central resource for information about best practices and model service delivery programs for urban children and families and makes these resources available to the academic policymaker and practitioner communities through the Skillman Center/Urban Families Resource Center; 2) develops information and strategies to address contemporary issues facing urban children and families; 3) conducts national searches on best practices in identified cases; 4) produces a bi-yearly Status of Detroit Area Youth report; 5) disseminates findings and reports via conferences, workshops, forums, publications and technical assistance.

The Skillman Center for Children functions to unite faculty around common themes and research thrusts, to share knowledge, to build interdisciplinary networks and to connect the University community to the service delivery community.

Center for Urban Studies

Website: <http://www.cus.wayne.edu>

The mission of Wayne State University's Center for Urban Studies is to improve understanding of and provide innovative responses to urban challenges and opportunities. The Center pursues its mission by conducting and disseminating research, developing policies and programs, and providing training, capacity-building, and technical assistance.

The Center participates in defining and influencing local, regional, state and national urban policy. It engages community, government, institutions, and policymakers in collaboration with University faculty and resources to transform knowledge into action. Committed to serving Detroit and its metropolitan area, the Center is part of the College of Urban, Labor and Metropolitan Affairs and exemplifies Wayne State's urban research and service mission.

Labor Studies Center

3178 Faculty/Administration Building; 313-577-4380; Fax: 577-9969
Website: <http://www.laborstudies.wayne.edu>

Established in 1957, the Labor Studies Center's mission is to contribute to the effectiveness of organized labor through teaching, technical assistance, and the diffusion of the results of academic research, while strengthening the University's ability to conduct interdisciplinary research and teaching on labor and industrial relations issues. Its activities include: (1) an interdepartmental major in Labor Studies leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree, preparing students for careers in the labor movement, related government agencies, the labor relations profession, and graduate study in labor and industrial relations; (2) applied research conducted for unions and interdisciplinary research within the University on labor and industrial relations issues; and (3) technical assistance and a wide range of non-credit education and training programs for unions and their members throughout southeast Michigan, including six-week courses in labor law and collective bargaining, and the two-year Labor School, designed to strengthen workers' leadership and communication skills and to increase their understanding of the complex issues confronting workers and unions in contemporary society. The Center also provides training and technical assistance in implementing joint labor-management programs and mutual gains bargaining.

State Policy Center

3198 Faculty/Administration Building; 313-577-3075;
Fax: 313-577-8800
Website: <http://www.culma.wayne.edu/spc>

The State Policy Center (SPC), a nonpartisan entity for addressing statewide and urban issues, is part of Wayne State University's College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs. It represents the University's ongoing commitment to public service, and it specifically responds to the legislative initiative advanced in the Fiscal Year 1997-98 Budget for Higher Education, which called upon Michigan's major research universities to assist state government in development of public policy.

Its mission is to serve Michigan citizens and state officials in public policy analysis and development, and to make academic resources more widely available to the state legislature and all aspects of state government. The Center also directs its energies toward the University, funding faculty research, supporting student interns in state government, and conducting conferences for students and scholars.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to any graduate degree program is contingent upon meeting the admission requirements of the Graduate School. For further information on these requirements, see page 17.

Preference is given to those students who have achieved superior undergraduate scholastic records and who have evidenced superior abilities.

All prerequisite credits must be earned prior to or concurrently with the first graduate credits. If undergraduate preparation for the major field is considered deficient, additional work may be required at the undergraduate level. Many programs have additional individual admission requirements. Students should consult the subsequent departmental sections in this bulletin for specific requirements in each field of study.

Graduate Record Examinations

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is used to assist advisers in evaluating educational preparation and to serve as a basis for planning future study. There is no uniform policy concerning GREs; some departments require GRE scores from all applicants for admission, while others require scores only from students in specified classifications. Students should consult the department in which they wish to major to determine which examinations must be taken.

Students required to take these examinations must apply at the Testing and Evaluation Office, 698 Student Center, either prior to or at the time of admission. Students who previously have taken the examination may have transcripts of these scores submitted. After the initial registration, no subsequent enrollment will be permitted nor will candidacy be authorized until examination requirements have been fulfilled.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Graduate degrees are conferred not merely upon the completion of a prescribed number of courses nor necessarily after a given period of residence, but rather in recognition of each candidate's outstanding ability and high attainments as evidenced in all course work, research, scholarly writing, examinations and personal fitness for a chosen profession. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic regulations of the Graduate School and the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 483. In addition to the general Graduate School requirements for degrees and to the information provided below, other requirements are specified by the individual graduate departments. Students should consult the programs and requirements of the departments in which they plan to major.

