Dear graduate,

Congratulations! Graduating from Wayne State University is a major achievement, so take time to recognize all the hard work and perseverance it took to get here. This year’s graduation celebration looks different than it has in other years, but your accomplishments are in no way diminished because of it.

As you reach this milestone, I’m confident your time at Wayne State has prepared you to reach many more. You’ve shown, through your flexibility and grace during difficult and unanticipated challenges, that you are well equipped to succeed in an ever-changing and diverse world. You’ll certainly benefit from your many hours of study, and from the opportunities you’ve had to engage with the world outside the classroom, from our campus in Detroit. This gives you a distinct advantage.

Yet, the richest reward of your time here at Wayne State may be the wisdom you’ve gained that has made you a productive, compassionate and thoughtful citizen committed to making a difference in your community.

Wayne State has asked a lot from you, not the least of which was to be the best student you could be. Today, we ask for one more thing: Keep in touch. Stay engaged with the university, and help a new generation access the transformative opportunities you have had here.

We trust that your experience at Wayne State University has kindled a lifelong passion for learning. So instead of goodbye, I’ll say, “Until we meet again.” Best wishes to you and to the entire class of 2020.

RECOGNITION for ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

Students who attain high scholastic achievement are denoted by an asterisk after their name. The official list of graduates cited for cum laude (*), magna cum laude (), or summa cum laude () will be compiled subsequently and their diplomas will carry the appropriate notation. This practice is observed at the undergraduate level only.

Students who have achieved distinction by completing the requirements for department and/or university honors are designated in the program book by (DH) for department honors and/or (UH) for university honors. Their diplomas acknowledge these scholastic achievements. Students graduating with honors conferred by departments, schools and colleges, and by the Irvin D. Reid Honors College are eligible to wear a gold collar in recognition of their achievements.

John Corvino, Ph.D., is dean of the Irvin D. Reid Honors College.

GRADUATE NAMES

Names submitted for the program book were compiled by lists submitted by graduate applications. Names and honor designations of students who completed the online degree application after March 6, 2020, are not included.

The appearance of a name, recognition for academic achievement, and department and/or university honors on the following lists is presumptive, but not conclusive of graduation. Participation in the commencement ceremony does not constitute graduation. Academic records will show the graduation date and recognition for academic achievement when degrees have been certified. Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this program’s content. Any omissions or errors are unintentional.

The commencement office plans to print an inclusive program book for the December commencement celebration. This will include all winter and spring/summer 2020 graduates.

“HYMN to WAYNE”

To thee, our Alma Mater, Homage we bring.
Brave hearts raise grateful voices Thy praise to sing.
Young art thou, young and strong; Renowned shalt thou live, and long;
Honors to thee will throng- And Fame to thee cling.
We laud thee, Alma Mater, Guardian of Right.
Thou art our guide, our mentor- Thy name shines bright.
Keep Learning’s light aﬂame, And hold Truth a sacred name, Honor, thy steadfast aim.
All hail to thy might.

Nicholas Stanley Oates, 1929
The WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY BOARD of GOVERNORS

The Governors of Wayne State University and their successors in office constitute a body corporate known as the Board of Governors of Wayne State University, in accordance with the Constitution of the State of Michigan. The board consists of eight members elected by the people of Michigan for eight-year terms. Each governor holds office until completion of the term and a successor has been nominated and elected in statewide elections. All vacancies that occur within the eight-year terms are filled through appointment by the governor of the state. Members of the board serve without compensation but are entitled to necessary expenses incurred in connection with the duties of their office.

The Board of Governors elects the president of the university and has general supervision of Wayne State University and the control and direction of all expenditures from university funds. It enacts bylaws and regulations for the conduct of its business and for the governance of the university. It sets tuition and policy for other fees and charges; determines the compensation to be paid for services; confers degrees; sets the policy for management of gifts, grants, bequests, agreements and contracts; and leases or disposes of property.

Michigan’s constitutional system of independent, elected boards to govern its universities is different from systems of most other states. It has helped Michigan to develop and preserve one of the nation’s finest systems of colleges and universities. Each governing board devotes itself to one university and is able to work carefully to develop and nurture the excellence of that institution. The constitutional independence of the boards protects the universities from political interference; the election of boards by the voters assures that universities remain responsible to the public at large.

Farhana Aktar
School of Social Work

Farhana Aktar is graduating with a master of social work with a concentration in innovation in community, policy and leadership from the School of Social Work. She also received her bachelor of science in social work from Wayne State University.

Aktar decided to pursue a master of social work because social work focuses on helping vulnerable, oppressed and marginalized people. As someone who has experienced tremendous difficulties in life that have impacted her education and opportunities for success, she feels that social work is a noble and important profession. It is a way to further her passion for advocating and creating change.

