

BIOGRAPHY

Michelle Richard, M.Ed.

Senior Education Advisor, State of Michigan

Michelle Richard is Governor Gretchen Whitmer’s senior advisor on education – specializing in early learning and higher education. She joined team Whitmer in 2019 to launch a statewide attainment strategy and pass Michigan Reconnect at the Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity. Prior to joining the Whitmer administration, Michelle was a vice president at Public Sector Consultants. She started her career as an elementary school teacher in New Orleans. Michelle earned a BA from Saginaw Valley State University and a M.Ed. from the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Michelle is a mom to two boys – one in kindergarten and one in second grade.