Candidacy

Candidacy is an advanced status recommended by student advisers and authorized by the Graduate School or the College Graduate Office upon evidence of superior scholarship, appropriate personal qualities and promise of professional competence. Students should note that admission as an applicant does not assure acceptance as a candidate for a degree, and that candidacy is a necessary but not sufficient requirement for graduation.

To be eligible for candidacy, students must file officially approved Plans of Work. Master's applicants should file their Plans of Work with the graduate officer of the College. In preparing a Plan, students should evaluate with care their personal and professional objectives as well as all degree and departmental requirements. Normally, a student enrolled in master's degree programs is expected to file a Plan of Work by the time twelve graduate credits or their equivalent have been earned.

Commencement

Information concerning commencement announcements, caps and gowns, invitations, tickets, time and place, assembling and other relevant items will be mailed to graduates by the Alumni Office prior to the event. Candidates for advanced degrees are requested and expected to attend the commencement at which the University confers upon them the honor of the degree earned.

Master's Degree Requirements

In most master's degree programs, the minimum requirement for the degree is thirty-two credits under either Plan A or Plan B or Plan C as cited below. At least twenty-four credits must be taken in residence. At least six credits of work in the major field, in addition to the essay or thesis, must be in courses open only to graduate students (courses numbered 7000 and above).

Plan A requires twenty-four credits of course work plus an eight credit thesis.

Plan B requires twenty-nine credits of course work plus a three credit essay.

Plan C requires thirty-two credits of course work. Essay or thesis not required. Authorized only in selected areas. Most departments require a final comprehensive examination. Students should consult adviser.

These requirements vary slightly by departments; see listings under the individual departments for exact information.

Essays and Theses

There is no prescribed form for the master's essay. Essay guidelines, indicating standard style manuals for each department and title-page samples, are available in the College Graduate Office.

Master's degree candidates under the essay plan register for the course numbered 7999, Master's Essay Direction, in the department of their major; a total of three credits must be elected.

The original copy of the essay should be submitted to the College Graduate Office after it is approved and signed by the adviser. This copy will be returned to the department.

The thesis must be an original work, either in or definitely related to the student's major area of specialization. If proper standards of quality, objectivity, originality, and independence are maintained, candidates may use data which they have derived from their University research. Neither the results of the research nor the publication of findings can be restricted by any non-university agency nor can they be published prior to acceptance by the Graduate School, unless prior approval of such publication has been secured from both the adviser and the Graduate School. Advisers have primary responsibility for approval of the essay or thesis.

Master's candidates under the thesis plan register for the course numbered 8999 in the department of their major. This course is entitled Master's Thesis Research and Direction and must be elected for a total of eight credits.

Outline and Record Form

Before students begin working on theses, they must file thesis outline and record of approval forms. Master's candidates must prepare three copies which, after receiving departmental approval, will be forwarded to the College Graduate Office.

Interdepartmental Graduate Programs

Graduate Certificate in Economic Development

The Graduate Certificate Program in Economic Development is administered by the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs in conjunction with the following graduate programs: Applied Sociology, Business Administration, Economics, Industrial Relations, Public Administration, and Urban Planning.

The Certificate is designed for students who wish to combine a graduate degree (master's or doctoral) with a specialty in urban, regional and state economic development. It will be awarded only in conjunction with the completion of a graduate degree or to those already holding such a degree.

Admission: Applicants must meet the admission standards of the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Eligibility for this program is limited to persons holding a graduate degree from an accredited educational institution or those actively pursuing a graduate degree at Wayne State University. Applicants must submit a completed application form, personal statement of interest in the program, and Plan of Work.

CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS: Students must complete twelve credits in designated graduate courses, including the required course comprising Core Area I, and courses (at least three credits) from two of the Core Areas II, III, and IV. Additionally, ECO 6500 in Area IV is required; this course may be waived if the student has successfully completed an equivalent course, or if it is a requirement for the graduate degree being pursued; but waiver of this course will not reduce the number of credits required nor substitute for the Area IV requirement. At least one course at the 7000 level must be elected, and at least one course (in addition to the Area I course) must be elected from outside the student's graduate program.