Throughout her social work education, Aktar has been involved in community social work practice. She interned with two nonprofit organizations while completing her degree, and her work has included community organizing and legislative advocacy.

Aktar was elected director of government affairs for the Student Senate and the student representative for the School of Social Work. She also served as the student representative on the Board of Governors Academic Affairs Committee and the General Education Oversight Committee. She used these roles to speak on behalf of her peers and advocate for greater opportunities for student success.

As an undergraduate, Aktar was awarded the prestigious Brehler scholarship for an essay about overcoming prejudice outside and inside her own culture, and how this empowered her to help others as a social worker. She also received the National Association of Social Workers’ M.S.W. Student of the Year Award.

Aktar’s commitment to the community runs deep, and she plans to continue using her passion for advocating and creating change.

Vyshnavi Chivukula
Mike Ilitch School of Business

Vyshnavi Chivukula is graduating with honors from the Mike Ilitch School of Business with a bachelor of science in finance and information systems management.

Through hard work and determination, she successfully made the dean’s list consecutively, earned the Mike Ilitch School of Business’ 25 under 25 Award and won General Motors’ Finance Intern Case Competition.

While on campus, Chivukula served as the fundraising secretary for Doctors Without Borders, where she used her education in finance for medical aid. She was also able to employ her financial knowledge in establishing her own event planning startup.

Entering the corporate world, Chivukula attained experience as a finance intern at both Flagstar Bank and General Motors. These experiences instilled in her the importance of conducting effective financial analysis and positively contributing to a company’s culture.

Chivukula also served as head tutor and business development lead at Teja Learning Center, where she gained irreplaceable entrepreneurial experience and developed valuable interpersonal relationships with students of all ages and backgrounds.

Though all her positions are so distinct, Vyshnavi believes they have all taught her one thing — the product of your degree may extend far beyond its title. She will continue to use the education she earned at Wayne State to thrive in each industry that she enters in.

Following graduation, Chivukula will work as a financial analyst for General Motors in her hometown of Detroit. She looks forward to embarking on this journey and giving back to the city that has taught her so much. She cannot imagine completing her degree in any other city than Detroit, due to the plethora of opportunities and diversity available.
STUDENT COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

Sara Elhasan
College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

Sara Elhasan is graduating with a bachelor of science in public health and a bachelor of arts in sociology from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. An alumna of Fordson High School and the Dearborn Center for Math, Science, and Technology, she was drawn to Wayne State University’s dedication to research and social reform. Elhasan is a proud President M. Roy Wilson ReBUILDetroit Scholar, Ronald E. McNair Scholar and member of the Irvin D. Reid Honors College.

Elhasan’s passion for giving back to her community and public service is evident in her extracurricular endeavors. On campus, she is a cherished mentor to her peers in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. She has also interned under the director of the Wayne County Department of Health, as well as with Rep. Abdullah Hammoud at the Michigan House of Representatives.

Elhasan has been enthusiastically involved in research since her freshman year. She was a participant in the Centers for Disease Control’s Undergraduate Public Health Scholars Program at Johns Hopkins University and the University of California, Davis. This past summer, she was a member of the Biostatistics and Epidemiology Summer Training Program at the Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health. Elhasan has presented her research at various national conferences, and was recently recognized with an outstanding poster presentation award at the 2019 Annual Biomedical Research Conference for Minority Students in Anaheim, California.

Following graduation, Elhasan plans to pursue her master of public health in epidemiology and policy at the University of Michigan School of Public Health in Ann Arbor. She hopes to contribute to the movement that corrects health inequities and to further investigate the ways in which one’s social, political, cultural and economic circumstances influence health and well-being.

Brenna Noyes
College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts

Brenna Noyes is graduating with a bachelor of arts in film and communication studies and design. She has been on the dean’s list every semester and has a 3.9 GPA.

Originally from Shelby Township, Michigan, Noyes has loved living in Detroit and the incredible opportunities it has provided. While being a full-time student, she interned for such esteemed companies as WDIV Local 4, Detroit Public Television, Shelby Township Television and Detroit Grand Prix. She also worked for America’s Got Talent, Sesame Street and the Detroit Jazz Festival.

This past year, Noyes worked as a producer for Detroit Public Television, overseeing projects from start to finish. She has also written and directed two short films, and was selected to showcase one of them at the Lake Michigan Film Festival. Her short film and feature-length script were also selected to be featured in the 2019 Faculty Selects Honors Night.

As an inspiring screenwriter/director, Noyes continually strives to invoke creativity and broaden perspectives through her work. She believes in creating stories that will break barriers and push the boundaries of what has been seen.
Jasmine Saad
College of Engineering

Jasmine Saad is graduating with a bachelor of science in electrical engineering from the College of Engineering. She was born to hit the ground running.

