Advisor Recommendations

- Internships are highly encouraged for all students in the Department of Communication.
- Coursework is only one part of your undergraduate education. Employers pay close attention to the types of activities applicants participate in as students. There are many valuable campus activities to choose from. You are encouraged to participate in such activities as student government, the student newspaper (South End), and the student radio station (WAYN).
- The Department of Communication sponsors the Wayne State University chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists (SPJ), the Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA), The Film and Media Group, as well as the nationally acclaimed forensics and debate teams.