Students in the certificate program must maintain a grade point average of at least 3.0. Transfer of credit from other institutions may not be applied toward the credits required for the certificate. If a student is concurrently enrolled in a graduate degree program at the University, no more than nine credits from the certificate program may be applied toward that degree.

Graduate Certificate in Archival Administration

The archival profession has experienced rapid growth in recent years as many institutions such as colleges and universities, federal, state and local units of government, businesses, churches, and professional organizations have recognized the importance of maintaining their inactive historical records. In addition to the expansion of existing archives, many organizations are establishing archives. This has created a demand for individuals with undergraduate degrees in history or the humanities, who have advanced training in archival administration. In large archival establishments, archivists can become specialists in such areas as appraisal, conservation, exhibits, publications, reference service, oral history, records management, processing and public relations.

The Graduate Certificate Program in Archival Administration serves the needs of those who wish to enter the archival profession as well as those who have responsibility for overseeing archival programs. The program is open to students with baccalaureate degrees from accredited universities, students with advanced degrees, and students enrolled in other Wayne State University graduate programs.

Master of Arts in Dispute Resolution (MADR)

Website: <http://www.culma.wayne.edu/madr>

This is an interdisciplinary master's degree program administered by the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs, which is designed to provide meaningful academic knowledge and professional skills for individuals interested or engaged in conflict resolution activities. Dispute resolution is an interdisciplinary field of theory and endeavor unified by a paradigm of the nonviolent resolution or management of conflict through a range of techniques, such as negotiation and third-party neutral intervention methods including mediation and arbitration, which are applied to a diverse range of issues. The field applies to professional activities such as labor mediation, commercial arbitration, family counseling, legal negotiation, and international diplomacy. Students will be prepared for employment opportunities in a variety of areas such as mediation firms, neighborhood justice centers, private and public bureaucracies, educational institutions, and the criminal justice system. This Master of Arts program is open to recent recipients of undergraduate degrees as well as to mid-career professionals whose work involves them in conflict resolution activities. MADR courses may also constitute a compatible cognate area for graduate degree programs in criminal justice, education, hazardous waste management, public administration, urban planning, sociology, social work, and law.

Admission: Applicants must meet the admission standards of the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Applicants must submit a personal statement of 200 words outlining their interest in the program, GRE scores or equivalent in LSAT or GMAT scores, and three letters of recommendation.

Joint Juris Doctor / Master of Arts in Dispute Resolution

The College of Urban, Labor and Metropolitan Affairs in cooperation with the Law School offers a joint degree program leading to a Master of Arts Degree in Dispute Resolution and a Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree. Students in this program must be admitted to both the Law School and the CULMA graduate program in dispute resolution. Law School Admission Test scores will be acceptable for meeting the Graduate Record Examination requirement for the master's degree application process.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: This degree is offered under Plan C only, requiring the completion of a minimum 102 credits. The first year of study is spent in the Law School. ## Graduate Degrees

MASTER OF URBAN PLANNING

Geography is concerned with analyses of environmental and social systems, their variations over the earth's surface and their interactions in different regions. The program has three major goals: (1) to prepare students for many occupations in which geographic understanding is essential, including industrial and retail locational analysis, community and regional development, resource conservation and management, cartography, urban and environmental planning, and numerous government positions; (2) to train students for advanced geographic research, and (3) to provide students with a basis for understanding local, regional and global scale problems and issues. Students are invited to consult with geography faculty members concerning the content of the discipline, as well as employment opportunities available for geographers.

The profession of urban planning takes major responsibility for the development of comprehensive plans and programs for local communities as well as larger regional units. These plans visualize future conditions of social, economic, and physical change, and provide an estimate of the community's long-range needs for various facilities and services. Professional urban planners perform a variety of tasks such as developing plans for housing, transportation, rehabilitation of blighted metropolitan areas, and improving the appearance and efficiency of communities. The program seeks to prepare individuals for working with local and state public agencies and nonprofit organizations.

Accreditation: The Master of Urban Planning program is accredited by the Planning Accreditation Board.