Originating from Leamington, Ontario, Saad’s family transitioned to Michigan when her father began work at Ford Motor Company. As family moves were a frequent occurrence, Saad had to quickly acclimate to life in four cities and at three different high schools. She credits the motivation behind this dynamic environment to her parents’ opportunistic and adventurous spirits, always looking to provide the family with the greatest good.

Taking their lead, Saad has weaved through multiple scholarly, social, political and professional roles during her four years at Wayne State, from the automotive industry to social justice. Her strong foothold in the Wayne State community has led her to achieve elected positions such as treasurer and board member of the campus’ Society of Women Engineers chapter, and work as a research assistant in the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering.

Saad’s undying curiosity fostered thoughtful and meaningful conversations with many unexpected audiences, resulting in invitations to events such as the Consumer Electronics Show and Eyes on Design.

While many of her accomplishments stayed central to Wayne State’s campus, Saad has remained true to her upbringing and love for Detroit, residing in a trail of homes in Woodbridge, Midtown, New Center, Ferndale and Corktown.
POSTHUMOUS DEGREES

As we celebrate our 2020 graduates, it’s important to remember those who passed before they were able to fulfill their dreams. In recognition of their commitment and Warrior spirit, Wayne State University posthumously recognizes the following graduates:

Darrin Adams receives a bachelor of arts in sociology from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Adams is remembered as an all-star student and a treasured colleague. Faculty recall his poignant questions and comments about race, and remember him sitting in the front row in his Warrior uniform. A member of the AmeriCorps Urban Safety Program, Adams helped serve his community by boarding up more than 200 abandoned houses — many of which lined the routes walked by children each day to their neighborhood schools. Adams’ commitment to his education and community will be remembered and missed dearly.

Bri’Jon Moore receives a bachelor of science in psychology from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Moore was the embodiment of Warrior Strong. Despite battling an unrelenting illness throughout her time at Wayne State, she was a devoted student who planned her medical treatments around her classes and exams. One of her professors shared, “Bri’Jon was always so polite and thoughtful. She had such a positive attitude, despite her facing a life-threatening illness and undergoing painful treatments. It was amazing; she just always seemed in good spirits. I have never seen a more dedicated student. She was a fighter, a true Warrior.” Moore dreamed of a career in nursing and planned to apply to nursing programs after graduation. As a psychology major, she focused her coursework accordingly and earned a concentration in health psychology. Moore will be remembered for her positive attitude, her genuine passion for education and her fighting spirit.

Dwayne Carrero-Berry receives a bachelor of arts in psychology with minors in Latino/a and Latin American studies and peace and conflict studies from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Carrero-Berry’s classmates, professors and advisors describe him as an inspiring and charismatic young man. He was a proud Wayne State Warrior, serving as a peer mentor and student ambassador for the Center for Latino/a and Latin American Studies for three years. His dedication to helping fellow students and his participation in campus activities earned him a Peer Mentor of the Year Award from the WSU Learning Communities Office. Carrero-Berry was proud of his Afro-Latino heritage and presented original research at Wayne State conferences on race and identity. Although he was diagnosed with heart disease at the age of 19, he used his experiences to provide comfort to others facing similar challenges, starting a support group and visiting hospitals to encourage patients who, like him, were undergoing heart transplants and open-heart surgery. The university community mourns his loss and celebrates his loving and generous spirit.

Daniel O’Connor receives a bachelor of social work from the School of Social Work. O’Connor died just one semester from completing his degree. His sudden death was a shock to both his biological family and the School of Social Work. His presence, leadership and support are sorely missed by faculty and by his fellow students. Prior to entering the B.S.W. program, O’Connor enlisted in the U.S. Army and served two tours in Iraq, where he was injured in Baghdad on a security patrol and endured the death of five fellow soldiers due to a suicide bomber. He persevered and entered the B.S.W. program in order to help others. He was a leader among his classmates, supported those who struggled, and encouraged initiative and success — reminding others and demonstrating via his actions the importance of social work practice to help those in need. O’Connor is survived by his wife, Susan, and two daughters.

Congratulations!

On behalf of the Wayne State University Alumni Association, congratulations on your graduation!

We applaud you for reaching this important milestone after years of hard work and dedication. As you prepare to embark on the next phase of your life, you are now one of more than 274,000 Wayne State University distinguished alumni from all over the world, and you automatically are a lifetime member of the alumni association.

We encourage you to stay connected by visiting campus often, staying informed, volunteering and attending alumni events. WSU alumni are passionate about our university community, and the alumni association is here to support your professional and personal success through our diverse slate of alumni programs, events and initiatives.

The alumni association is extremely proud of your accomplishments. We welcome you, congratulate you and look forward to working together with you to make Wayne State University Warrior Strong.

Sandy Colvin, B.A. ‘84, J.D. ‘89
President, WSU Alumni Association Board of Directors