Master of Arts With a Major in Geography<sup>1</sup>

This program provides students with a broad foundation in geography enabling them to qualify for professional employment or to pursue doctoral work. Informal discussions help to acquaint students with various opportunities to specialize in geography, particular disciplinary strengths of the Department, job opportunities, and program curricular options.

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Prerequisite for admission to the Department of Geography is the completion of at least twelve credits in geography and a grade point average of 2.6 or above for the upper division of undergraduate course work. An undergraduate major in geography is not mandatory. A student may complete prerequisites while earning graduate credit.

Candidacy must be established by the time twelve credits have been earned. An official Plan of Work must be filed at that time.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Arts with a Major in Geography is offered by this department under the following options:

Plan A: Thirty-two credits including an eight credit thesis.

Plan B: Thirty-two credits including a three credit essay.

All master's programs must include GEG 7800 and 7990. An oral examination is required before the thesis or essay is undertaken. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 483.

Master of Urban Planning

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School, for requirements, see page 17.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The Master of Urban Planning is offered by this department under the following options:

Plan A: Forty-eight credits including an eight credit thesis.

Plan B: Forty-eight credits including a three credit essay.

The distribution of the forty-eight credits is as follows: twenty-three credits in required courses (listed below), which build the core of the program; selection of elective courses (between thirteen and seventeen credits) to form a topic concentration; and the completion of a capstone component that includes an integrative project (U P 7700, four credits), and a master's essay (U P 7999, three credits) or master's thesis (U P 8999, eight credits). Students are strongly advised to pursue Plan B, but may petition to pursue Plan A.

Required (Core) Courses (Twenty-three credits)

U P 5010 -- Resources and Communication in Planning: Cr. 3
U P 5110 -- Urban Planning Process: Cr. 3
U P 6120 -- Planning Studies and Methods: Cr. 4
U P 6320 -- Quantitative Techniques I: Cr. 4
U P 6510 -- Urban and Regional Systems: Cr. 3
U P 6650 -- Planning and Development Law: Cr. 3
U P 7010 -- Planning and Decision Theory: Cr. 3

Electives: Following completion of at least twelve credits in required courses, students will, in consultation with a permanent adviser, devise a Plan of Work, selecting elective courses that constitute one of three topic concentrations: Housing and Community Development, Urban Economic Development, or Managing Metropolitan Growth. With the approval of the Director of the Urban Planning Program, a student may design his/her own topic concentration based on courses offered within the program.

1. An admissions moratorium is in effect for this program.

Prior completion of courses equivalent to the program requirements may form a basis for reducing credits in any individual Plan of Work. Possession of a master's degree in an area of study determined to be related to urban planning by the Graduate Program Committee may allow an applicant to elect a program of thirty-two credits, inclusive of capstone requirements.

Academic work will begin with courses at the 5000 or 6000 level. Core areas in which applicants must take courses are planning background and processes, urban structure and analysis, and planning implementation.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 483 .

Fellowships and Assistantships

Each year the Department offers an assistantship to a qualified student. Details and applications may be obtained from the Chairperson of the departmental Graduate Study Committee.

Sources of financial aid for graduate students are enumerated in the section on Graduate Financial Aid, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin.

GRADUATE COURSES

The following courses, numbered 5000-9999, are offered for graduate credit. Courses numbered 5000-6999 which are offered for undergraduate credit only may be found in the undergraduate bulletin, as well as all other undergraduate courses (numbered 0900-4999). ## Master of Arts in Industrial Relations (MAIR)

The Master of Arts in Industrial Relations (MAIR) is an inter-college as well as an interdisciplinary graduate degree program administered by the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs. The program is jointly sponsored by the Departments of Economics in the College of Liberal Arts, Psychology in the College of Science, and Management in the School of Business Administration. Policy direction is provided by the Academic Policy Committee comprised of one representative of each sponsoring department.

MAIR is designed to provide professional preparation for a career in human resource management and labor-management relations. Students will be prepared in this discipline for positions in government, business and union organizations, and the program staff will assist in the appropriate job placement of its graduates. MAIR will also provide knowledge and skills for persons who contemplate entering or who are already engaged in self-employment involving industrial relations, such as labor arbitration.

Admission

Admission to this program is contingent upon admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. Admission is limited to holders of baccalaureate degrees from accredited institutions and is granted only to those applicants who evidence promise of success in industrial relations study.

Admission to the program requires three letters of recommendation and completion of the program application form, in addition to the transcripts and application form required by the Graduate School. The letters of recommendation must be written by college or university professors the applicant has studied under, and/or current or former employers. The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) is required of all applicants. Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the following: (1) the overall or upper-division grade point average; (2) GRE and GMAT scores; (3) applicant's performance in previous graduate courses, if any; (4) the quality of applicant's employment experience at increasing levels of responsibility; and (5) other appropriate indicators of successful performance as a graduate student, including the content of reference appraisals.

Prerequisites

Students who have been admitted but who do not possess all of the following prerequisites must remedy any deficiency, without graduate credit, before graduate courses are taken in the MAIR program: statistics (equivalent to ECO 5100, ISM 3300, or EER 7630); introductory microeconomics (such as ECO 2010). A grade of 'C' or better is required of all prerequisite courses.

Degree Requirements

MAIR requires the satisfactory completion of at least thirty-seven credits in graduate study, including a Core Curriculum of eight three-credit courses and one four-credit course. Two options are available:

Plan B: Eight core courses and three electives, plus a three-credit general elective and a directed study or internship

Plan C: Eight core courses and three electives, plus four additional credits for Internship and/or a Directed Study. Or: Eight core courses and three electives.

The Core Curriculum is as follows:

ECO 6420 -- Labor Relations and Public Policy: Cr. 3
PSY 6570 -- Applied Research Methods in Union-Management Relations: Cr. 3
I R 7450 -- Employment Relations Law in North America: Cr. 3
I R 8500 -- Strategic Analysis of North American Labor and Human Resources Issues (Capstone course: prerequisites include all other Core Courses.): Cr. 3
MGT 7640 -- Management of Human Resources: Cr. 3
MGT 7750 -- Labor Relations and Collective Bargaining: Cr. 3
MGT 7780 -- Concepts and Processes of Dispute Resolution I: Negotiating Theory and Practice (D R 7210): Cr. 3

Selection of electives will be guided by the student's prior preparation and career objectives and will require the approval of the Program Director. Electives are not limited to courses offered by the sponsoring departments.

I R 8500 should be taken in the last nine credits of the program and only after the completion of the other eight Core Courses.

The topic and methodology of a Directed Study must have the prior approval of the Director, who must also approve the appointment of the faculty member who will supervise the project.

Scholarship: All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the Graduate School and the College governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 483.

Retention

Graduate students in the MAIR program will be required to earn a 'B' (3.0) average to satisfy degree requirements. If a grade below 'B' is received in a core course, that course must be repeated promptly and a grade of 'B' or better obtained. A grade of 'C' in two graduate courses will constitute a sufficient basis for dismissal from the program.

Candidacy

Students are expected to file a Plan of Work when nine graduate credits in the MAIR curriculum have been earned. Upon approval of the Plan of Work the student's rank will be changed from 'applicant' to 'candidate' provided the applicant's grade point average is at least 3.0.

Waivers

A Core Course may be waived only if the student demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the Academic Policy Committee, that he/she has completed an equivalent graduate-level course with a grade of 'B' or better and elects an additional approved elective course in its place.

Advising

All academic advising will be done by the Director. Students should call the MAIR Office (313-577-4380) for information on advising hours.

Financial Aid

General sources of financial aid for graduate students may be found in the section on Graduate Financial Aid, beginning on page 34 of this bulletin. Those listed below pertain to the Industrial Relations Program:

Graduate Degree

MASTER OF INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

The Department of Interdisciplinary Studies offers the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies, the Bachelor of Technical and Interdisciplinary Studies, the nonprofit sector undergraduate minor and post-baccalaureate certificate programs, and the Master of Interdisciplinary Studies. These degree programs and courses of study are interdisciplinary in nature and designed especially to serve the needs of working adult students.

Master of Interdisciplinary Studies

The Master of Interdisciplinary Studies (MIS) degree is an interdisciplinary graduate degree modeled on the tradition of graduate liberal studies programs for adult students. Unlike specialized graduate courses of study, this master's program (MISP) emphasizes interdisciplinary approaches to significant questions, themes and problems. It develops problem-solving skills and cultivates critical and holistic approaches.

The MISP is designed to meet the need, expressed by both educators and employers, for individuals who can adapt flexibly to new workplace situations and who are comfortable learning new techniques and methods. In addition, the degree affords an opportunity for intellectual enrichment. It will appeal to three groups of students: those who wish to design their own advanced degree program (in consultation with a faculty adviser); traditional liberal arts students who seek advanced study beyond the bachelor's degree without specializing in one particular discipline; and those seeking a broadly integrative program in historical and cultural studies.

In a world ever more given to analysis and expertise, the MISP program teaches skills fundamental to an integrative habit of mind. We stress seeing problems from a number of angles and perspectives, uniting these views into a coherent understanding shaped by both clear standards of disciplinary depth and a firm grasp of interdisciplinary process. The student is trained to see connections, to explore and to connect relevant facets of a theme, problem, or area of interest. The student also learns the various approaches, theories, and world views that seek to organize reality in an interdisciplinary manner.

In the 21st century, change has become habitual. As problems assault us with speed and complexity, single disciplinary approaches reveal only partial knowledge. Contemporary problems demand interdisciplinary solutions. The Master of Interdisciplinary Studies Program allows students to engage a broad program of advanced study in such areas as organizational studies, health and illness, globalization, and relations between Asia and the United States.

Admission to the MIS program is open to holders of the bachelor's degree with majors in traditional academic disciplines as well as graduates of interdisciplinary programs. Admission is contingent upon meeting the requirements for admission to the Graduate School; for requirements, see page 17. An applicant must have an earned baccalaureate degree from a college or university of recognized standing, or present clear evidence that he or she is completing such a degree. The minimum undergraduate g.p.a. required for admission to the MISP is 3.0. Students with a lower undergraduate g.p.a. who demonstrate intellectual maturity and initiative, the ability to successfully perform graduate work, and a strong interest in interdisciplinary pursuits are also welcome to apply. The MISP considers each applicant individually. While prospective students do not need to submit GRE scores, they are required to participate in an assessment interview process. Details are available upon request from the Graduate Chairperson, Dr. Richard Raspa (313-577-6578; e-mail: aa2267@wayne.edu).

All applicants should submit three academic letters of recommendation, a research-based writing sample, and a three to five-page personal statement indicating the reasons for pursuing an interdisciplinary advanced degree. Applicants wishing to pursue the Individualized Studies track should include a discussion of the concentration or program they wish to pursue, including prospective courses and a possible master's thesis topic. Other provisions for regular or qualified admission are stipulated by the Graduate School; see pages 17-29. In addition, applicants must submit an MIS Program Application for Admission and related materials. Applications for admission may be requested from the IS office.

Scholarship: All course work to satisfy the following degree requirements must be completed in accordance with the regulations of the Graduate School governing graduate scholarship and degrees; see the sections of this bulletin beginning on pages 26 and 483. All students are required by the Graduate School to maintain a minimum 3.0 g.p.a. average in order to be awarded a master's degree.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: The MIS degree is offered by the College of Urban, Labor, and Metropolitan Affairs under the Plan A option, requiring successful completion of a minimum of twenty-four credits in course work, plus an eight-credit master's thesis (ISP 8998-8999). All entering students are required to take the Interdisciplinary Core Seminar (ISP 6010) and the Seminar in Historical and Cultural Studies (ISP 6110).

PROGRAMS OF STUDY: Students may choose from the following two options:

Historical and Cultural Studies focuses on the interrelatedness of the many and varying aspects of human culture over time and geographic location, drawing on perspectives from the humanities, the social sciences, and science and technology. It includes the four core courses ISP 6010, 6110, 8998, and 8999, plus three HC courses and a minimum of four elective credits.

Individualized Studies enables students to design their own concentrations, with the guidance and approval of a faculty adviser and in keeping with the framework and goals of the MIS degree. It includes the four core courses ISP 6010, 6110, 8998, and 8999, plus at least sixteen credits in a coherent individualized program developed from selected graduate-level offerings at Wayne State University.

Gerontology Certificate Program: For information on this graduate certificate, which may be earned concurrently with the degree Master of Interdisciplinary Studies, see page 43.
